The marketing plan is simple, consisting of bringing all the birds to a central point and securing bids for them from representatives of reliable firms. There will be no costs of organization and probably no other expense in this marketing plan.

The success of the marketing depends upon the willingness of growers to co-operate and to send information to the college poultry department about the number of birds owned and when they are to be marketed. In communities where enough birds are owned to make the centralization and bid plan practical, owners will bring their birds in at designated times to get bids from poultry buyers.

Buyers from Detroit, Chicago, New York, and other large cities have shown interest in the plan and will send representatives to bid on the poultry if they are satisfied enough birds of good quality will be offered at central points. A representative of the Michigan Turkey Growers association will be at the marketing points and the birds will be offered for sale on a graded basis if possible.

Questionnaires are being mailed to growers in the state who are known to the college department. Those who have not received this list of questions are asked to assist in the marketing by asking for the questionnaires and by suggesting to their neighbors that they also use the plan.

FIRE "BUG" ARRESTED IN NEIGHBORING COUNTY

Confessed Setting Many Fires—Suspected of More Jobs

John Johnson, 28, of Detroit, has confessed to setting fire to the Yuill potato warehouse at Vanderbilt, the Gaylord Lumber & Fuel Co. building at Indian River, the Indian River Waffle Shop, and a vacant building in Wolverine.

Johnson is also believed to have set other fires at Boyne Falls and Elmhurst. Johnson is said to have been out of work for a long while, and does not know why he has gone about the country setting fires, unless it is just to give someone work rebuilding the plants that he destroys. He said he started setting fires when he was 17 years of age and burned two barns in southern Michigan then

DESTROY INSECTS NOW WITH PLOW AND FIRE

Many Pests Pass Winter in Quarters Which Can Readily Be Destroyed

Fall plowing and fire are the measures suggested by the entomology department at Michigan State college for destroying insects to lessen depredations in orchards and gardens next year.

Many of the pests which damage fruits and vegetables pass the winter hidden under trash or in vegetation or prunings from trees or vines. Fence rows, fields overgrown with grass and weeds, remnants from crops, or brush piles are ideal winter quarters for bugs.

Insects may pass the winter as adults, larva, or pupa but they are ready to start a campaign of destruction in the spring if the fall clean-up measures have not destroyed them. The insects which live over winter in the ground can only be reached by fall plowing, but the burning of trash near orchards and gardens will kill thousands which use such places for winter homes.

MICHIGAN'S LUMBER OUTPUT STILL HIGH

Produces Approximately Forty Per Cent of Maple Marketed

Although Michigan lost leadership in the production of timber products over 30 years ago, she still leads all other states in the production of maple, and runs third in the production of all hardwoods. Practically 40 per cent of all the maple cut in the entire United States comes from the hardwood forests of Michigan and Michigan is well toward the top in the production of birch. These two are Michigan's most valuable hardwoods and much of the timber produced reaches automobile and furniture factories of Michigan. With our pine forests practically gone, hemlock has come to be our most abundant soft wood, with poplar, spruce, and balsam fir running close second. Most of this is used by box and crate manufacturers of the pulp industry.

What Is ATHLETE'S FOOT

Over 30 Million Americans Now Have It—Is This Dreaded Disease Becoming a Plague?

Athlete's Foot is a fungus germ, which appears on the feet in the form of a little yellow blister, causing severe irritation and itching, especially between the toes. This disease is very contagious and is spreading with alarming rapidity among all classes of people. The failure to successfully treat Athlete's Foot in the past has been due largely to the fact that these germs liberate in the pores of the feet. Salves and ointments applied only to the feet do NOT PENETRATE THE PORES OF THE SHOES. Medical Science has recently developed an amazing treatment known as Merit Foot Powder, which laboratory and clinical tests have proved will positively kill these germs and restore feet so infected to a normal, healthy condition. It is simply sifted on the feet and into the shoes. Merit Foot Powder quickly eliminates excessive perspiration and itching of the feet. It holds irritation and is unsurpassed for chafing and shoes. Drive Directly Into Road Fight as October Session Opens—Straw Replaced Byers as Commissioner

Convening Monday morning at the court house, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors opened their annual October session.

After hearing several reports and numerous communications and referring them to proper committees, the board waded into the road commission matter with a swiftness which exceeded all expectations.

William K. Straw, Marion township farmer, was elected to the commission by a vote of 11 to 11 over Joseph Foster, Charlevoix alderman, succeeding William E. Byers of Charlevoix, who was not a candidate for re-election.

By a similar vote, the board adopted a resolution requesting the immediate resignation of Road Commissioner L. C. Rouse of Boyne City, after an amendment including the entire commission failed to pass. A hearing on charges preferred and vote on removal from office has been set for Monday, October 17.

Rouse, general manager of the General Oil Co. of Boyne City, was the center of a bitter controversy at the June session and again at a special session July 19th, when he was given a hearing on charges of selling gasoline and oil to the road commission. The board deadlocked by a vote of 12 to 12 at that time, after voting by a majority to retain Commissioners W. E. Byers of Charlevoix, and Frank Wangeman of Eveline, who were implicated on the grounds they audited bills payable to the General Oil Co. for gasoline and oil sold the commission.

Voting for Rouse's resignation Monday were Supervisors Cook, Sanderson, Tillotson, Meggison, Buckley, VanDusen, Hott, O. D. Smith, Lorch, Tindall, Parker, Scott, Barnett and Porter. Voting negative were Supervisors C. N. Smith, Pearson, Wood, Gardner, Woodward, John Gallagher, J. H. Gallagher, Craig, Partridge, Parmelee and Bashaw.

It is expected the Rouse affair, which has thrown the county into a bitter political controversy for the past year or more, will be settled finally at this session.

The American Legion's request for an appropriation to cover expenses of distributing confiscated fish to the county needy was referred to the ways and means committee.

Capt. B. Curtis reported on the activities of the Salvation Army, and County Agent B. C. Melencamp and County School Commissioner Wm. C. Palmer gave oral reports of their work. The former asked for an appropriation of $1,500, a thousand dollars less than in 1931, for the ensuing year. Dr. F. H. Wilkinson and John Newville reported for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief commission, requesting an appropriation of $500. A report of Dr. Moffet, director of the district health unit was heard.

A discussion in regard to returning the election of road commissioners to a vote of the people received no definite action.

Nels J. Novick, Boyne City merchant, was elected member of the county poor commission by a vote of 16 to 9 over Jerome Cole, incumbent, who had served 18 years.

Wednesday session was being occupied with committee work, with no definite order of business set.

COLLEGE OFFERS HELP IN WELFARE PLANNING

Forestry Work Furnishes Means of Employment to Unskilled Workers

Michigan communities which intend this fall or winter to employ men in reforestation, woodlot thinning, or other work involving forests, as a welfare measure, are invited by the forestry department at Michigan State college to use the specialists from that department to help plan the work.

This kind of employment provides healthful outdoor work upon projects which will return a future profit to the communities in which it is undertaken if the proper plans and methods are used. Foresters at Michigan State have had the technical training which enables them to plan work in forests or woodlots which will result in future benefits.

HARBOR YOUTH WAS ACCIDENTLY INJURED

Shot When Automatic Revolver Jammed and Discharged

Louis Ketchman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Ketchman of Harbor Springs, was brought to Charlevoix hospital last Thursday afternoon for treatment to a bullet wound in his shoulder received when an automatic 22-caliber revolver he was handling discharged.

According to Andrew McCull, who witnessed the accident at a wood lot four miles north of this city where the two were working, the gun jammed while Ketchman was shooting at a target, and discharged when the youth attempted to remove the cartridge clip. Ketchman had to walk a considerable distance to reach a car in which he was brought to the hospital.

The bullet has not been removed as yet, and the seriousness of the lad's injury is not definitely known at this time.

Prairie Chicken and Pheasant Also on Open List—Regulations Same As Last Year

The dawn of Saturday, October 15 will see lower peninsula hunters shift their front from the duck marshes to the open fields as the season opens for upland game birds south of the Straits of Mackinac.

The upland bird season in the upper peninsula closed October 12th with a two days lull preceding the opening of the lower peninsula open season.

Saturday, October 15, south of the Straits the season opens for ring-neck pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and woodcocks. The 1932 season for fox squirrels and rabbits opens at the same time.

The fox squirrel season will be the first to close, October 24. Upland birds may be killed until October 26 inclusive. Rabbits may be taken until January 31st.

No changes have been made since last year in the regulations governing the taking of any of the birds or animals for which the seasons open Saturday, according to the department of conservation. For the second year several southern Michigan counties will not be open to prairie chicken hunting. These birds are protected in all of the counties south of the north line of Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Jackson, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Bag limits are as follows: pheasants (male) 2 in one day, 4 in possession and 4 in the season. Ruffed grouse; 5 in one day, 10 in possession and 10 in the season. Prairie chickens; 5 in one day, 10 in possession and 10 in the season. Woodcock; 4 in one day, 8 in possession at one time and 16 in the season. The fox squirrel limit is 5 in one day, 10 in possession and 15 in the season. Five rabbits may be taken in one day. Ten may be in possession and 50 may be taken in the season.

It is not lawful to have any upland game birds in possession more than 10 days after the close of the season.

LEGION WELFARE WORK IS LAUDED

PRaised AT DISTRICT MEETING HELD SUNDAY

Posts and Auxiliaries of North Counties
Well Entertained Here—
List Activities

(By F. V. Tyler.)

High lights of the meeting of the lower 11th district, American Legion, held in Charlevoix, Sunday, Oct. 9, included a plan for installment payment of Legion dues conceived by Commander Lloyd F. Ballard of Ernest Peterson post No. 228, Boyne City, which was accepted by the representatives of the various posts of the district attending the meeting and which may come into general use throughout the state, if its works out as expected. The plan provides for indigent members of the Legion a temporary card, something on the order of a meal ticket, but working contrawise, which enables the holder to pay installments of five and ten cents or a quarter into his post treasury until the total payments equal the amount of his state and national dues, whereupon a regular membership card will be issued to him.

Mrs. Mary Ripley of Sault Ste. Marie, much-beloved retiring department president of the Legion Auxiliary, in her address at the banquet that followed the meeting, stated that the relief activities carried on by Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226 of Charlevoix during the winter of 1931-32 had aroused much favorable comment in Legion circles over the state and had been made the subject of a discussion at a recent meeting of Legion and Auxiliary department officials. Past Commander Lee C. Allard of the Charlevoix post, to whom much of the credit is due for the post's excellent record during the past year, has again been able to secure from Governor Brucker permission to use fish confiscated by the department of conservation in the post's relief work this year.

The Legion wishes to take this opportunity to thank the Catholic ladies for the beautiful and very delicious dinner that they provided for the district members at their hall. It was the subject of much pleased comment by the visitors. The interesting and informative address delivered by superintendent of Charlevoix schools, Gerald F. Bush, was also much appreciated.

Window cards will be out this week covering details of the Legion's Halloween masquerade dance to be held Monday evening, Oct. 31; the celebration and banquet on Armistice day, Friday, Nov. 11, and the keno turkey party on Saturday, Nov. 13, all taking place at the Legion home on East Garfield avenue. The stag card party Tuesday evening was well attended and is a forerunner of others that will be held from time to time throughout the winter season.

NORTHERN REPUBLICANS WILL

Citizens of All Counties of Region Invited to Hear Address by Michigan Executive

Announcement was made Monday of arrangements for a Republican rally at Petoskey on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 20, at which time Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker will make the principal address.

The rally will include the counties of Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Otsego, Cheboygan, Presque Isle and Montmorency, and through the newspapers of those counties an invitation will be extended to all Republicans to attend the meeting.

Chairman John A. Lake of the Emmet County Republican committee plans to hold the meeting in the Pennsylvania park if weather is favorable, and in the Temple theatre if not.

Governor Brucker is known to have many personal friends and supporters in Northern Michigan counties, who have desired his presence for a campaign talk before the elections of November 8.

This week the governor speaks in Detroit, Mt. Clemens, Flint, Lansing and Jackson, closing the week at Monroe. During the third week of October he will preside in the dedication of a portion of the new cement road between St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie, which occurs on the day following his talk at Petoskey.

Some weeks ago Gov. Brucker was the guest of Northern Michigan friends at a meeting at Gaylord, where he made a primary election campaign talk. Many from Charlevoix attended the early evening dinner given in the governor's honor and also the evening session in Gaylord.

Another important Republican meeting was held Tuesday evening at Traverse City, where U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids was the speaker. Many Republicans from Charlevoix attended the rally.

John Anderson of Detroit has been sentenced to from 10 to 20 years at the Ionia state prison by Circuit Judge Victor D. Sprague for burning down the Cheboygan county flour mill and trying to burn two places at Indian River and one at Wolverine.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of arson in connection with the Cheboygan county fires. He has also confessed to burning down the Yuill Brothers warehouse at Vanderbilt, and is accused of burning four warehouses and a depot at Elmira, a mill at Boyne Falls, and two factory buildings at Big Rapids.

Although strong evidence has been found to connect him with the fires at the last three towns, he has steadfastly denied setting them.

HUNTING LICENSES RUSH ON THIS WEEK

Opening of Rabbit and Grouse Seasons Set for Saturday

Although a few hundred 1932 hunting licenses have been issued by the agents in Charlevoix county, the big rush for shooting permits will not take place until just before the opening of the rabbit and grouse season on Saturday, October 15.

Thus far only duck hunters have had to have a license as water fowl is the only game on which the season has been opened. Inasmuch as the majority of the hunters of the region are rabbit hunters the big license sale is held until the season on buntings opens.

Duck bags have not been heavy thus far. Very few flights of ducks have arrived from the north and the few flocks of native ducks were burned out by the guns the opening day. A few geese have been feeding in the neighborhood, but, as far as is known, none of them has been killed.

HENRY FIKE VIC- TIM HEART ATTACK

DIED FRIDAY AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS

Was Former Deputy Sheriff and Served As Conservation Officer
Eight Years

Henry Fike, 43, for the past eight years conservation officer for Charlevoix county, died Friday night at his residence in this city from heart trouble.

Mr. Fike had been confined to his home for a considerable length of time earlier in the year from the same ailment, and only recently had resumed his duties. He was thought to have recovered, thus his death was a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Fike was formerly a resident of Boyne Falls, where he operated a taxi and trucking business and acted as deputy sheriff for a period of 12 years. He made his headquarters in Boyne Falls for some time after his appointment as conservation officer, and had lived in this city for two or three years, moving here after the stress of his duties in the west end of the county made such a move advisable. Mr. Fike's record as a conservation officer has been a very efficient one.

Surviving besides the widow are a daughter, Vivian, and two sons, Neil and J. C. at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fike of this city; two sisters, Mrs. O. Gillis of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Rose Hettrick of Boyne Falls.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Baptist church, with Rev. W. H. Rauch officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

LOCAL GRIDDOERS BEAT MANCERONA

WON 6 TO 0 VICTORY ON HOME FIELD SATURDAY

Kipmen's Superiority Greater Than Small Score Indicates—Play at Cheboygan, Saturday

Charlevoix high school gridgers chalked up a 6 to 0 victory over Mancelona in their first appearance before home fans at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon.

It was a good football game barring many costly fumbles and penalties. Charlevoix out-played their opponents far more than the score might indicate.

The statistics show the Kipmen made 14 first downs to one for Mancelona. They threw altogether twenty passes, eleven of which were completed and two were intercepted. Both teams were guilty of five fumbles, Mancelona's first one resulted in Charlevoix's lone touchdown early in the first period, while Charlevoix's errors in the remaining periods came at times when they probably would have otherwise scored. The Kipmen were in the majority on penalties imposed, receiving five to three for the visitors.

Charlevoix's line was superior and her running and forward pass attack was exceptionally good. Mancelona failed to gain any distance through the local forward wall, while Jack Foster, Steve Serno, Chow and Struthers all chalked up good gains by rushing. Charlevoix's passing attack, Smith to Struthers, more particularly, was pretty to watch and resulted in a good portion of the long gains. Struthers completed several passes to Smith, but his tossing was not so accurate. Smith's punting was all that could be asked for from a high school player. Only on one occasion did he make a poor kick.

Charlevoix's touchdown came early in the first period. With play resumed after Smith had punted over the Mancelona goal, the visitors fumbled and recovered on their two-yard line. On the next play, a punt, attempted behind the goal, fell into Charlevoix's hands on the Mancelona 10-yard line. Serno hit the line for three yards, and on the next play Struthers smashed through for the touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

Throughout the remainder of the contest, Charlevoix carried the battle into Mancelona territory for the most part and several times threatened to score. They were near the goal as the half ended and several times afterwards. It looked like a touchdown early in the fourth when Struthers was hurt and fumbled after an advance from Mancelona's 40-yard line nearly to the goal, Struthers, removed because of a shoulder injury, was replaced by Shapton, and the scoring threat continued until Mancelona intercepted a pass as the frame ended.

Officials handling the contest were: MacDonald, Traverse City, referee; Sutton, Harbor Springs, umpire; Bingham and Genet, Charlevoix, linesmen.

The Kipmen go to Cheboygan for their next contest on Saturday of this week.

TRANSFER LIGHTSHIPS TO ATLANTIC STATIONS

Milwaukee and Manitou Shoals Ships
Sent to Boston, Mass.

Two government lightships, Milwaukee 95, and Manitou Shoals 89, left port here this week on a journey down the Great Lakes, thru the St. Lawrence river to the Atlantic ocean. Their destination is Boston, Mass., which will be the base of operations hereafter.

More modern appliances to aid navigation have taken these two storm-beaten sentinels from posts they have held on the Great Lakes for many years. New breakwaters, with lightships guarding the harbor entrance, have been completed at Milwaukee. At Manitou Shoals, located on the north shore between the mainland and the Beaver Islands, survey is being made for a permanent lightship. Relief ship No. 103 is guarding the dangerous shoals there until the lightship is completed, and in the meantime, Manitou Shoals light ship is enroute to Boston with its crew of hardy seamen.

With the advancement to more modern equipment, the familiar sight of bright red hulls and gleaming beacons of these sentinels of the Great Lakes will soon be but a memory.

Home Management
Miss Blair was hostess to the home management class Friday after school, at the Tea Gardens on Clinton street. Her delightful shop is filled with a variety of beautiful vases and accessories which will be in a direct line with the study of interior decorating later to be studied in class. Miss Blair served tea by the fireplace, and her hospitality and graciousness is very much appreciated by the class.

Food Class
The food class spent several days last week down town in the vegetable and fruit markets preparing for the study of canning and making jelly.

Civics
Under the direction of the civics class the high school will conduct its class officer election. Tuesday will be given over to the registration of the students. Following that will come nomination and election. This plan was very successfully carried out last year.

History
The American history class is having a map contest which is both exciting and educational.

Manual Arts
The boys have begun work on some of the more simple projects to refresh their memories with some of the tool processes.

The lathe is the most coveted machine in the shop. All boys are anxious and can hardly wait their turn on this machine which does the work for them.

The boys in sheet metal are becoming acquainted with the wiring machine through the making of a biscuit cutter.

The electrical unit is engaged in bell wiring, learning the why, regarding certain hook-ups.

Some boys as yet are undecided what to make for home, and a little added encouragement from the parents will aid greatly in helping them decide on a project.

Dramatics

At the regular meeting of the Drama club last Tuesday, it was decided to pay dues of 25c for the year to apply to the expenses of the club such as purchasing books, scenery, etc.

Dorothy Staley spoke on the background of the theatre beginning with the Grecian period and continuing with the Roman, the theatre's darkest period from the 6th to the 11th century A. D., and the Renaissance period. Next week John Winder is to continue the discussion with the French, the Spanish, the English and the American theatre.

Virginia Nickerson gave a resume of the interesting play, "So This Is London." The scene is laid in London where an American family, very prejudiced against the English is visiting. The wrath and disgust of the father is very amusing when he learns that his son is engaged to be married to an English girl. In the same manner, the parents of the girl are curious as to the characteristics of their son-in-law-to-be. The ending is happy when the two families meet and are pleased with each other. The American admits that England is not as bad as he thought it was, but America still heads the list.

This was followed by a dramatization of "Manikin and Minikin." Lucille Bogart and Paul McCartney played the parts of the two brisk figures who were forced to sit on the mantel with a clock between them and their backs to each other. The only time that they could see each other was when the housemaid took the statues from the mantel to be dusted. The statues decided that they loved each other from their inner souls and hoped to live to be antiques together.

The executive committee met Wednesday afternoon to discuss material for programs.

Pen Meeting

Friday at 4 o'clock our first "pen" meeting of the year started out with the loud cheering of Red! White! Everyone was enthused and confident over the winning of the game Saturday so gave all their "pen" to their meeting. Homer Struthers gave a short speech followed by one from Capt. Eddie McCann. After that came the well known fight locomotive and the meeting ended with everyone singing "Red and White."

Band

Mr. Magor has issued of two new band books, the music of which the band is using for football and basketball games. Thursday and Friday the band practiced marching. On Saturday the group in full uniform marched from Clinton street to Bridge street and on to the football field, where they played at the Charlevoix-Mancelona game.

Mr. Magor told the group an amusing story of an old bass player who marched blissfully down the street playing, "oom-pah! oom-pah!" while his band turned the corner. We do not want that to happen to our band.

Music

The mixed chorus is busy working on a cantata. It is called "The Building of the Ship." The words are written by H. W. Longfellow and the music by Wilson. It will be presented some time in the near future.

ists of about 15 members, have started conducting work this week. All are busy learning how to use a baton.

The attendance for the first month of school this year has been very good compared with the record of previous years. The percentage for the upper grades, 10th, 11th and 12th, was 98.6 per cent. In the month there were only five people tardy.

Last Friday evening, Oct. 7, there was held in Gaylord a northern district meeting. Main speakers were Prof. Smith, Mt. Pleasant normal, and Mr. Bush. They spoke on school supervision. Those from Charlevoix attended were Mr. Bingham, Mr. Magor, Mr. Weisenberger and Mr. North. The invitation was extended for the meeting to be held in Charlevoix next year.

Personals

The students of the high school regret very much that Mrs. Logan's ill health has required that she give up her teaching duties for a time. Mrs. Logan has been with us as teacher of foreign languages for two years and during that time has gained the admiration of every French and Latin student. She is not only a teacher, but also friend and advisor. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Ethel Powers was hostess at a delightful dinner party at her home on Saturday evening.

Home Economics Club

All girls interested in the formation of a home economics club will meet around the campfire following supper and a hike to the beach Monday after school. Girls who have had home economics or are taking it at present will be welcomed.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade have health inspection every morning by the pupils, who look at the nails, hands and teeth. So far the reports have been quite favorable. Health booklets are being made and it is hoped they will tend to improve the students' habits.

The oral reading and story hour of the sixth grade is delivered by radio. They have made their microphone and have chosen Donald Tillotson and Russell Driggett for the announcers. Their station is called "The Jolly Pipers' Station."

There will be a grade assembly Friday, Oct. 14, at 3 o'clock in the gym. This week is fire prevention week and the play "The Trial of Fire," which the 5th and 6th grades have been working on will be presented. The public is invited to attend.

The following paragraphs are taken from the Dec. 1, 1906, number of the Charlevoix "High School Hustler."

"A high school orchestra has recently been organized and certainly will be a good one judging from the musical talent there is connected with it. The following members will make their first appearance Monday next: Miss Merle Feltz, pianist; Misses Bessie Cohan and Francis Todd, and Messrs. Cooper, Johnson and Taylor, violinists; Messrs. Miller, Partridge, Campbell and Paddock, mandolinists, and Sam Levinson, flute. They are 'all stars.'"

"Miss Maud Cross gave a supper Tuesday evening in honor of Lola's 19th birthday. Those present were Mayfred Stacks, Winnie Weaver, Merle Feltz, Mabel Weed, Kate Pearson, Mildred Johnson, Grace Barnett, and Mae Feltz."

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The organization of the county normal class resulted in the following elections: president, Giles McCann, St. James; vice-president, Roy Bussler, East Jordan; secretary and treasurer, Edna Knudsen, Ironton.

The regular normal curriculum is being modified and extended by the courses in education, economics, sociology and music offered by the Michigan University of the Air, Ann Arbor. A course in manual training has also been arranged for by Mr. Weisenberger.

An interesting class has been planned by Professor Jetter of University conservation department and Miss Bigge. Under the professor's direction the class will take a field trip Thursday afternoon to learn how to make use of our natural environment; especially a basis for school study activity.

Mrs. Dick and Miss Bigge attended county normal conference in Cadillac last Saturday.

Thanks to Mr. Passler's bulletin board, the class has had the opportunity this week of seeing at a glance some of the topics of national and world importance.

The county normal extension library has already been drawn upon by some of the rural teachers of the county. Miss Supernaw has been appointed librarian for the year.

AT THE MOVIES "Life Begins" Opens at Palace Theatre

Hailed by preview critics who have seen the picture in Los Angeles and New York as "the most unusual picture of the age," the first National production, "Life Begins," is headed for the Palace theatre where it will open its run on Saturday.

Unusual both in theme and treatment, "Life Begins" gives the movie audience its first intimate glimpse into the workings of a hospital maternity ward and the lives and tragedies of the women confined there. The delicate subject it deals with has been tactfully, yet most effectively, handled by the producers.

Misery loves company, but not any more than happiness does.

Mrs. H. Price of Woodville, W. L. I. writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 3 children, one of 19 and the other 18. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. It not only satisfies after the first bottle—but money back.

NEW VARIETY OF BEAN DEVELOPED FOR MARKET
—A new variety of bean which markets for the same price as the white bean but which yields heavier, has been introduced in Western Michigan.

The new variety is the cranberry bean, which originally was grown in California. A few years ago jobbers distributed seed in the western part of the state for experimental purposes. Farmers favored the variety to the white specie.

This year greater acreages were planted, and reports are that large yields are expected.

BELOVED PIONEER TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Albert O'Brien Died Sunday
After Extended Illness

Mrs. Albert O'Brien, one of the pioneer residents of Charlevoix, died at 2 o'clock Sunday morning at Charlevoix hospital after an illness of seven weeks duration. On August 24 she suffered a broken hip, which resulted in her death.

Mary Jane Underwood was born in Chateaugay, N. Y., January 26, 1857. At the age of 23, she was united in marriage to Albert O'Brien. To this union were born five children, James, George, Grace, Roy and Pay. Grace and Roy died in infancy. Besides the children and her husband, there remain one sister, three brothers, four grand children and one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left Chateaugay shortly after their marriage and came to Norwood, where they lived for 20 years. They then moved to Charlevoix and took up their residence in the home where they now reside. Mrs. O'Brien was a devoted and loving wife and mother. Her life was one of sacrifice—full of deep consideration for others. In her early years she was confirmed in the Episcopal church, later transferring her membership to the Methodist church.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Edward S. Doan from Emmanuel Episcopal church, Petoskey, officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

Only MERMAST Gives You This Value!

MANAMAR, the "Sun and Sea" supplement that puts the "spark" into rations, is the talk of good poultrymen all over America. It is present in every bag of Mer-mash, sold only by your Farm Bureau.

Mer-mash 16% gives you those well-feathered, red-combed, powerful, yellow-shanked birds. It increases egg production and produces finer-flavored eggs and fowls. It builds health that enables the flock to resist disease. In chicks it satisfies the craving that causes toe-picking and cannibalism.

Reduce Mortality

Why not reduce mortality from preventable causes? Reduce losses, lower costs, increase egg production. Thousands of poultrymen have learned that Mer-mash 16% is the ideal ration for growing birds. They have learned, too, that Mer-mash actually costs LESS than many ordinary feeds!

Try a bag of Mer-mash 16%. It will save you money and bring you greater poultry results. See your Farm Bureau dealer today.

ROUSE IS REMOVED FROM ROAD OFFICE

SUPERVISORS VOTE 15 TO 7 TO OUST COMMISSIONER

Attorney for Rouse Avers His Client Will Not Recognize Proceeding—Rogers Successor

L. C. Rouse, Boyne City member of the Charlevoix county road commission, was removed from office by a 15 to 7 vote of the board of supervisors Monday. Three members of the board declined to vote on the issue.

By adoption of a resolution presented for vote, Rouse, as manager and also joint owner of real estate used in the business of the General Oil Company, was found guilty on charges of selling petroleum products, gasoline, oils and greases to the road commission of which he was a member. By the same resolution, the office was declared vacant.

Road Commissioners W. E. Byers and Frank Waukegan, implicated for reason they audited bills paid to the General Oil Company, and resigned in office by a majority vote at a special session July 19th, were again exonerated by Monday's action. They should be free of any guilt in connection with the matter by this time.

With Rouse removed from office, the board set 1:30 o'clock for election of his successor, but later moved this business ahead to the morning session and elected Samuel E. Rogers, former East Jordan road commissioner, by a 13 to 12 vote over Dell Mitchell of Boyne City.

It is understood that the contention of prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis and anti-Rouse members of the board of supervisors, was that no vote had been previously taken deciding the guilt or innocence of Rouse on charges preferred and heard at the July special session; that the 12 to 12 tie vote was taken to decide his retention or removal from office, thus the establishment of his guilt or innocence remained a matter of unfinished business to be settled at the discretion of the board.

On Monday, October 10th, it was voted to prefer charges as outlined above, and Monday, October 17, at 2 o'clock, was set for the time of hearing. However, for some unknown reason, the board decided to and did vote Rouse's guilt and removal at the morning session.

At 2 o'clock that afternoon, the time originally set for the hearing, Attorney John Patchin of Traverse City, retained by Rouse as counsel, appeared to defend his client, only to find that the matter had already been dispensed with.

In his remarks before the supervisors, Mr. Patchin made it known that he considered the tie vote in July an exoneration for Rouse on charges brought against him. He told the board they had failed to heed recognized legal procedure by removing his client without giving him a hearing and opportunity for defense. He stated Mr. Rouse would not recognize the board's action, that he would serve out the remainder of his term and demand his salary in full unless the court ordered otherwise.

Thus we find the road commission, kicked from pillar to post the past year by political factions, possessing one more member than is required, and everyone is wondering what is to be done about it.

RICHARD BERGMAN HURT IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

Hit by Shot Directed at Rabbit When He Stood Unseen in Thicket

Richard Bergman, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bergman, fortunately escaped serious injury last Saturday afternoon when accidentally shot while rabbit hunting at Hemingway Point near Ironton.

According to reports, the party, numbering six, were ready to return home, all being at the car with the exception of Fred Bergman, who remained in the woods in an effort to get one of the dogs still running a rabbit. Richard, thought to be at the car with the other men, had returned to the woods also, and was standing behind a cedar thicket in a hollow in line with the rabbit and his father as the latter shot.

About twenty pellets struck the lad, several in the legs, arms and shoulders. He was taken immediately to Charlevoix hospital, where some of the shot was removed. He is now at home and recovering rapidly.

THURSDAY LARGE DAY IN POLITICS

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS BOTH PLAN RALLIES

Governor Wilbur M. Brucker to Speak at Petoskey—Democrats Arrange Seven Meetings

Tuesday, October 20th, promises to be an important day in political circles of Northern Michigan, with rallies scheduled by both Republican and Democratic parties.

Through the efforts of Republican leaders of the region, a party rally, at which Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker will be the principal speaker, will be held Thursday evening at Petoskey. Chairman John Lake of the Emmet county Republican committee is arranging the program. Weather permitting, Governor Brucker will speak in the Pennsylvania park, otherwise the meeting will be held at the Temple theatre.

Large delegations from all districts in Charlevoix county, as well as all Northern Michigan, are planning to take advantage of this opportunity to hear Michigan's chief executive.

A schedule of five meetings have been arranged by those in charge of the Democratic rallies scheduled for the same day.

Listed among the speakers are William A. Comstock, candidate for governor; Prentiss M. Brown, Democratic nominee for congress; Clifton M. Hill of Alpena, nominee for state senator from the 27th district; Patrick H. O'Brien, Detroit, Democratic nominee for attorney general.

The following schedule of meetings has been arranged: Boyne Falls at 10 o'clock a. m.; Boyne City at 11:00 a. m.; East Jordan at 1:00 p. m.; Ellsworth, Antrim county, at 2:00 p. m.; Charlevoix at 4:00 p. m. (meeting in high school gymnasium); Bay Shore following the Charlevoix meeting, and an evening rally at Petoskey.

With the near approach of the general election in November, interest in politics is heightening rapidly, and the two party rallies arranged for this week have promise of taking on a note of enthusiasm quite out of the ordinary.

NO QUARTER GIVEN IN WAFARE ON RATS

New Poison Bait Prepared by Federal Department Offered

Michigan farmers can get assistance in destroying rats on their farms if they will organize a county-wide campaign and get their county agricultural agent to make necessary arrangements with the United States department of agriculture.

The federal department will carry on 100 of the campaigns in states east of the Mississippi river in the next 90 days. The government distributes at cost a ready prepared red-squill bait which has been found to be especially effective in the destruction of rats.

The bait is prepared by adding the red-squill to three different food substances which are attractive to rats. The bait is sent in sealed, sterile cans which insures that the bait will be fresh when opened for use. Nearly a quarter million cans are ready for distribution.

The palmit has no use for the man who is afraid to show his hand.

REAPPORTIONMENT MENACE TO NORTH

WILL ROB CHARLEVOIX COUNTY REPRESENTATION

Passage of Amendment November 8 Would Give House Control to Four Southern Counties

Faced with a loss of sixteen representatives in the state legislature if the so-called "Michigan Plan" of reapportionment is approved by voters at the November election, Charlevoix and other Northern Michigan counties should go to the polls with the determination to defeat the proposed constitutional amendment.

In case of adoption, the four counties of Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Kent would have more than half of the 100 representatives in the lower house of the Michigan legislature. Under the amendment proposed it is not "citizenship" but "population" that counts. All the aliens in Detroit, Pontiac and Flint would be counted in favor of these localities. No one wants the kind of government Detroit, Pontiac and Flint have recently had.

In case of adoption, Charlevoix county would be combined in a district composed of Cheboygan, Emmet, Antrim and Kalkaska counties with a single representative, while Wayne county would have 39, Kent county 5, Genesee and Saginaw 3, and Oakland and Ingham each 2.

If the amendment is adopted, Charlevoix county stands in danger of losing large sums of money returned from the weight and gas tax, for highway maintenance, for highway construction, primary school fund, Turner bill distribution, etc., which with four counties in control, would be diverted by future legislation unfavorable to northern counties.

The following tabulation will give some idea of the vast amount of money Charlevoix county is receiving:

	Paid to State
Weight tax (estimates)	$ 38,792.57
Gas tax (estimates)	51,561.29
Gen. Property tax	23,506.75
Total	$113,860.61
State tax unpaid	12,322.75
Actual paid state	$101,537.75
	Received from State
Weight and gas tax	$ 54,457.28
Highway maintenance	39,134.53
Highway construction	34,038.86
Primary school fund	75,366.60
Turner bill dist.	31,386.92
Maint. inmates from Co. in state institutions	29,363.48
Total	$263,747.67

The above figures show Charlevoix county received $149,887.06 more from the state than paid out in taxes, or, in other words for every dollar paid we received $2.31. Of the weight and gas tax received, $18,498.78 went for township road tax relief. Charlevoix county cannot afford to lose such income.

A "yes" vote means that you are willing to have four counties of Michigan control the lower house, and take a chance on losing the state relief listed above.

A "no" vote means that you desire the county part of Michigan to have a real voice in the government of the state.

VOTE "NO."

KIPMEN DEFEATED BY CHEBOYGAN "11"

ON SHORT END OF 19 TO 0 SCORE LAST SATURDAY

Meet Boyne City Here Saturday In Important Tip of Michigan Conference Contest

Charlevoix high school gridlers took their second defeat of the season last Saturday afternoon from the undefeated class B Cheboygan team in a game played at Cheboygan. Scoring twice in the first, and again in the fourth period, Cheboygan's margin of victory was 19 to 0.

Stacking up against a more powerful and experienced team, the Kipmen were held to two first downs from scrimmage and as many through forward passes. Only by a stubborn defense and the excellent punting of Smith, were they able to hold the score from being more lopsided.

Clark, Cheboygan right end, scored their two touchdowns in the first period. Both were on passes from Dickman, fullback, the first when Clark nabbed a 15-yard pass on his 45-yard line and raced over the goal. On the second, he received the ball on Charlevoix's 15-yard line and went over for the marker.

With a substantial lead piled up, Cheboygan's coach removed Clark and Dickman, and from then on until these two stars returned to the line-up, Charlevoix held their heavier opponents on even terms, and scored three first downs.

Following is a summary of the contest:

Charlevoix	Cheboygan
Selman	LE
Asselin	LT
Schley	LG
Merchant	RG
Bakers	RE
Laprarie	RE
Clark	RE
Fenlon	QB
Canille	LT
Cain	LT
Dickman	FB

The score by quarters:

Cheboygan 12 0 0 0—19

Touchdowns: Clark 2, Dickman 1.

Point after touchdown, Fenlon.

First downs—Cheboygan 8, Charlevoix 4.

Yards gained by rushing the ball—Cheboygan 194; Charlevoix 32.

Passes—Cheboygan completed 4 out of 6 for gain of 104 yards; and intercepted; Charlevoix completed 6 out of 13 for gain of 49 yards.

Penalties—on Cheboygan, 65 yards; on Charlevoix 10 yards.

Punts—Cheboygan 8, averaging 35 yards; Charlevoix 11, averaging 35 yards.

Charlevoix meets its most severe test in Tip of Michigan conference competition here Saturday when they stack up against Coach Brotherton's Boyne City team. Boyne, although defeated last Saturday 7 to 6 by Harbor Springs, has a victory over Petoskey, and is rated one of the strongest class C schools of the district.

SUPERVISORS CUT OFFICERS' WAGES

REDUCE GREATER PORTION OF ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS

Mill Tax for General, Poor and Road Purposes Is 1½ Mills Less Than Last Year

Charlevoix county supervisors brought their October session to a close Tuesday afternoon, voting a drastic reduction in officers' salaries. The sheriff's salary was cut from $2,400 to $1,500, and meal allowance from 25c to 20c; treasurer from $3,000 to $1,800 with $400 for clerk hire; clerk from $2,800 to $1,800 with $400 clerk hire; prosecuting attorneys from $2,000 to $1,800.

Probate Judge Ervan A. Ruegg accepted a voluntary cut from $2,000, set by law, to $1,800. The register of deeds was placed on a flat salary of $1,500 and a committee of three appointed to set the fee for recording of abstracts. The school commissioner's salary was left at $1,500, but clerk hire was reduced from $100 to $200 and garage allowance from $180 to $50. The drain commissioner's salary of $48 was cut out entirely with a recommendation the office be abolished. It was also recommended automobile mileage be limited to 5c.

Appropriations totaling $5,060 were voted as follows:

County normal, $1,000; sailors and soldiers' relief commission, $350; county agricultural agent, $1,200; Michigan Tourist and Resort association, $400; Michigan Children's Aid society, $100; Starr Commonwealth, $100; Michigan Children's Fund for district office expense, $375; Charlevoix hospital, $500; county picnic, $150; Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show, $135; Whiting county park, $500.

The county agent's appropriation was $1,500 less than last year, five hundred dollars was lopped off the Whiting park fund, also a small reduction for county normal.

An appropriation of $150 to the American Legion to cover cost of distributing confiscated fish to the needy was allowed, also $100 for rent of a landing field at Beaver Island.

The board accepted a report of the poor committee, requesting $25,000 for care of indigents during the coming fiscal year. This amount is three thousand less than last year. A committee of three, one from each county district, was named to audit the poor commissioner's bills at their monthly meeting in an attempt to curtail unnecessary expenditures. It was ordered that no cash be given indigents. The report revealed temporary relief to the poor last year cost $9,705.29 in East Jordan, $7,911.93 at Boyne City and $1,171.27 at Charlevoix.

The mill tax for the coming year is 1½ mills, compared with 12½ a year ago, providing considerable reduction in county taxes.

Practically everything was cut except the supervisors' own pay, this proposal finding little favor when brought up for discussion.

Editorial

The following was taken from an editorial in a high school paper written recently by Charles F. Hamilton of Bay City. Mr. Hamilton will be remembered as a former superintendent of C. H. S.

"I measure all students against a group of students I had in Charlevoix ten years ago when I was superintendent there. Charlevoix is a summer resort and students each summer work for many of the wealthy resorters, either as caddies on the golf links, nursemaids for the children of the resorters or in various other capacities. These contacts teach students that it pays to be mannerly, gracious, courteous and respectful.

"Charlevoix students practiced those virtues until they became not only a second nature, but it seemed to me original nature itself. They seemed always to do the right thing at the right time and I was proud of them. At Christmas time and other special days even to the present time, I exchange greetings with literally scores of these students (now grown to manhood and womanhood) after a lapse of ten years.

"Therefore as I said I measure all students I meet by that idealized group whom I think of as one grand 'gang' of students."

Mr. Hamilton also offered a piece of advice to the Bay City students which could also be of use to us. He says: "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you," might well be your motto.

"Every man in every play," as we sing in an old football song, might well be changed to "Every student a member of some worthwhile activity group." Get the thrill of team play, the "we" spirit or whatever you call it, which impresses one as your demeanor has impressed me—in a fine way.

C. H. S. feels proud of the compliment given by Mr. Hamilton and sincerely hopes that if he should visit our school some day he will find as mannerly, courteous, and respectful students as were here ten years ago.

Dramatics

On Tuesday, Oct. 11, the Drama club had a program similar to the preceding week. John Winder gave an interesting talk on the theatres of France, Spain, America, including many characters of interest and famous actors and actresses such as John Drew, Maud—and the Barrymore family.

Margaret McCann gave a review of the "Charm School." A group of girls in a private school become suddenly aware of the fact that the school has fallen into the hands of a young lawyer. They all agree to go on a strike but the plan is quickly abandoned when they see that the lawyer is not only young, but handsome. He attempts to teach the girls charm and consequently Elsie, one of the students, falls in love with him and upon realizing that he will have nothing to do with her, runs away. His search for her lasts through the night and her brief disappearance reveals to him that he loves her. So they are married, though he is forced to give up his "Charm School."

This resume followed by a presentation of the play "Miss Civilization."

The cast:
Alice.....Dorothy Partridge
J. Hatch.....Lloyd Arnold
Ruck Micken.....John Winder
Harry Hayes.....Paul McCartney
Captain Lucas.....Crawford Norton
Alice, finding three burglars in her house, immediately informs the police, who are several miles distant.

The burglars, after filling their bags with valuables prepare to dine from the family ice box, when Alice appears pleading with them to be quiet so as not to disturb her sick mother.

While Buck and Harry enjoy the meal J. Hatch and Alice converse. "For twenty years," J. Hatch tells Alice "he has escaped the law and civilization." Alice warns him that he risks twenty or thirty years of his life in prison for one year's profits, and that some time he will be caught. While they converse a noise is heard and Alice tells him that "civilization" is on his track, that the house is surrounded by policemen, and that he is caught. At this moment Captain Lucas enters and arrests the burglars.

Jessie Banstelle's Final Curtain

The whole country is saddened at the death of Jessie Banstelle, beloved actress and founder of the first Civic theatre in the United States.

The American Magazine, McCalls, The Theatre Magazine and others have carried glowing accounts of Miss Banstelle's work in the American theatre. In her several stock companies it is estimated that she has trained more stars than any other director can boast. Among them are Alice Brady, Catherine Cornell, Ann Harding and Kenneth MacKenna.

Personals

Many students from C. H. S. went to the football game at Cheboygan Saturday.

Albert McMillan is back in school after having been ill for some time.

Mr. Bush spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week interviewing foreign language teachers in the southern part of the state.

History and Civics

The American history classes are writing themes on colonial life to be read in class. They are endeavoring to make them as interesting as possible.

The World history class is studying the chivalry of the middle ages. They find this subject very enjoyable.

Fire Prevention Week Observed

Friday afternoon the 5th and 6th grades presented an entertaining and educational program called "The Trial of Fire." The scene for the play was laid in a court room. Those on trial were the most simple things that start fires. Each pupil who took part was dressed in accordance with his character. The junior and senior high schools formed a very appreciative audience.

Band

The band will play on the evening of Nov. 3 at the parent, "My Michigan," to be presented by the W. C. T. U. Also preparation is being made by the band to play at the Armistice program in the school.

Pen Meeting

The high school assembly held a pen meeting Friday after school. Jack Foster made a speech and many singing cheers were given. The meeting ended with the singing of "Red and White."

Grade News

The kindergarten are beginning their preparations for Halloween. The pupils have made pumpkins and other Halloween decorations and have placed them about their room. They also have corn shocks on either side of the fire place.

The first grade pupils are busy redecorating the furniture in their room. The chairs are being painted cream in place of blue.

The attendance honor roll of the first grade is as follows: Freda Barnhart, Donald Bellinger, Elaine Edwards, Lucille Gallagher, Virginia Greiner, Helen Hamlin, Tracy Harvey, Helen Henry, Leona Kirby, Louise Louise, Pearl Nowland, Alvin Prevost, Jack Vosbury, Lois Walstead. These pupils have been neither tardy nor absent for the first month.

The music classes of the grade building are busy writing original poems with music for Halloween. The 5th grade has one poem completed.

Sixth Grade

The Jolly Pipers have chosen a new announcer, Robert Goss, a controller, Edward Fochtman, and a board of approval, Vernice Holland, Harry Withers, Dorothy Powers.

Group A broadcasts on Wednesday at 9:45 and group B on Friday at the same time.

Beryl Hewitt has returned to our school after spending a month in Detroit.

Miss Fargo's room is making a study of the Northern Michigan foods. How they are planted, how they grow, and how they are harvested. They have their sand table fixed with shelves across it and on this they have placed some of the fall products. Some that they have are: onions, squash, potatoes, pumpkins, cucumbers, apples, nuts, and they have a few corn stalks. They will also study the fall flowers and leaves in much the same manner. This proves interesting to the pupils as all the vegetables, flowers and leaves are brought in by them.

The fourth grade, under the direction of Miss Manson are thoroughly enjoying their initiation into the study of geography this year.

Miss Dasef is teaching the girls of the senior high gym class clog dancing. They are all very enthusiastic over it.

Junior High News

The first month of school always proves to be one of readjustment for many students, particularly those in the seventh and rural students who have not had the opportunity to work in similar activities.

With the second month now in its second week, both teachers and students feel a degree of acquaintance which permits both to realize the value of the other.

Campaigns for election to the Junior High Student Council are being prepared, petitions of candidates circulated among members of the student body and plans to stimulate greater enthusiasm for self-directed activity are beginning to appear.

Honor roll for those who have a B or better in each subject:

Mr. Gerald F. Bush,
Superintendent of Schools, Charlevoix, Michigan.
My Dear Mr. Bush:

As a result of my recent visit in your school, I have the following suggestions to make:

1. I should like to commend you and your staff and particularly the pupils and janitor for the excellent appearance of your school plant, both inside and outside. It ought to be easier for pupils to do good work and to enjoy the school in such an environment.

2. The supervised recreation period during the forenoon ought to be quite helpful to the pupils.

3. It is my understanding that you are aware of the inconvenience, experienced by the library being several blocks from the high school.

4. The atmosphere of the school appeared to be very good; pupils seated in the informal groups during the recitation helped to make the work more natural and useful.

5. The attempt of the superintendent to help the teachers in the improvement of their work is to be especially commended.

Signed: George E. Crothers.

The beginners are learning to read the story of "The Boy and the Goat." Louise Mosley, who is in the second grade, visited school this week. This is Louise's first visit to a country school.

The 7th graders are using the geography note books with the daily work in geography. They have finished Europe and Great Britain.

The 7th grade history class Friday made maps showing the parts of North America that each of the colonizing countries settled and claimed.

For 6th and 7th hygiene class Friday, Charles Dhaseler brought a pig's heart. The class was very much interested in noting the shape and size of the heart. It was also noted that it has four chambers.

Hallowe'en will soon be here again, judging from the looks of our wise old owls, grinning jack-o-lanterns, flying bats and black cats, all of which adorn our school room. They were made in our regular art class last Thursday.

One of the sixth grade boys brought a pan and a glass. We put some water and lighted a piece of paper. By placing the paper in the water and covering it with the glass we were able to see that the air is one-fifth oxygen, by the replacement of oxygen. The water raised to one-fifth the height of the glass.

ANTRIM BOARD ARRANGING TO FLOAT BOND ISSUE

Arrangements are in process for the issuing and selling of calamity bonds in the near future. The Antrim board of supervisors will bond for $23,000, with interest at four per cent. The state must give consent before any sale of them are made.

It is computed that $23,000 is three-eighths of the valuation of Antrim county.

If no buyers are extant the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will take them at three per cent interest.

Besides this issue of bonds other issues of securities are contemplated. Taxes, incoming soon, will tend to relieve conditions somewhat.

LOCATE FLYING FIELD EAST OF BOYNE CITY

One Leased by Hammond Flying Service Given State License

Bill Hammond, of the Hammond Flying Service of Owosso and St. Ignace, has announced that he had leased the Thomas Matelski farm, on the Boyne Falls-Boyne City road for an airport. He had Major Floyd Evnns of the state aeronautics department visit the field and a temporary license has been issued.

Mr. Hammond said that it was the aim of his firm to expand their field as rapidly as business would warrant. "We are going ahead carefully with an aim of keeping abreast of the general advance in the air business."

The new field east of Boyne City provides that section with its first licensed field for service.

AT THE MOVIES

Despite Years' of Stage Practice, "Chic" Sale Can't Play Cornet

It is no old axiom in show business that it is harder to do a thing the wrong way on purpose than it is to do it right. And that is what put "Chic" Sale "on the spot" in his latest Warner Bros. comedy classic of real folks, "Stranger in Town," which comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday with Ann Dvorak playing the feminine lead. "Chic" just up and busted the old axiom.

For twelve years Sale has been the proud owner of a battered and decrepit old cornet which was the high spot in his vaudeville act. As an old Civil war veteran, he would spend twenty minutes before the audience in getting ready to play the senile instrument. The climax of the act was when "Chic" actually played it. There was only one good valve on it, and although he managed to get a tune out of it, the melody would be generously punctuated with wheezes and groans from the battered pipes. It was a case of being better perfect in getting his instrument to butcher the tune.

Everyone was convinced that "Chic" Sale knew how to play a cornet perfectly because he was so proficient at playing it imperfectly.

Came the time to take a band concert scene in "Stranger in Town," where "Chic" brings the town band down to meet Ann Dvorak, who is returning from college. Director Erle Kenton handed "Chic" Sale a shiny, new cornet to play.

"Chic" was overcome with consternation. He protested that he didn't know how to play it—but no one would believe him.

All he had ever learned in his twelve years of cornet tooting was how to get the battered instrument to wheeze out the only tune he could play with the one good valve.

Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—note—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That is because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat.

Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The normal class spent Wednesday visiting many rural schools. The trip was enjoyed by all and the students became acquainted with the present rural school education.

Thursday afternoon Prof. Jutter entertained the class on a field trip.
Besides being very educational by showing the students the way nature can be adapted to teaching. It was very interesting.

Observation classes for the student teacher to become efficient in observing the training room teaching are becoming a daily factor in the normal routine.

Friday the normal class was invited to a play given by the 5th and 6th grades. It was to show people the costly results of their blunders while using dangerous fire causes.

Through the courtesy of Miss Payton, the normal class will be taught a magazine study lesson by Miss Bigge. It will be new to the members of the class, so therefore, it should be interesting.

Training Room
The second grade had a 100 per cent attendance the first month.

An interesting nature study project is going on unaided in the training room. Some flies laid eggs among some dead caterpillars. The worms hatched from these have destroyed all cocoons except one. All are now waiting for the next development.

The fifth grade started work in Healthy Living last week. Some work in bandaging will be carried on in the near future.

FIRST P. T. A. MEET- ING LAST WEDNESDAY

Interesting Session Enjoyed by a Large Attendance

The first P. T. A. meeting of the fall was held last Wednesday evening at the high school assembly room with E. J. Edwards, the new president, in the chair.

Mrs. Engle VanAllsburg was elected to the office of secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Bessie Dean.

The treasurer stated 45 members paid dues last year. The dues are 25c annually, 15c of which is paid to the state organization.

Grace Belding, Charlotte Hicken and Bernice Meggison, with Miss Atkinson at the piano, furnished the music and Supt. Gerald F. Bush gave a reading appropriate to Columbus day.

County School Commissioner Wm.
C. Palmer presented the topic,
"School Legislation," telling of the origin of the primary school fund and of other early legislation. He also described at some length the county unit school system now in operation in eleven states, mostly in the south.
The system is well liked in states that have tried it. It permits buying school supplies in large quantities, gives the children equal advantages, and reduces the cost materially. This method worked so well in Utah that in 1929 the Mormons voted to close their parochial schools and send their children to the consolidated schools.

Mr. Palmer took occasion to speak in favor of the tax reduction amendments and the need of tax reduction in general. Supt. Bush read an opinion from the attorney general, who sees chaos and bankruptcy ahead if these amendments pass.

The next meeting has been set for November 14th. An interesting program is being planned for this coming meeting. Light refreshments, served from the home economics room, closed the meeting Wednesday night.

Young Cheboygan Hunter Drowned

Albert Weiss, young farmer of Munro township in Cheboygan county, was drowned in Munro lake last Tuesday night, while duck hunting.
He had gone onto the lake in company with Charles Johnson and Claude Wheelock in a flat bottomed boat which filled during the storm.

Weiss finally lost his grip on the boat and sank. The other two men held on until help arrived. Wheelock was unconscious when rescued, but held to the boat, aided by Johnson.

The lake at that point has a mud bottom and the men could not wade ashore. The body was found in about four feet of water.

EIGHT PROPOSALS UP TO THE VOTER

HUGE AMENDMENT BALLOT AT NOVEMBER 8 ELECTION

Suggestion for Convenience of Voter Is Made and Amendments Ex- plained in Brief

Eight amendments, listed on a ballot of extraordinary large proportion, will be placed before voters at the general election of November 8th.

As a matter of convenience, it might be suggested that voters make a list of the amendments in their order, marking "yes" or "no" after each, and taking the list to the polls so the ballots may be marked quickly without taking time to read the proposals in the voting booth.

The squares for marking the cross are placed beneath each proposition. Following is a brief explanation of the amendments:

No. 1 would establish a liquor control commission in Michigan and repeal state constitutional prohibition. The sale of liquor in Michigan was outlawed sixteen years ago and this is the first time in thirteen years that the issue had been on the ballots. The proposal is on the ballots because 300,000 have asked for it. Michigan stepped into the ranks of dry states in 1916 when the present "bone-dry" section was added to the constitution by a vote of 353,378 to 283,751. In the same election a local option proposal lost. Voters turned down a proposal to legalize light wines and beer in April of 1919.

No. 2 would limit the property tax to 1 1/2 per cent with exceptions in case of principal and interest on old debts.

No. 3 would make mandatory re-apportionment of representatives strictly on a population basis, and was explained in last week's Courier.

No. 4 would exempt homesteads valued up to $3,000 from taxation except to pay public debts heretofore incurred.

Taking Nos. 2 and 4 together, their passage would be a disaster. If both passed, total revenues now collected by school districts, villages, cities, townships, counties and state would be reduced by 65% to 90%.

No other source of revenue is provided and, unless provided, all functions of governmental units would be paralyzed. The primary school fund would be cut at least 40% ($9 instead of $15 or $16 per child of school age). The sources of revenue for the Turner money, state aid to one-room schools, would be similarly cut. The amendment fails to stipulate what portion of the $15 tax shall go to the various units of government. The legislature would be forced to enact hasty and ill advised legislation. Taking Eveline township, for instance, the tax now raised and needed for necessary governmental functions is $35. What would happen with the $15 limit?

No. 5 would require residence in the city for 20 days prior to election (rather than 20 days in the ward as at present) and would permit township polling places within the limits of a city which has been carved out of the township.

No. 6 would limit the pardoning power of the governor by exempting (Continued on page 6).

BIG FISH RECORDS FALL THICK AND FAST THIS SEASON

Records of big fish, which have been falling with regularity this season, took another tumble Monday afternoon when Carleton Ikens brought in a 19-pound mackinaw trout caught trolling in Lake Michigan. In addition, his catch included two 16-pound and one 10-pound mackinaw.

Another nice catch of steelhead, two fish weighing 8 1/2 and 5 pounds each, were displayed late last week by Enri Miller.

Fishing in local waters is now at its best. Steelhead are striking well in Round lake and Lake Charlevoix, while the trolling for mackinaw trout off north and south points in Lake Michigan has been great for about a week now. Bernie Ward and Geo. Bergman brought in a catch of seven, averaging in weight from 5 to 12 pounds.

Perch fishing in Round lake, which is attracting sportsmen from the entire region, has never been better. Hauls running into the hundreds have been made by parties in a single day on the lake.

NUT TREES MAY BEAR GOLD PLATED FRUIT

Offer Money Prizes for Best Samples of Squirrel Fodder

Gathering the family supply of hickory nuts, walnuts, or butternuts can be turned into a treasure hunt this fall in Michigan if the hunters will take advantage of the offer made by Michigan State college to pay awards as high as $15 for the best nuts picked from Michigan trees or from those in similar climates.

First, second, and third prizes are offered for black walnuts, shellbark hickories, butternuts, Japanese walnuts, heartnuts, English walnuts, and Japanese chestnuts. First prize in the first two classes is $15, and $10 for first place in all other classes. Second prizes are one-half the amounts offered for first, and third prizes are $5 and $3.

Samples offered for prize awards should contain one dozen nuts with the shells or husks removed. Each entry should be the product of one tree, but samples can be sent from as many trees as the contestant wishes. Nuts from named varieties of trees or those from trees which were awarded prizes in 1929 are not eligible.

FAMEO WAR HERO WILL TALK HERE

SERGEANT ALVIN YORK AT GYM FRIDAY EVENING

Man Whose Deeds Were Lauded by Entire Country to Champion Prohibition Cause

Sergt. Alvin York, Tennessee mountain preacher and described by Gen. John J. Pershing as the outstanding hero of the World war, will give an address at the high school auditorium, Friday evening, October 28th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Sergt. York's topic will be "Why I Am for Prohibition." His appearance here and at several other Northern Michigan points is sponsored by an organization of men temperance advocates and the local enforcement was arranged by the Charlevoix branch of this organization.

It was Sergeant York's daring feat of October 8, 1918, when under orders with his squad of 17 men he went over the ridge and silenced a machine-gun nest in the Argonne forest, leading back to the American lines 132 prisoners and with the loss of but eleven of his own men, that made him a national hero.

When he returned from France, New York went wild over him. He was feted and entertained by statesmen and generals. Both houses of congress met in joint session and cheered him to the echo. Vaudeville and motion picture agencies, newspaper syndicates, advertisers after his endorsement, offered him fabulous sums of money to "sign on the dotted line." But Alvin York had a different plan for his life. He had a great plan to build an institution of learning back in the Tennessee mountains, and his plan and his dream have come true. The state and the county lifted his community out of the mud by the construction of a hard road named in his honor and from the proceeds of his lectures augmented by appropriation by the state, he is maintaining schools, modern, well built, which are as well equipped as those found "outland."

Sergt. York does not glorify war. He is an advocate of peace and good will. The York schools are his contribution to permanent peace. It is as a champion of education of the less favored, a preacher of righteousness and social justice that Sergeant York raises his voice against the legalized liquor traffic.

Sergeant York will be accompanied by Colonel Frank B. Ebbert, Los Angeles attorney, who is a veteran of both the Spanish-American and World wars; and a very eloquent speaker.

The meeting will be free, but a free will offering will be taken to meet expenses.

TEMPERANCE UNION TO SPECIAL MEET FRIDAY

There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the community room Friday at 2:30 p. m., with some of the district officers as guest speakers. Local women will explain the eight amendments and give the rules for marking the ballot and "splitting your ticket."

DEEP WATER TRAP NETS REAL DANGER

USE A SERIOUS MENACE TO WHITEFISH, CLAIMED

Majority of Commercial Fishermen Register Disapproval of Nets of This Type

The rapid growth of the use of deep water trap nets in the Great Lakes is offering a serious menace to the future of Michigan's whitefish commercial fisheries and regulatory provisions must be enacted as soon as possible, Fred A. Westerman, in charge of the fish division of the department of conservation stated in an address delivered before the American Fisheries Society meeting at Baltimore, Md.

Deep water trap nets, which are often used at a depth of 100 feet and which have leads of at least a quarter mile in length were introduced into Michigan waters in 1928 and are now found extensively in Lake Huron, Saginaw Bay, upper Lake Michigan and to some extent in the eastern part of Lake Superior. Many fishermen, though opposed to the use of these nets, have been forced to adopt them to meet competition. Mr. Westerman said, and a fear persists that the whitefish which is generally considered first rank in quality among the fishes of the Great Lakes, is doomed unless measures are quickly adopted to regulate and restrict the use of this gear.

Questionnaires were recently sent to commercial fishermen in Michigan asking their opinions concerning the commercial fishing regulations. Of 174 comments received on deep water trap nets, 142 registered their disapproval and only 32 favored use of the nets.

If properly regulated as to the size of the mesh and the depth at which they might be used, deep water trap nets might be considered as having a place in the kind of gear used to fish under the varying conditions found in the Great Lakes, Mr. Westerman said, but unhampered by restrictions, these nets are invading the sanctuary of the whitefish and with the present size of mesh, fished in unlimited depths, are depleting the mature fish and destroying the juveniles.

FAMOUS PINE RIVER CASE OPENED AGAIN

Toledo Sportsman Ordered to Re- move Snags from Trout Water

Frank Collins, Toledo, O., sportsman, was given until Nov. 15 by the state conservation commission Thursday to remove barriers which he has erected in the Pine river which runs through his property in Dover township, Lake county.

Although the state supreme court has held that the Pine river is a navigable stream and as such open to public passage, Collins has placed logs and snags in the water, contending that they furnish fish cover.

The commission's removal order is based upon recommendation of the attorney general's department and civil action will be taken in court if the Toledo man fails to comply with it.

The Collins case has held the interest of every sportsman, and this decision of the conservation department is hailed as a victory for public rights.

The wages of sin is death, but there is always a man for the job.

MICHIGAN'S CASH CROPS ADVANCING

ALL BUT OATS AND BARLEY SHOW INCREASE

Potatoes, Beans, Corn Are Far Ahead of Last Year—Fruits Show Heavy Yield

Substantial increases in cash field crop and fruit productions in Michigan are reported by Verne H. Church, U. S. agricultural statistician.

Oats and barley were the only principal field crops yielding less than normal, Church reported, while corn, wheat, rye, beans, potatoes, sugar beets and hay produced unusually well. All fruit, with the exception of apples, yielded heavy.

"The state's corn crop is estimated at 45,949,000 bushels, an average of 33 bushels per acre, about eight per cent above the normal yield, and twelve per cent above last year's production," Church's report reads.

"Oats and barley suffered severe damage by heat and drought during the filling stage and yields are below normal. The estimated production of the former is 36,045,000 bushels and of the latter, 7,011,000 bushels.

"The state's total bean crop is estimated at 7,290,000 bushels, as compared with 5,526,000 bushels in 1931. This year's average yield is 13.5 bushels per acre.

"The state's potato production is estimated at 29,150,000 bushels, an average of 110 bushels per acre, and an increase of 5,400,000 bushels over last year's crop.

"The average yield of sugar beets is ten tons per acre. The total beet crop is estimated at 1,110,000 tons, or practically double that of 1931 because of the great increase in acreage. This is the largest production in the state since 1921.

"The winter apple crop is relatively light this year. The total production of both early and late varieties is estimated at 5,720,000 bushels, of which 1,043,000 barrels is raised at the commercial portion. The estimated production of other fall fruits follows: peaches, 1,738,000 bushels; pears, 714,000 bushels; and grapes, 72,600 tons. The peach crop was the largest, except that of 1931, since 1916."

FARMERS ARE HOLD- ING BIG TRUBB CROP

Twenty-Five Cent Market No In- ducement for Them to Sell

Twenty-five cents per hundred for potatoes holds little interest for the majority of farmers who are now harvesting their crop and piling it in storage. At a price far below the cost of production the potato grower is again forced to gamble and take a chance on storing for higher prices.

A few weeks ago, before the late crop started coming to market, the price was 30 cents per hundred but as soon as the harvest started and the crop started marketward the price slipped off five cents per hundred and the grower started storing.

Buyers are making no predictions on the potato market. They are too keenly conscious of the situation last year which was exactly the same as this season. The price started low and never went up to a point where the crop was profitable, and the buyers are making no promises and no predictions this year.

Many a seemingly successful man owes it all to his wife's father.

OCTOBER COURT TERM UNDER WAY

SESSION OPENED AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY MORNING

Case of People vs. Darwin Banks and Jake Dorris, Charged With Assault, Being Heard

The October session of circuit court for Charlevoix county opened at the court house here Monday morning with Judge Parm-C. Gilbert of Traverse City, presiding.

Monday morning's session was taken up largely with probation cases. Many probationers were heard by the court and their cases continued to the next term.

The libel suit of LaVern C. Rouse vs. Clark Haire and the Boyne City Publishing company, was continued to the January term at the request of counsel for the parties.

Clarence Church, plaintiff, was allowed a bill of accounting in the amount of $44 in his case against Charles Bicebow.

The cases of the people vs. Carl Left and James P. Gallagher, Beaver Landers, on a charge of breaking and entering was continued until November 30th, when the jury will be recalled to hear the case. This action was necessary because of the illness and inability of a witness to appear at this time. Left and Gallagher were released under $500 bond each for their appearance at the appointed time.

The case of Darwin Banks and Jake Dorris, Clarion men charged with assault in connection with a disturbance near Clarion, when they were alleged to have impersonated state police in an attempt to obtain liquor, was started Tuesday morning and was still in progress at noon Wednesday. Most of Tuesday morning was devoted to selecting a jury, and since that time evidence has been presented. It was thought the case would be completed Wednesday afternoon.

The present term, according to County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow, will probably be concluded Thursday, at which time several chancery cases will be heard and sentences imposed. Other matters on the calendar will be continued until the next court term.

NO EMBARGO MICH- IGAN APPLE PROMISED

Federal Department Say Quarantine Will Not Be Enforced

No quarantine will be enforced on Michigan farm and nursery products because of the invasion in Monroe and Wayne counties of the Japanese beetle, Herbert E. Powell, state commissioner of agriculture, said Thursday.

Powell said he has received a telegram from the United States department of agriculture asserting that the embargo would not be enforced. Previously the federal body had threatened to take quarantine action in an attempt to keep the insect from spreading to other states.

The telegram was in reply to a plea by Powell that he believed the pest could be exterminated without the enforcement of quarantine measures.

BOYNE TOO MUCH FOR LOCAL TEAM

WON GRID BATTLE BY 21 TO 0 SCORE SATURDAY

Kipmen Put Up Good Battle Against Heavy Odds—Meet Harbor Hero Saturday

The fact that a good little team is no match for a good big team was proven at south side athletic field last Saturday afternoon when Boyne City's powerful combination drove their way to a 21 to 0 victory over Charlevoix's lighter gridders.

The Kipmen played mighty good football all the way, but looked best in the first half when Coach Brotherton left several of his regulars on the bench. With the exception of one instance early in the first period, when Smith's punt was blocked and recovered by Boyne on Charlevoix's 10-yard line, the Kipmen kept the visitors on the defense. They showed good defensive power after that blocked punt by holding Boyne to downs.

The complexion of things changed in the second period, however, when Brotherton sent Bradley, R. O. of and Barden into the backfield and several substitutes in the line, for then things began to happen.

Taking the ball from their own 20-yard strip, Boyne advanced steadily for their first touchdown in the third period. They hit off tackle and around the ends for good gains and a pass, Barden to H. White put the ball in position for Roof to score through the line. B. White dropped-kicked the extra point.

An intercepted pass after Struthers had heaved a long one to Smith for a good gain, started Boyne on the way to their second touchdown. The marker came after three long passes, with Barden to White the scoring combination. A line play was good for extra point.

That touchdown ended the scoring for the third period, but Boyne broke away again in the fourth. With most of their backfield out because of injuries, Charlevoix's gridders put up a courageous defense against overwhelming odds. Barden robbed his team of a sure touchdown by his removal and heavy penalty for slugging, but his team mates soon made up for the distance lost. Roof going over for his second score and B. White again drop-kicking for the extra point.

The game ended with Boyne headed again for Charlevoix' goal and the Kipmen fighting just as hard to keep the score down. It was just a case of too many odds against a light, fighting team. Charlevoix lost no glory in defeat.

Officials handling the contest were: Referee, Dickie, Harbor Springs; umpire, Cohen, East Jordan; head linesman, Unger, Traverse City.

Charlevoix bumps up against another tough opponent here next Saturday when they meet Harbor Springs in another conference tilt. Harbor holds a victory over Boyne City, and last Saturday held the powerful Petoskey team to a 9 to 0 score.

OLD BOYNE MILL A VICTIM OF FLAMES

Landmark Destroyed by Fire There Last Wednesday

Boyne City lost one of its landmarks last Wednesday when fire of undetermined origin swept down the flour mill of the Crozed Staze company with an estimated loss of $75,000. No insurance was carried on the structure or its contents.

The plant was a two-story frame affair and contained all modern, electrically-driven machinery, all of which was damaged beyond salvage.

Inasmuch as the plant had not been used for several years, the fire gave rise to hints of incendiaryism which is being investigated.

SKELETON OF INDIAN FOUND AT MACKINAW

An Indian skeleton, a tomahawk and flints were uncovered by men working on the State duck park at Mackinaw City. The workmen were excavating for a sprinkler system to be installed in the park. A number of Mackinaw City men and several teams are being employed on the park project.

VOTE NO ON LIQUOR AMENDMENT

Last Sunday at Dearborn, Michigan, Chas. S. Osborn, former Michigan governor, gave a ringing denunciation against the wet of Michigan, who are seeking to nullify the prohibition amendment. He closed with the following appeal for Michigan folk to vote "No" on the proposition.

"The fact that the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, compared with every other attempt to curb alcohol, has been successful during the short time it has been in effect. It denies uncompromisingly with alcohol as an outlaw; and there is no other way to fight an insidious, unprincipled, lawless agent of destruction. There is need to make the buyer a lawbreaker with the bootlegger."

"The proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Michigan, which sets the Constitution of the country at naught, is a notorious example of the way that alcohol takes to win its ends. Those who advocate a wet Michigan are so unbalanced and so untrained that they blindly or wilfully violate all reason and all right. For the sake of the right to drink and to sell drinks, or because they are in their short-sightedness misled by those who wish to do these things, the leaders of the Michigan wet are willing to endanger the existence of the nation. There are no leaders to be followed. They have lost their bearings. They have no compass. They cannot see the polar star."

"Voters of Michigan, use your own mind and heart. Look to the nation, made strong only by its unity; look to Michigan, proud to be a part of a great nation; judge by your faith in the good and your prayers for the future; and vote NO to the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Michigan that goes in the direction of destruction."

THE AUTO ACCIDENT AGE

A serious responsibility rests on parents whose sons and daughters, under the age of 20, drive automobiles. It is their duty to impress upon budding men and women the vital necessity for care, courtesy and obedience to traffic rules at all times.

The most dangerous age for drivers is under 20, according to E. E. Robinson, secretary of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Out of every thousand drivers under the age of 20 last year, 39 were involved in accidents. From 20 to 29, 36 drivers out of 1,000 had mishaps; there were 27 in the ages of 30 to 39; 20 in the ages of 40 to 49, and 18 out of 1,000 in the ages of 50 and over.

Casualty companies have established by statistics that the record for drivers under 20 last year was 39 per cent worse than the average; from 20 to 29 it was 29 per cent worse; from 30 to 39, 3.6 per cent worse than the average; from 40 to 49 it was 29 per cent better, and in the ages of 50 and over, 36 per cent better than the average. In the age under 30, accident experience was 64.7 per cent worse than among the drivers beyond that age.

There were 26,410 drivers under the age of 18 involved in accidents, of which 1,270 were in fatal accidents and 25,140 in non-fatal accidents. From 18 to 24 there were 326,690 drivers in accidents which killed 13,000 persons and injured 313,690. If parents will constantly emphasize to their children the necessity for safe driving and obedience to traffic regulations, it will be reflected in a diminishing toll of deaths, injury and property damage now existing by the motor car on streets and highways.

EVERYBODY TRADE AT HOME

(From one of the oldest established newspapers in northwestern Ohio we find the following article which may or may not be applicable to our own community.)

We cannot but admire the efforts put forth these days to instill the idea of trading at home in the minds of our people. That this is excellent, and merits the attention of all concerned, is undeniable. It goes without saying that our business men, who are faithful along their several lines, deserve the first chances to satisfy our needs with the articles they have for sale. We are thankful to all who have been so kind and considerate as to take time to call our attention to this, and we confess that the right spot has been touched.

It has been promised also that this idea is to be kept before us for weeks to come—a cartoon with a punch will be sent forth, carrying with them that which is designed for the benefit of the community at large. With this, we are led to believe, that our business men are able and willing to compete with anybody in prices and quality. Certainly this sounds well, and unless we are badly mistaken, their word shall not return void to them. It will bring back to them the intended results.

Upon reflection, I think we heard something of this nature from one of our pulpits this time a year ago. This goes to prove that we are working together impelled onward with a wholesome desire to do good. To say the least, this is commendable, and since we have become noble enough for this united effort, would it be out of place, or the point strained too much, to send forth the idea of worshipping in our home churches. Who knows, if this were allowed to root in the deep recesses of our souls that the other would be accomplished to such a degree that all concerned would be pleasantly surprised. Would it be wrong to try it? Let everybody trade at home for seven days of each week. Our ministers are able and willing to compete with anybody in prices and quality of goods. Give them a trial.

CONSTRUCTIVE PUBLIC LOANS

The "self-liquidating loans" plan of the government's Reconstruction Finance Corporation seems to be getting into action. Applications for such construction loans have come from 243 communities during the last two months. The loans requested amount to over $800,000,000, and they would apply on projects whose total cost is around $4,000,000,000.

These projects would provide work for more than 1,000,000 men directly and perhaps 3,000,000 more indirectly. The Finance Corporation is authorized to lend $1,500,000,000 for such purposes, which would accomplish almost as much again.

The applications come from almost every state. Those reported include 107 water works, 27 bridges, 33 irrigation systems, four slum rehabilitation projects, two tunnels, three airports and a car ferry. Three typical loans already granted are to the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, for a bridge across the Mississippi at New Orleans and for enlargement of the municipal light and power plant in Madison, S. D.

This is probably the good way to fight the business depression as any yet devised, provided there is quick action in granting the loans and putting the money to work. Communities thus go a little farther into debt, but it is better for them to borrow money for constructive projects that will pay their own cost, and thereby to provide employment for their needy people, than to support those same people in idleness. The people to whom the money goes nearly all prefer it, too.

BANK DEPOSITS INCREASE

The Charlevoix County bank published its statement of condition last week's issue as of the close of business in October 10th. It shows total deposits of $517,373.90, or an increase from its last published statement of July 2 of over $56,000.00. Its cash position is exceptionally strong, cash on hand and in banks $85,000.00.

The bank has no bills payable or red-accounts. Banks all over the country are reporting increases in deposits. It is estimated that deposits are increasing at the rate of fifty million dollars per week.

The Charlevoix County bank with nearly a half century of banking service to its credit is known as the oldest bank in Charlevoix county.

Leon Solomon Buys Crandall Station

Through a recently completed business transaction, Leon Solomon, well known local young man, has acquired the South End Service Station, formerly owned and operated by L. E. Crandall. The purchase included only the oil station, Mr. Crandall having retained the remaining property and buildings. Mr. Solomon has taken the business over and solicits the patronage of local citizens.

LOCAL REBEKAH HAS GRAND LODGE OFFICE

Mrs. Frank Bird Grand Inside Guardian at Rebekah Assembly

Charlevoix Rebekah lodge was highly honored at the recent annual session of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan at Lansing, when Mrs. Frank F. Bird was appointed to the office of Grand Inside Guardian.

Mrs. Bird, the first member of the Charlevoix lodge to receive a grand lodge appointment, was given the second office in advancement to the presidency through a previous resignation, moving her one step nearer the coveted position than she would have been through normal procedure. In addition, through recommendation of the local lodge, Mrs. Bird was given the Decoration of Chivalry, an honorary degree.

The only other Charlevoix county Rebekah to teach the Assembly presidency was Mrs. Irene Boise Sears, who went many years ago from the Boyne City lodge.

DEALER CONFIRMS RUMOR OF NEW PLYMOUTH

Six Cylinder Model at Low Price Coming Out Soon

Persistent rumors that a new Plymouth car shortly to be announced would be a six cylinder automobile of lower price than that of current Plymouth models, was confirmed here today by Benjamin Brown, local dealer.

Although no definite announcement date was named, Mr. Brown stated that the new cars would make their appearance here within a few weeks.

"The new Plymouth six," said Mr. Brown, "is the product of a new era of automobile manufacture. The recent economic stress has stimulated the progress of automotive design far ahead of the amount of advance usually achieved in any three year period."

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

INJURED WOMAN SUMMONS AID BY TELEPHONE

[This accident occurred to a Michigan woman; name and address withheld]

"Mrs. _____, at home alone, climbed upon a stool to hang up clothing to dry. Losing her balance, she fell and broke a leg.

"With no one to give her aid, her first thought was of the telephone, which was in another room. Painfully, she dragged herself across the floor and, unable to reach the telephone, pulled it to the floor by the cord and summoned help before losing consciousness."

Just one call in an emergency may be worth more than the cost of telephone service for a lifetime.

What Is ATHLETE'S FOOT

Over 30 Million Americans Now Have It—Is This Dreaded Disease Becoming a Plague?

Athlete's Foot is a fungus germ (Tinea) which appears on the feet in the form of a little yellow blister, causing severe irritation and itching. It is especially dangerous to the feet, especially between the toes. This disease is very contagious and is spreading with alarming rapidity among all classes of people.

The failure to successfully treat Athlete's Foot in the past has been due largely to the fact that these germs hibernated in the pores of the feet and in the folds of the shoes. Salves and liquids applied only to the feet DO NOT PENETRATE THE PORES OF THE SHOES.

Medical Science has recently developed an amazing treatment known as Merit Foot Powder, which laboratory and clinical tests have proved will positively kill these germs and restore feet so infected to a normal, healthy condition. It is simply stirred on the feet and into the shoes.

Merit Foot Powder quickly eliminates excessive perspiration and itching of the feet. It heals irritation and is unsurpassed for chafing and shoes. Salves and liquids applied only to the feet DO NOT PENETRATE THE PORES OF THE SHOES.

SCHOOL NOTES

Our Faculty

Each week the news staff has arranged to acquaint the public with a few brief facts concerning the members of the faculty. This week the following teachers have been interviewed: Miss French, principal of grades, kindergarten teacher; Mr. Magor, band leader and junior high mathematics instructor; Miss Atkinson, music instructor; Mr. Bingham, principal of junior high and teacher of history and civics.

Miss Helen French, elementary principal, and kindergarten instructor, received her education at Western State Teachers' college, Kalama, where she obtained her life certificate. Her first year of teaching was spent in Scotts, Michigan. This was followed by her employment at Charlevoix elementary school, where she has been for the last six years. Aside from her duties with the beginning students and her work as principal, Miss French has on several occasions given musical selection to very appreciative audiences. Dealing with the younger children call for a very pleasing personality which Miss French possesses.

Mr. Magor, C. H. S. band leader and mathematics teacher in the junior high school, is a graduate of the University of Illinois. He specialized in mathematics and music and possesses a bachelor of science degree.

Mr. Magor has been a member of the Chicago Business Men's Symphony and has played in the concert band where he went to school.

Among the various places that Mr. Magor has taught are: Conn National School of Music, Chicago; Lockport, Elmhurst, Western Springs, La Grange, Lombard, all of Illinois.

were spent at Taylor university. Her advanced work has been at North-western, and at the University of Michigan. While in Chicago she did much concert work, some writing in music and also assisted in teaching musical lessons. She has won various prizes in musical contests—two that are of special interest are the Skinner prize and first place in representative of the Literary society.

For the last several summers Miss Atkinson has traveled with the concert quartet which has been heard over the radio. She has taught at East Detroit and at Decatur, Mich. While at the latter place, her orchestra took first place in the state. This is Miss Atkinson's fourth year of teaching. Besides the piano, she is trained to play the violin and the pipe organ. It will be remembered that Miss Atkinson was a chorister at the National Music Supervisors' conference last year.

Mr. Bingham is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he received his life certificate and his A. B. degree. After graduating from high school he spent the summer at Western State normal and the next winter was a teacher in a rural school. His next school was in California, Michigan, where he remained four years. This was followed by a period of traveling out west in California, Oregon, Washington. He spent the winter of 1927-28 in California.

Five years ago Mr. Bingham came to Charlevoix, where he has been employed in the junior high school. Last summer after spending a short time in Washington, D. C., he attended summer school at the University of Michigan.

At the last meeting of the board of education it was voted to apply for state and federal aid for the home economics department. This means that the department will be organized in conformance with the state plan for vocational home economics education. The current school year will be considered as the probationary year required and reimbursement will be made at the end of the 1933-34 session provided all requirements are met by the local school. Under Miss Koch's direction the department has already been re-organized in the direction of comprehensive and practical home making courses.

The high school students are looking forward to a very interesting speech to be given this Friday by Sergeant York, who was one of the greatest heroes of the World war.

The chemistry class has obtained a storage battery from the manual arts department and are making several experiments on electrolysis.

Home Economics Club Organized

After a most enjoyable hike and supper on the beach Monday evening, Oct. 17, a home economics club was organized. Any girl who has been, or is at the present time in one of the home economics classes, is welcomed to membership in the club.

Beverly Lockot was elected president; Monica McHugh, vice president; Mary Novotny, secretary; Olive Radle, treasurer.

Plans for the year were discussed and committees appointed to work out details.

Manual Arts

Of especial interest to the manual arts department has been the casting of colored flower pots and tea pot stands. A number of folding screens are being made for the home economics room as a part of the cooperative work being done with the other departments of the school.

History and Civics

Both the World and American history classes are writing letters to students in foreign lands. They have the addresses of young people living in Australia, Canada, England, Norway, India, the South Natal states, Paraguay, France and Holland.

The civics class will conduct the voting for class officers which will be held Wednesday of this week.

Music

The following dates have been set aside for school musical entertainments: Dec. 16, junior high cantata; Feb. 17, senior high opera; April 21, grade opera. It is hoped a large number will plan to attend these entertainments.

The music classes, as well as the high school students, greatly appreciate the new chairs in the music and reading rooms.

Personals

Miss Fernau spent the week end visiting her cousin in Cheboygan.

Helen Novotny has been out of school for some days due to an attack of appendicitis. She was operated upon Thursday morning by Dr. McMillan. Her condition is improving rapidly.

Irene Livingston has returned from Milwaukee, where she has been ill for some time.

Miss Atkinson, Miss Koch and Miss Muskat drove to Cross Village Sunday.

Grade News—Sixth Grade

Each of the pupils have chosen an animal to represent and they are going to read all they can about that animal. For art they are going to carve their animal from ivory soap or draw it on pasteboard. Some of the pupils however, are going to do both.

The sixth grade is trying to do away with tardy marks.

Bernice Holland is getting a group ready for a Halloween party. She is going to give it before the fifth grade on Friday.

Fifth Grade

The fifth graders are studying the western states in geography. The pupils are gathering pictures, representing these states and also making outline booklets.

Fourth Grade

The pupils are busy gathering coconuts. They have several in their room now and study and watch them every day.

The third grade have been studying Hoover and Roosevelt in their weekly reader. A straw vote was taken and Hoover won by five votes.

The students in Miss Fargo's room have been finding homes for stray kittens this fall. The children bring milk and fish to school to feed the kitten. They have one in their room now which they are feeding and trying to make a little larger before giving it away. This kitten is black with a white star under its chin, and the class have named it Kheneczar. If anyone would like this kitten Miss Fargo will be willing to give it to them.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Manual training is a new subject in the normal curriculum. The class is now working on individual projects and shows interest in the work. The object of the course is to acquaint the student teachers with the methods of teaching manual arts in rural schools where tools and material are limited.

The school hygiene lecture series, conducted by the state and county normals, will begin at Charlevoix November 3, when Dr. Walsh appears.

Miss Bigge will address the P. T. A. at Murray school on Tuesday of this week.

Misses Martha and Louise Reidel, and Miss Burdick will entertain the class next Monday evening at a Halloween party.

Judging by the calls for books the extension library is serving a most urgent need in the rural schools of the county.

Mrs. Dick will be assisted by Miss Louise Reidel and Roy Busler in giving individual instruction to pupils of the training room.

Training Room

The training room is making a study of galls, principally those found on the oak and the goldenrod.

Seed dispersal has been an interesting topic for some time. A fine illustration of one type is the plant, "Snow on the Mountain," a bouquet of these being on the desk in the front of the room. Some seeds on popping open have shot to the back blackboard, a distance of 25 feet.

The fifth grade has started the study of fractions.

The third grade is looking forward with much pleasure to the use of the Walker Summy readers and the work book that accompany them.

Twenty-five copies of the Nature Magazine have been added to the reading table.

Wednesday evening at 7:45. 5th Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Psalms After Death" was the subject of the lesson given in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 23.

Among the Bible citations was: "Thou shalt not kill" (Mark 16:9); "Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 46): "The Master said plainly that his resurrection he proved to the physical senses that his body was not changed until he himself ascended, — or, in other words, rose even higher in the understanding of Spirit, God."

W. C. T. U. NOTES

A Dry Answer to a Wet Argument

When someone says: "Temperance was gaining before prohibition and people are drinking more than ever," tell them the facts flatly contradict this statement. The bureau of internal revenue states the consumption per capita in gallons, increased steadily from 4.08 in 1880, to 19.95 in 1917 (when war time prohibition began). The consumption of every kind of liquor increased, until in the last year before prohibition (1917) over 2,000,000,000 gallons were drunk. The liquor dealers themselves in the anti-prohibition manual of 1916, made a special point of showing that consumption of liquor, including whiskey, was constantly increasing, therefore it was useless to prohibit it. — Reprinted from "Twenty Dry Answers" by press director, W. C. T. U.

There is always room at the top, the elevator doesn't rise that high.

CONSOLIDATED HEALTH DEPARTMENT

At thistime I would like to present a few facts to show to some extent the activities of the health department. No attempt is made to list all services rendered, but the more outstanding.

The following are for the period Jan. 1 to Oct. 1, 1932, inclusive:

Service to school and pre-school children (9 months of 1932):

Preschools examined by health officer, 307; school children examined by health officer, 2,834; preschools completing immunization against diphtheria, 413; school children completing immunization against diphtheria, 516; number of injections given, 3,224; number children vaccinated against smallpox, 1,514.

During the fall and winter examinations and vaccination of school children against smallpox will be chiefly done. In the spring, immunization against diphtheria will be stressed.

Dental service (9 months of 1932): Total number children examined, 3,355; number children requiring treatment, 3,130; number of extractions, 576; number of fillings, 720.

At the present time our dentist, Dr. Quinlan, is working in East Jordan. From there he goes to Central Lake.

Visual (12 month period): Number children examined, 904; number of glasses furnished (no charge), 563.

Every month considerable repairs to glasses are being taken care of.

Sanitary (9 month period):

Number school visits made, 113; number sanitary inspections of school buildings, 94; number inspections of milk producing farms, 565; number laboratory examinations of milk, 195; number resort inspections, 97.

During the coming months the work will be largely inspection of schools and milk supply.

The above gives a brief outline of the services rendered in the district as a whole. Any of these figures divided by four will give an approximate idea of the work in a particular county.

Our efforts will be spent chiefly during the next few months in reaching any particular region where access might be difficult during the winter.

Some of the services rendered to Charlevoix county by our nurse, Miss Lockwood, may be of interest at this time.

Home visiting service (9 months of 1932):

Home calls on behalf of school children, 645; home calls on behalf of preschool children, 270; home calls on behalf of infants, 166; home calls on behalf of expectant mothers, 51; home calls on behalf of the postnatal, 67; home visits on behalf of crippled children, 68; home visits on behalf of tuberculosis, 95; home visits on behalf of communicable disease, 18.

Miscellaneous: Number physical inspections of school children, 1,649; number defects found to be corrected, 496; number crippled children hospitalized, 13; new suspects; cases and contact of tuberculosis under supervision, 30; bulletins distributed, 1,636; miles traveled, 6,396.

Monday, November 7th, is the date when Dr. Leahy the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Care of children's eyes a specialty. — Adv. 4372.

Boyne Falls M. E. Choir Enters Choir Contest at Gaylord

All music lovers should be greatly interested in the choir contest to be held at Gaylord in the city auditorium on Friday, Oct. 28, at 9:30 a. m., eastern standard time. B. C. Mellenkamp, who is chairman of the choir contest, reports that with 12 choirs already entered, it will be an event that will attract a capacity attendance. Choirs from Lake City, Herron, Sears, Bellaire, Northport, Kaleva, Levering, Vanderbilt, Atwood, Old Mission and Idlewild have entered the competition.

The recent 4-H club leaders' training meeting held in Mont's restaurant, Charlevoix, last Thursday night, was attended by representatives from all sections of the county. A splendid banquet was enjoyed at 6:30, followed by songs and recreation.

During the discussion on plans and preparations for a highly successful 4-H club season, everyone seemed to believe that a county-wide 4-H club council would be of great assistance. This council will confer with the county agricultural agent and will consist of representatives from different sections of the county. With this arrangement a representative would be in direct contact with all club activities.

Mrs. Harold Stueck of Charlevoix, was selected as the chairman of the council. The other members are as follows: John Vester, Clarion; Juanita Baker, Boyne City; Mrs. Charles Withers, Charlevoix; Mrs. Robert Russell, Boyne Falls; Douglas Ross, Bay Shore, and Carleton Smith, Charlevoix.

A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Sylvia Wikson, assistant state club leader, were present and supervised the study hour, at which time two groups were formed, one interested in the boys' work and the other in the girls' program.

Any communities that are interested in organizing a club are requested to get in touch with the county agent as soon as possible. All boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20 are urged to participate in this work.

SIX NUMBERS ON 1933. AUTO LICENSE PLATES

Elimination of all automobile license plates of more than six figures is to be accomplished by the department of state in 1933 through the use of combinations of letters and numerals.

The system will reduce the amount of steel needed for the plates and it is estimated that the move will effect a saving of several thousand dollars.

The lower numbered plates will be easier to read and the letters which will precede the numbers will be assigned to definite counties.

Under the new system, "C" plates will be issued to the counties of Charlevoix, Calhoun, Cass, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Clare, Clinton and Crawford.

The Boyne City common council appended to the auditor general some time ago to protect the buildings in the Boyne City district from vandals who were occupying some or were destroying them.

When the appraisals are made the council will offer them for sale—the proceeds to be used as far as it will reach to pay back taxes.

MILKMAKER means MONEYMAKER

THE REASON WHY

Milkmaker's VARIETY of protein feedstuffs enables farmers balancing home grown grains and roughage to have SAFETY as well as the largest milk production at the lowest net cost.

Every ingredient in Milkmaker has been chosen with three points in mind:—To produce the most milk at the lowest cost, and to keep the cow healthy and strong. Our Milkmaker 16 pct., 20 pct., 24 pct., 32 pct., and 34 pct. formulas all have the approval of the Michigan, Ohio and Indiana State College Dairy Departments whose advice was sought some months ago when the formulas were reconsidered in light of 1932 market conditions.

"I get more milk per dollar of feed from Milkmaker than any other feed. You don't have to educate cows to eat it and my herd is in fine condition. My advice to anyone in the dairy business is to try Milkmaker if they have never used it. I know I am more than satisfied." a St. Clair farmer told us.

MORE MILK per feed dollar with MILKMAKER.

LOCAL SEWAGE PLANT
REQUEST IS REVIEWEDConservation News Bulletin Remarks on Proposition

The following article was taken from the department of conservation press service:

"A petition signed by 100 taxpayers of the city of Charlevoix has asked the city council to begin the construction of a sewage disposal plant. The petition is based on the grounds that such a construction program would aid unemployment relief and that the plant could now be constructed at a minimum of cost.

"The state stream control commission has estimated that Charlevoix could make proper disposal of its sewage at a cost of approximately $50,000.

"Charlevoix dumps its sewage in Lake Charlevoix and in the channel connecting with Lake Michigan. The state for some time has been urging the city to build a sewage disposal plant, principally on the grounds that the resulting purity of the waters would constitute an asset for its tourist business.

"The precedent set by the 100 Charlevoix residents might be followed by other cities, according to the stream control commission. The building of sewage disposal plants involve municipal construction requiring considerable manual labor that would aid in providing employment. Cost of materials used in such construction is now far below 1930 and 1931 levels."

For Party to Be Given Friday Night at Local M. E. Church

The Epworth League Society, which is sponsoring a mystery party to be held in the local M. E. church on Friday evening of this week, here announces the rules for the distribution of costume prizes:

There will be three judges, to be selected Friday night. Their decisions will be final.

There will be six prizes awarded. Nobody can receive more than one prize.

There will be one prize given for the winning costume in each of the following divisions: the prettiest costume; the spookiest costume; the funniest costume; the most interesting costume; the costume showing most preparation, and the best disguise. In case one person seems to have the best costume in more than one division, he or she will receive the prize in the first division, while the second costume will receive the prize in the next. A list of the prize winners will be published in this paper in the next issue.

According to a few hints that have leaked out about what is actually going on...

MANY DRIVING WITH-OUT LEGAL LICENSE

Estimated 300,000 Have Not Yet Complied With New Law

Approximately 300,000 motorists are without legal operators' licenses, the state police estimate in calling attention to the fact that on or before November 1, the last big re-registration under the 1931 statute, must take place.

Under the present operators' law, motorists are required to obtain a new license every three years. Prior to that time once a license was issued it was good until the owner lost it.

The present statute became effective May 1, 1931, and under its provisions all licenses issued prior to January 1, 1925, expired November 1, 1931; all licenses issued prior to January 1, 1928, and subsequent to December 31, 1924, expired May 1, 1931; all licenses issued subsequently to December 31, 1927, expire November 1, 1932.

While many motorists have taken out their new licenses there are literally thousands who have failed to comply with the statute. The police estimate is based on registrations under the old law, which brought in about 150,000 applications annually and a check of accident records that show one driver out of every seven involved in a collision of any kind has no license.

AT THE MOVIES
James Cagney a Pugilist in "Winner Take All"

Just as he sprang upon the world in the most authentic of gangster pictures, "The Public Enemy," and gave the screen its most realistic auto racing picture, "The Crowd Roars," so does James Cagney provide the colorful thrills of the prize-winning in his latest Warner Bros. picture, "Winner Take All," which comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Marian Nixon, a new leading lady for James Cagney, makes herself evident in this picture, giving a lovely portrayal of the girl whom Jim really loves. Virginia Bruce acquits herself admirably as the society girl.

The large cast includes Guy Kibbee, Dickie Moore, Clarence Muse, Alan Mowbray, Clarence Wilson, Ralf Harolde, Esther Howard, Allan Lane, John Roche and many others.

Wilson Mizner, writer, sportsman, adventurer, and onetime manager of prizefighters, adapted the script from the story by Gerald Beaumont.

CONVICTIONS BY STATE TROOPERS IS HIGH

84.2 Per Cent of State Police Arrests
Are Successful

One of the highest records in the country for convictions in cases in which they have made arrests is shown in a summary of activities of the uniform division of the Michigan state police for the past year.

Of the 16,924 arrests made by the troopers last year, 13,518 or 84.2 per cent were convicted in court. Training given the young officers before they are given their badge and uniform is credited with the ability to bring in properly prepared evidence and data for the court in connection with each arrest.

While the 24-hour a day patrol maintained on the highways by the troopers in many parts of the state results in the arrest record being led by traffic arrests such as reckless driving, drunk driving and similar road violations, the character of other arrests in the record is interesting. Last year 197 were arrested for breaking and entering, 12 for murder, 35 for felonious assault, 38 for carrying concealed weapons, 35 for robbery while armed, 61 for stealing automobiles, 51 for grand larceny.

During the past year, the troopers arrested and took off the highways by mandatory license revocation, 672 drunk drivers. Ability to hold the state highway accident record in line is attributed to diligence of the troopers against this type of motorist.

WOOD IS CHEAP FUEL
WHEN WELL SEASONED

Heat Value Pound Wood Half As Great As Pound Hard Coal

A cord of four-foot, dry oak, hickory, or maple is equal in fuel value to a ton of anthracite coal, according to the Michigan State college forestry department, which suggests that the products of home woodlots can be turned into economical fuel.

Dry wood is recommended because nearly half of the fuel value of green wood is wasted in drying the stick enough so that it will burn. Limb wood does not have as high fuel value as that cut from the trunk of the trees.

A pound of any kind of dry wood produces nearly one-half as much heat as a pound of hard coal. A four-foot cord of hickory weighs approximately 3,800 pounds, mixed wood weighs about 3,000 pounds to the cord, and Jack pine about 2,800 pounds. In burning resinous woods such as pine, a part of the heat value is usually lost in soot or smoke.

EIGHT PROPOSALS UP TO THE VOTER

from pardon persons convicted of treason, first degree murder and impeachment.

No. 7 would limit the vote on expenditures of public funds and on bond issues to property taxpayers and their husbands and wives. The purpose of the amendment is obviously to give the property owner, who pays directly for public improvements, the sole right to say whether or not they shall be undertaken.

No. 8 is a referendum on the act of the 1931 legislature regulating and licensing the manufacture of oleomargarine and butter substitutes.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE
WEEKLY NEWS
* * * * *

Many inquiries have been received by the department of state in recent weeks about the method by which Michigan will vote for president and vice-president at the November election.

For the first time in Michigan's history, the names of the various candidates for president and vice-president will appear on the ballot. Formerly the ballots have listed the names of the properly designated presidential electors and it was necessary for voters to cast their ballots for the presidential electors, who in reality elect the nation's executives.

This led to considerable confusion among voters because of the fact that voters could not find the name of their choice for president on the ballot. To eliminate this confusion, the election laws were amended by the 1931 legislature.

This change provided that instead of the names of the 19 presidential electors appearing on the ballot at the head of each party ticket, there should appear the name of the various presidential candidates.

Under the present law, a vote on the November ballot for the presidential candidate of any of the parties, constitutes a vote for each of the 19 presidential electors of that party. Thus the ballot has been shortened considerably, confusion has been avoided at the voting booths and there has been no change in the national plan of electing a president.

GENERAL ELECTION IS NEXT TUESDAY

TWO HUGE BALLOTS PREPARED FOR VOTERS

National, State and County Officers, Seven Amendments and One Referendum to Be Decided

Voters on November 8 will receive the largest ballot in the history of the state. So large is the ballot that two sheets of paper, both nearly the size of a newspaper page will be handed each voter who enters the voting booth.

The general election will contain the names of the candidates of ten parties which have entered the state campaign. These parties are the republican, democratic, socialist, prohibition, American, socialist labor, communist, proletarian, liberty and farmer labor.

The campaign efforts of all, and more especially the republican and democratic parties, have been the most strenuous in recent years. In addition, the voter is confronted with seven amendments and one referendum—all of utmost importance. Thus it may be seen that much depends upon the voter next Tuesday.

As far as party issues are concerned, Charlevoix citizens will confine their interest to the republican and democratic candidates. While a larger democratic vote is expected than in previous years, this country, like the state at large, is republican and will vote accordingly despite promises, ballyhoo or whatnot.

Following are the candidates of the two major parties—republican and democratic:

National
For president—Rep.: Herbert Hoover; Dem.: Franklin Roosevelt.
State
For governor—Rep.: Wilbur M. Brucker; Dem.: William A. Comstock.

For state treasurer—Rep.: Howard C. Lawrence; Dem.: Theodore I. Fry.

IRONTON GROUP ENJOY-ED LEAP YEAR AFFAIR

Eighty Present at Delightful Party Friday Evening

A leap year party was given at the Ironton grange hall, Friday evening, October 28, by Misses Edith and Ruth Nielsen and Misses Ada and Myrtle Thomson for eighty of their friends.

The music was furnished by Brown's orchestra of Ironton, and at midnight a light lunch was served. The young folks danced until the wee hours of the morning and an enjoyable time was had by all.

ANOTHER RECORD!

The largest mackinaw trout taken in local waters in recent years with trolling line and hook fell the prize of Bernie Ward last Friday. The fish, weighing several ounces over 27 pounds, was caught in Lake Michigan, where excellent trolling has been experienced the past two weeks.

SPAWN FISHING SEASON OPENED WEDNESDAY

Required Percentage of Ripe Spawn Obtained at Dahlia Shoals

Hending undaunted into heavy northwest seas, boats of the Charlevoix commercial fishing fleet raced from the harbor at noon Wednesday upon receipt of word the closed season on mackinaw trout had been lifted.

The required percentage of ripe spawn was obtained from fish lifted in nets this morning at Dahlia Shoals by conservation boat No. 1. The spawn fishing season, "golden harvest" for commercial fishermen, is on. First nets set on the spawning shoals bring the largest hauls, thus the race of many boats which have been laden with equipment and held in port during the closed season. During the next months hundreds of tons of mackinaw trout will be caught.

Clouding an otherwise bright horizon is the prospect of a market estimated between 4 and 8 cents per pound, which, according to leading fishermen, is hardly sufficient to meet heavy operating expenses of spawn fishing.

TRAPPERS PREPARE FOR OPEN SEASON

BAN LIFTED IN UPPER PENINSULA TUESDAY

May Take Opossum, Raccoon Beginning November 1st—Beaver Season Opens November 15th

The first of the three muskrat trapping zones opened Tuesday. This zone includes all of the upper peninsula. It will be followed Nov. 15 by the opening of the season in the middle zone which is all of the lower peninsula north of the north line of townline 16 and west of Saginaw bay.

Muskrat trapping regulations are unchanged from last year, and licenses are again being sold by conservation officers. Trappers are compelled to attach a metal tag listing their names and address on each trap.

The opossum season opens Nov. 1 and closes Dec. 15. Persons trapping opossum are also required to have their traps marked with metal tags bearing the names and addresses of the owner.

Separate season govern hunting and trapping raccoons. For hunting raccoons there is no open season in the upper peninsula but hunting is permitted south of the straits from Nov. 1 to 15.

Raccoons may be trapped in the lower peninsula north of the north line of townline 16 from Nov. 15 to 30; and south of townline from Dec. 1 to 15.

While mink are not on the list of protected fur-bearing animals and may be hunted at any time, they may be trapped only during the open season on muskrats.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS HEAR DIST. OFFICERS

Report on State Convention Friday of Great Interest

Mrs. Adeline Gorham of Bellaire, and Mrs. Irene Eckhart of Central Lake, district officers of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, visited the local union last Friday afternoon.

They brought a report of the recent state convention, including the plans made there to stress educational work this coming year through the young people's branch, the Loyal Temperance Legion and the S. T. L. medal contest and Sunday school departments.

Mrs. W. W. Hurd conducted a very helpful devotional service at the beginning of the meeting. Mrs. James Simmons gave the rules for voting at the general election. Mrs. A. B. Saltonstall gave the gist of the eight amendments and advised voting "no" on the first four and "yes" on the last four. Mrs. Roger spoke from the farmers' standpoint and gave an adverse opinion as to Nos. 2 and 4, known as the tax reduction amendments.

Mrs. Madames Hooker, Bartholomew, Milner and Harrington acted as hostesses and served light refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The Rebekah lodge will hold another of their series of bridge parties at the I. O. O. F. hall, Monday evening, November 7. Admission 10c per person.—Adv. 411.

COUNTY EXHIBITORS TOP GAYLORD SHOW

MAJOR PRIZES FOR POTATO DISPLAYS AND NEARLY ALL OF APPLE AWARDS WON BY CHARLEVOIX CO.

OVER HALF CASH POTATO-APPLE AWARDS

Clinton Blanchard Has Sweepstakes Peck Potatoes—Gwendon Hott, East Jordan, Won Junior Sweepstakes—Douglas Tibbitts and Eveline Orchards Win Apple Awards

(By B. C. Mellenkamp.)

While many people have received the impression that Emmet County won the major awards at the recent Top O'Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show, held at Gaylord, such is not entirely the case.

Charlevoix county had the sweepstakes peck in the entire show, highest award possible; sweepstakes peck in the junior department, again the highest honor; first and second in the beginners' class; first in 4-H club exhibits; first in Smith-Hughes exhibits; first in peck of white russets; first in peck of "any other variety of merit;" first in bushel certified seed in "all other varieties;" eight firsts out of eight possibilities in plates of apples; five firsts out of eight in trays of apples; five firsts out of six awards in bushels; and first in best display of 50 apples, winning $340.00 in premium money, or more than 25 per cent of all premium money awarded to 12 counties which represent the show area.

Clinton Blanchard Big Winner

Clinton Blanchard, Charlevoix, was the outstanding exhibitor as well as largest premium winner in the potato division. He nonchalantly took home the special sweepstakes award of $10.00, in addition to winning $15 as first on his peck of russets, $5 for best within Charlevoix county, and second in bushel of certified seed for another $15, making a total of $45. Not alone this, but at the annual banquet he was awarded a beautiful loving cup for his sweepstakes peck.

Second to Blanchard in winnings comes Lawrence Straw of Charlevoix, who won first with his peck of russet Burbanks in the beginners class, first on same peck in "any other variety of merit;" and first in bushel of certified seed in "all other varieties," totalling $28 in prize money.

Harry Behling of Boyne City, again made his usual good showing, winning $17 for first in peck of white russets, fifth in peck of Irish Cobbles, and fourth in bushel of certified seed.

Howard Stephens, Boyne City, entered the competition for the first time and did his share by winning 6th in the open class with peck of rural russets and second in the beginners class for $12.

Wm. C. Behling, Boyne City, was awarded second in bushel of bakers and 6th in bushel of certified seed, winning $9.

Ole Omland, East Jordan, won 7th in open class with rural russets, while Frank Behling, Boyne City, was awarded 4th in "any other variety of merit" and 4th with peck of white russets. Lee Sneathen of Charlevoix won 5th with peck of Irish Cobbles. Bert VanHusen, Boyne City, with the above named made up the Charlevoix county exhibit which was second in this class next to Emmet county in a close decision.

D. D. Tibbitts, Boyne City, Leads in Apple Division

The name of D. D. Tibbitts has always appeared well up in the winnings in the apple department and this year Douglas not only equaled his past performances, but made the best record yet in competition. Along with Charlevoix county's other outstanding exhibitors Eveline Orchards of East Jordan, they won $15 in premium money which is equal to 50 per cent of all cash awards in the apple division.

Mr. Tibbitts won sweepstakes on a plate of Wealthy apples and won first in the judging contest. In plates he won firsts on McIntosh, Northern Spy, Snow, Wagener, Wealthy and "any other variety;" 3rd on Wolf River and "any other variety," and also 7th in the latter. In trays he had firsts in Wealthy, Wagener and Wolf River, seconds on McIntosh, Northern Spy and Snows, and 3rd, as well as 7th and 8th in "any other variety."

In the bushel competition Mr. Tibbitts won first on Northern Spy, Snow and Wealthy; seconds on McIntosh, Wagener and "any other variety," as well as 3rd and 8th. Not yet satisfied he proceeded to win first in the display of 50 apples, and 3rd, 5th and 8th in "fancy peck." Over $90 represented his share in the spoils of victory.

Eveline Orchards, Charlevoix county's largest and best known orchard, had a most splendid exhibit and was second only to Mr. Tibbitts in winnings. In plates they had first on Jonathan and Wolf River; 2nd on Wealthy and "any other variety;" 3rd on Wagener and 4th on McIntosh and Snow. In trays they were awarded firsts on Wagener and "any other variety;" 2nd on Wagener; thirds on McIntosh, Wealthy and Wolf River and 6th on Golden Delicious.

In the case of bushels they won firsts on Wagener and "any other variety" and third on McIntosh and "any other variety." Eveline Orchards also won 3rd in best display of 50 apples, and 2nd and 7th in fancy peck. A. L. Darbec, manager, won 2nd in the judging contest to climax the day's activities.

Another apple exhibitor, Kenneth Pickel, Boyne Falls, won 3rd on plate of Northern Spy and 4th on plate of Wageners.

Gwendon Hott, East Jordan, Champion in Junior Department

The highest award in the 4-H club and Smith-Hughes departments was brought home to East Jordan when Gwendon Hott, last year's state senior potato club champion, was awarded first place and sweepstakes. Thus again we had the highest honor possible come to Charlevoix county. Close on his heels came Albert Omland, East Jordan, a member of the Smith-Hughes department in the East Jordan high school, with an outstanding peck that won second in the open class.

In the 4-H club exhibit the East Jordan Crops club had the best club display, again winning first place. Within the club Gwendon Hott won first, Ernest Rude, East Jordan, secured second award and Howard McDonald, Ellsworth, third. The fourth exhibitor in the club exhibit was Carleton Smith, Charlevoix. Two other pecks were shown by Gordon Ranney, East Jordan, and Robert Trinter, Boyne City.

Not to be outdone the Smith-Hughes exhibit from Boyne Falls consolidated schools won first in their competition to give our county a clean sweep of all awards in the junior department.

The Boyne Falls Methodist church choir entered the choir singing contest for the first time and won $10. Next year you will see them near the top.

Never before in the history of the show has any one county walked away with as much premium money or as many awards.

COURT CONVENES AGAIN ON FRIDAY

OCTOBER SESSION ADJOURNED UNTIL NOVEMBER 4

Darwin Banks and Jake Dorris Found Guilty of Assault—Fined and Placed on Probation

Charlevoix county circuit court will convene in adjourned session on Friday, November 4, at which time Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, will return to continue cases postponed from the October docket.

It is expected the case of Lyle Barnes, returned jail breaker and charged with rape, will come up Friday along with others.

The regular October session of court was adjourned last Thursday. Darwin Banks and Jake Dorris, Clarion, found guilty by a jury of assault, were fined $100 each and placed on probation for two years. The men were charged with assault with intent to rob following their impersonation of state police in an attempt to obtain liquor at the Ward Gill place in Melrose township. Ward was returned from Jackson prison, where he is serving time, as a witness. The jury brought in a sealed verdict after the case had been given them following over two days of hearing.

Ralph Richards, Boyne City, Wm. Haddock and Frank Beeman, East Jordan, pleaded guilty to car theft. They were placed on probation until the March term of court.

LEGION ENTERTAINS FOR WELFARE FUNDS

Bring Sho-tauqua Company Here on Near Future Date

The American Legion, by arrangement with the Sho-tauqua company, which boasts of entertainment as new and modern as the name, have secured the merry-makers for a benefit performance for their relief fund.

This should prove both a stage and financial success since the program is so varied that it embraces almost everything from circus clowning to grand opera singing, and the admission is such a nominal one that everyone can afford a ticket to help support this worthy cause.

RILDA ROEN HOSTESS TO GROUP OF FRIENDS

Miss Rilda Roen, entertained twelve young friends at a "scavenger" hunt given Saturday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Roen, Belvedere avenue. First prize awards went to Esther West and Charles Carey, second prizes to Margaret Gallagher and Warren Shapton, and consolation prizes to Marcia Oldham and Bob Foeltman. Decorations followed the hallowe'en season. Refreshments were enjoyed.

It is easier to make a new quartet than to patch up an old one.

REPUBLICAN RALLY HERE MONDAY NITE

LAST PRE-ELECTION MEETING COUNTY-WIDE

Torch Parade with Three Bands to Precede Program of Speeches at School Gymnasium

The Charlevoix county Republican committee will wind up its pre-election activities with a big rally to be held Monday evening, November 7th, at the Charlevoix gymnasium.

The rally is to be county-wide. A torch parade, with bands from Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City, and possibly Legion bugle and drum corps of the three cities participating, will assemble at the court house. Due to the heavy demand for the more prominent speakers, County Chairman Herman Meyer was only today able to announce the speaker for Monday evening's rally. Glen Dunn of Muskegon, one of Michigan's outstanding orators, will give an address on national issues.

Nothing is being left undone by the committee to make this final meeting the most enthusiastic Charlevoix county has ever witnessed.

Another district rally is scheduled for Friday evening at East Jordan. Previous meetings have been held in Charlevoix and Boyne City. John Lake, Emmet county Republican chairman, will talk on national problems, and Gerald F. Bush, superintendent of Charlevoix schools, will discuss state issues.

At the rally held in the Charlevoix gymnasium last Wednesday evening, Supt. Bush gave a rousing address in favor of the Republican national, state and county candidates. He presented a very convincing array of facts and figures covering the accomplishments under the administration of Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker. His talk dispelled any doubt in the minds of the public regarding the efficiency and purpose of the present state administration.

Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, gave the closing address of the evening in his usual straightforward and convincing manner. Dwelling largely on national problems, Judge Gilbert urged every citizen to recognize the fact that duty to his country must come first, and that a vote for Republicanism on November 8th was of utmost importance to insure the nation's continued welfare.

In closing his remarks, Judge Gilbert pointed out the danger in passage of the two tax limitation amendments coming before the voter on November 8th.

Mr. Williams, born at East Jordan, August 2, 1909, was practically a life-long resident of this city. He was a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of 1928, and was active in basketball and football.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Albert V. Edwards, this city, and Miss Susie Williams of Detroit, also one brother, Joe Williams of this city.

CHARLEVOIX GRIDDERS DEFEAT HARBOR TEAM

Provided Uset by 13 to 10 Victory
Here Saturday

Charlevoix provided an upset in Tip of Michigan class C football circles at South side athletic field Saturday afternoon by handing Harbor Springs Gridders a 13 to 0 defeat. Due to their past record, Harbor was a top-heavy favorite.

The Kipmen converted two blocked punts into touchdowns, one in the first and another in the third period. Roen, Charlevoix left end, was responsible for both "breaks." When he blocked a Harbor punt shortly after the starting whistle, the ball rolled back over the goal and Chambers, center, fell on it for a touchdown. Struthers hit the line for extra point.

Roen blocked another Harbor punt on their 10-yard line in the third period. Struthers marked up the touchdown after four successive line smashes. Smith's drop-kick for extra point was blocked.

While their touchdowns both came on lucky "breaks," Charlevoix consistently out-played Harbor in every period.

Unger of Traverse City, refereed. Cohen, East Jordan, was umpire, and Harry Bingham, Charlevoix, acted as head line-man.

PLAN YEAR'S WORK

Hold Meeting in Boyne City to Outline What Is to Be Undertaken

The district Y. M. C. A. committee met at the Wolverine hotel, Boyne City, last Wednesday night to make plans for the work in their respective towns during the coming year. This included a discussion of the work of the secretaries in organizing their groups so that efforts would not be duplicated by other clubs or organizations.

Initial plans were formulated for a district area conference, the time and place of which will be set by Cliff Duray, northern district secretary. The year-end buy conference at Muskegon was discussed.

Fred Freeman, Detroit, state secretary, outlined the Y. M. C. A. work. "This generation," he said, "must be prepared to face poverty and life without jobs with a winning philosophy. Youth should be taught to utilize freedom. We should let the younger generation talk with us rather than tell them what to do."

L. L. Close, superintendent of schools of Boyne City, reported on the H-Y trip abroad this summer. R. J. Bell, of Cheboygan, was chairman.

1932 BIRD SEASON WAS AVERAGE ONE

Varied reports indicated that Michigan hunters experienced "average" success during the 1932 open pheasant season.

The curtain rolled down on the 1932 open season at sundown Oct. 26. The fox squirrel season closed last Monday. While no official reports were available, hunters individually indicated their success was average.

Unofficially, the number of hunters seeking game in the state's fields and marshes was above average, reports indicated. No accurate compilation has been made available by the state department of conservation, however.

More rabbits were reported in the southern section of the lower peninsula this year than in the past few seasons. Their toll is expected to be large.

CHARLEVOIX OIL CO. IN-STALLS NEW MACHINE TO CLEAN SPARK PLUGS

A revolutionary new machine that will clean a spark plug in 4 or 5 seconds has been added to the modern equipment of the Charlevoix Oil Company.

"There has long been a need for an efficient spark plug cleaning machine because dirty or badly worn spark plugs not only reduce car performance but cause a loss of 1 out of 10 gallons of gasoline," owners of the Charlevoix Oil Company declare.

"In installing the new device we feel that we have made another distinct contribution in the interest of an important service for our customers."

WM. GREGORY, 82, BROKE LEG WHILE SKIDDING LOGS

He was brought to Charlevoix hospital by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Scott of this city, and latest reports are that his condition is favorable.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The county normal class has invited the Charlevoix county health committee to meet with them Thursday, Nov. 3rd, to hear the first of the series of state health lectures. Dr. Walsk will speak on "Inspection of School Children" at 1:30 o'clock. The Misses Gornell and Knudsen are planning their morning exercises for these two weeks around national education week, Nov. 7-13.

The hallowe'en party given by Misses Martha and Louise Reidel and Miss Burdick was a success as everyone enjoyed themselves very much. The program was well worked out so that the party from start to finish was very interesting and amusing.

The student teachers will have the opportunity to witness the teaching of rural school music because, thru the courtesy of Miss Atchinson they will go with her to visit and teach the fundamentals of music.

Training Room
The pupils of the training room were guests at a hallowe'en party given by the normal students last Friday afternoon.

Home Economics Club Party
Witches, goblins and pumpkins presented themselves in the home economics room Saturday night to welcome guests to the club party. The Halloween spirit was emphasized by the use of corn shocks, black cats and lighted pumpkins, all due to the skillful arrangements of the decorating committee which consisted of Jean Zeitler and Esther Johncheck.

After much fun at bobbing for apples the girls went through the room of "horrors" which ended in much screaming and laughing. Next came fortune telling which also proved a cause for much merriment. Guessing games such as pinning the tail on the cat were very amusing.

Prizes in various games were awarded to Mary Louise Gallagher, Eleanor Sneathen, Virginia Taylor, Jean Zeitler and Marguerite Hull.

The entertainment committee, which consisted of Daisy Dutcher, chairman, Dorothy Smith and Marguerite Hull received congratulations for their clever work.

An appropriate and appetizing lunch was served by the refreshment committee of which Monica McHugh had charge.

All the girls reported having had a gay time.

Civics and History

The American history classes have made an interesting research into the personal life of George Washington and from this material they have made booklets illustrating his life, written themes, and some of the people have made some unusual soap cuttings.

The civics class is preparing bills to introduce to the house of representatives. The class officers election which they held last week was a great success. Edwin McCann held the office of doorkeeper, Homer Struthers was Sergeant-At-Arms.

Senior High Class Officers Elected

The results of the class elections which were held Wednesday and Thursday are:

Seniors—president, Winfield Kirby; vice-president, Margaret McCann; secretary and treasurer, Virginia Tynlor.

Juniors—president, Byrnee Lamphair; vice-president, Marquis Roen; secretary and treasurer, Bernice Meggison.

Lieut.-Governor Dickinson Speaks

On October 25th Lieut.-Governor Dickinson addressed the student body. He defended the reputation of the modern high school youth, stating that even with the greater temptations of the present day there is a greater integrity in this group as a whole than in years gone by. Mr. Dickinson believes that much of the crime of recent years is due to the home influences; that not enough effort is spent in the teaching of the principles of right and wrong to fortify the boys and girls against future temptation.

Pep Meeting

Friday night after school C. H. S. students held their weekly pep meeting. Rousing cheers and songs inspired the boys to do their best in the big game Saturday.

S. band horns up on a cupboard so that they do not occupy as much space. The members have received new folders for their music with "Charlevoix Public Schools" written across them.

A mistake was made in the paper last week which credited the school band as playing Friday night at the gym. It was, however, the city band that played.

Dramatics

The last meeting of the Dramatic club was devoted to a study of Miss Jessie Bonstelle. In the absence of the president Alice Usher acted as chairman. After the secretary's report was read, Janet Livingston told of the circumstances of Miss Bonstelle's death and quoted the tributes of leading Detroit officials and theatrical critics to "Miss Bonstelle's" great accomplishments in her loved work. Jane Stelter continued the program with a report from the American Magazine and The Woman Citizen entitled "God Made the Heavens but Bonnie Made the Stars."

After a piano solo "In Serene" by Virginia Nickerson, Mrs. Dowd added a number of interesting reminiscences concerning Miss Bonstelle and her playhouse. Mrs. Dowd stated that those who believe the days of chivalry are over should have the opportunity of spending a day at the Detroit Civic theatre and observe the extreme courtesy of the company toward "Miss Bonnie" and toward each other.

After giving many personal characteristics and habits of Miss Bonstelle Mrs. Dowd closed the program with the statement that the greatest wish of this loved actress and producer, that she might make the American theatre a hit better by having lived and labored in its midst, has without doubt been fulfilled.

Personals

Miss Anderson spent the week end at her home in Negaunee, Mich. She had as her guests Miss Dittmer and Miss French. From their reports they seemed to have had a marvelous time even though they were greeted by three inches of snow.

Mrs. Logan, who has been quite ill for some time, is improving slowly. Her friend, Mrs. S. T. Collin of Monroe, is spending a week with her.

Last Thursday, Oct. 27, Mr. Bush spoke to about 350 boys and girls at the potato and apple club show at Gaylord. On Friday, Nov. 4, he will address the Knap school P. T. A. on the subject, "Educational Legislation."

Junior High News

Additional members of the junior high honor roll for the first month are: Gordon Cummings, 9th grade; and Marjorie Miller, 8th grade.

Information relative to an honor plant system: In the belief that many other parts of school life contribute to the development of the members of the school community, it is felt that a plan may be devised which will aid students to realize that other phases do make valuable contributions. This will be used during the third month of school. The student council will have general supervision of this and will make adjustments and changes as needs appear. At the end of each school month an alphabetical list of all students in the junior high school will appear on the bulletin board. Beside the names, a series of columns will be drawn. These columns will represent the school months. The ranking of each student will appear beside his name. A special list of those who rank highest in the entire junior high school will appear also. Twenty names will be included in this list.

Grade News

The fourth grade pupils happily surprised their teacher, Miss Manson, with a Halloween program last Friday. A group of pupils presented a program after which cake was served.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade is going to edit a newspaper for the elementary school and they hope that every grade will help to make it a good one. The name of the paper is "The Penny News" as it will cost that much. They hope to have a Thanksgiving copy ready in two weeks.

Our main staff is: editor-in-chief, Donald Tillotson; assistant editor, Muriel VanAlstburg; business manager, William Bogart; advisor, Miss Muscott.

Each room may choose a reporter and the staff would like all poems, stories, drawings and news items in by Tuesday.

Monday, November 7th, is the date when Dr. Leahy the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Care of children's eyes a specialty. — Adv. 43t2.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Adam and Fallen Man." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 30.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Isaiah 45:7): "I form the light, and create darkness; I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.540): "In Isaiah we read: 'I make peace, and create evil. I the Lord do all these things'; but the prophet referred to divine law as stirring up the belief in evil to its utmost, when bringing it to the surface and reducing it to its common denominator, nothingness."

Next Sunday is an excellent Sunday on which to go to church. You can't fool all the people all the time by saying that you are better than the people who go.

EDITORIALS

VOTING FOR PRESIDENT.

There is, as all American school children learn, a curious constitutional body known as the "electoral college," which meets after presidential elections and goes through the motions of choosing the President, though it has been unofficially deprived of a free choice for more than a century. The electors from each state merely register the expressed will of the voters in that state.

Until lately ballots have nearly always borne the names of the electors. Now some of the states have adopted the simpler and better plan of printing on the ballots the names of the presidential candidates themselves and omitting the list of electors. Thus there is less chance of confusion or error on the part of the voter, and no chance whatever of a divided electoral vote in the state.

Perhaps, too, where such a ballot form is used, there is less chance of aliens being refused citizenship for saying, in their examination, that "the President is elected by the people." Such an absurdity occurred recently in one of the eastern states.

SOMETHING IS WRONG!

Glancing casually through our exchanges each week, we cannot help but notice the efforts being put forth by merchants in neighboring cities to lure dollars from the buying public.

Advertising in abundance appears weekly announcing displays of new autumn and winter goods; several communities have sponsored Dollar Days, others have tied up popularity contests with merchandising schemes, offering votes in exchange for merchandise at attractive prices. Many are the plans which are used in connection with the advertising of special merchandise bargains designed to stimulate trade.

The efforts of these neighboring cities strike us even more forcefully when one stops to realize just how little Charlevoix merchants are doing along similar lines. Dollar Days in Charlevoix are apparently a thing of the past, along with every other special merchandising inducement which have been sponsored in previous years with success.

Charlevoix residents and those within the surrounding districts which this city serves are not unaware of the special sales merchants in neighboring cities offer. Posters and folders carry the news to them at their doors, and you may be sure an outsider is given marked consideration when he visits the place of business of a merchant in another town. They want him—that's why they spend their money for advertising.

The condition is hard to understand. Certainly Charlevoix merchants have as much to offer their own citizens as do those in other cities. It is only logical to believe Charlevoix merchants are able to under-bid outside merchants in prices when the fact is taken into consideration that the buyer must drive many miles to trade out-of-town. It is also quite logical to believe that if Charlevoix merchants offered the same inducements to the public as do their outside competitors, there would be no reason in the world why anyone should leave town to shop.

It is not natural to believe Charlevoix merchants do not want business, but one is almost driven to that conclusion. With the exception of grocery dealers, they show little or no inclination to stimulate trade.

We have always been taught we receive in proportion to what we give. Our returns in any endeavor depends upon the effort put forth to attain them. The support merchants receive from the buying public may be similarly measured.

CHICAGO FAIR BENEFITS

Charlevoix and all Northern Michigan—heart of the Michigan tourist industry—are greatly interested in plans for the Michigan show at the Century of Progress exhibit next year at Chicago. Recently at Grand Rapids plans for using this fair as a place and means of telling the visitors of Michigan's greatest summer resort places and possibilities received enthusiastic support. The Grand Rapids Press in a recent editorial sums up the benefits to Michigan and her need for action as follows:

To the three-fold of Michigan next year will come tens of millions of people as visitors to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago. Some estimates of the attendance run as high as 50,000,000. They will come from every state in the union and from almost every country in the world.

To Michigan this presents the greatest opportunity ever offered to invite the people of the entire country to enter its scenic wilderness and to enjoy its unsurpassed recreational facilities. More than ever before the state will be the playground of a nation.

(An actual case, reported to this company)

A Michigan man, who was working only every other month, secured spare-time work on three occasions because he had a telephone.

During an off-duty month he was called and given an extra week's work by his company. Then he was called and given temporary work in Ann Arbor. And soon, thereafter, he was summoned by telephone to another special job.

He got this extra work because he had a telephone.

The person who tries to get along without a telephone may miss work that would pay for the service many times over.

To Voters of Charlevoix County:

Regardless of your political party, you are vitally interested in the outcome of the vote on Amendment No. 3, which is one of the eight on your November 8th ballot.

I wish to urge you to vote NO on this amendment. It must be defeated if our county is to keep its present voting strength in the state legislature. If it is adopted your voting power will be cut in half and at least two more counties will be added to the Charlevoix-Leelanau District. It will take four counties to elect one State Representative instead of two as at present.

We already have a small enough voice in state affairs. Let us not make it smaller. Vote NO and be SAFE.

who visit the fair will be seeking still other points of interest to include in their itinerary. And of the attractions of the territory surrounding Chicago none is finer than those to be found in this state. Michigan's task at the exposition above all else will be to make known its superior advantages and to invite the multitude to enjoy them.

George Bishop, chairman of the Michigan Century of Progress commission in charge of the state's exhibit, has shown commendable foresight in planning this display, not as a vain show of material wealth or of great industrial accomplishment, but as a panorama of the beauties of the state and the wealth that nature has given it. The whole incentive of the Michigan exhibit, as he explained before the meeting of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, will be the attraction of as great a portion of the Chicago throng as possible to this state.

The state can well afford to ignore its great industrial development in the plans for the Michigan building. For the port Michigan has played in industry insures it ample representation in other sections of the exposition. In the depiction of progress in transportation, for example, this state must have a dominant role. The same applies to electrical development and to many other lines to which the fair will devote special attention. But for the showing of our tourist assets we must depend upon the Michigan exhibit.

If, as Mr. Bishop hopes, we can draw 500,000 to this state, an average expenditure of only $10 each would leave $5,000,000 in the hands of Michigan residents. At the most conservative estimate the harvest to be reaped may be counted in the millions.

But if we are to obtain these great overflow benefits from Chicago, we must do more than merely set up an exhibit. The state legislature must be ready to make adequate appropriations for this investment. Energies must be redoubled for advertising the state before exposition visitors. Special attractions must be offered by every community and accommodations must be provided for caring for the throngs.

But we must not make of this a grab bag opportunity. Those coming into the state for the first time must be impressed with its hospitality, with its fair treatment and with its generous facilities. Michigan's stake in the Chicago fair is not a one-year chance. It is an opportunity that may be turned to account for years to come. We must create in those who visit us desire to return. The future must be kept in mind.

Michigan's stake in Chicago is not only the immediate returns, but also the very reputation of this great resort land.

WHAT A FORMER RESIDENT BELIEVES

Mrs. Franklin C. Sears, who is well known in this city, speaks out in the following letter to the Michigan tradesman:

Harbor Springs—Answering your letter relative to future legislation for handling of liquor traffic, you have expressed your candid opinion and will wish us to do the same.

We, too, are unalterably opposed to the open saloon. But we are also unalterably opposed to the handling of liquor in connection with hotel operation. It is not our intention to secure a livelihood through liquor traffic and if it becomes necessary to deal in such goods to successfully conduct a hotel, we shall be compelled to look for some other means of support.

We have successfully managed summer resort hotels in Northern Michigan for the past ten years and have never found prohibition or the sale of liquor in our hotels in any sense a handicap.

If, and when it becomes necessary to run a bar to succeed in hotel operation, we will go out of the hotel business.

It is our opinion that when honest men are elected to office who do not have their "price" liquor laws may be successfully enforced. Until such officers are elected, we shall continue to suffer through the traffic of liquor in whatever form it is handled.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin C. Sears.

Mrs. Ramona Park Hotel.

OUR RAILROAD BONDS

It is easy to say the big railroads have been selfish, that they have made their own mistake, and should suffer for them. It happens that of the estimated $11,000,000,000 of railroad bonds outstanding, $7,000,000,000 is held by insurance companies and savings banks. It forms the important element of their investment income. Churches, hospitals, colleges, charity associations and other endowed institutions hold $2,000,000,000 worth of these bonds.

Another $3,000,000,000 is held by private investors in the United States and abroad.

Most of us, it seems, are connected directly or indirectly with the railroads, and our financial security is bound up to some extent with their ability to weather such a storm as the one they are now encountering. The railroad problem is everybody's problem. Its solution has got to be left to the experts, but their success is a real concern of the majority of the American people.

GOOD HINT FOR MOTORISTS

There is a bit of a moral for all motorists in the story of the Texan who wanted to inspect the scene of a fatal traffic accident the other day. A car had gone off the road on a mountain highway, killing its driver; so this Texan drove out to see, and got so interested looking at things that he lost control of his own machine and it, too, went off the road and down into a ravine killing its driver.

The moral, of course, is self-evident; never get so interested in the sights around you that you forget to watch where you are driving. But this is a fault totally easy for a motorist to lapse into. All of us have been guilty of it at one time or another. Usually we come through it all right. But we might as well remember that it can be a horribly costly little error.

Summer Grape Pruning

The chief reason advanced by the advocates of summer grape pruning is that the fruit is thereby exposed to a greater degree to the sun, and hence better coloring results. A second reason usually given is that the continued elongation of shoot with the increased number of leaves is a drain on the vine, and in consequence the fruit is weakened. As a matter of fact the larger part of the coloring matter of the fruit is manufactured in the leaf, and is later transferred to the berries. Hence any marked reduction in leaf area influences fruit color.

"MYSTERY PARTY" DREW FINE CROWD

Affair at Methodist Church Enjoyed
Friday Evening

In spite of counter attractions last Friday evening, the mystery party sponsored by the Epworth League drew a crowd of about 75 young folks to the Methodist church.

An initiation committee, headed by Wayne Belding, gave the newcomers a rousing reception.

Fortune telling by Marjorie Newman, Dorothy Pedersen, and a large "fortune wheel," mixed with the solving of mystery puzzles, started the entertainment off in good order. After this the guests played group games and sang songs. A mind reading act by Clarence Arnold was the high spot of the evening.

After this feat judges were selected to decide on best costumes. Mrs. George Brown, Miss Doris Trimble, and Chester Buddy were named. They awarded prizes to Marian Tuhy, a southern girl of 1860, for the prettiest costume; Bernice Holland, a witch, for the spookiest; Wilbur Robertson, a devil in modern dress, for the most interesting; Billy House, half boy and half girl, for the funniest; Patty Ilyers, the Spirit of Halloween, for the most preparation; and to Helena Isaaksen, as Harpo Marx, for the best disguise.

After this number was successfully taken care of, ghost stories by Dorothy Staley and Harold Newman kept the crowd in shivers until refreshments were served at 10 p. m. These consisted of a choice of two kinds of pie, doughnuts, apples, and genuine "witches' brew," sometimes called cider.

The Epworth League social committee, consisting of Doris Trimble, Clarence, and Harold Newman, de-

WILD FRUIT, FLOWERS ODDITIES OF UNUSUAL- LY MILD FALL SEASON

One of the oddities of an unusually mild fall in this district is being displayed by Daryin F. Meech, who has a wild strawberry plant laden with several ripe berries and blossoms.

The plant is one of many to be found along Lake Michigan beach near Fisherman island, according to Mr. Meech, who also reports the finding of many ripe wild raspberries.

This district still remains untouched by frost despite the advanced season. Garden flowers in many varieties are still in bloom.

serves the credit for the fine way the affair in general was handled.

BELVEDERE CLUB TO GET NEW WATER MAIN

Installation Completes Hook-Up of Entire Resort to City System

Providing work to aid unemployment and an improvement long needed, the city is installing a 4-inch water main to serve a portion of the Belvedere club.

The main is being put down on the upper terrace, serving a large number of cottages adjacent to Pavilion park. It will give this entire group of summer homes direct connection with the city water mains and, in case of necessity, make them independent of the Belvedere standpipe for their water supply. The district affected by the change, it is understood, is the only one not already on the city system.

In addition to the convenience the improvement will afford, more adequate water pressure for fire protection will be available.

CHILD HEALTH COMMIT- TEE MEETS THURSDAY

Reports of Activities Since June to Be Made at Boyne City

The Charlevoix County Child Health committee will hold its November meeting at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the county normal room at the Charlevoix grade school.

Miss A. E. Lockwood, county nurse, urges members to consult with their various township and district chairmen regarding work accomplished since June, so that their reports may be complete for the coming meeting. Dr. Walsh will give a talk on "Health Inspection of School Children."

It is urged that all members be present to discuss plans for activities during the late fall and winter months.

METHODIST BOYS' CLUB HELD ANNUAL ELECTION

Officers for Year Chosen at Meeting
Thursday Evening

The annual election and supper of the Boys' club of the Methodist Sunday school was held last Thursday evening.

Warren Shapton was elected president; Harold Chew, vice-president; Herman Meyers, secretary, and Geo. Richardson, treasurer. Twenty-four young fellows were present, and five absent.

Mrs. Edmund Bogart entertained the group to a fine supper, with appropriate Halloween decorations. A business session followed, conducted by the pastor. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. R. T. McDonald of East Jordan.

The work done by Mrs. Wm. Poole in teaching this group, is most remarkable. She was specially pleased at having present sixteen fellows, who were sixteen years old!

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

Please note the change of time. The Ironton church will begin its morning service hereafter at 10:00. In order, also, not to lap the church hour with the Sunday school in Charlevoix the Sunday school hour has been fixed at 12:15. This will work no hardship on the scholars, but it will mean slight difficulty for some of the teachers. If it is deemed advisable later to change the time back we will do so. At present the Sunday school hour in Charlevoix is 12:15.

The subject for the morning service is, "The Teachings of Christ Concerning Salvation." Whether we are willing to accept it or not Jesus Christ had only one reason for coming into the world which is clearly stated in Luke 19:10: "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." And the Apostle Paul was supremely interested in the question how a sinful man can become right with God. You will be doing a real act for good if you will bring with you Sunday morning, someone who is not a Christian to hear the sermon.

Sunday night, a union service of the churches will be held for the annual Armistice day religious service. Rev. Mark of the Church of God will deliver the message. The service will be held in the Congregational church at 7:30. An offering will be received and the amount will be turned over to the welfare department of the local Legion post.

After a period of several weeks we will renew the work of the junior church. This work is very important as it brings definite Christian teachings to the child mind. We are announcing the service at 5 o'clock.

An event that is developing much interest is the celebration of the 50th anniversary of this church. The program will begin Sunday, November 13th, with an anniversary sermon by the pastor. On Thursday the 17th, a pre-Thanksgiving dinner will be served and a program will follow. On Sunday, November 20, the final service will be held and we are hoping to have with us an out of town speaker, perhaps a former pastor. A feature will be the music by the Atwood Reform church male quartet, November 15th.

The Pythian Sisters will hold a Rummage Sale on Saturday, November 5th, at Mrs. Elston's store building on Bridge street.—Adv. 441.

Liquor Traffic in Several Early Periods Vividly Portrayed by Local Talent Cast

The pageant "My Michigan," presented at the gymnasium last Thursday evening under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Dowd was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience.

The affair was sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for the purpose of showing the evils of the liquor traffic in the state during several periods of history.

Miss Bernice Meggison as "Michigan" gave the prologue and several interludes in a very pleasing manner. In the first scene Virginia Taylor, Jay Oliver, John Winder and Wm. C. Palmer as Singing Water, Big Bear, the French trader and the Jesuit priest, respectively, showed how the traders during the French occupancy tempted the Indians to trade their lands and furs for "fire water" while the priests attempted to intervene.

The second scene portrayed the domination of elections by the liquor dealers back in 1867. Dr. Winder as Big Tim, saloon keeper and political boss, was "immense" and Clair Chew as Tom, Harold Newman as Red, Lloyd Arnold as Mr. Watkins and O. P. North as Parson Edly, did their parts to perfection. This scene and the statistics given are all verified by the chapter "Why Michigan Went Dry" in Catlin's History of Detroit.

In the third scene David Coulter, Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble and daughter, Audrey Jean, took the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Landers and Janie, their child. Janie was kidnapped by her father's bootlegger Jake Romano (A. C. Belding) and rescued by Officer O'Brien and his second (Ty Kirby and Harry Baker). The father's resolve to desist from giving aid to the lawless traffic in liquor was a fitting climax.

The school band directed by Mr. Magor, played several numbers and pupils from the fifth and sixth grades, under the direction of Miss Atkinson, sang three patriotic songs. An offering was taken for the welfare work of the American Legion which amounted to $27.50.

BROKE PAROLE, SEN- TENCED TO JACKSON

Wilbur Nathan Given Eight Months to Five Years Monday

Wilbur Nathan of Boyne City, who has been on parole since March 24th following conviction on a charge of concealing stolen property, was sentenced to serve from eight months to five years at Jackson prison Monday by Judge Porm C. Gilbert of Traverse City.

The sentence was passed at a special session of court.

Nathan concealed property stolen by Harry Holland and Garnett Haynes, sentenced January 20 to fonia for terms of 3 to 15 and 2 to 15 years, respectively. Nathan's daughter, Beatrice, and Alice Vincent, were also convicted of the same charge, and are now on probation.

A COURIER READER 24 YEARS RELATES EARLY EXPERIENCES

Dave H. Alexander, a culler at The Courier office Monday, related that he landed with his parents in Charlevoix county on November 7, 1867, just 67 years ago that day.

The family settled on a farm four miles east of Atwood in Banks township. For that first winter the family had less than 25 pounds of flour and little other food, but came through the winter all right.

Mr. Alexander recounted many hardships since that time, stating he had always managed to make a living while bringing up a large family. He is in excellent health despite his advanced years.

Mr. Alexander has been a Courier reader 24 years. He remembers the day the owner put him on the list. He was digging potatoes in the field — "and not 150 potatoes, either," he stated.

POLAR BEARS START PRACTICE SESSIONS

Schedule Tentative Opening Game for Thursday, November 24th

First rumblings of the approaching basketball season were heard this week as members of the Polar Bear team started preparations for a strenuous 1932-33 schedule.

Returning to uphold the Polar Bear's reputation as one of the state's strongest professional outfits will be such well known local stars as Floyd Brown, Dean Davenport, Ted Cooper, Ray Kipke, Glenroy Ikens, Vic Smith, "Bill" Supernaw. New blood will be injected into the squad this year by the addition of Howard Davenport, who starred on last year's Charlevoix high school team, regional champions and contenders for the state title. There is also a prospect of Vic McSaubly, another of last year's high school champions, being added to the squad.

Manager, Gordon Todd stated early this week that it is probable his team would open their schedule on Thursday evening, November 24th, against the Elk Rapids Cardinals.

RED CROSS DRIVE ON NOVEMBER 11

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS PLANNED

Three Thousand Local Organizations Throughout United States Will Take Part

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross, announced for November 11 to 21 will find more than 3,000 chapters seeking memberships for support of regular and emergency activities through 1933.

The local chapter, whose efforts will be directed by Dr. C. J. Winder, has summed up the national organization's relief activities during the past year as follows:

To prevent suffering in this period of unemployment and general economic depression, the Red Cross has made widespread distribution of wheat, flour, clothing, medicine and other supplies through the American Legion welfare department. More than 2,200 chapters have participated in community unemployment relief programs.

"Approximately 15,000,000 persons, residing in every state in the Union, have received flour through the Red Cross, while the clothing needs of tens of thousands of distressed families have been supplemented by the organization's present cloth and clothing distribution program. The task of converting government wheat and cotton into flour and garments was assigned to the Red Cross this year by congress.

"After fifty-one years as the official national relief agency, the American Red Cross finds itself in 1932 carrying the largest peace-time load in its history."

Final plans for an extensive campaign here are being completed. On Saturday, Nov. 12, an intensive drive for membership will be made. Those directing the community-wide appeal have expressed the hope that the membership quota will be reached or exceeded in a comparatively brief period.

CENTRAL LAKE LAD SHOT BY ACCIDENT

Hit by .22 Rifle Bullet at Home
Last Thursday

Earl Parker, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker of Central Lake, was accidentally shot and gravely injured while playing near his home Thursday.

Earl and his playmate, Buster Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirby, were together. Buster was in the back seat of his father's car. He picked up a .22 rifle, pointed it at Earl, on the running board, and pulled the trigger.

The shot entered the right side of Earl's neck, lodging in the left shoulder. He was treated and taken home a short time later. His right arm and both legs became paralyzed. It was decided to take him to Ann Arbor.

Michigan Goes Democratic

Following the national trend, Michigan went Democratic for the first time since Woodbridge N. Ferris was elected to the gubernatorial chair. At noon Wednesday, William A. Comstock was leading Wilbur M. Brucker by a majority of 50,000 votes, with every indication pointing to certain victory. The Republican collapse was not confined only to the governorship, but to the entire state ticket. The Democratic state landslide is practically assured with three-fourths of the precincts heard from.

Charlevoix County Republican Oasis

In Northern Michigan, Charlevoix county was the only Republican oasis in a Democratic desert. Without exception, voters gave majorities to Republican candidates, national, state and county, but over in Cheboygan county the veteran Rep. Fred Ming was defeated. Calvin A. Campbell, 27th district state senator, may meet a similar fate. In the race for congressman, 11th district, Prentiss M. Brown, St. Ignace, has an estimated majority of 2,000 votes over Frank P. Bohn, Newberry, the Republican nominee. Reports indicate Dana Hinkley, Emmet county representative in the state legislature, is uncertain of victory.

Wet Vote Emphatic

Equally as emphatic as the Democratic trend, was the vote favoring prohibition repeal. Thirteen of 25 precincts in Charlevoix county, long listed as dry, voted wet. The city of Charlevoix went wet by a majority of 78 votes, with only the second ward showing a negative vote of merely 26. The state and nation went wet also.

Amendment Results

On the amendments, voters from 13 out of 25 Charlevoix county precincts, voted in favor of prohibition repeal, tax limitation, voters' residence, clemency for murderers, qualification of voters and oleomargarine tax. They turned down the legislative apportionment and home-stead exemption amendments. State-wide results at noon Wednesday were uncertain on tax limitation, in favor of prohibition repeal, and against the oleo tax and home-stead exemption. Results on other amendments are not available.

Record Vote Cast

Charlevoix county polled the largest vote in its history Tuesday. Charlevoix city led the shattering with 1163, a record, and Boyne City was next with 1074, also a record. Long before time for the polls to close, extra ballots were furnished Charlevoix, Hayes, Melrose and several other townships. Charlevoix township, casting 37 ballots at the last general election, polled 86 votes, which is a fair indication of the increase throughout the county.

Election Boards Swamped

Election boards were swamped with the tremendous task of counting, size of the ballots, split tickets, etc., throwing everything into a muddle which in some precincts, was not straightened out until around noon on Wednesday.

County Results

The following results are complete for 24 out of 25 precincts with the exception of tabulations for the offices of circuit court commissioner, drain commissioner, coroners and surveyor, which offices went to the Republican nominee, viz: Lisle Shanahan, James Simmons, F. F. McMillan, S. B. Stackus, Edward S. Stacks, respectively. Amendment results are tabulated from 13 out of 25 precincts. The results:

131 HIGHWAY PRO-JECT IS ASSURED

STATE PROMISES QUICK ACTION ON CONTRACTS, ETC.

Advertising for Bids Was Placed
Last Week—Actual Work Will Be Started Soon

Prospects for an early start on the grading and preliminary work on the relocation of US-131 north of Boyne Falls appear very bright at the present time, according to Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner.

Petokey interests which are pushing the project were given the above assurance in a communication last week to Rep. Dana Hinkley from Highway Commissioner Dillman, which read in part, as follows:

"You are advised that construction work on US-131 relocation south of Petokey covering clearing, grubbing and grading will be advertised this week. Without question a number of bids will be received and we will let contract promptly so that work can be started without delay."

The Petokey Evening News, in a recent issue, say:

"The quick action on this stretch of highway work, designed to give employment to men from needy homes in Emmet and Charlevoix counties during the present winter, came through the thorough cooperation of the county and state highway departments, and especially the splendid efforts of Mr. Dillman and of A. L. Burridge, northern division engineer, who gave their personal attention to the matter."

"The right-of-way for the new location is practically all purchased and the remaining pieces will be secured through condemnation proceedings, action in probate court to settle estates, partnerships, etc. The state is handling this entire matter, but the money necessary to pay for the land, is being provided by the two counties, whose board of supervisors made appropriations for the purpose."

It is estimated that $150,000 will be expended for labor alone on the grading and other work on the road during the coming winter and early spring months. The road is expected to be ready for paving early next summer. The paving will be under separate contract.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS COMPLETE

APPROPRIATE OBSERVANCE IS PLANNED FOR FRIDAY

Ceremony at Memorial Park, Program at Gymnasium and Evening
Banquet Among Features

(By F. V. Tyler.)

It is fitting that Armistice day should follow so closely on the heels of a national election which has ended a bitter political struggle—titting that those who have lost and those who have won should be reminded that the men of our country who now lie in peace under the sod of France and the maimed unfortunates that fill our government hospitals offered their lives for humanity's most treasured possession—liberty.

Let us then, on the eve of this Armistice day, unite in a solemn resolve to preserve that liberty for which these heroes fought that their sacrifice may not be in vain. Though no armed forces confront us, the powers of greed, selfishness and special interest are always marshaled against us and our battles against these sinister influences, though bloodless, are no less important in the preservation of that holy freedom whose price, as a great patriot has warned us, is "eternal vigilance."

The program in Charlevoix on November 11th will be similar to that of last year. The flag in the city's memorial park will be down at halfmast until 11:00 a. m., when taps will be played and the day raised to the staff-head. Members of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, and its Auxiliary unit, accompanied by ex-service men and led by the post's bugle and drum corps, will march to the park for the ceremony.

The community program at the high school gymnasium, which commences at 2:30 p. m., is as follows:

Marche—Charlevoix School Band
"Joy Riders"King
"Roll of Honor"King
"On the Square"Panella
"Victory March"King
Salute to Our Flag—Girls' Trio
"Stars Off"—5th, 6th, 7th Grade
Post: Loved Southern Melodist
Selections—Charlevoix School Band "America" (All sing)
Charlevoix School Band
Address—Judge Joseph P. Murphy, Petokey

"Star Spangled Banner"

An army style banquet, at which army "chow" will be served and to which all veterans, their wives, and friends are invited, will be held at the Legion home on East Gardfield avenue at 8:00 p. m. and will close the day's program. At this banquet some of the boys will give their reminiscences of the Great War.

PLAN ATHLETIC INSUR- ANCE IN NEAR FUTURE

Michigan Coaches Requested to Report Injuries of Past Season

Michigan high school football coaches last Thursday were requested by C. E. Forsythe, director of athletics of the state department of education, to make a full report at the close of the present season of all injuries received by players directly or indirectly caused by participation in the game.

He said that the information will be used in establishing a system of insurance for the protection of young athletes.

JOHN JOHNSON VOTED 19TH PRESIDENTIAL BALLOT HERE TUESDAY

John Johnson, 96, well known Charlevoix non-resident, voted at his 19th presidential election on Tuesday, walking the mile from his home on Alice street to the polls. Mr. Johnson voted for Lincoln when he was elected to his first term as president, and has voted for the Republican party since that time. He remembers when Henry Clay was elected president of the Whig party, which is quite some few years ago. He was eight years old at that time.

POTATO MARKET LOW AND BUYERS ARE FEW

Twelve cents a Bushel Drives Farmers to Store Crop

With the grower uninterested in selling and the buyer only half hearted in buying the local potato market is in a dull situation with the buyers offering 20 cents per hundred and few farmers accepting it.

The harvest is over, at least the big part of it, and the long drawn-out period of waiting and watching has started. A big part of the potato crop is buried in pits on the farms to remain until some sort of a price commensurate with the cost of production appears above the horizon.

Twenty cents per hundred is only 12 cents per bushel, hardly worth the trouble of transporting the potatoes from farm to the warehouse. If the grower who pitted his potatoes never uncovers them he cannot lose much at the prevailing price. On the other hand, looking at it from another angle he has lost his entire summer's work.

BOYS' CONFERENCE WILL ATTRACT MANY

Several from Charlevoix to Attend Meeting at Muskegon

Charlevoix will probably send several boys to the Michigan Older Boys' conference which will meet at the Central high school auditorium, Muskegon, on November 25, 26 and 27.

The Older Boys' conference is held each year under the auspices of the Michigan State Y. M. C. A., and co-operating school and church groups. Ralph Blockman of Grand Rapids, is the conference president. Muskegon committee making preparations are under the direction of Ralph T. Guyer of the Muskegon public schools. Dr. Dean W. Myers is chairman of the state conference committee and Ray Johns of Detroit is the executive secretary. GAS TAX COLLECTION SHOWS BIG INCREASE

September Receipts Reported to Exceed Those of Last Year

Gasoline tax collections for September were $33,000 higher than they were for the corresponding month in 1931, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, reports. Last month's receipts totaled $1,850,496. He said the advance was made after July collections had shown a drop of $600,000 from July, 1931, and after August receipts were $300,000 below those of a year ago.

"There is no question in my mind but that these figures plainly indicate bettered business conditions as disclosed by the increased consumption of gasoline in September," Fitzgerald said.

Trapping for raccoon south of that line will begin December 1.

FEED RATIO FAVORS BIG MEALS FOR HENS

Dozen Eggs Now Buys More Mash and Scratch Grain Than in Decade

A dozen eggs will buy more pounds of poultry feed this year than at any other time during the past decade, according to studies made by the farm management department at Michigan State college, which indicates a definite loss in skimping the feed supplied to farm flocks.

During the past 10 years, the average price paid for a dozen eggs would buy 16.9 pounds of poultry feed. A dozen eggs during the first nine months of 1932 would buy 19.5 pounds of feed. Last year, the dozen eggs would buy 17.1 pounds of feed and, in 1930, only 16.5 pounds of feed could be purchased with the money received for the eggs.

The new state ferry dock at St. Ignace is receiving its finishing touches and is expected to be completed this month. Work of sodding has been going on for the past week, but it is not expected that trees and shrubs will be planted until next spring. The new office building was constructed by the Christman company of Grand Rapids and has been in use for the past three weeks.

LEGION BENEFIT SHOW TO BE GIVEN NOV. 16

Program of "The Merry Makers" Promises Fine Entertainment

If the "Merry Makers," who appear at the high school gymnasium next Thursday evening under auspices of the American Legion, only give half of the good things they promise, it will be worth while.

"Lorette," the girl with the $1,000 violin, The Masked Marvel, Esther Saverly Cross, concert pianist and flutist, should more than satisfy the lovers of good music, but they promise more than this—they will "make you like it," whether you are a lover of good music or not.

Inter-mixing all this with a boy comedian, a magician, a ventriloquist, a juggler and a screamingly funny "nigger" farce, everyone is looking forward to an evening of real pleasure. The kiddies have not been forgotten, either. A matinee, with things appealing to the children, is being provided.

A portion of the proceeds will go to the Legion welfare fund.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Tuesday the normal class had a straw vote on the candidates for president and governor. The outcome was the election of Hoover and Brucker. Mr. Dow and Mr. Chew arranged the room for voting and made the ballots. The amendments were also voted on and the 5th, 6th and 8th were accepted.

Mr. Bussler and Miss Elzinga will listen to a program, broadcast by the University of Michigan on "Unemployment Insurance," and will report it to the class.

Training Room

The training room has organized itself into a citizenship club. At the first meeting Robert Smith was elected president, Maxine Franck vice-president, and Sidney Clarke secretary. SCHOOL NOTES

Our Faculty—Mr. Kipke

The reporter caught Mr. Kipke as he was about to leave the math room, just in time to secure some of the interesting events in his life. Through his high school course, Mr. Kipke participated in football, basketball and baseball. This was followed by college training at Michigan State college where he worked his way through by washing dishes and scrubbing floors. With a major in mathematics and a minor in physical education he coached at an industrial school for a while and then assumed a position as assistant football coach at Olivet where he remained a year. The next year was spent coaching at Williamston. The year 1932-33 is the fifth for Mr. Kipke, teaching and coaching at C. H. S. Twice in this time, the high school basketball team has entered the state tournament, the other years they had a remarkable record which can only be obtained through the coach and cooperation of the team and coach. "Yea coach! Yea Kipke. Yea, Yea, Coach Kipke."

Miss Ferneau

Miss Ferneau proved a very willing victim at the hands of the reporter, beginning with the statement, "I'm 29 years old and unmarried." Miss Ferneau graduated from Western State Teachers college with a major in history, English and social science, and a minor in mathematics. She now has her A. B. degree. She very amusingly recalls how she worked her way through college taking care of very "ornery" children. Miss Ferneau has taught for ten years in various rural, grammar, grade and high schools in the southern and eastern parts of Michigan. This is her fourth year in C. H. S. where she is busy with her history, government and algebra classes. The first year she coached the debate team at C. H. S. For the next two years she sponsored the class '32 and at present is sponsor of the junior class. Graduates who return to visit C. H. S. soon make their way to Miss Ferneau's room, for they realize that she always remains their interested friend.

Football in C. H. S. 26 Years Ago

At the beginning of the season it did not seem as if they had a chance, as only ten men appeared at the field for practice the first week. The second week, however, more candidates appeared, although some knew very little about football.

The first game of the year was with Boyne City, which resulted in a score of 55 to 0 in Charlevoix's favor. Boyne however, was playing with two of their regular men out.

Charlevoix had joined the interscholastic association and were scheduled to play Traverse City. Word was received late and the boys only had two nights practice; Traverse won by a 10 to 0 score. Charlevoix did well to hold the game down so well, 5 points being made by a "fuke". Traverse was far heavier than Charlevoix.

The next Saturday a return game was played at Boyne. Boyne's team was much stronger and Charlevoix weaker, as they were playing with one good man out. However, the score was 11 to 0 in favor of C. H. S. who earned every point she got, winning by superior team work.

Harbor played in Charlevoix the next Saturday. Their team was much heavier than C. H. S., but could gain only through the center, where Charlevoix was weak, while Charlevoix made repeated gains on either ends, resulting in a score of 15 to 0 in favor of C. H. S. This was the last game of the season.

The lineup for 1906 was as follows:

Cooper, Stevenson, Duran, end; Mayne, Duran, Withers, tackle; Madril, Withers, Cook, guard; Shapiro, Soc, center; Small, quarter; Miller and Ross, halves; Carey, full. Duran was elected captain for '07 team and Mayne manager.

Sunday morning service, 10:15. Subject, "Mortal and Immortal." Wednesday evening at 7:15, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 6.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Gen. 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST FOUR WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Central Drug Store or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after that first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

AT THE MOVIES

Ruth Chatterton Sold on George Brent First Day

There are few surer signs of screen successes than for a star to pick the same leading man for two pictures in succession. This is the signal honor that has been accorded George Brent, who is once more playing the leading role opposite Ruth Chatterton in her second First National production, "The Crash," which will be shown at the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Though still a young man, Brent has had a rise to motion picture popularity that has been the lot of few young actors in Hollywood. After one day's work with her in her first picture for Warner Bros., "The Rich Are Always With Us," Ruth Chatterton pronounced him the best leading man she had ever had. Similar praise has been bestowed on the dark-haired young Irishman by Joan Blondell, Barbara Stanwyck and Loretta Young, all stars in their own right.

"The Crash" is the first picture to deal with the effects of the stock market crash upon New York's idle rich. It was adapted from "Children of Pleasure," the novel by Larry Barratto. In the supporting cast are Hardie Albright, Henry Kolker, Lois Wilson, Helen Vinson, Barbara Leonard, Paul Cavanagh, Ivan Simpson, Richard Tucker, Virginia Hammond and Edith Kingdon. William Dieterle directed.

No Truth in Tales Claiming New Dodge Without Transmission

There is no truth in the widespread rumors which have led many people to believe that the new Dodge cars were designed to operate without transmissions. These stories recently reached such circulation that General Sales Manager A. Vanderzee requested his dealers by wire to induce their papers to contradict them.

"A bit premature," said George Allen, Dodge's chief engineer, who certainly should know. "But," he continued, "just as there is fire where there is smoke, there is a background of reasonable probability to these 'Dodge Without-Transmission' tales."

"The public will encounter in the new Dodge a good many novel things—among them a transmission that acts as if it were not there by refusing to make a noise like a transmission, either in gear-shifting or in running."

"As far as Dodge is concerned, the days of the rasping and grating speed-changing and of growling gears are positively over. As a matter of fact, the very latest change—speeds in the new Dodge just as expertly as the seasoned veteran. Neither could bungle the job if he wanted to."

"The best part of it is that the silencing of the new Dodge transmission—you see, I admit that we have one—is achieved not by making the unit more complicated, but by making it more simple. For, unlike the old-fashioned transmission in which sliding gears must be meticulously meshed and unmeshed, the Dodge transmission gears, having helical teeth only, remain in mesh all the time, actual speed changing being done by a little bit of 'silent gear selector' that is as quiet as a mouse."

A man may not be too old to learn but too old to realize it.

TROUT MARKET LOWEST IN QUARTER CENTURY

With Low Price Offered, Fishermen Are Operating Without Profit

Faced with the lowest market price for mackinaw trout in the past quarter century or more, commercial fishermen of Charlevoix and St. James, principal fishing centers of western Michigan, are continuing operations and hoping for better returns for their labors.

Starting last Wednesday at 4 cents for small, and 3 cents for large trout, the market has slipped to a 3-cent flat rate, which, fishermen declare, is hardly sufficient to buy fuel for their boats, let alone hire a crew and figure on replacement of equipment damaged during spawn fishing.

From an economic standpoint, the situation is without a parallel. It means little income from spawn fishing, to which the fishermen have looked forward to carry them through the idle winter months, after a summer which has been pretty much shy of profitable operation.

The situation at the government hatchery here is not altogether a rosy one, either. So far much of the spawn take has been green, and this, along with curtailed operation and only half-hearted response from fishermen under present conditions, does not speak well for a supply of spawn to keep employees busy with its care during the winter.

KIPMEN LOSE FINAL GAME AT PETOSKEY

Closing their 1932 football schedule, Charlevoix high school griders were defeated 31 to 0 by the heavy class B Petoskey team at Petoskey last Saturday afternoon.

Petoskey scored first in the early part of the initial period, but from then on until the end of the quarter were held in check by a stubborn Charlevoix defense. A bad pass from center and a blocked punt paved the way for two Petoskey touchdowns in the second session, and they scored once each in the two remaining periods.

Charlevoix threatened constantly, but were never able to muster sufficient power to put over a touchdown. The ball carrying of Foster and Struthers featured the Charlevoix attack.

The Kipmen ended the season Saturday with four defeats in six games, losing to East Jordan, Boyne City, Cheboygan and Petoskey, and winning from Mancelona and Harbor Springs.

The Courier hastens to correct an error made in the account of the Charlevoix-Harbor Springs game. Credit for blocking a punt which resulted in Charlevoix's second touchdown was given to Marquis Roen, when the play was made by Bernie Foster. We extend Bernie our sincere apology.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp.

Feed Dealers Hold Conference in Ellsworth

The majority of feed dealers in both Antrim and Charlevoix counties met together Tuesday night, November 14, to discuss the variety and type of feed that are being handled for the coming winter feeding season. Prof. J. G. Hays, Michigan State college, was present and forcibly brought to the attention of the local feed dealers just what the farmers are buying or may be expected to buy.

First of all it has been found, as a result of several years' experiments in the feeding of dairy cows, that a wide variety of feeds in the corn ration is not absolutely necessary. This affords considerable encouragement to farmers in that they may secure wonderful results from feeding their home grown feeds supplemented with high-protein feeds. It was brought out that in buying high-protein supplements, cottonseed meal is usually the cheapest source of protein. Furthermore, we now find that cows can handle large quantities of cottonseed meal, in many cases up to five or six pounds daily, whereas in the past we have recommended not more than one or two pounds a day.

Plans are being developed to hold a series of from 12 to 15 feeding schools this winter in the grange halls and other community centers to bring to the attention of the dairyman some of these newer developments. These meetings will be conducted by County Agent B. C. Mellencamp and will start shortly after the first of the year.

As a result of the meeting last Tuesday the local dealers will have in stock feeds that will meet the feeding conditions for this coming winter.

Second Leaders Training Meeting of Home Furnishing Project Held Last Wednesday at Boyne City

The second leaders' training meeting of the home furnishing project, sponsored by the extension division of the Michigan State college, was held in the Boyne City public library last Wednesday.

Sixteen local groups scattered throughout the county were represented with 22 leaders as well as several visitors. In addition to Miss Gertrude Reis, specialist from the college who is in charge, we were honored by the presence of Miss Edna Smith, home demonstration agent leader. The leaders who had taken this work for the past three years were pleased to again have the opportunity of meeting Miss Smith, who was in charge of the first-year home management project.

Charlevoix county has the largest number of local groups carrying on this work of any county in this section and judging from the comments already received this project seems to be exceptionally popular.

The meeting was called to order by the county chairman, Mrs. B. Hartnell and Miss Smith was introduced and gave a short outline of the duties of the county committee.

Miss Reis presented the lesson of the day, "Making Slip Covers," and the room was soon a bevy of workers with the leaders measuring and fitting their slip covers for the chairs brought by the leaders.

The next meeting will be held on December 7th, at which time the project, "Refinishing Furniture," will be presented.

discussed. Anyone wishing to enroll in this project, please call or write the county agricultural agent, B. C. Mellencamp, who will be glad to furnish you with desired particulars.

Fruit Growers Splendid Short Course Offered to Michigan Farmers at Mich. State College Nov. 14-18

Full details of the commercial fruit growers' conference have been received by B. C. Mellencamp, county agent, which is to be held November 14-18, at Michigan State college, East Lansing. Never before have so many interesting subjects been crowded into such a short course.

The cost of this short course is indeed reasonable, the fee for the course being only $1.00. Rooms may be secured in East Lansing homes at $1.00 per night per person. Meals may be secured in East Lansing restaurants, accommodations are also available in Lansing hotels.

Complete outlines of all subject materials to be given are available in the county agent's office at Boyne City, which please remember is now located in the new Federal building, second floor.

BUYERS PAY CASH FOR WORK HORSES

Market for Good Animals to Be Bright Spot in Livestock World

A crowd of bidders of such proportions that some of the bids were lost before they reached the auctioneer paid $5,460 cash for 39 head of horses and colts sold in a consignment sale which concluded a two-day plowing contest and horse fair sponsored by the Michigan Horse Breeders' association at Michigan State college.

The average price paid for registered horses was $256.25 and $164.05 for grades. Foals and yearlings brought an average price of $62.

The animal husbandry department of the college has been trying for the past few years to interest state farmers in raising horses for the local market which has been obtaining replacements for aged animals from western states. Over one million dollars were paid out for horses brought in from other state by Michigan farmers last year.

What Is

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Over 30 Million Americans Now Have It—Is This Dreaded Disease Becoming a Plague?

Athlete's Foot is a fungus germ (Tinea) which appears on the feet in the form of a little yellow blister, causing severe irritation and itching—especially between the toes. This disease is very contagious and is spreading with alarming rapidity among all classes of people.

The failure to successfully treat Athlete's Foot in the past has been due largely to the fact that these germs hibernated in the pores of the shoes. Salves and liquids applied only to the feet DO NOT PENETRATE THE PORES OF THE SHOES.

Medical Science has recently developed an amazing treatment known as Meritt Foot Powder, which laboratory and clinical tests have proved will positively kill these germs and restore feet so infected to a normal, healthy condition. It is simply applied on the feet and into the shoes.

Meritt Foot Powder quickly eliminates excessive perspiration and itching of the toes. It heals irritation and is unsurpassed for chafing and as a deodorant. Why suffer another day when this fast working treatment is positively guaranteed to overcome these distressing conditions or your money refunded?

Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—non—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires.

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why rare drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That's because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every corner and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal rot. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—we will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

50TH ANNIVERSARY BEING CELEBRATED

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH WAS FOUNDED IN 1882

Anniversary Sermon Delivered by Pastor Sunday—Other Festivities Will Follow

The First Congregational church of Charlevoix, founded September 19, 1882, is this week observing its 50th anniversary.

According to old records, Rev. LeRoy Warren of Lansing, Rev. P. F. McClelland of Northport, Rev. James Davies of Atwood, Rev. D. Laserson of Leland, and William Gill of Northport, were present and participated in the first exercises. Rev. Warren preached in the evening, and Rev. VanAuken of Augusta, delivered the sermon the following Sunday with a view of permanently locating as pastor. The original membership was nine.

Rev. G. R. Parker, the present pastor, gave the anniversary sermon Sunday as the opening number of the week's festivities. His address was one on Congregationalism, reviewing the progress of the society since its founding. His sermon, in part, follows:

"Generally speaking, the opportunity of celebrating a 50th anniversary of a church comes only once in the lifetime of a congregation. When we stand at the fiftieth mile post it would be expected if someone, old or young, would challenge our right to existence by asking, 'What have you accomplished in that long period of time?' God prepared the children of Israel against a similar question. Stones were taken from the Jordan river, where the priests stood firm, as the people passed over Jordan into Canaan and lay down on the Canaan side. And when future generations asked 'What meaneth ye by these stones?' they would hear the re-counting of wonderful events of years gone by.

"To exist in a community for fifty years, developing from a handful of persons, nine in number; having 726 different individuals stand before the sacred altar and publicly confess their Christian faith; having 202 active members now upon the rolls means that the First Congregational church has been a vital interest in the affairs of Charlevoix. Sixteen different ministers have preached the gospel from the pulpit and hundreds of children and young people have received their Christian training and ideals from our church school and allied organizations.

"Many opinions exist in the minds of people concerning the Congregational church as a denomination. Some have considered it a social organization with a mere shade of religious belief. But those who have drunk deep of its spiritual waters rise to tell us that it is an organization of deepest spiritual worth. There is no church, protestant or Roman catholic, that is organized on more orthodox lines than the Congregational denomination. True, our creed contains less than two hundred words, but it is based upon ones belief in Jesus Christ as his personal Saviour. We take the bible as a basis of our belief and believe that through its study and the enlightening power of the Holy Spirit that our conscience is a safe guide. From that viewpoint the present pastor believes that it is the duty of a pastor to preach the Word and not entangle himself with the politics of the day. He has heard statements from the pulpit on politics that do more harm than all the good those ministers could do afterward. Shouldn't he vote, affiliate himself, champion civic righteousness, indeed, but keep it out of the pulpit.

"A local Congregational church is independent of any outside overlordship. No bishop, no secretary, no board, can interfere with its policies. It secures its own pastor, keeps him as long as service rendered, justifies his leadership. The minister is in the position of a manager, not a driver. All questions must be submitted to a board of trustees or the church body or a board of deacons. The property of a local church is owned within itself. But a mere majority cannot change its denominational affiliation.

"It is true that had there been no Plymouth, there would have been no Congregational church. The Pilgrims and the Puritans are not the same, as popular thought has thought. The Pilgrims came over in the Mayflower and settled in Plymouth, and the Puritans settled at Salem, Boston and Dorchester. The Puritans whipped the Quakers, imprisoned the Baptists, and hung witches. The Pilgrims hung no witches, did not molest the Quakers, and as for the Baptists, when Roger Williams fled Boston, he became, for a time, a minister in the church in Plymouth. When the Roman catholic was persecuted in Dorchester, Gov. Bradford of Plymouth, could entertain a catholic priest with a fish dinner on Friday. 20TH BIRTHDAY OF DICKENS CLUB

EVENT OBSERVED AT HOME OF
MRS. F. J. FESSENDEN

Club Organized Monday, November 19, 1912—From Nucleus of Three, Membership Now 43

A meeting of unusual interest occurred Monday, when members of the Charles Dickens club met at the home of Mrs. F. J. Fessenden.

There was nothing unusual in the day, for Monday is the regular day of meeting, but this meeting turned into a birthday party—the 20th birthday of the club.

On Monday, November 19th, 1912, Mrs. Albert W. Goddard (Mrs. Harry Nichols), Mrs. P. E. Vanderlande and Mrs. Marian Purdy met with Mrs. Vanderlande to make plans for a club and the reading of Dickens and further enrichment of knowledge.

From this small nucleus of three, the club has grown until it has in honorary, associate and active members a membership of 43, 19 of which are active.

Dickens was read devotedly and later Browning, Whitman and others were enjoyed. Charles Dickens is still read in the club as are other interesting authors. Current books and plays and questions of national importance are discussed.

Letters and telegrams were read from members who have moved to other states which include California, Florida, Ohio, New Hampshire and New York, as well as several from Michigan.

Two vocal solos by Mrs. Archie Livingston, accompanied by Mrs. Fessenden, and two violin solos by Mrs. Dan Soule, who was also accompanied by Mrs. Fessenden, added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon's celebration.

A birthday party just would not be a party without the proverbial cake. So to accompany other delicious refreshments, a "birthday" cake was served, beautifully decorated in the club colors of pale yellow and Chinese blue and lighted with twenty yellow candles encased in blue holders.

Thus the club has completed its first score of years and it is the sincere desire of every member to continue to carry on and uphold the ideals to which it was dedicated and perhaps when another score of years have rolled by some grandchildren can help serve the cake and listen to how things were done back in 1912.

PLEASURE LAUNCH IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

W. H. Wallace's "Cad-About" Burned
Friday Morning

The "Cad-About," a pleasure yacht owned by William H. Wallace, burned to the water's edge when it caught fire Friday morning from a motor short circuit.

The craft was being placed in shape for winter haul-out at Hamilton & Son boat yard. Ray Hamilton, who was working on the launch, narrowly escaped serious burns by jumping into a rowboat tied to the craft, thus escaping the flames.

The launch was a total loss before the fire department could reach the scene.

BASKETBALL CAN- DIOATES REPORT

NEARLY FIFTY OUT FOR INITIAL PRACTICE SESSION

Start in Quest of Third Championship With Game at Traverse City December 9th

With the moleskins packed away and football forgotten for this year at least, Charlevoix high school this week started preparations for the 1932-33 basketball season.

A group of over 45 candidates answered the first practice call, and from this turn-out Coach Ray Kipke will choose a quintet which has a hard record to equal. At the close of the 1930-31 season, the Kipmen had won the district and regional titles and gone to the first round of the state championship. The 1931-32 team, after losing the district crown, came back to win the regional and go to the semi-finals in state competition.

Of last year's champions, only Emerald Chew, a forward, and Joe Smith, guard, remain. Just how far Charlevoix will go towards a championship this year depends upon Coach Kipke's success in building a team from new material.

Among the aspiring candidates for regular berths on the team are several who saw action in a few games last year. Lyle Ance, a junior, gave a good account of himself and should replace his brother, Norman, at center. "Bud" Potter and "Tinker" Kirby should make a fast pair of forwards. Potter is a lanky boy, and Kirby, while small and light, was a hard man to stop last season. Along with the above trio are Jack Foster, Steve Serno, Junior Supernaw, George Richardson, Boh Pearl, Marquis Roen, Charles Carey and Gordon Raby, all regulars on last season's second squad.

Charlevoix will play a schedule of eleven games again this year, opening on December 9th with Traverse City on the latter's court. The remaining ten games are as follows:

Dec. 16—Petoskey here.
Dec. 23—Petoskey there.
Jan. 6—Boyer City there.
Jan. 13—Harbor Springs here.
Jan. 20—Traverse City here.
Jan. 27—Mancelona there.
Feb. 3—Boyer City here.
Feb. 10—East Jordan here.
Feb. 17—Harbor Springs there.
Feb. 24—East Jordan there.

X-ray examinations of cases that were previously classified as observation cases of tuberculosis were given in Charlevoix by Mrs. Ethel W. Langenberg, nurse and X-ray technician with the Michigan Tuberculosis association, on Tuesday, November 15.

The X-rays were made in the District Health Unit offices. Plates were read and a diagnosis established by Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, tuberculosis controller of Detroit.

WINTER TAX IS LESS THIS YEAR

ALL GOVERNMENT BRANCHES HAVE MADE CUTS

Charlevoix Taxpayers Will Pay
$28.36 Per Thousand Compared With $31.08 Year Ago

Due to a general reduction in governmental expenses of state and county, and a slight cut in school expenses, Charlevoix taxpayers will pay a smaller winter tax than heretofore. The new rate, upon which taxes will be based for the winter roll, is $28.36, as compared with $31.08 last year, or a reduction of $2.72 on every thousand dollars valuation.

The state tax has been cut from $3.58 to $3.11, a reduction of 47 cents. The county tax is $10.00 per thousand, the same as a year ago, while the school tax for the city of Charlevoix has been reduced from $15.00 to $14.00 a thousand. The road tax, which makes up the other item on the tax roll is $1.25 a thousand, and just one-half of the amount a year ago.

Also reducing the load carried by Charlevoix taxpayers, is the cut made by the city. Last summer's tax was reduced from $12 to $10 per thousand, and in addition light and water rates were decreased materially to consumers. Taken collectively, it is estimated the city reductions would be equivalent to a $4 tax cut.

Figures released by County Treasurer Joseph William Flanders reveal that Charlevoix city is carrying a tremendous share of the entire county load, despite reductions all along the line. The total state and county tax for Charlevoix county is $137,519.91, of which $46,524.51 is assessed to the city of Charlevoix. This amount represents over one-third of the total.

Following are the figures for state and county tax by township and cities:

Bay	3,336.62
Boyer Valley	5,093.16
Chaplin	847.28
Charlevoix	4,081.42
Evangeline	1,758.71

by Mrs. G. R. Parker Friday

Mrs. G. Russell Parker presented the topic, "Is There a Liquor Problem for Our Children?" before the W. C. T. U. last Friday afternoon.

She made a plea for the right kind of teaching and contacts during the impressionable age of childhood and urged the Union to specialize in temperance education among the young.

As part of the afternoon was spent at the Armistice day program it was impossible to complete the business and adjournment was made to next Friday, when officers will be elected and other business transacted.

It is understood Charlevoix high school athletic officials will cut their 1933 schedule to four games, all with conference teams. Games with Boyne City, East Jordan, Harbor Springs and Mancelona are anticipated.

Following is the conference standing:

CHARLEVOIX MAY HAVE BOAT LINE

NEW COMPANY HAS PURCHASED
"MANITOU" AND "PURITAN"

Representative Will Be Here Soon to Arrange for Inclusion of This City in Schedule

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce is just in receipt of a letter from the Duke Transportation company of Houghton, Mich., stating that the company has recently purchased the steamers "Manitou" and "Puritan" from the bondholders of the Michigan Transit corporation and are making elaborate plans to operate these ships for the season of 1933.

They plan to make Charlevoix one of their ports of call and believe that they can bring us considerable business. Captain M. L. Gilbert, who will command the steamer operating on the Charlevoix run, will arrive here shortly to make the final arrangements before their exceptionally fine folder, with its schedule for the summer season, goes to press.

The company feels that, in order to make the operation of the new line the success that it should be, they must have the cooperation of all the resort owners and chambers of commerce en route. Just what form they expect this cooperation to take is at present unknown, but this matter will doubtless be explained by Captain Gilbert on his projected visit to this city.

The Duke Transportation company, which is evidently a newly formed organization, will operate as a daily service during the period of open navigation the International Ferry, the Fort William line and the Houghton-Ile Royale run and, as a weekly service, the Chicago-Ile Royale line, via Michigan ports.

HUNTERS TREK TO THE NORTH WOODS

CHARLEVOIX SENDS A LARGE
CONTINGENT THIS YEAR

Season Opened Tuesday, November 15—No Changes in Laws Governing Sport This Year

The 1932 Michigan deer hunting season opened yesterday morning, November 15th, and Charlevoix will have its usual quota of red-coated hunters in the game cover areas of the lower and upper peninsulas.

While Charlevoix is sending a representation to be in access of previous years, reports from downstate indicate Michigan, as a whole will equal former records. It appears that the many non-employers of the state will take advantage of the deer hunting season to provide meat for their tables, inasmuch as they have nothing else to do.

No changes of consequence have been made in the hunting regulations for the 1932 season. The period runs from November 15 to 30. The kill is limited to one male deer with antlers at least three inches above the sculp. It is unlawful to have the carcass in possession more than 30 days after the season closes. Hunting parties of not less than four members are entitled to a camp deer under special licenses costing $3.00. The resident license is $3.50, non-resident, $5.00. In addition to one buck the hunter is also privileged to kill one black bear.

Following are the Charlevoix hunters and their various locations:

Frank F. Bird, Frank Courier, Floyd Brown and Ted Coblenz of Charlevoix, Kit Carson of East Jordan, and H. G. Bird of Traverse City, are on the Little Two Heart river northeast of Newberry.

Sander Halverson, Milo Todd, Bernie Ward and Oscar Ward are located near Lake Gogebic in Ontonagon county.

Charles Martini, Eugene Lewis, Floyd Black, E. J. Kibbe, Al Rehfus, Harold Byers and C. Y. Marshall have gone to Lewiston in the lower peninsula.

Pete Withers is hunting near St. Helens in Roscommon county.

Oscar Nelson and Emory Gimble of Charlevoix, Elmer Nelson and Grover Hall of Detroit, have located at the north end of Lake Gogebic in Ontonagon county. Others near that location are the Nickerson-Staley party, composed of B. Nickerson, Clare Staley, Arthur Staley, Sterling Nickerson of Charlevoix, Earl Puhlow of Lansing, and George Weaver of Kingsley. Albert Stanley will join the party later this week.

Ira Adams has joined a party at Camp Norway on the AuSable river east of Grayling.

Del and Will Spayd are located near Atlanta. Others in this territory are W. H. Henley, his two sons and Richard Paddock, north of Atlanta; R. T. Davis of the Winchester Club east of Atlanta; Kenneth Usher and Ross Alexander, who will be joined Wednesday by H. W. Usher, Harold Wood and Dallas Darling of Grand Rapids, are hunting Fletcher swamp; Frank, Jeff and Charles Novotny, located north of Atlanta.

A. T. Jeffery, wife and son, Theo, are camped northwest of Frederick.

Charles, Will and Clarence Heise, Clarence Meggison and Vern Jones are near Trout lake. They will be joined by others from Benton Harbor, Sam Shantz and Edward Heise are also with this party.

Harry Gregory and Gene Barrus are at Beaver, north of Seney on the Grand Marais road.

George, Whitley and Arthur Ranger have joined the former's brothers, Frank and Carl Holecbeck of Pontiac, at their camp northwest of Iron Mountain.

Louis, Forest and Wilbur Brown, also Vaughan Orvis, are hunting near Roscommon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gravelin and Harold Towles are located east of Mancelona near Blue lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Murley Plum have gone to Whitefish bay.

Arthur Fitch has joined a Boyne City party at their camp near Newberry.

Many other local hunters will go to eastern counties for short periods during the season.

To the Citizens of Charlevoix County
I wish to acknowledge my appreciation of your confidence in me as your county treasurer by the vote you gave me on November 8th. Yours very truly,

SCHOOL NOTES

Our Faculty

Miss Belding, teacher of the first grade, was born at Norwood, has lived in many different places in the state, and has come back to Charlevoix to teach. Her school days were spent in Charlevoix where she graduated from C. H. S. and from Charlevoix county normal. She taught two years in a rural school, which was followed by a course in elementary work at Mt. Pleasant Teacher's college, where she obtained her life certificate. Miss Belding next taught at Owosso where she remained three years. This is her second year at Charlevoix.

For some time Miss Belding has been making a study of literary work and the writing of compositions. She states her hobby as "selection and composition of children's literature." The reporter also learned that Miss Belding is very interested in nursery schools which detect talents in children and then develop these talents. This natural interest in the proper direction of tiny minds makes Miss Belding a very enthusiastic teacher and much liked by her small charges.

Mr. Weisenberger

While Mr. Weisenberger cut letters out of red flannel cloth he related his past experiences. His high school days, during which he was active in football, were spent in Grand Rapids; his college days at Kalamazoo, and Muskegon, Ind., during which time he prepared for his work in manual arts. Mr. Weisenberger has spent six years teaching manual arts at Byron, Woodland, Stockbridge and Charlevoix. Of course his hobby is handcraft work, at which he proves to be a real artist. Aside from merely teaching the boys the mechanics of manual arts he has them work on things that prove very useful to the school, such as making the entrance to the book store. He also imparts to them a real interest in the home, to improve its convenience and beauty. Outside of school Mr. Weisenberger finds time to sing in the Congregational church choir.

Miss Dittmer

Miss Dittmer tried to escape the reporter but fortunately was caught and was prevailed upon to talk of some of her experiences. Her college work was done at Mt. Pleasant, where she took up a later elementary course and obtained her life certificate. This was followed by her teaching at Cedar Springs for two years and then at various schools around Ludington for three years. This is her third year at Charlevoix where she is very much interested in her fifth grade students.

Miss Dittmer states her hobby as traveling. Last summer she spent in touring through the western part of the United States, where she obtained many new ideas to pass on to her students. Miss Dittmer also enjoys singing and is a member of the Methodist church choir.

Miss Ira Koch, home economics teacher, attended the Smith-Hughes Home Economics conference at Mt. Pleasant, Friday and Saturday. The meeting was presided over by Miss Ruth Freeguard, state supervisor of vocational home economics. Questions concerning the teaching of home economics and the conduct of home economics projects were discussed. Miss Koch reports it was a very valuable conference.

The band is expecting their new music to arrive any time now. The contest numbers for the 1933 annual musical festival are included in the list of new pieces. The group plan to enjoy sight reading of this music. The band will begin with this to get in shape for their concert, which will take place just before Christmas vacation.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp.

Winter 4-H Clubs Being Organized

Fully 25 Clubs in Prospect

The same interest and enthusiasm is being displayed by many communities in the boys' and girls' club program as has been the case in the past. During the last two weeks the majority of schools in the county have been visited as well as other community centers and the club programs outlined and discussed.

From present indications there will be five or six hot lunch clubs and about ten clothing and handicraft clubs each. Added interest has been noted in the hot lunch project, as last year we had only three clubs. In this project each school prepares one hot dish at noon. The pupils form committees and take care of the preparation of the dish, the dish washing job afterwards and the planning of menus. Needless to add, all pupils look forward to this hot dish and who wouldn't.

In the clothing project the members make garments, darning, patch, learn all of the stitches, and, in the advanced projects, study budgets, how to buy clothing, care of clothing, textiles, stain removing, color and design. In the 4th year work they make a study of the home, more especially the girl's bedroom. They study the interior decorations, color harmony, types of materials to use, as well as make three articles that will add to the comfort and beauty of the room. We now have members in the first, second, third and fourth year projects.

In the handicraft project the boys will be busily engaged in the construction of many useful articles for the home. They will be making tie racks, tooth brush racks, foot stools, milk stools, tables, summer porch furniture and many other articles too numerous to mention. In the boys' program, they likewise will be represented in all five years of activity.

Many people had the opportunity last spring to attend the achievement day and exhibit at Charlevoix and will look forward to next year's display. Take my advice and when this event takes place, be sure to be present and see the splendid work being accomplished by the 200 boys and girls who will be actively engaged in this type of club work.

If your community is interested in having a boys' and girls' club, don't fail to get in touch with your county agent as soon as possible. He will be glad to visit you and outline fully the requirements and the benefits to be derived from participation in this work.

Turkeys for Thanksgiving Must Be in Prime Condition

Thanksgiving is only a few weeks away. Now is the time to feed your turkeys well so that they will be in prime condition for the holiday trade. You can not feed your turkeys too much—give them all they can eat. There are many different systems for finishing turkeys.

Most raisers continue to feed a growing mash with a rather high protein content until the birds are marketed, and at the same time feed them all the grain they will eat.

A common practice is to keep a mixture of yellow corn, wheat, oats and barley in hoppers before the birds all of the time. If you have been feeding a growing mash I would continue to feed the same mash supplemented with all the scratch grain the birds will eat and if liquid milk is available, let the birds drink all of this that they will. Remember it is finish or prime condition that is more important in determining the price you receive and the satisfaction of your customers, than weight alone. A six-pound turkey, if properly finished and of prime condition, may grade No. 1, while the 25-pound turkey, if thin, scrawny, covered with pin feathers, crooked-breasted, etc., may fall into the lowest market grading price. The finish is determined almost entirely by the feed and care that the birds receive during the last few weeks of their existence.

If you think your turkeys are suffering with intestinal worms, there is only one way to find out and that is to kill one, open the intestine and find the worms. If worms are found to be present in large numbers, especially tape worms, then a worm remedy may be desirable. Iodine Vermicide has been found to be very effective. C.A. worm capsules have also been used in this county and are known to be very effective.

In regard to prices, no one knows just what price turkeys will bring before Thanksgiving. In regard to the number of turkeys in Michigan, we feel certain that it is no greater than the Boyne river west of the lake. The Boyne river west of the lake has been reported from Minnesota and the Boyne river has been reported from Texas. The one thing we know is that the Boyne river is a good one for the Boyne river.

HOW MODERN WOMEN LOSE POUNDS OF FAT SWIFTLY — SAFELY

Gain Physical Vigor — Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast — cut down on pastry and fatty meats — go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar — in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts — the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat — if you don't feel a superb improvement in health — so gloriously energetic — vigorously alive — your money gladly returned.

But be sure for health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Central Drug Store or any drug store in the world.

Poultry

Most poultry raisers are now feeding their pullets for egg production. They should be kept inside entirely and the right feeding practice organized for the long winter months. Realizing that most farmers will be unable to buy but limited quantities of feed and will feed largely their home-grown feeds, here is a good ration to follow, either accurately, or as closely as possible:

18 pounds ground corn
18 pounds ground barley
18 pounds ground wheat
18 pounds ground oats
10 pounds meat scraps
10 pounds dried milk
5 pounds alfalfa meal
2 pounds steamed bone meal
1 pound salt

100 pounds

This is to be fed with liquid milk in front of the birds at all times. In the above ration your proportion on the basic grains can be changed somewhat according to the supply you may have on hand, but always keep the proportion of meat scrap, dried milk, alfalfa meal, steamed bone meal and salt the same.

Either dried buttermilk or dried skim milk may be used in making up these laying rations. In addition to the laying mash, which should be before the birds at all times, the most satisfactory scratch grains consists of equal parts, by weight, of corn and wheat. Obviously, a few oats might be added to the scratch grain as well as a small amount of buckwheat, and, if you have more barley than corn, this may be somewhat substituted for the corn. It is important that pullets, especially, obtain enough scratch grain to keep them in good growing condition. They are under the double strain of egg production and growth. Do not obtain fall and winter eggs from your pullets at the expense of growth, as this leads to moult. Also remember that oyster shell should be available to the laying flock at all times.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Soul and Body." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room. "Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Nov. 13.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Eph. 4:22,24): "And be renewed in the spirit of your mind; And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."

Now You Can BUY ON FAITH

"I talked with grandma the other day," said the young housewife. "I told her I dreaded this daily shopping—that I hardly knew where to begin. And she made me feel ashamed; she actually did!"

We know just about what her grandma told her. "In my day you would have dreaded shopping much more. It was a real chore then. From place to place you went, looking, looking, tasting this, sniffing at that, buying on suspicion and not on faith. You didn't know who made the things you bought; they didn't have labels; most of them weren't in packages.

"Now you know by name most of the things you buy. You buy a can of So-and-so's Beans today, and you know they'll be just the same when you buy them again. You read the advertisements in your paper, see where the best values are offered, make up your list, and out you go and get it over with in a jiffy! Count your blessings, my dear—they are many."

LEGION ACTIVITIES
Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Onaway post, American Legion, has kindly consented to be host to the next meeting of the lower 11th district organization. Goss of the local post went to Potoskey last Friday evening and were among the victims of a "wreck" staged by the Traverse City venture of La Societe de la 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux (popularly known as the Forty and Eight). This is the social order of the Legion and only those who have served overseas or performed some distinguished service for the Legion are eligible. If these gentlemen appear in bright blue service caps and long smocks at the next Legion turn-out, you will know where to go to all about.

WORD COMES FROM RED CROSS OFFICIAL

Feels That Work Will Be Carried on During Her Absence

To the Charlevoix chapter of the Red Cross:

Your chairman was obliged to leave before making a statement of the plans for the work of the Red Cross, but feels that it has been left in competent hands.

The flour is, as has been, in the hands of the Legion; Ernest Kibbe, chairman of welfare, very conscientiously looking after that. Mrs. A. F. Bridge, chairman of the cloth, has given much time and thought in planning out the work. The Legion Auxiliary, church societies and clubs who are ready to help in this great work please call Mrs. Bridge and save her time.

Dr. C. J. Winder, who graciously accepted the chairmanship of the roll call, will do all he can to make the drive a success, as this year we are given more liberty in using our share of the membership fund for home civilian relief.

Miss French, chairman of the Junior Red Cross in the schools, who has done such fine work in the past drives, will do all she can under existing conditions.

From the past support given the drives, I am sure the workers will have your hearty cooperation and I shall watch results with great interest.

Yours in the work,
Signed: Adah Beeman,
Vice County Chairman.

KRYN AND HIS SYMPHONIC BAND HERE SUNDAY

The announcement is made by the Charlevoix high school music department that Kryn's famous Symphonic Band has been secured for an afternoon performance at Charlevoix high school gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, November 20th, at 3 o'clock.

Kryn and his band has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name of Kryn has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art.

The services of the band are in constant demand, in fact, its principal work being the giving of festival celebrations in the larger cities of the country.

The Kryn band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsing, of tireless effort on the part of Kryn himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the band, and every man must pass a rigid examination by Kryn himself, before he is accepted as a member of the band.

FITZGERALD LONE SURVIVOR OF DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE

Campbell Comes Through to Victory, But Bohn Is Defeated—Reapportionment Turned Down

Latest advices from last Tuesday's general election show that the Republican party retained just one state office in the landslide which put Democrats into power throughout the state and nation.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald was the lone Republican survivor, coming through with a majority of 3,224 votes over his Democratic opponent, Burnett J. Abbot.

Campbell Is Winner

State Senator Calvin A. Campbell, at first thought to be in the defeated ranks, was re-elected. Although beaten in his own county which is Presque Isle, Campbell carried Charlevoix, Emmet, Otsego, Montmorency and Alpena counties with a total majority of approximately 1300 votes. Charlevoix county gave Campbell a 1192 majority.

Bohn Is Defeated

In the race for congressman from the 11th district, Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, the Democratic nominee, won out by a majority of approximately 1,000 votes, over Frank P. Bohn. Brown carried Alger, Cheboygan, Delta, Emmet, Mackinac, Menominee, Montmorency, Otsego and Presque Isle counties, while Bohn had majorities in Alpena, Antrim, Charlevoix, Chippewa, Kalkaska, Luce and Schoolcraft counties.

DEATH FOLLOWED CONTINUED ILLNESS

Mrs. Minnie T. Hodge Dies at Home of Her Niece

Mrs. Minnie Taylor Hodge, widow of the late Allen T. Hodge, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Walter Berzoon, Clinton street, late Sunday evening, following an illness of several months' duration.

Mrs. Hodge was born September 12, 1865, in Gloverport, Kentucky, and was 67 years of age at the time of her death.

She lived in Washington, D. C., for 25 years prior to coming to Charlevoix to make her home with her niece.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 o'clock p. m. from the Christ Episcopal church, Rev. Edward Doan of Petoskey, officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

by pleth, Plymouth recognized only five crimes worthy of death.

"The Pilgrim policy is a living thing, and that policy has developed such religious bodies as the Congregationalists, Baptists, Disciples and all others who place the seat of power not in superimposed hierarchy, but in the church itself. That Pilgrim spirit has bequeathed to the citizens of the United States the following among many:

"The first college in the land, Harvard, 1636; the first home missionary society, Connecticut, 1798; the first foreign missionary society, 1810; the first theological seminary, Andover, 1808; the first religious newspaper, The Boston Recorder, later The Congregationalist, 1832; the first printed book, Bay Psalm Book, 1640; the three greatest theological thinkers, Jonathan Edwards, Horace Bushnell, Charles G. Finney; the greatest pulpit orator ever gracing the American platform, Henry Ward Beecher; the best known and loved evangelist, Dwight L. Moody; the largest society for young people that the world has ever seen, the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

"You are boasting," the critical mind declares. And continues with the thought that our ability and worthiness does not depend upon yesterday, but today. That is correct. Our only claim for your support and cooperation is our ability to 'do' today. The church was commanded to go and preach. We are fulfilling that injunction and it is the purpose of the present pastor to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ the best he knows how.

Continuing the festivities, a pre-Thanksgiving dinner (southern style) will be served at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. After the dinner an informal gathering will be held in the lecture room or about the tables, at which time music and interesting incidents will rule.

At 8 o'clock a program consisting of historical sketches of the local church and the Ironton church will be read. Response from visiting former pastors will be received. Music will be furnished by the Atwood Reformed church male quartet. Sunday, November 20th, Dr. B. G. Mattson will be present and deliver the sermon.

Everyone is invited to these services.

MURPHY SPEAKER ARMISTICE DAY

WORLD WAR VETERAN PAINTS WAR IN ITS TRUE COLORS

Graphic Description of Famous Battles of 1918 Was Main Feature of Banquet

(By Fred C. Tyler).

Armistice day, 1932, was a distinct disappointment so far as weather is concerned. However, in spite of natural drawbacks, some eight or ten of the Legion bugle and drum corps marched from their hall to the memorial park and conducted the simple ceremonial appointed for the occasion. "To the Colors" was played as the flag was lowered and "Taps" as it was returned to the masthead position, the corps presenting arms. A salute was to have been fired, as well, but the cannon could not be obtained.

At 2:30 p. m., an interesting program, staged by the schools, was held at the high school gymnasium. The high school band was particularly effective in a repertoire of southern melodies and the children of the grades furnished interesting exercises, appropriate to the day. Commander Puckett of the Petoskey post, G. A. R. was introduced by Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson, Americanism officer of Leslie T. Shapton post and himself a veteran of the Spanish-American conflict and the World war. Commander Shirley B. Henry of the local Legion post introduced Judge Joseph P. Murphy of Petoskey, erstwhile candidate for congress and a former first lieutenant in the A. E. F. who saw real service overseas. The addresses of both the visitors were very interesting. Judge Murphy painting the picture of warfare as it is, stripped of the glory conventionally attributed to it.

The banquet at the Legion home at 7:30 p. m. was attended by a small but select group of townspeople and Legionnaires and was much enjoyed, everyone partaking heartily of the army "slumgullion," which must be confessed was considerably better than the general run of that delicacy served out to the troops in 1917-18. Dr. Wilkinson briefly but interestingly described his experiences during the war with Soan and Dr. Armstrong and Rev. W. W. Hurd both spoke warmly in praise of the work done by the local post and of the Legion organization as a whole. The main feature of the evening was a description of the battles of Belleau Wood and Chateau Thierry by Commander Shirley B. Henry, a participant in both engagements, who illustrated his remarks by a diagram drawn on the blackboard showing the relative positions of the contending forces and their objectives. His very interesting description of how "Big Bertha," the giant German cannon that terrorized Paris, was finally "dothroned" was a surprise to most of his listeners.

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—note—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamper that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That's because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

The Firestone tread is designed with angles and projections to give the maximum traction and non-skid. Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires hold all world records on road and track for Safety—Speed—Mileage and Endurance.

50TH YEAR OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OBSERVED

Mrs. Margaret Harsha, Clerk 32 Years, Gave Interesting and Complete Historical Sketch

A pre-Thanksgiving dinner (southern style) was served by the Mary Brewster Circle last Thursday evening as a feature of the 50th anniversary celebration of the Congregational church.

About 200 members and friends filled the dining room to capacity for the dinner and then adjourned to the church auditorium for the anniversary program, at which the pastor, Rev. G. R. Parker, presided.

Extracts were read from letters written by Rev. Charles Trueblood of Alpena, Rev. W. W. Gadd and John Yuill of Vanderbilt, Rev. C. E. Taggart of Reed City, Rev. Jas. Hyslop of Lebanon, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dean of Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sass, who are in Florida, all expressing regret that they could not be present. Mrs. Sass gave some very interesting items in connection with the early days of the Ironton Congregational church.

Dr. and Mrs. B. G. Mattson came up from Manistee for the occasion and there were also people present from Atwood, Ironton, Barnard and other neighboring communities.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bridge, Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, Mrs. Ira Adams and others responded to requests for reminiscences. Mrs. H. S. Harsha read a most interesting historical sketch covering the fifty years. The Atwood Reform church male quartet, with Mrs. Koopman as accompanist, furnished several musical numbers and their singing was very much enjoyed.

Dr. Mattson offered the opening prayer and later gave a short address appropriate to the occasion. Rev. Koopman brought greetings and good wishes from the Atwood Reform church and pronounced the benediction.

Among the interesting exhibits was a photograph of the church interior taken on the first children's day, also several pictures of the Ironton church and parsonage. Also a life-size portrait of Rev. Leroy Warren, agent of the Congregational Home Missionary Society in Michigan, who assisted in the organization of the church, and another of Rev. Chauncey VanAulkin, the first pastor. The last two hang on the lecture room walls.

Mrs. Harsha Gave Sketch
The first Congregational church of Charlevoix was organized September 19, 1882, and incorporated Dec. 26, 1882. There were six charter members, viz: Mr. and Mrs. Brice Suffield, Mrs. Sophia E. Lawrence, E. M. Clark, Mrs. Caroline Nichols and Mrs. A. J. McCloud. The records show there have been 730 accessions all told and 268 baptisms. The present enrollment is 206.

New members were received at almost every service in the early days. Nine of those who united with the church during the first year are still on the roll, viz: G. C. Gelken, 1884; Miss Hettie Bennett, 1884; Miss Celia Nichols (now Mrs. A. F. Bridge) 1885; Mrs. Margaret Harsha, 1885; John Burns, 1886; Miss Maggie Enos (now Mrs. A. A. Swinton) 1886; Mrs. Hannah Irwin, 1887; Mrs. Louise Holley (now Mrs. Elstan), 1887; Mrs. John Burns, 1887.

The first annual meeting was held Jan. 7, 1883, at which John Nichols, John Burns and J. L. Hurd were elected trustees. The first deacons were Elijah Hudson, Brice Suffield and E. M. Clark. Wm. Kaungy was the first clerk and E. M. Clark the first treasurer. W. H. Miller and John Burns were elected deacons in 1901 and served in that capacity for many years. Meetings were held usually in the school house or Bartholomew's hall until the church building was erected.

Dec. 11, 1882, a society of members and non-members of the church was organized and a compact with the church adopted. Six persons were appointed trustees for the society. R. W. Kane was elected clerk and C. Y. Cook, treasurer. All money was deposited in the Bank of Charlevoix to the credit of the First Congregational church and Society and the deed to the church lot was made to the church and society. April 19, 1904, the compact between the church and society was dissolved and the property deeded to the church.

John Nichols secured the plans for the building in Wisconsin. Mr. Kirkpatrick was in charge of the carpenter work and Mr. Suffield the excavating. Work was begun Oct. 1, 1883.

The church was dedicated Jan. 18, 1885. Rev. Fairfield of Boston, preaching the dedicatory sermon.

KRYL'S BANO GAVE SPLENDID PROGRAM

HEARD AT GYMNASIUM HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Enthusiastic Reception Given Artists by Large Attendance of Local Music Lovers

Bohumir Kryl and his symphonic band presented a fine program to an appreciative and enthusiastic audience at the Charlevoix gymnasium Sunday afternoon. The appearance here was sponsored by the Charlevoix High School Music club, and was one of an itinerary touching many Northern Michigan cities.

The concert was a revelation in good music and a fine demonstration of the marvelous results obtained by a skilled director over an organization of thirty or more skilled musicians.

Numbers selected for the local program were of a classical nature, but of a selection more familiar and appealing to the audience. Director Kryl, famous as one of the country's outstanding musicians for many years, lived up to all expectations, conducting with ease and grace. Mr. Kryl is one of the few directors leading without a baton. The director's solo selections, "Cleopatra" and "Carnival Venice," gave him opportunity to show his wonderful skill as a cornetist.

The opening number of the program was "Tannhauser." Others especially enjoyed were "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt, and "Capriccio Italian" by Lischaekarski.

The solos by Miss Helen Rogers were extremely beautiful. Miss Leta May, vocalist, pleased the audience with her selections, the first accompanied by the band, the second by the harp.

R. B. Magor, local school and city band director, and a former pupil of, and member of Mr. Kryl's organization, was especially honored with the privilege of directing the final number, "March Slav." Mr. Magor was given generous applause by the audience.

Last Saturday the band gave two concerts in Traverse City, and Sunday evening appeared in Petoskey, later going on for an engagement at Sault Ste. Marie.

SEARS-GLASSFORD WEDDING SATURDAY

Well Known Local Couple Surprise Their Many Friends

The marriage of Frank Glassford, well-known local resident, and Miss Marian Sears, daughter of Mrs. F. M. Sears, Saturday, Nov. 19, was a surprise to their many Charlevoix friends.

The ceremony took place at 8:30 a. m. at the home of the bride, with Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, officiating. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sears, brother and sister-in-law, with Mrs. F. M. Sears and Mrs. R. Faulkner, Sr., the only witnesses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Glassford left by motor for Flint for a short visit with relatives. From there they expect to go to Miami, Florida, for the winter.

YULE SEAL SALE STARTS NOV. 24

LIBERAL RESPONSE WILL BE AID TO GREAT WORK

Battle Against Tuberculosis Carried On Among Children by Tuberculosis Association

"Children singing are particularly appropriate to picture our work in Michigan," Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis association stated, commenting on the design of the 1932 Christmas seal which finances the child health work of state and local tuberculosis societies. Every child can be protected against the disease if the testing and X-ray program, now well under way in Michigan, can be carried out, according to Dr. Chadwick.

The 1932 seal sale will start on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 24, and will continue until Christmas day.

Deadly Enemy
Of all the enemies of youth, tuberculosis is the deadliest, he said. That is why the Michigan Tuberculosis association is giving over a large share of the revenue brought in by the tiny Christmas seals to the testing of children in high school groups by means of the harmless liquid tuberculin, following with X-ray examinations in cases where the enemy has won a small or large victory, Dr. Chadwick explained.

That tuberculosis was already at work in a serious way among the boys and girls of Michigan was shown last year when the program of testing and X-raying was launched by the Tuberculosis association in five communities. Dr. Chadwick points out that the tuberculosis invasion was discovered at a time in the life of each child when it could be successfully treated. Many children were handed the gift of life after 20 he said. For if the hidden enemy is not discovered in time the end of the story is, in most cases, death in youth or early adult life.

Takes Big Toll
Few persons realize that tuberculosis, with a total of 453, killed more children under 20 in Michigan last year than the four common diseases, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles put together, Dr. Chadwick says. "The number of lives saved in 1933 depends upon the number of pennies spent for tuberculosis Christmas seals in December, 1932," he declared.

"LITTLE SIX" HAS OWN HONOR TEAM

FIVE SCHOOLS ARE GIVEN PLACES ON FIRST

Boys City and East Jordan Win Most Points Because of Fine Playing of These Teams

(From Petoskey Evening News)
Northern Michigan high schools are quite generally members of one of two conferences of schools, class B having its Bix Six and class C having its Little Six, or as it is known officially, The Tip of Michigan Class C conference. The Big Six has had its all conference team selected and now comes one for the Little Six. Gaylord played one Little Six game, this season leaving the other schools to battle it for honors.

Picking a team in the Little Six is more of a job, for there were only two real outstanding teams—Boys City and East Jordan who tied for the title. Charlevoix and Harbor Springs tied for the next standings while Mancelona and Rogers City were down at the bottom with weak teams for the season. Boys City won a 7 to 0 game over Petoskey during their march for honors. Charlevoix had a couple of outstanding players, Struthers being a big, powerful player who would have been welcomed on any high school team in the state regardless of class. Harbor also had a couple and Mancelona had a fine player in Johnson.

Here are the selections:

ADDITIONAL MAIL SERVICE PROVIDED

Star Route Will Carry Mail to Petoskey on Northbound Trip

Through arrangements just completed by the local post office, Charlevoix now has outgoing mail both morning and afternoon to the north. A star route, with H. R. Fowler as the carrier, has been established to carry mail north on the morning trip to Petoskey, leaving Charlevoix at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock as formerly. The pouch will be closed just before leaving time.

Through this new service, letters mailed in late afternoon and evening will be taken the next morning. Formerly the bus carried mail from the north on its return trip from Petoskey.

As an additional service, plans are also under way for the Charlevoix and East Jordan rural carriers to exchange mail-pouches at Ironton each day, thus giving daily delivery of mail between these two cities.

"HISTORIC TEA" WAS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Excellent Program Was Enjoyed Thursday at M. E. Church

The "historic tea" at the Methodist church last Thursday was a great success. There was a large attendance and the program was most interesting.

The dining room had been filled with small tables with many floor lamps, rugs and other decorations appropriate to the season. The affair was sponsored by the Women's club of the church and took the place of the regular Thursday meeting.

The program was given over to a consideration of the early history of the church. Mrs. P. D. Campbell gave a very finely prepared history of the earlier years and Mrs. Charles Arnold gave "the last forty," with many clever and interesting touches. Miss Colter was honored as the only charter member left, and spoke briefly. Miss Atkinson furnished some fine music from the public school, a beautiful trio by the Misses Meggison, Belding and Hicken. Miss Marian Tyler gave a flute solo that was much enjoyed and Miss Audie Jean Trimble a very fine Thanksgiving poem.

W. C. T. U. ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

MRS. ANNIE B. SALTONSTALL CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Report of Past Year's Activities and Program for Ensuing Year Was Outlined

At an adjourned meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held last Friday in the community room a message was read from Mrs. Ella Boole, the national president, announcing the new slogan as "Advance Not Retreat." She says "The war is still on. We have lost a battle. That does not mean we have lost the war."

The national program for the coming year includes an educational campaign to promote voluntary total abstinence; the enlistment of the younger generation in the war against alcohol in the interest of health, efficiency, public safety and good citizenship; a study of the benefits of prohibition in connection with child welfare, poverty and crime and a publicity campaign which will tell the truth about alcohol.

It was reported that 165 names were forwarded from Charlevoix to the National Council of Women in their "million signature campaign."

The literature committee reported 4,500 pieces of literature distributed in the recent campaign; that 23 packages were sent to women of other communities for distribution and the balance was placed by 24 local women in a house to house canvass.

It was reported that the historical sketch of the Congregational church recently prepared by Mrs. Harsha revealed the fact that the church passed a resolution in April, 1886, to continue the monthly temperance services held by the church for the past three years "in compliance with a request from Mrs. T. C. Garner, who organized the W. C. T. U. of this village." Does anyone remember Mrs. Garner, or any other incidents in connection with the early days of the local union? If so please communicate with Mrs. Saltonstall.

The following officers were elected for the year 1933: president, Mrs. Annie B. Saltonstall; vice-president, Mrs. Gladys Palmer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ella Usher; recording secretary, Mrs. Bernice Pearl; treasurer, Mrs. Cora Kelderhouse.

NEW CAR PURCHASERS MAY GET '33 PLATES

The sale of 1933 license plates for new automobiles and trucks started Saturday. This move allowed purchasers of cars during the last two weeks of November to use their vehicles at once without buying 1932 plates.

The regular sale of 1933 plates to all owners of automobiles, trucks and trailers start Dec. 1. The 1933 plates will have black block numerals on a white background and all plates next year will have numbers lower than 100,000, with an alphabetical system in use.

COUNTY WELFARE GROUP CONVENED

MET TUESDAY NIGHT TO OUTLINE WINTER PROGRAM

Work on M-131 Relocation to Furnish Employment for Many—Men Asked to Register at Once Called by County Chairman H. A. Craig of this city, the Charlevoix County Unemployment commission met at the court house Tuesday evening and outlined plans for relief during the coming winter months.

Foremost among the projects for which labor will be needed is the M-131 relocation in Charlevoix and Emmet counties north of Boyne Falls. Bids on this project were let Tuesday at Cadillac, and the opinion has been expressed that work will be started within the next 15 days. Allotments of relief labor, taken from the welfare list, will be used whenever necessary on county projects during the winter.

It is expected that in the neighborhood of $150,000 will be expended for grubbiage, grading and drainage on the M-131 project, with around $70,000 of this total covering the 3,405 miles in Charlevoix county. The contracts have been let separately, one for Emmet and one for Charlevoix county.

According to the terms of the contract, the successful bidders must make their first selection of men for the work from lists furnished by welfare commissions of the two counties, and all work possible must be hand labor. It is not known whether or not the "stagger" system of employment will be used, but unless otherwise deemed necessary by the engineer in charge, the maximum week for each man employed will be 30 hours, split either in six shifts of five hours, or five shifts of six hours. This arrangement may be changed by the engineer to give a man work six eight-hour days if the case warrants such action.

Men desiring employment are instructed to make application and register at the designated point in their respective district in the county. In Charlevoix, registration is to be made with F. V. Tyler at the Information Bureau, where necessary blanks have been placed by Mayor Arthur Bergeon, chairman of the Charlevoix district. Other districts are at East Jordan with John Porter as chairman; Boys City, with Dr. Guy C. Conkle as chairman; Boyne Falls with Wm. J. Pearson as chairman, and St. James with James H. Gallagher as chairman.

The welfare commission voted Tuesday evening to use the county's light equipment to transport men to their work on the project, leaving time and point of departure to be announced before work is started.

Putting Up Snow Fence

The regular county highway department crews are now employed erecting snow fence. To the enormous amount of snow fence available from past years, the county has this year purchased three additional carloads, one of which was being unloaded Wednesday morning. Due to the fact that Charlevoix county incorporated 122.1 miles of township roads into the county system during the past year, additional snow fence was necessary to protect these new

POLAR BEARS OPEN SCHEDULE THURSDAY

Play Central Lake in Contest Which Will Be Free to the Public

The Polar Bears will open the 1932-33 basketball season in Charlevoix Thursday evening. Their opponents for the initial tilt will be the Central Lake Independents.

In accordance with a custom established two years ago, the opening game will be free to the public. Coming as it does the evening of the Thanksgiving holiday, a capacity crowd is expected.

The Polar Bears have been practicing in preparation for the season-opener for several weeks. Manager Gordon Todd announced his starting line-up would include Dean Davenport and Olen Ikens at forwards, "Bill" Supernaw at center, Vic Smith and Howard Davenport at guards. Ray Kipke will not be available to the team, but Beaudoin, Cooper and Brown will probably be used.

Other contests on an extensive schedule will be announced by the Polar Bear management as soon as information is available.

OUR NEW PRESIDENT

A new type of president has been elected in the landslide victory of Franklin D. Roosevelt over Herbert Hoover; and whether we voted for Roosevelt or not, we cannot help being impressed by the personality of the new man who is to occupy the White House.

Roosevelt is a romantic personality. He slashes through red tape. He does the unusual and non-conventional. In comparison to him, Hoover looks conservative.

Roosevelt was willing to cut the two thirds majority rule to get the Democratic majority. He suggested to the national convention that he appear before it personally to deliver his speech of acceptance instead of waiting the customary many weeks to be notified of something which he knew within a few seconds. He made an airplane dash to Chicago, preparing his speech en route.

Roosevelt is a new type of president. In recent times, at least he has had no equivalent in the White House.

His magnetic personality attracts the imagination of the country. He personifies the "spirit of the Democratic new deal."

To win the key to the White House, he defeated a great man, Herbert Hoover, the engineer under whose operation the wheels of progress were speeding up during recent months, with 1,000,000 men retooling going back to work since July. He has a splendid record of service to the United States—as war time food administrator, as secretary of commerce, and as president. William Randolph Hearst, who bitterly attacked him during the recent campaign, called him in 1928 "the greatest executive in the world."

That Hoover was not re-elected is not because he was unfit for a second term. He was defeated not so much by the Democrats as by a world-wide economic situation.

It is certain that Hoover will be remembered gratefully in future years by the government which he served.

Roosevelt also gives promise of a good record. He will have the backing, it appears, of an united Congress. It is hoped that the Democrats will not scrap among themselves over division of the spoils; and also that they will have the patriotic co-operation of the Republicans in advancing the country's economic interests.

Roosevelt stands for change and a new order. By change is the only way that advancement can come. But in change there is likewise the danger of retrograding.

HOME FIRES MOST COSTLY
It's all right to keep the home fires burning, but our friends around will do well to remember at this season that the United States is now averaging one home fire every four minutes in the day. Last year's fire waste in cash figures ran over one-half billion dollars. What is even more important, over 8,000 lost their lives in them.

These facts should serve as a terrible warning to those who are starting this winter without an inspection of chimneys, flues, pipes, stoves and furnaces. Rust eats its way through ordinary stovepipe far more rapidly than one would think. The elements in summer easily put flues and chimneys in such condition as to make them a menace from the very moment they are put into service again. There is but one way to tell if these important parts of your heating system are safe and that is by a careful inspection of them.

Insurance is a most excellent thing, but insurance or no insurance, fire is a calamity at any season of the year. When we are confronted with positive proof that 80 per cent of all fires could have been avoided, it leaves absolutely no excuse for carelessness, no alibi for not going over every inch of the heating system in the home, whatever it may consist of, looking for the danger spots. There is a lot of winter ahead of us, but there's no time like the present for guarding against fire.

DANGEROUS DRIVING MONTHS
The fall and winter months are the most dangerous of the year for automobile driving.

Rain, snow, sleet, hail and ice, early darkness, haste to reach home and escape the cold, tightly closed cars and low visibility, all contribute to the hazards.

Skidding is a chief danger of cold weather driving. The motorist must confront not only a visible wet or icy surface, but one hidden under a bed of fallen leaves.

Last year 1,740 persons were killed and 51,720 injured in 44,510 accidents due to skidding cars.

"The automobilist cannot carry the driving practices of the late spring and summer over to the fall and winter without running a great risk of accident," says Maxwell Halsey, traffic engineer of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. "Condition become vastly different in the last three months of the year, and the driver must take them into consideration." Mr. Halsey lays down certain rules for the dangerous driving months.

"Have your car thoroughly inspected for any mechanical defects that may have developed during the summer."

"Be especially sure your brakes are effective; be sure your tires are in first-class condition, also your lights and your windshield wiper."

"Cut down on your summer speed. Allow for early darkness and for decreased visibility."

"If you find your car going into a skid do not jam on your brakes."

Available statistics indicate that automobile fatalities in the United States decreased about 12 per cent the first seven months of this year.

If that record were to be maintained up to, and including December 31st, it would mean that the number of human lives taken by motor cars during the year would fall below 30,000 for the first time since 1928. However, the supreme test is now being applied. Every agency nowadays is endeavoring to bring about a reduction in automobile insurance rates. A winter driver should realize that he can contribute most to the success of this movement by sane driving which will decrease the number of accidents.

Under the most perfect conditions, the driver of an automobile should exercise extreme care. And when the bad days come, that care should be stretched to the utmost.

THE CHALLENGE OF NOVEMBER

November: the month is well started, and to some folk it means just a big outlay for fuel. But to other people it is one of the most important months of the year. It is the month of election, Thanksgiving day, Armistice day, deer hunting season, outstanding football games, and the first little taste of winter sport.

November is a month of challenges. It is a challenge to a quickening of our spiritual life by taking an inventory of a year's blessings; a challenge to our patriotism that we cherish and guarantee the liberty and justice for which our soldiers fought in the World war; a challenge to our citizenship that we vote for men and women best fitted to lead, and for the cause of right in government; a challenge to meet the demands of the weather that we hustle, and a challenge that we hustle in promoting our business after the election brake is removed.

The challenge of the gridiron is that each player do his best and to play clean and that each spectator be non-partisan enough to give credit where credit is due.

Deer hunting presents a challenge of tremendous significance. It is a challenge to think faster than one shoots, and then to shoot straight, so that human beings will not be killed as well as deer.

TRAMP TRUCKS

A new sort of transportation industry seem to be growing up in this country. It is a branch of the trucking business, which may have had its origin several years back but has grown and spread remarkably during the recent hard times.

The country is full of wandering motor trucks. Mostly they carry farm produce or other goods within a radius of a hundred miles, or between cities. But their range often extends to a thousand miles or more. Citrus fruit from Florida may thus find its way to cities on the Great Lakes, there to be sold for cash and the cash invested in northern fruit or manufactured articles for a return trip to the south, or for a westward venture. Many of these itinerant truckmen have no regular range or definite terminal, but float about the country like tramp steamers at sea, picking up any kind of cargo they can, for delivery anywhere else, hoping then to pick up another cargo for some other destination.

The railroads lose a good deal of traffic this way. The tramp truckmen usually make some sort of living, and at least get plenty of change and adventure. From their pioneer roaming may come a new, permanent business. Sooner or later somebody will be organizing them.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Further development of vocational training in the public schools is deemed highly desirable, if not essential, by the association of commerce, which is formulating plans to bring about that very thing. The definite educational objective of the association is to equip pupils for earning a living as mechanics and artisans.

Advanced vocational training is a proper and practical department of public education, if for no other reason of the professions or the arts. The theory of the association of commerce is that the pupil showing natural talents and abilities for one of the vocations should have the same educational advantages as the child with a natural aptitude for music or the dead languages.

Increasing emphasis is being placed on vocational training in the schools in spite of opposition from certain quarters. In some labor circles it has been looked upon with disfavor because of the fear that it will break down the apprentice system which controls the supply of skilled labor. Naturally, it is distasteful to those who look upon all school children as future ladies and gentlemen of leisure feeding highly cultivated tastes on the higher arts.

WHY DO WE HAVE FIRES?

That is a fair question—and one that can be answered.

We don't have fires because they are unpreventable, and are an unfortunate but inescapable phase of modern life. We have them because we are careless—are incompetent—put a false form of "savings" ahead of real economy—and because we refuse to learn a few simple, easily understood lessons.

Every year we pay out $500,000,000 directly to the bill for fire. The indirect cost comes to several times that figure. Probably the total reaches two billion dollars or more. At least eighty per cent of it is unnecessary—that eighty per cent could well be termed the "carelessness bill." No other civilized people allows so great a waste in either dollars or lives.

We build homes cheaply, and below the standard of fire resistance recommended by authorities. We allow wiring to go untended and fail to have the heating plant examined and overhauled at regular intervals. We permit rubbish to accumulate in corners. We put off "until tomorrow" the repairing of faulty chimneys. The inevitable result is fire.

Fire can be controlled. Its cost can be cut to a fraction of the present figure. Almost all of the ten thousand lives lost annually can be saved. The way to do that is simply by unremitting vigilance on the part of each of us.

THE MONKEYS

Very often county newspapers have been twitted by their city brothers the dailies for some of the taffy and epiphany contained in their columns. But, so far to date, there is no record of a small town paper going to the trouble of publishing hourly bulletins giving the temperature or pulse of a sick monkey in a zoo, as was the case last week of Joe Mendi. Yes sir, there's no place in the psychopathic ward of country journalism for that. There are too many worthwhile and deserving people around. Inspired by this piece of journalistic jackassery, the school children sent Joe more than $500 worth of flowers. This was a city that's bankrupt, asking the state and nation for loans to solve welfare problems. — George Neal in The Orion Review.

When the evening shades are falling
And we are all alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If you only could come home.

Oh, we think of you, dear Marguerite,
And our hearts are sad with pain,
Oh, this earth would be heaven
Could we but hear your voice again.

Each lonely hour that we have spent
Is woven through and through
With golden threads of memory.

Kryl Band in Charlevoix

Charlevoix residents had a rare treat Sunday afternoon when they were privileged to hear Kryl's symphonic band. The audience was very enthusiastic in its reception of the various numbers. The opening selection was Tannhauser. Others that were especially enjoyed were "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt and "Capriccio Italian" by Lachackarski. The harp solos by Miss Rogers were unusually beautiful. Leta May, vocalist, charmed the audience with her selections, the first accompanied by the band, the second by the harp. Mr. Kryl himself gave two very beautiful selections—"Cleopatra" and "Carnival Venice."

A very unique number was the one in which each section of the band came forward to play, all the way from piccolos to bass drums. The Kryl band also contains a string bass which gives the qualities of a symphony orchestra, which explains the term "symphonic band."

Mr. Magor was quite taken by surprise when Mr. Kryl asked him to conduct the last number, "March Slav." Mr. Magor, it will be remembered, studied and played under Mr. Kryl several years ago. The audience applauded Mr. Magor long and loudly when he took his place before the band.

Mr. Kryl himself is quite a character. He makes it a practice to rest before every concert. He eats very lightly and never smokes. He is one of the few directors who uses no baton, but instead directs very beautifully with his hand and fingers. It might be interesting to learn that when Mr. Kryl directed the army band he dropped his baton in the audience and has never used one since.

When a boy, Mr. Kryl was a sculptor and worked on the well known soldiers' monument in Indiana. He is also an art collector and authority on oil paintings. At one time he owned a home in Chicago with stone-work heads around it which he carved himself. The walls were covered with valuable paintings.

Mr. Magor is a very close friend of Mr. Kryl and enjoyed entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Kryl on Sunday.

Mrs. Kryl loves to cook, but because of her traveling she finds little opportunity to do so. Sunday, however, she remained at the Magor home during the concert and prepared an old fashioned Bohemian dinner.

1932 FOREST FIRE LOSS IS RECORD LOW

Department of Conservation Figures Reveal Less Damage Since 1927

The lowest forest fire loss since records have been maintained has been reported by the department of conservation for the 1932 season.

While complete tabulations were not available from the department, officials said the total acreage loss caused by blazes wouldn't exceed 45,000. They predicted the figure would be nearer 10,000 acres. The aggregate number of fires is not expected to surpass 2,500.

In 1931 4,133 fires burned over 282,978 acres, record show.

This year's loss is the lowest since 1927, when record were first compiled by the department. In 1928, the loss was reported to be only 50,000 acres.

The average acreage charred by each fire this year was 18 compared with 68.46 in 1931.

Low fire hazards which were reported this fall enabled the department to close the majority of its observation towers October 15, two weeks earlier than in 1932. Final figures, officials said, are expected to show a material decline in fires of incendiary origin this year compared with last season.

The low incendiary condition will result, they predict, because of the reduced wage scale effective this season for impressed labor. The rate was cut from 30 to 15 cents per hour.

MICHIGAN CROPS BIG, PRICE LOW

PRODUCTION GREATEST IN RECENT YEARS

Market Prospects Dull and Farmer Will Receive Practically Same Returns as in 1931

The largest aggregate production of Michigan's sixteen leading field and fruit crops in recent years was reported for the 1932 harvest season by Verne H. Church, United States agricultural statistician.

Market quotations for the produce, however, will probably offset the crop production, Church said; because the present level of farm prices is the lowest in more than 30 years. With production and prices both taken into consideration, he asserted, farmers will receive approximately the same amount of revenue as in 1931.

"The only major field crops with less than average yields were oats and barley, and apples, was the only tree fruit with less than average production," Church said.

"The Michigan bean crop is estimated at 4,374,000 bags (7,290,000 bushels), the largest on record except that of 1925, and comprises 42 per cent of the United States production."

"Late returns on potato yields indicate a production of 30,475,000 bushels, or 115 bushels per acre. The 1931 crop was only 23,750,000 bushels, both the acreage and per acre yields being less than in the current season. The quality is the best in several years."

"The corn crop averages 33 bushels per acre, giving a total production of 45,969,000 bushels or about 5,000,000 bushels more than last year; the average yield per acre for sugar beets is placed at 10.5 tons and the total production at 1,240,000 tons. This is the highest yield per acre since the beginning of records in 1908, and the largest tonnage since 1920."

"The Michigan apple crop is light this year, being estimated at 5,590,000 bushels as compared with 10,670,000 bushels in 1931. The estimated production of peaches was 1,733,000 bushels which was slightly more than 200,000 bushels less than the 1931 crop. The pear crop amounted to 687,000 bushels which was 77 per cent of a full crop and considerably above the average production. The grape crop, estimated at 71,800 tons, is probably the largest ever produced in the state."

PROHIBITION LAWS MUST BE ENFORCED

Amendment Adoption Did Not Repeal State Dry Law

Michigan's prohibition laws must be enforced until they are specifically repealed by the legislature next winter, Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies ruled in an opinion asked by Gov. Wilber M. Brucker.

The attorney general said that action of the voters election day in approving the so-called "red, white and blue" amendment does not automatically repeal the state's dry laws.

The attorney general's opinion is interpreted as a mandate for local officers to enforce existing statutes until they are acted upon by the legislature.

Voorhies, in outlining his position, said that even prior to the insertion of the prohibition clause in the state constitution Michigan courts had held that local option laws were valid even without constitutional background.

He further said that the "red, white and blue" amendment does not specifically repeal the present dry provisions in the constitution although he conceded that it does so by inference.

Government Issues Notices for Discontinuance of Service

The Lighthouse department at Milwaukee has issued notice of the closing of aids to navigation in upper Lake Michigan, as follows: St. Helena, White Shoal, Lansing Shoal and Ile Aux Galles lighthouses, Dec. 5; Beaver island, Dec. 15; Little Traverse, Dec. 10; Petoskey and Mission Point, Dec. 1, and Grand Traverse, Dec. 15.

When the lighthouse has been completed the present lighthouse will be removed. An airplane beacon may be a feature of the new lighthouse. It is expected the lighthouse will be ready within two years.

BOYNE CITY PREPARING FOR SMELT RUN

Improvements at River Mouth Expected to Increase "Run"

The spring of 1933 will see Boyne City vying with Beulah on Crystal lake for popularity during the annual smelt runs.

Boyne City is completing improvements at the mouth of the Boyne river on Lake Charlevoix in an effort to induce smelt to run up the river and to facilitate "dipping" during the spring run.

A channel has been constructed on either side of a sand bar at the mouth of the river. The Boyne City Progressive club is planning to install lights to aid smelt dippers next spring.

Since smelt have become numerous in Lake Charlevoix large numbers of Boyne City residents have been taking advantage of an opportunity to earn a living by catching them with hook and line.

Smelt may be taken at any time of the year and in any size or quantity under present regulations, and they may be taken with hand nets up to five feet in circumference from March 1 to May 31 in waters designated by the conservation commission.

ELLSWORTH CANNERY COMPLETE BIG PACK

Purchased $30,000 Worth of Produce from Nearby Farmers

The canning plant of Reid, Murdoch & Co. has completed a very successful season's run at Ellsworth, with an approximate pack of 80,000 cases of beans, beets and carrots.

The company purchased 425 tons of stringless beans, 700 tons of red beets and 360 tons of carrots from the farmers of Antrim and Charlevoix counties. This represents a distribution of some $30,000 in this territory. A force of 90 workers were employed during the last four months of the season.

The work of converting the old plant into a warehouse has been started and the company expects to begin installing machinery and equipment in the new concrete building within the near future in preparation for the 1933 pack. When completed, this new plant will represent one of the most efficient and up-to-date canning plants in Michigan.

MERMASH PULLETS

Are Early and Persistent Layers

"I never had birds like this before," is the terse report from a leading poultryman who fed Mermash this spring.

Mermash users find that Mermash-fed birds are full of pep — with better color, — stronger bones — healthier bodies. This is because Mermash, containing the famous "Sun and Sea" supplement, MANAMAR, furnishes the right proportions of proteins, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins, so often improperly balanced in other mash.

Visit a Mermash feeder in your neighborhood. Inspect his birds. Study his cost records. Learn what Mermash will do for YOUR flock.

According to the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the size of spring flocks has been cut enormously. Experts take this to mean a stiffer egg market in the coming months.

When that time comes, see to it that YOUR pullets will be doing their best! Begin feeding Mermash TODAY.

"Better than a 70% average production" has been the results from a fine flock of White Leghorns, Ancons and Barred Rocks owned by Mrs. Isabel Bartlett, a Mermash feeder. Like countless other successful poultry growers, Mrs. Bartlett swears by Mermash.

BOAT LINE TO OPERATE TO LOCAL PORT

Duke Transportation Company Buys Northern Transit Steamers

After a year of idleness the steamers Puritan and Manitou of the old Michigan Transit line will again be in service on the Great Lakes in 1933, according to the announcement that the ships have been purchased by the Duke Transportation company of Houghton.

The Duke company operates the International Ferry line from Houghton to Isle Royale, the Fort William line and a weekly service connecting Isle Royale with Chicago and other Lake Michigan ports.

The schedule of the new owners has not been announced and will not be completed until after Capt. M. L. Gilbert, representing the owners, makes a survey of Lake Michigan ports. The steamers will operate on Lake Michigan and may follow the old Michigan Transit line schedule which would give Charlevoix one boat weekly.

The Puritan and Manitou, which have sailed the lakes for the past quarter of a century, were purchased from the bond holders of the Michigan Transit company.

MICHIGAN TO PROFIT FROM WORLD'S FAIR

Motorists Passing Through State Will Spend Millions

Michigan, next to the city of Chicago itself, stands to be one of the greatest gainers in an immediate financial way from the Century of Progress Exposition to be held at Chicago from June 1 to October 31 next year.

Members of the Michigan Century of Progress commission point out that the shortest and most logical route for visitors from eastern Canada, New York and the New England states is across Michigan — with Sault Ste. Marie on the north and Port Huron and Detroit on the east being the points of entry.

So as to attract the maximum number of such visitors through Michigan, the commission has designed a special Century of Progress stamp, an inch by an inch and a half, in attractive colors of black, red and blue. On the background of the stamp appears the outline of the state, across which is sweeping lines converging upon Chicago appears the slogan, "Through Michigan, the Playground of the Nation, to Chicago."

A campaign is now under way to get as many individuals and business firms as possible to use these stamps on all mail going outside the state — particularly on mail going east.

COLLEGE TO AID IN TURKEY SALE

45,000 Michigan Fowls to Be Sold On M. S. C. Pool Plan

Between 40,000 and 50,000 turkeys will be marketed by Michigan poultrymen this fall through the "pool plan" recently inaugurated by Michigan State college and its extension division, it was indicated recently.

Decision to initiate the plan in Michigan was reached by college marketing experts after a majority of turkey growers of the state had approved such a proposal.

Under the new scheme, buyers of Chicago, New York and other large cities will make bids on the fowls, buying them in large lots at centrally located marketing points. Both growers and market specialists believe that the plan will afford poultrymen more opportunity to realize the greatest profit from their summer's efforts.

The plan originated from pleas of state poultrymen, particularly Northern Michigan producers, for some marketing plan whereby they would not be forced to sell their birds at a loss, as was the case in 1931.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

In the recent serial roundup for membership, staged by the state department of the Legion, Leslie T. Shapton post placed second in the number of paid memberships out of fourteen posts of the lower 11th district. Alpena came first with 52, Charlevoix second with 31, the newly formed post at Bellaire third with 19 and Petoskey fourth with 18 paid memberships. These membership cards and the money were picked up by airplane on November 12th and carried to department headquarters at Detroit.

Onaway post has definitely consented to play host for the next district meeting, which is to be held on December 11th. Owing to the lateness of the season, the parade will be omitted.

Among the coming events which the local post will sponsor during the winter season are a dance, scheduled for Thursday, December 8th, which will be a fifty-fifty welfare work and Legion post benefit affair; another stag card party on Tuesday, December 13th; the tri-post county meeting (at Charlevoix) on December 20th, and another "bingo" party on December 23rd.

MICHIGAN OIL OUTPUT HITS NEW HIGH LEVEL

A new high production record was reached in Michigan's oil fields during September. Figures released by the geological survey division of the department of conservation show 759,887 barrels of oil produced in the month, the highest yield for one month in the state's history.

Total production in Michigan for the first nine months of 1932 has been in excess of 5,000,000 barrels, which is higher than for any previous entire year.

SIXTY MILLION GAME FISH IS STATE PLANT

Nearly Half of Those Planted Were Brook Trout

Sixty million game fish have been planted this year in Michigan's inland waters by the department of conservation.

While a few fish still remain unplanted in hatchery ponds and rearing stations, the figures are now practically complete and show a total of 60,081,000 fish planted, besides the commercial species planted in the Great Lakes. Of the 60,000,000 fish planted in inland waters, 48,900,000 were pike-perch (wall-eyed pike) advanced fry.

Almost half of the game species planted, other than pike-perch were brook trout. The department's records show 4,995,950 brook trout planted in Michigan's streams this year and practically all of them were from six to eight months old or averaged from four to eight inches in length. The figures show 649,709 as being six months; 1,575,530 as being seven months and 2,037,560 as being eight months old.

The state planted 2,603,313 bluegills; 714,423 large mouth and small mouth bass; 182,028, 2,105,829 brown trout, 300,000 rainbow trout, lake trout 133,370, land-locked salmon 16,500 and shiners 77,420.

CLEAN UP GARDENS THIS FALL

By C. J. Hudson, Jr.

Spring time is always associated with the task of house cleaning, but the season for house cleaning in the outdoor living room is in the fall. This time is not only advised for the greatly improved appearance of the garden during the winter, but also as one of the best preventatives against insect invasions next summer.

From now until freezing weather arrives, various plants in the garden will display rather unattractive flower stalks, barren of flowers and leaves. Few home gardeners realize, however, that all these dead stalks are dangerous if left there through the winter, for they harbor destructive insects of all sorts.

In following through the life cycles of most insects, we find that they pass through the winter season in one of two dormant stages—the egg or pupae. Some of the insects winter over in the ground in this manner where they are well protected against hard freezes, etc. The remainder of these destructive insects make their winter homes in the stalks of perennial and annual plants in the garden. These old stalks furnish ideal protection, too, against severe freezes, etc.

It should be on the program of every home gardener to go through the garden every fall and cut off all the dead flower stalks, and burn them. This practice will greatly eliminate the trouble and expense of fighting hordes of these bothersome insects in the garden next season.

If the world could retain in its educated youth the faith and ambition that the first grade pupil carries into school most of the problems of society would be solved in the present generation.

Let Us Give Thanks

In the history of human affairs those who have had the least for which to be thankful have rendered thanks most fervently.

It takes trials and suffering to focus our attention upon our blessings. Thanksgiving Day had its origin in a period of hardship and suffering. If our early ancestors, surrounded by dangers and faced with a seemingly insurmountable task, could pause to give thanks surely we, despite present hardships, can take time to acknowledge our innumerable blessings.

Let us then give thanks for the things we have had and still have, and for the future which this land offers all those who have the faith to fight and the courage to carry on.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room. "Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 20. Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ezek. 18:32): "For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye." Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.311): "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of Life to man—even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality."	CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH The celebration of the 50th anniversary of the local church during the past week was a decided success. Well filled houses greeted those in charge of the different programs. The supper is reported as the largest in point of attendance ever served in the church at one time. Words of praise were on the lips of all for those who served the dinner. The historical program drew a full house and Mrs. Harsha, clerk of the church for 32 years, read a carefully prepared sketch of the Ironton church. Dr. Mattson gave a delightful talk in which he brought warm greetings and congratulations for our successful fifty-years-of service. An outstanding feature was the music furnished by the male quartet from the Atwood Reformed church. Mrs. P. G. Koopman, wife of the Reformed church's pastor, is the one who discovered these singers and trained them to their present efficiency. We hope that this group of singers will return this winter and give us an evening of music. Dr. Mattson delivered the sermon as the final number of our anniversary activities. A large crowd greeted the former pastor of this church. Dr. Mattson spoke at the Ironton church also. Mrs. Stelter deserves much credit for the splendid musical program that preceded the sermon. We wish to thank all who took part in making this event so successful. There were individuals who deserve special mention, but the Circles, especially the Mary Brewster Circle who directed the dinner, were active at all times doing their share in the celebration. The pastor will be in the pulpit next Sunday morning.
NORWOOD Mr. and Mrs. H. Brock of Charlevoix, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones. Mrs. Plenny Genett spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Ben Yetaw, in Charlevoix. With a keen fresh air and the sun sparkling on the snow, the charm of winter is here again. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith are guests of Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Kaiser of Levering, where they are attending nightly revival services, conducted by Rev. Mark of Charlevoix. Mrs. George Whitley of Charlevoix, is spending a few days with Mr. Whitley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holecheck, while her husband is on a deer hunting trip in company with Frank and Carl Holecheck. Stanley Lord met with a slight accident one day last week, which might have proven to be a more serious one. His shotgun, which he placed beside a stump while hunting, slipped to the ground causing it to discharge. Three shot lodged in his face and were removed by Dr. McMillan with no serious results. MING URGES NORTH TB HOSPITAL PLAN

WANTS SANATORIUM ASSURED BEFORE JANUARY 1

Gov. Brucker Promises Selection of Site—$300,000 Available Now for the Project

Plan for the outgoing Republican administration to authorize construction of a tuberculosis sanatorium in Northern Michigan before the project can be spiked by the Democratic legislature has been registered by Speaker Fred R. Ming, presiding officer of the house of representatives.

At Ming's insistence, the 1933 legislature appropriated $400,000 from main tax collections to finance the project and instructed that a site be selected. To date no action has been taken although $300,000 of the amount is available.

Speaking to the state administrative board Tuesday, Ming expressed fear that a Democratic legislature, "not being posted as to the seriousness of the tuberculosis situation," will turn the $400,000 appropriation back into the general fund and cancel the project as a part of a general economy program.

He was told by Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker that the state tuberculosis sanatorium commission will be instructed immediately to select a site, but was given no encouragement concerning his request that a contract be entered into before the Democrats assume control January 2.

"The situation in Northern Michigan is even more serious than we realized when the appropriation was made," Ming told the administrative board. "X-ray examinations already have revealed sufficient young patients to fill the institution were it now completed."

Speaker Ming was defeated for reelection and will not be present at the 1933 session to carry on his battle for the hospital.

"I am fearful that the money set aside under the law, which the legislature passed at the last regular session, may be diverted to the general fund of the state," Speaker Ming said.

"There is great need for the institution right at this moment. Clinics held in our section of the state have found many cases of tuberculosis. Five girls from one small school were found to have the disease. I would feel very bad if these children are denied the opportunity to get well."

"I believe the site should be chosen and the building of the institution started at once."

The $300,000 available for the work, Speaker Ming said, will purchase a site and erect the institution, but not equip it.

JUDGE GILBERT HOLDS UP LIQUOR SENTENCES

Judge Palm C. Gilbert, in circuit court at Traverse City on Saturday, announced that because of uncertainty over the future of Michigan dry laws he is reluctant to sentence liquor law violators. He held in abeyance the sentencing of Jay Hilliker on a charge of possession of liquor.

The Rebekah lodge will serve a 25c supper at the I. O. O. F. hall, Monday evening, December 5th. Supper will be followed by program.—Adv. 4811.

TURNKEY COBLENTZ HURT IN ATTEMPTED JAIL ESCAPE TUESDAY

In an attempted escape from Charlevoix county jail here Tuesday night, Arnold Tillotson, 22, Boyne City, struck and painfully injured Harry E. Coblentz, jail keeper.

Tillotson, bound over to circuit court Tuesday on a charge of assault and battery, struck Coblentz on the head with a piece of iron pipe wrapped in a woolen sock as the aged keeper entered the cell block to lock the prisoners in for the night. Knocked to the floor by two blows as Tillotson struck from a hiding place behind the door, Coblentz's shouts for help attracted his son, Clarence, who came from an adjoining room, overpowered the prisoner after a hard tussle and returned him to his cell. Several other prisoners watched the attack and failed to offer assistance.

Coblentz was probably saved from more serious injury by the fact that the pipe broke through the sock and clattered to the floor after he was hit the second time. He received two deep scalp wounds.

COUNCIL USES ECONOMY AXE ON EXPENSE

Cut Annual Appropriation for Support of City Band

Wielding the economy axe in further efforts to reduce city operating costs, the council Monday night discontinued the annual appropriation of $12,000 for maintenance and leadership of the city band.

Faced with a report that musical instruction in Charlevoix was costing $4,500 yearly, the city fathers deemed the sum too high, and decided to withdraw municipal support.

Close protection of city funds is expected until results of the 15% tax limit amendment passed at the general election in November can be figured out to a point where it may be seen where the city share is coming from and what it will aggregate.

The contract for sidewalk snow removal, usually let to one bidder, was spread out to give a more general distribution of the cost. The city has been divided into three districts—north side, valley and south side—with the respective contracts going to Robert Mitchell, Edgar Smith and Jack Gallagher.

CONTRACTS AWARDED ON M-131 RELOCATION

Project Thus Assured and Work Expected to Start Soon

Building of the relocated M-131 north of Boyne Falls was assured Monday when the state administrative board let contracts for the grading and drainage structure in Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

The Louis Garavaglia Company of Detroit, was low at $33,327.22 for the Emmet county portion, and John Baker & Sons received the Charlevoix county portion at $30,870.49.

Charlevoix county has already started the machinery in motion to register workers who will be used on the project. While complete details of the restrictions imposed on the contractor are not available at this time, it is known that a minimum price per hour for labor is established by the Federal government, which furnishes a part of the funds.

It is expected work will be started in a short time.

At a pretty wedding held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bourissau on Petoskey avenue, their son, Louis, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Richardson of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Hurd, pastor of the Methodist church. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Debora Richardson, sister of the bride, and Alfred Gill, Jr., a close friend of the groom. The beautiful ring service was used. Members of both families were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourissau are lifelong residents of this city and have a wide following of friends who wish them happiness.

EAST JORDAN MOVES TO RETAIN RAILROAD

Plan to Increase Patronage in Effort to Stop Abandonment

East Jordan people awaking to the fact that they were about to lose their railroad, are now stirring themselves to throw all their hauling business to the railroad instead of by truck, but we imagine their awakening has come too late and the same thing will some day come true to our city.

The business we are now entrusting to the trucks has already cut down our railroad employees to a very small number, and the next thing we know there will be a permit issued to the railroad company to discontinue their lines into our city. Then perhaps, and not until then, will we be jettisoned out of our passive and selfish position.—Cheboygan Observer.

An Apology

Boyne Falls, Michigan, November 12, 1932.

Mr. Herman Meyer, Boyne Falls, Mich.

Dear Sir: During the Primary Campaign of 1932, I made the statement at various localities in Charlevoix county that you had been a member of the Klu Klux Klan.

I find that I was mistaken and that said statement was not true. I hereby extend to you my most abject apology and express to you my keenest regret that any statement of mine may have caused you any injury of any kind.

This apology is made with the express purpose of righting the wrong which was caused you. Sincerely submitted, J. M. Bartholomew.—Adv. 4811.

CHEBOYGAN TEAM NEXT ON SCHEDULE

MEET POLAR BEARS IN GAME HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Bears Defeated Central Lake in Season-Opener Last Thursday as Cubs Lose to Petoskey

An interesting session of basketball is in store for local fans Thursday evening when the Charlevoix Polar Bears and Cheboygan Merchants renew their rivalry at the high school gymnasium.

Always presenting a strong team, Cheboygan has usually made the going rough for the Polar Bears. Fans will likely remember last winter's tilt, when the local aggregation was forced to come from behind to win in a contest that was a thriller from start to finish.

Cheboygan has another strong combination and, with the contest coming second on the Polar Bear schedule, fans may look for a hard, fast game, and anyone to win.

Defeated Central Lake

Opening the 1932-33 season Thanksgiving evening with a non-resident team, the Polar Bears defeated Central Lake 53 to 10 before a packed house.

While the contest was far more interesting than the lopsided score might indicate, the Bears were superior throughout. They led 21 to 3 at the half. It might be said the visitors were not favored with much luck, for they rained shot after shot at the hoop with little success. The ball apparently just wouldn't drop through for them. This feature kept the contest interesting when it might have otherwise been a pretty dull evening for the spectators.

Superman, center, led the Polar Bears in scoring with 10 points. Ikens and Cooper each counted 6, Smith and Dean Davenport 4, Howland Davenport 2 and Beaudoin 1.

Cubs Lost Preliminary

In a close and interesting preliminary, the Petoskey Indians were victorious 16 to 14 over the Polar Cubs. Trailing 12 to 6 at the half and still behind at the close of the third session, the Petoskey combination unleashed an attack which gave them the game by the margin of a single basket.

GIVE COUNTY AGENTS VOTE OF APPROVAL

Supervisors, General Elections, Private Subscriptions Furnish Funds

Evidence that Michigan people approve of agricultural extension work is contained in the reports on votes received by the state leaders office which show that all 66 county agricultural agents received the financial assistance needed from their counties to continue their work.

Funds were provided by favorable votes of the boards of supervisors in 61 counties. The work was approved by a majority of the voters in three counties in a popular vote which brought out the largest vote in the history of the counties. Private subscriptions by individuals and organizations will provide the necessary county funds in the two remaining counties.

A few counties made a small increase in their appropriations but salaries and mileage or other expenses of the agents have been reduced in nearly every county so the cost of the work has been materially reduced.

SEEKING CHANGES IN FISH LICENSES

MICHIGAN TOURIST AND RESORT REPORT IS READY

General Rod License and Reduction to Non-Residents Among Recommendations to Be Made

The Michigan Tourist and Resort association's special committee on fishing license laws in Michigan, has reached its decision on five questions put before it by the association at its recent annual meeting, and these recommendations will go to the conservation department within a few weeks.

The association will recommend that the non-resident fishing license be reduced from $4 to $3 per season. Replies to questionnaires showed interested business men favoring a slash ranging from $1 to $2 off the present price. The Northern Michigan region replies indicated a desire for a $2.50 non-resident fishing license.

Another recommendation will be a three-day non-resident license at $1 to care for the fishermen who are up for week ends or for a few days only. At present there is no short term license provided and the non-resident guest in Northern Michigan must pay $1 for one day or an entire season.

The question of non-resident property owner having the same privileges as resident property owners was studied and the recommendations will suggest that property owners whose Michigan taxes amount to more than $25 per year be given the same classification as a resident property owner.

The association committee recommends a general rod license at a fee of $1 for all persons over 17 years of age, to apply to all waters of the state—inland lakes, trout streams, government waters, etc. The enactment of such a law would eliminate the present trout license.

A change in the date of the general fishing season also is urged in answers to the questionnaires sent out. As a result the committee will recommend that the general fishing open on June 15, with the trout season remaining as at present.

MUSIC FESTIVAL EVENT OF FRIDAY EVENING

Students of Ten Rural Schools in Program at Gymnasium

Under the direction of Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, vocal music supervisor of local schools, over two hundred rural school children will appear in a music festival at the high school gymnasium at 8 o'clock Friday evening, December 2nd.

The program will consist of choruses, numbers for which the children have been trained by Miss Atkinson during the past month and in addition, each rural school represented will contribute solo or ensemble numbers, both vocal and instrumental, giving variety and interest to the entire program.

The festival is one feature of the service which Charlevoix public schools is endeavoring to render to the Charlevoix community which is so definitely wider than merely the city limits. Ten schools are being reached—McGeagh, Locke, Hopyard, Marion Center, Burgess, Ironton, Barnard, Nowland, Murray and Bay Shore—and through them musical opportunity is being extended to several hundred children who would otherwise receive little systematic musical instruction and inspiration during the year.

Admission to the festival is free and all friends of music are urged to be present to lend approval to so unique a project, and to enjoy an evening of musical entertainment.

The program to be given Friday evening is but one of a number of entertainments to be provided during the year by the various school musical organizations.

Mr. Creamer left Charlevoix in very poor health early in October following a summer of illness. The past season was his 26th as manager of The Inn, Pere Marquette Railway Company summer hotel here.

ALPENA COURT HOUSE DAMAGED IN BAD FIRE

Damage to the Alpena county courthouse, which was swept by fire last Wednesday, was placed at $25,000. The brick structure, erected in 1882, was saved by fast work by firemen after the flames had gutted the second floor. First floor offices were badly damaged.

PRENTISS M. BROWN HERE NEXT TUESDAY

COMES FOR IMPORTANT MEETING AT LEGION HALL

Will Discuss Use of Deep Water Trap Nets With Commercial Fishermen of District

Commercial fishermen of the Charlevoix district will have an opportunity next Tuesday to voice their grievance against the use of submarine trap nets in adjacent Lake Michigan waters to a personage who will be able to offer them aid through legislative channels.

Through the efforts of R. F. Sloan and J. N. Foster of this city, Prentiss M. Brown, congress-man-elect from the 11th Michigan district, will come here for a conference with the fishermen. Although busy with preparations for taking his seat in congress early next year, Mr. Brown promised to keep the local engagement, and the same evening will address the Progress Club at Boyne City.

The meeting in Charlevoix will be held at 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday, December 6th, at the Legion hall on Garfield avenue. Fishermen from Charlevoix as well as the entire Northern Michigan district are invited to attend.

In the opinion of many local commercial fishermen, the use of submarine trap nets is a serious menace to the future of the industry. Local opinions are not the only unfavorable ones, either, for in a recent survey by means of questionnaires sent out by the state department of conservation, 142 out of 175 answers registered their disapproval of the trap nets. Only 32 were in favor of their use.

In a recent address before the American Fisheries Society meeting at Baltimore, Md., Fred A. Westerman, in charge of the fish division of the Michigan department of conservation, stated that the rapid growth of the use of deep water trap nets in the Great Lakes is offering a serious menace to the future of Michigan's whitefish commercial fisheries, and that regulatory provisions must be enacted as soon as possible.

If properly regulated as to the size of mesh and the depth at which they might be used, deep water trap nets in the kind of gear used to fish under the varying conditions found in the Great Lakes, Mr. Westerman said, but unhampered by restrictions, these nets are invading the sanctuary of the whitefish and with the present size of mesh, fished in unlimited depths, are depleting the mature fish and destroying the juveniles.

Undoubtedly a large gathering will be present next Tuesday for the meeting, as the feeling locally on the matter is at a high level. Providing Mr. Brown is in sympathy with the fishermen's side of the matter, corrective legislation may be forthcoming.

SUCCESS OF 1932 RED CROSS DRIVE IS TOLD

Dr. C. J. Winder, Chairman, Thanks Workers in Campaign

That the 1932 Red Cross roll call in Charlevoix was a success is assured in an announcement by Dr. C. J. Winder, who was chairman of the local campaign.

In announcing that the drive exceeded results of a year ago, Dr. Winder expressed a desire to thank all local citizens for their hearty response, and to the solicitors whose efforts were responsible for the excellent showing made.

With some sections of the city still to be heard from, the drive went over bigger than last year, Dr. Winder stated.

SHANTY VILLAGE ON RAFTS PUTS IN ANOTHER APPEARANCE

Profiting by experience gained from the shortage of ice for fishing in Round Lake last winter, local anglers are again putting into use their fish shanties built upon rafts. Several of these odd appearing contrivances put in their appearance in the past few days, since cold weather set in. Rowboats furnish transportation from shore to the anchored rafts and the angler lights up his shanty stove and fishes in the same comfort he would in case it was sitting on ice. Still others are escaping the chill winds by the use of windbreaks built on their boats.

WELL-USED LEISURE

Sales of paints and home insulation materials have held up remarkably well through the depression, says a business commentator. The fact is attributed to the activities of men unemployed or working only part time. They have not sat idle in their enforced leisure, but have been doing many odd jobs and putting in little improvements in their homes. Extra rooms and cupboards have been built, repair work has been done, a little paint has been judiciously applied where it would do the most good.

This is not merely a cheerful business item among many gloomy ones. It is an indication that the average American is not wholly stumped by additional leisure. Just now, because of general conditions, his spare time activities are mostly practical ones. If times were normal and he had an assured income along with additional leisure, it is more than likely he would turn to interesting hobbies of some sort, doing at home creative work quite different from the work of his daily job, but equally worth while.

The service was largely attended by relatives and friends from all over Northern Michigan where Mr. McManus was known as one of the region's leading lumbermen.

LABOR CAN BE USED IN STATE FORESTS

Outdoor Work Can Be Given Needy Men Under M. S. C. Plan

Constructive work which will add to the beauty and the recreational facilities of Michigan and to future income from state timber lands can be performed by men on Michigan welfare lists, according to the forestry department at Michigan State college, which offers to furnish trained men to help plan ways of using welfare labor profitably.

The value of the resort trade to Michigan is enormous, but the forestry department points out that it is a part time income and that the improvement of the timber resources of the northern part of the state will aid an industry which brought the original wealth and population to the state. The reforestation of cut-over lands will make the state more attractive to summer guests.

Communities in southern Michigan can use men to make roadside plantings, to thin farm timber lots, and to make plantings on lands which are undesirable for general farm crops. The forestry department at the college will furnish men to survey woodlots and to mark trees which should be taken out to improve the stand if the owner of the woodlot will cooperate with welfare officers in permitting the cutting of fuel on shares.

A trained forester will be sent by the department to any communities which wish to undertake a plan to plant and beautify the road sides in its district. The forester will draw plans and instruct men how the work should be done. Untrained help can then be used to complete the work. The Reconstruction Finance corporation has some funds which can be loaned to finance reforestation projects. Information concerning these funds can be obtained from the college forestry department.

TRAILER LICENSES SHOW 25% INCREASE

Licenses for Motor Vehicles Show Decrease in 1932, However

The number of trailers in use in Michigan increased nearly 25 percent in 1932, according to records of the department of state.

On Nov. 1, 1932, there were 75,988 trailers in the state for which 1932 licenses had been issued, or 15,302 more than were licensed on the corresponding day in 1931. All other classes of motor vehicles showed a decrease.

The total number of pleasure cars, trucks, commercial vehicles and trailers licensed up to Nov. 1, 1931, was 1,295,156 while on Nov. 1, 1932, but 1,214,593 motor vehicles had been licensed. This is a decrease of 80,563 vehicles. License fees for the first 11 months of 1932 were $18,681,909.52 or $1,460,673.60 less than for the same period in 1931.

The new 1933 license plates were placed on sale Nov. 19 for use on new cars and trucks. On Dec. 1, the general sale starts and after that date 1933 plates may be purchased for vehicles now in use.

AT THE MOVIES

Will Rogers Soon to Be Seen in "Down to Earth"

Will Rogers' newest comedy, "Down to Earth," comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday. It is said to focus all the brilliance that has made him the keenest and most quoted observer in the country today. While in a sense the picture is a continuation of Rogers' first talkie, "They Had to See Paris," it is theme and locale are completely different.

The story opens with Rogers as "Pike Peters," the Oklahoma millionaire, back home again with his family after their Paris jaunt. The stock market is shut to piece, and Peters is greatly worried, but his wife has an insatiable desire for social honors and his son aids her in extravagant spending. The failure of a bank forces Peters to apply for a local loan, and that failing as a result of Mrs. Peters' love of elegance and display, he goes to Chicago with the cage result. How he gets his family down to earth again forms the basis of the situation.

"Down to Earth" is called the most important picture of Rogers' career. It was written by the author of "They Had to See Paris." Homer City, especially to fit the star's talents.

PETOSKEY WILL BORROW FOR NEW POWER PLANT

Petoskey will try to borrow $50,000 of the United States Reconstruction Finance corporation, to be used in building a dam across the Bear river in that city for power purposes. Putting this project on at this time will result in the employing of a great lot of labor, bringing it within the list of welfare jobs.

PURCHASE TB SEAL A GOOD INVESTMENT

Pays Good Dividends in Public Health in Michigan

When a customer makes a purchase of Christmas tuberculosis seals he is buying more than a gay little sticker to put on his holiday letters or packages according to Harry D. Bennett, secretary and vice-president of Central Trust Co. and treasurer of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, whose work is supported by the annual sale of seals.

The customer or friend who buys tuberculosis Christmas seals is buying stock in a very big business, Mr. Bennett declares. The stock sell at one penny a share and no war or depression, no bull or bear market can change its value. The work of the corporation goes steadily on, returning dividends far beyond the anticipation of most stockholders. It is used in time for the Christmas trade the seal has honest claim to being the biggest penny's worth in America today, Mr. Bennett feels.

In proof of these statements he pointed to the many sided program of the association. At the top of the list and receiving the lion's share of the earnings from the sale of seals is the early discovery of tuberculosis. This is done by means of tuberculin tests for school children followed by X-ray examinations in cases where some infection is discovered. Popular health education, health instruction to children, work in the legislature for needed laws, nursing calls, talks, motion pictures, posters and pamphlets all contribute to the life-saving work done by the association.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Subject, "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 27.

Among the bible citations was this passage (Matt. 7:21): "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."

PROMISE BOYS RARE THRILLS

AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION readers are due for a rare adventure thrill in 1933, according to word just received from America's favorite boy's magazine. Boys will welcome the news that a modern Robinson Crusoe story, in which two boys and a man battle with savages and build a civilization with their bare hands, is on the way!

In this story the three heroes escape into the depths of the Amazon jungles; there they are stripped and left to die by hostile natives; and there, from the natural abundance of the jungle, they build their fortress. From advance notices, it's a story readers will never forget!

Other good things, we learn, are on the way in THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION for 1933. Adventures in all part of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin and neighbor. It's a character-building, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. At the latter rate the magazine costs only a dollar a year. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

SCHOOL NOTES

This is one of the sonnets written in the junior English classes:

The Alhambra

A serried throng of crenelated towers, On their broad shoulders arches of noble mien, And rearing up to vaulted domes, would fain

Picture the noble Moorish culture race, A lovely edifice for dias so fair, The architect has wrought with grace to have

The thought of mortal structure, so remain— The magic spell of fairy palace air, But gone from stately halls the fourier, From all his longings forced to flee, And seeking peace beyond sea barriers—

When swoops the brute from rocky Byenkee, 'Tis history of man, the sorrier, The higher climbs, his fall is sure to be.

—Vestal C. Clarke.

FISHERMEN FAVOR WISCONSIN RULES

LIMIT DEPTH AND MESH OF SUBMARINE NETS

Commercial Operators of Region Here Tuesday for Meeting to Seek Regulatory Laws

Commercial fishermen from nearly every Northern Michigan lake port met here Tuesday afternoon at the Legion hall to voice their protests against the increasing use of deep water trap nets in Lake Michigan waters, claimed a serious menace to the future of the whitefish fisheries.

Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, congressman-elect from the 11th Michigan district, to whom the fishermen look to sponsor regulatory legislation, heard the protests and promised full cooperation in the matter.

Fishermen were all given an opportunity to express their opinions on the subject, and Mr. Brown, quoting from a mass of prepared information, reviewed the situation as it exists throughout the Great Lakes.

Recognizing the fact that deep water trap nets are most damaging when used at great depth, causing death to unnumbered small fish when raised quickly to the surface with subsequent changes in water pressure, the assemblage unofficially went on record as favoring the so-called Wisconsin law, which limits the use of such equipment to a depth not exceeding 40 feet, also a 4 1/2 inch net mesh.

Other recommendations included adoption of uniform laws governing commercial fishing for Michigan and Wisconsin. Under present regulations which give Michigan and Wisconsin different open season dates and different size net mesh for taking of various species, the Michigan fisherman is discriminated against, it was declared. Wisconsin fishermen poach on waters closed to the Michigan operator, and market fish regarded as undersized by Michigan laws.

It was also recommended that a more efficient determination be made of the proper opening and closing of the seasons and location and extent of the grounds. Because of lateness in opening the whitefish season, it is claimed fishermen are unable to take advantage of the metropolitan holiday market.

It was agreed to appoint a committee of three, whose duty will be to represent this district upon call at future legislative and conservation meetings. Opinions of leading operators will be placed in writing for presentation before the proper officials.

Congressman-elect Brown quoted statistics showing the enormous commercial value of Michigan's fishing industry, declaring it warranted and should have legislative protection.

ANDREW I. CREAMER BURIED LAST FRIDAY

Funeral and Burial at His Home in Damariscotta, Maine

Andrew I. Creamer, widely known summer and winter resort hotel operator, was buried last Friday at Damariscotta, Maine, where he died last Tuesday evening following an illness of several months. He was fifty-nine years of age.

Funeral services were held from St. Andrews Episcopal church at 11 o'clock Friday, and burial was at Hillside cemetery, Damariscotta.

A native of Bremen, Maine, for the past forty years, Mr. Creamer was identified in the management of summer hotels in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, the Great Lakes region of Northern Michigan, and in Florida and North Carolina. For twenty-six summers he was managing director of The Inn at Charlevoix, and was at the Holly Inn, Pinehurst, N. C., in a like capacity for a number of years. The high spot of his career came in the building of the Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, N. C., in 1912, of which he was senior partner for twenty years.

Surviving besides the widow, Mrs. Lillian Wilson Creamer, is his mother, Mrs. Angella B. Creamer, and a brother, Alton Creamer of Walseboro, Maine.

CAGERS TO OPEN SCHEDULE FRIDAY

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO TRAVERSE FOR FIRST TILT

Make First Home Appearance December 16th Against Potoskey Northmen—Reserves Will Play

Charlevoix high school basketball team swings into action this week, meeting the class B Traverse City Trojans at Traverse City in the first game of their 1932-33 schedule.

This opening contest will test the strength of the combination Coach Kipke has developed since practice opened several weeks ago to defend Charlevoix's regional class C title. Fans are not expecting too much early in the season, considering the fact that last year's championship team was badly broken up by graduation, leaving only a couple of regulars around which to build the 1932-33 team. Only Emerald Chew and Joe Smith of last year's first string team were available this year.

It will also be remembered that practically a similar condition existed a year ago. Graduations in the spring of 1931 broke up a team which won both the district and regional titles. Opening their 1931-32 schedule, the Kipmen dropped the first four games by narrow margins before shaping into a combination which swept all competition before them. Kipke has a lot of good material this year, and predictions of a similar record might not go amiss.

If Coach Kipke starts the first string line-up he has been using in practice sessions, the Traverse City contest Friday night will probably see Jack Foster and "Bud" Potter at guards, Lyle Aice at center, Kirby and Chew at forwards. The coach has not announced his line-up, however, nor how many players he will take to Traverse City.

The first home game for the team will be next Friday night, December 16th, when Potoskey's Northmen come for the first contest of a two-game contract. The second team, which will appear in the preliminary of nearly all games scheduled, will meet the Potoskey reserves.

SUPERVISORS MEET TO REFUND HIGHWAY BONDS

Special Session Made Necessary by 15 Mill Tax Limitation

Charlevoix county supervisors are convening in special session here this afternoon (Wednesday) to work out a plan for refunding $192,000 in highway bonds falling due February 1.

With the 15 mill tax limitation amendment becoming effective December 8th, prohibiting refunding of bond issues, this matter, which otherwise would have been taken care of at the regular January session, required immediate action.

The total issue, floated in 1918 was $350,000, of which $160,000 has been retired. Due to the fact that the supervisors voted no money for the interest and sinking fund the past two years, the county is short the necessary cash to meet the bonds when due.

It is anticipated the bonds will be refunded without adding extra tax burden.

MICHIGAN GENEROUS WITH FUNDS

RETURNS MORE TO COUNTIES THAN THEY PAY

For Every Tax Dollar Paid Out Charlevoix County Receives $2.31 in Return from State

The state of Michigan plays Santa Claus in a big way when it goes about the job of filling the socks of its children—the 83 counties. Its gifts to the family this year run into the millions of dollars, records in the state tax commission's office reveal.

All but seven children were on Santa's long list to receive gifts this year. Counties not on the favored roll were Branch, Calhoun, Indian, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Washtenaw and Wayne.

"They'll get theirs next year, particularly Wayne, where a large street and highway improvement program is contemplated," said M. B. McPherson of Howell, rural member of the tax commission.

The commission's records show all but seven counties this year will receive or already have received more in "refunds" from the state than they have paid the state in property and automobile taxes. They further reveal that for each $1 paid the state in property, automobile and weight and gasoline taxes, the same counties are being "refunded" all the way from $1.07 to Genesee county to $10.80 to Roscommon county.

Not All in Cash

The refunds, however, are not all in cash. Commissioner McPherson explained. Some are in the form of new highways constructed and public improvements, but the great bulk of the "gifts" are in cold cash in the form of the primary school fund, Turner school aid and McNitt township road money.

How Counties Fare

Under the existing system of raising and disbursing the primary school fund, the state tax commission finds that for each $1 paid to the state in property, automobile weight and gasoline taxes, the counties receive back the following amounts in cash and public improvements:

Alcona $4.06, Alger $6.47, Allegan $1.52, Alpena $3.06, Antrim $4.23, Arenac $2.98, Baraga $4.30, Barry $1.51, Bay $1.48, Benzie $4.87, Berrien $1.88, Branch 98 cents, Calhoun 91 cents, Cass $1.29, Charlevoix $2.31, Cheboygan $6.10, Chippewa $3.58, Clare $3.62, Clinton $1.79, Crawford $8.09, Delta $2.49, Dickinson $2.84, Eaton $1.53, Emmet $2.42, Genesee $1.07, Gladwin $2.28, Gogebic $1.66, Grand Traverse $2.02, Gratiot $1.14, Hillsdale $1.26, Houghton $3.04, Huron $2.18, Ingham 89 cents, Ionia $2.47, Isabella $6.27, Iron $2.76, Isabella $1.89, Jackson 90 cents, Kalamazoo 94 cents, Kalkaska $8.46.

INDIANS PREDICT MUCH COLD AND SNOW THIS WINTER

Pellston Indians predict an extremely cold winter with much snow.

The beechnut crop is heavy and squirrels are hoarding large stores of food, they point out. Other signs are that deer are rubbing the bark from tamarack trees high on the trunks instead of near the ground, that all animals have heavy coats of fur and cornhusks are unusually thick.

All these observations are unfailing signs of a hard winter, the Indians claim.

POLAR BEARS WON FROM CHEBOYGAN

COPPED 41 TO 28 VERDICT LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Polar Cubs Evened Season Record by Defeating Potoskey Outfit—Gaylord Comes Here Tonight

Scoring their second consecutive victory of the season, the Charlevoix Polar Bears came from behind in the second half to defeat the Cheboygan Merchants 41 to 28 at the high school gymnasium last Thursday evening.

The first two periods of the contest were all that a close and interesting basketball game should be. The Polar Bears led by the narrow margin of one point, 9 and 8, at the close of the first period, and in the second, due largely to the fine work of Brackett, Cheboygan's individual star, were badly out-scored. The visitors were out in front at one time by a 20 to 11 score, and finished the period leading 20 to 17.

The second half was a different story, fortunately. With a combination which started to click in old-time form, the Bears soon left their opponents behind. They piled up a total of 24 points to 8 for the visitors during those last two sections for a margin of victory which was quite decisive.

For the Polar Bears, Kipke was high point man with 19. Dean Davenport and Supernaw followed closely with 8 each. Ikens scored 6, Cooper 4, Beaudoin, Smith and Brown each 2. For the visitors, Brackett was high with 10. Charbonneau and Lawson had 6 each.

In the preliminary contest, the Polar Cubs, led by the fine work of McCall and Wagner, defeated the Gilles Barbecue, a Potoskey combination of former high school stars, and members of that city's industrial league, 16 to 9. The victory evened things up for the Cubs with one win and one defeat.

Gaylord Here Tonight

The Polar Bears play at home again this week, meeting the fast Gaylord independent outfit tonight. This is the first meeting of these teams in two years. In previous competition, the Bears have won twice on their home court and lost at Gaylord.

CARL LEFT ACQUITTED AFTER FOUR-DAY TRIAL

Lyle Barnes Given 12 to 20 Years at Jackson Prison for Rape

Following a four-day special session, circuit court for Charlevoix county adjourned Saturday afternoon to convene again on Wednesday, December 23rd.

Carl Left, St. James, tried on the first of three charges which included breaking and entering, assault with intent to rape, and assault, was found not guilty by a jury at the close of a trial occupying nearly the entire four days of the session. In view of his acquittal, it is anticipated the other charges will be dropped.

Lyle Barnes, 22, local youth, found guilty of statutory rape in a non-jury trial early in November, was sentenced to serve from 12 to 20 years at Jackson prison by Judge Paul C. Gilbert. Barnes, who escaped jail in July with three others, was brought back from St. Petersburg, Fla., to face the charges. He had a previous criminal record.

GRANGE HEAD SCORES TEACHERS' TAX VIEWS

Pounces on Principals Failing Support Grange Tax Reform

Addressing 300 school principals at a meeting of this branch of the Michigan Education Association at Lansing last Thursday, C. H. Bramble, newly elected master of the Michigan State Grange, "panned" the assemblage for the failure of teachers and others connected with the educational profession to support the Grange in its tax reform program.

Bramble charged the Michigan Education association seldom carried a tax fight to the state legislature and also criticized its non-support of the tax limitation amendment which appeared on the November 8 election ballot.

"The Michigan State Grange favors an educational program which the citizens of the state are able to pay for," Bramble declared. "At present, however, school taxes have reached a high point, where farmers are unable to go farther in meeting them."

PLANS TO LOWER STATE LICENSES

PREPARE NEW GAME PROGRAM FOR LEGISLATURE

General Rod License and Lowering of Small Game, Deer and Non-Resident Licenses Probable

A legislative program centering upon reduction of game and fish licenses, was given preliminary consideration last week at the monthly meeting of the state conservation commission.

Generally, the commission is about committed to a program which would reduce all license fees to the price they were before being increased by the 1931 legislature. They were advanced then in the belief that the action would produce additional revenues for the department of conservation and, in this belief, the legislature eliminated appropriations which had been made in past years.

After a full year's experience under the higher fee schedule Director George R. Hogarth and Commissioner Harold Titus, chairman of the commission's game committee, are about convinced that the old rates would produce as much revenue as the higher rates.

This year, for instance, the increased rates produced about $965,000, compared with $941,000 in 1931 under the old rates. Since the license fees were increased an average of 40 per cent it follows that about 40 per cent fewer persons purchased licenses in 1932 than in 1931.

The program probably will include:

Reduction of the deer license from $3.50 to $2.50.
Elimination of the $1.75 trout license and creation of a $1 general rod license covering all fishing.
Reduction of the small game license from $1.75 to $1.25.
Reduction of the non-resident fishing license from $4 to $2.

YOUNG FOLK ENJOY FELLOWSHIP HOUR

New Feature at Methodist Church Sunday a Fine Success

The fellowship hour sponsored by the Epworth League last Sunday evening in connection with their regular devotional service proved to be very successful.

More than forty young people were gathered together and had an enjoyable time. Ella Lakies and Rex McGhan tied for first place in the alphabetical pull-up. This feature was followed by two games directed by Clarence Arnold. Refreshments were served by the Misses Georgia Parsons, Dorothy Pedersen and Iva Howe.

The crowd divided into three groups and each was asked to put on an impromptu play. Group two was judged to have put on the best one and it may be given the opportunity to produce it again at a later date. The success of the winning group was due largely to the efforts of Ernestine Chew as the prim school teacher, ably assisted by Esther West as the poor old lady and Albert McMillan as the sturdy law officer.

Following this item, the entire crowd gathered together in an orderly manner and Miss Marguerite Borgart led in the devotional service, ably assisted by some of the other League members.

FARMERS OPERATE AT LOSS THIS YEAR

FIGURES SHOW EACH TO BE $676 IN THE "RED"

Eighty-Three Per Cent of Those Keeping Books Report Deficit During the Past Year

If an interest charge of five per cent on capital investment is figured, Michigan farmers in 1931 suffered an average loss of $676 per farm, according to the Michigan State college farm management.

If no return on capital investment is figured, many farmers were shown to have eked out a small net income.

A report just completed by the farm management department shows $3.46 per cent of the 925 farmers keeping records last year finished in "the red." In 1930, the number left with a deficit amounted to 62.51 per cent of those keeping accounts while 27.3 per cent failed to balance their budget in 1929.

Loss Nearly Triples
The net operator's loss averaged $676 last year compared with a loss of $263 for 771 farms in the 1930 report and an average profit of $545 for 426 farms in 1929.

The figure used by the farm management department represents what is called the operator's labor and

WRONG AGAIN

Winomac, Ind.—Statisticians have guessed wrong again, Irvin J. Mathews, farm writer and expert, recently asserted.

"Sixty years ago," he explained, "mathematicians with long pencils figured that in the year 1931 our population would outrun our food supply. They had predicted stark, grim famine! And had figured to prove it."

"What would they have said could they have known that by 1931 civilization should have progressed to such a point that a bumper crop is a calamity to its growers?"

management wage. It is the net farm income minus a five per cent charge on the capital investment.

If the five per cent charge is eliminated, farmers have eked out a small net income the last two years. The actual difference between the total farm receipts and the total operating expenses for last year amounted to an average of $117, compared with $860 for the year before and $1,134 for 1929.

No Allowance for Food

No allowance is made in this report for the value of farm products retained for home consumption. The department recognizes that in addition to earnings, the farm family obtained such produce as milk, butter, eggs, meat, vegetables, wood and so forth, inasmuch as most of the operators did not keep a record of these items, however, they were not used in the report. Department experts estimate the value of farm produce used for home consumption at $360 a farm for 1931. If this allowance were made the average net loss last year would be reduced to $376.

"Manitou Shoals" and "Gray's Reef" Arrived Here Monday

L. S. lightships "Gray's Reef" and "Manitou Shoals" put into winter quarters in Charlevoix harbor Monday afternoon, riding a heavy blow to port.

Close of the official watch of these two sentinels at their posts in Lake Michigan since navigation opened last spring. Buoys placed by the U. S. lighthouse tender "Sumac" will guard the dangerous shoals until the official closing of navigation later in December.

Concerning the Kyril Concert

In order to correct a misunderstanding that seems current in Charlevoix we wish to assure all those who may be interested that the concert given here recently by the Kyril band was not a presentation of the board of education; it was not underwritten by the board of education; nor was there any deficit that will be paid by the board of education.

HOLIDAY TIME

Holidays and special days go far to make life worth living. They come at intervals and add variety and zest to living. Each has its significance. Each carries its responsibilities. Christmas day is but a little more than four weeks away. The birth of a Christ and the beginning of a great religion that has given hope to many millions of the world's people is celebrated. It is the season of giving; a time when we strive to bring happiness to those we love. We enjoy it to that extent which our interest reaches the lives of others. It can be a rather empty day if we lack belief in its origin or faith in Providence.

This, as any thoughtful person knows, is financial suicide. A proper part of the deposits are out, as above stated, on properly secured loans and investments, and the bank could not possibly pay everybody at once. Result, close the bank; tie up everything; shut down business; break the directors.

And does all of this hardship get one's money "right now"? It does not. One must be content to wait until the state banking department, through slow and expensive processes, can collect the outstanding accounts and pay back a little at a time just as the bank, had it not been forced, could have done with profit to all.

Faith and confidence, two beneficial human characteristics, inspired the placing of the deposits in the banks when we were sane and normal. Good stewardship over happy years has built up sound and useful financial institutions. Fear and broken faith, twin enemies and destroyers—blindly, unintelligently, stupidly, tear them down in a day.—Spokane Valley Herald, Opportunity, Wash.

THOSE WAR DEBTS

"There is no reason to believe the requests (to the United States) will meet with anything but friendly, sympathetic consideration," says the London Daily Herald, in an editorial on "War Debt Sanity." It continues: "We see no final solution but complete cancellation. Public opinion in the United States is not ripe for that yet."

"But one thing is certain. The United States would be much more ready to offer easement to Europe if the disarmament conference at Geneva is successful. What right have the debtor countries to plead inability to meet their obligations if they continue to squander money on armaments? So the debt question is linked with disarmament."

This statement is a pretty good interpretation of American sentiment.

GOOD FUTURE

Some people when they get past middle life, feel discouraged about the human race, about the young people around them, about politics and everything else. They look back to "sinner days" and deplore the follies of the present and future.

Others reach three score and ten and see the process of evolution still working slowly ahead changing things little by little, and usually for the better. Such a man on his 75th birthday anniversary the other day, told a reporter what he thought about the outlook for the next 20 years.

"We shall have figured out some way so that there will be a job for everybody who wants to work. Everybody will be more religious, in the right way."

As for politics, both the major parties contending so hotly this year for election may have melted away, giving place to new party alignments, perhaps a frankly conservative and a frankly progressive party. He is prepared to take the outcome of the November 8 balloting calmly because of his cheerful look ahead. Whether his candidates win or lose, he will not get all hot and bothered about it.

"Young folk. They're going to come out all right. We're going so fast that it will take constant readjustments. That's all."

His advice to them in this readjusting is simple. Keep honorable; get as much education as possible; keep respect for money and position in its proper proportion; develop appreciation of music, art, religion, and have an interest in life, outside your regular work. Following this program would be one way to make the future as satisfactory as his vision of it.

WITH SUCH A LAW IN MICHIGAN HIGHWAYS WOULD BE SAFER

Michigan needs a Safety Responsibility law which restricts reckless drivers from full use of the highways until they have proved their ability to respond in damages for accidents which result from their neglect. Such a bill has already been adopted as law in 18 states and six Canadian provinces.

The Safety Responsibility bill embodies economy and protection for the safe motorist in addition to restriction on the reckless driver. The American Automobile Association after years of study has drafted a model Safety Responsibility law which has been widely adopted by other states and provinces and is operating with success. It is high time for Michigan to act.

SCHOOL NOTES

Assembly Program

The assembly program last week consisted of a half hour of singing under the direction of Miss Atkinson. The C. H. S. is a group of students who are very good singers, and when the group has been arranged as to sing in parts, it will prove itself even more.

For the assembly program this week we are planning on a speaker, Mr. Lewis of Dublin, Ireland, who spoke here two years ago. Everyone is looking forward with pleasure to hearing Mr. Lewis again.

Band

Many of the band members have turned out for orchestra practice during the activity period. There has been a wonderful turn-out with almost all of the needed instruments available.

Christmas Vacations

The last day of school before Christmas vacation is Wednesday, December 21; vacation begins Thursday, December 22. The last day of vacation is Tuesday, January 3.

school re-opens on Wednesday, January 14.

Tuesday evening, December 13, Mr. Bush will speak at the Murray school parent-teacher association meeting.

The regular teachers' meeting, scheduled for Monday afternoon has been postponed a week in order to give the faculty more time to study the second report of the Educational Creed committee.

James Gallagher of Beaver Island, entered the sophomore class this week. This means that the 10th grade has two boys enrolled named James Gallagher and both from Beaver Island. We are wondering how the teachers will distinguish between them in the class room. However, James' nickname of Beaver Island was "Moose" and maybe he will answer to that name in C. H. S. or maybe "James-Beaver" would be better. We'll have to wait and see what the distinction will be.

Junior High News

Some of the clubs of the activity program in the junior high school are: Boy-Game club, 53; Boys and Girls Dramatics, 37; Boys and Girls

Chester club, 112; Boys and Girls Crocheting club, 50; Boys and Girls Travel club, 27.

These are only suggestive names for certain clubs which have been started. Others equally as suggestive have been organized, but a more detailed account of the program will appear in an early issue of the school notes.

Assembly Speaker

Last Tuesday the students of junior and senior high schools were addressed by Dr. Soller, from the extension department of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Soller gave a talk on the goiter and the thyroid gland. He told the students that Michigan was a goiter country because the waters of the Great Lakes consisted of little iodine. "Iodine," he said, "is one of the most important elements of the thyroid gland." He urged the extensive use of iodized salt in preventing goiters. Dr. Soller so described the goiter that all of the students should recognize it if they should come in contact with it.

Plans have been made by Dr. Soller for three talks to be given before the junior and senior high schools by three of our local physicians.

Junior High Has a Radio

The junior high school students have been so fortunate as to secure a radio which has been installed in Mr. Bingham's office. This was presented to the junior high through the influence of Miss Milner. It will be used for various educational purposes throughout the year.

History and Civics

The American history class is having historical book reports. Carl Borgart gave a very interesting report on "The Light in the Clearing"—a vivid description of a railroad travel in 1840. It also included details of home and social life.

The civics class is studying Michigan government. They are making the acquaintance of the three volumes of compiled laws of Michigan for 1929. The class has not weighed the books yet, but they are considering measuring them.

The modern history people are looking for the undesirable characteristics of Napoleon Bonaparte. They will complete their study by writing a characterization, limited to 100 words.

Home Economics

The seventh grade girls are busy making simple Christmas gifts.

The eighth grade girls are studying, "How you can make your home friendly, hospitable and entertaining for your family and guests." This includes: how to help mother, extending invitations, the art of a gracious hostess, and how to serve refreshments.

Saturday evening the board of education was served a three-course formal dinner by the home management class.

Guests were received in the community room of the junior high school building.

Dinner was served in the clothing room.

The rooms were easily decorated with Christmas trees, pine boughs and poinsettias, lending a true holiday atmosphere to the room.

During dinner Miss Atkinson played various selections by famous composers on the school victrola.

Committees for the dinner were as follows: preparation committee, Rev. L. L. Lock, chairman, Mary Louise Gallagher, Olive Ragle and Mary Novotny; serving committee, Naomi Black, chairman, Ruth Krueger, Claire Hervey, Ruth Lott and Margaret McCann; decoration committee, Helen Gallagher, chairman, Betty Cartier, Helen Halverson and Daisy Dutcher; Margaret McCann, Helen Gallagher, Betty Cartier and Daisy Dutcher acted as hostesses.

It may be no use, but let us remind prospective writers of articles for publication in The Courier that they must sign their names, or their contributions will not be printed.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT NO. 10

MEMBER NEWS LETTER

Plans for the month's work have been carried out as arranged. This has been due partly to the fine weather.

A two-day conference was held at Gaylord. This included the members of our staff and those of unit No. 4, Miss Hamilton, director of nurses, and Miss Road, director of education from the Detroit office, were present. They discussed with us various problems of public health.

Tuberculosis clinics were held in each county under the auspices of the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

The backbone of any public health program is the nursing service. The number of home visits may not seem as spectacular as immunizing, school examinations, etc., but take this service away and our program would show fewer results.

The sanitary program for the past month has been one of school and dairy sanitation. The sanitary officer has also constructed a model sanitary privy which will be used for demonstration purposes in an endeavor to improve the means of sewage disposal in our rural homes. This model is now on display in the office of the district health unit. Plans and specifications for sewage disposal system may be had by calling at the office of the district health unit or by writing to the rural sanitary officer.

Charlevoix County

Whooping cough and scarlet fever is still prevalent in the county.

Forty-two school children were examined and 42 vaccinated against mumps. Of these nine were found to have had previous defects corrected. I work Thursdays in this county, consequently owing to Thanksgiving and the Lansing meeting, I missed three days work in the schools.

LIVESTOCK BRINGS MOST CASH INCOME

Farmers Shift Business from Crops to More Profitable Lines

Livestock sales made up 70 per cent and crops 30 per cent of the cash receipts from the Michigan farms whose owners furnished the farm management department at Michigan State college a complete record of their business to show the changes made in farm operations to meet present conditions.

There is a tendency to concentrate more effort on livestock and less on crops and the records also show a shift to the more intensive producing units of livestock. Dairy cattle, hens and brood sows increased in the period reported.

This shift is evidence of the farmers' attempt to obtain a larger income from the same number of acres and the same outfit of farm buildings and equipment. In spite of the evident attempt of farm operators to put their business on a more profitable basis, income records show a continued drop due to steadily decreasing prices.

The farmers in the group studied cut their operating costs 47.1 per cent during the year. The cash receipts dropped 44.7 per cent during the same time. The saving in operating expense did not compensate for the loss in cash income.

MICHIGAN HAS 135,800 ACRES OF NEW PINES

State-owned Land Increases, Re-forestation Project Described

Michigan now has 135,800 acres of its northern cut-over and burned-over lands converted into growing pine forests, created through the division of forestry of the department of conservation.

The peak of the state forest planting operations was reached in 1931 when 32,067 acres were forested to native pines. This figure still stands as a record for the number of acres planted by any state in one year.

The beginning of 1932 saw a considerable decline in planting activities when only 648 acres were reforested during the spring season. A fair sized planting was made in the fall, however, bringing the total for the year to 10,374 acres.

Although the employment from fall planting was only of a few weeks duration, two and three shifts of planters were used in order that as many persons as possible might benefit from the work. In accordance with past practices only local men were employed.

In issuing its report relative to the year's activities, the forestry division stated that as of June 30, 1932, 784,604 acres of state owned land were included within the boundaries of Michigan's 12 state forests, an increase from 34,000 acres, the area included when the state first organized its forests in 1903.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellenkamp.

(By B. C. Mellenkamp.)

The final summary of the boys and girls' club program carried out in Charlevoix county for 1932 shows the most successful year thus far. Not alone were there more club members enrolled but a larger percentage finished the activities than any other year. There were 43 different clubs with a membership of 343 boys and girls, of which, 322 finished for a percentage of 83.9 finishers. Last year only 301 finished for a percentage of 89.1.

Realizing that all club members as well as club leaders are vitally interested in those who are selected as county champions in the various projects, the following awards have been announced:

Canning Clubs

First year champion, tied: Ruby Gregory, Bay Shore; Maud Barkley, Boyne City.

Second year champion: Mary Ellen Johnson, Bay Shore.

Third year champion: Mary Short, Bay Shore.

Fourth year champion: Christina Withers, Charlevoix.

Fifth year champion: Bessie Straw, Charlevoix.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the 76 girls who finished the canning club requirements preserved 7,147 quarts of fruits, vegetables, jellies, jams and meats. Mary Short of Bay Shore has the largest number of quarts to her credit, 332, while several others have approached the 500 mark. Dorothy Furceson and Florence Anderson, both of Bay Shore, represented this county in the canning demonstration contest at Gaylord and won second place.

Dairy Clubs

The following championships were awarded: 1st year, George Gallup, Boyne Falls; 2nd year, Lawrence Eklund, Charlevoix; 3rd year, David Mather, Charlevoix; 4th year, Adolph Eklund, Charlevoix; 5th year, Carlton Smith, Charlevoix.

Carlton Smith had the greatest accomplishment when he won a beautiful 7-months old purebred Holstein calf at the Traverse City Holstein field day for having the highest score in the club judging contest. He also had the highest score in the Gaylord contest. The highest event in this program was the calf club exhibit in connection with the county picnic at which time 21 calves were exhibited.

Crops Club

The following championships were awarded:

Potatoes—1st year champion, Howard McDonald, Ellsworth; 2nd year champion, Ernest Ruder, East Jordan; 4th year champion, Gwendon Holt, East Jordan.

Beans—2nd year champion, Robert Tainter, Boyne City.

Corn—2nd year champion, Clayton Healey, East Jordan.

Some very splendid work has been accomplished by the boys in this club. Three boys won a trip to the Michigan state fair as a result of winning first in the judging of farm crops at the Gaylord camp. Gwendon Holt, East Jordan; Fred Ranney, East Jordan; and Robert Tainter, Boyne City, made up this team. At Detroit, Robert Tainter placed 5th against 25 state competitors. Robert Tainter also won 2nd on a sample of beans at the state fair. Gwendon Holt became the champion potato club exhibitor of Northern Michigan when his sample won first place at the potato show. Also, the East Jordan Crops club won first place at the same show. The sample of Gwendon Holt's has been sent to Chicago to compete in the National 4-H Club congress.

At the present time approximately 20 clubs have been organized throughout the county to carry on clothing, handicraft and farm club work, all of which indicates that the year 1933 will be fully as successful as this past year.

DEER KILL LARGER THAN FORMER YEAR

ESTIMATES PLACE BAG 2,000 OVER THAT OF 1931

Hunters Killed and Injured During Past Season Decrease From Former Years

Michigan's 1932 deer season was brought to a close last Wednesday with hunters reporting better success than last fall.

Based upon reports received by the state department of conservation, this fall's kill amounted to approximately 17,500 bucks, about 2,000 more than were shot in 1931. The department reported that 6,150 deer had been brought across the straits including the final day of the season.

The number of black bear brought from the upper peninsula was 69, a substantial increase over the previous year.

Four hunters were killed and three injured during the deer season just closed, the department's records show, compared with five killed and eleven injured in deer hunting accidents last fall.

Charlevoix hunters fared exceptionally well during the past season. A check-up which does not include many successful hunters from nearby rural districts, reveals that 52 bucks were brought into this city by local hunters out of less than one hundred procuring licenses. The average of successful hunters is an exceptionally large one.

Hunters were favored with ideal conditions in the upper peninsula during the early part of the season. Tracking snow, which later became sufficiently heavy to drive many parties from the woods in fear of being snowed in, was available. In the lower peninsula, hunters in the central open counties were favored with snow, but those farther east went without. Crust made tracking noisy in the lower states most of the season.

Almost without exception, returning parties reported an abundance of deer in practically every district—a condition which speaks loudly in favor of the present one-buck law.

EXPECT NO RUSH FOR NEW PLATES

Automobile Owners Will Wait for Extension of Time Limit

No great rush has been noticed since the 1933 license plates went on sale in the branch office of the secretary of state last Thursday morning although a few of the early birds were on hand to be among the first to show the new plates.

The last session of the state legislature passed an act which permitted the secretary of state to extend the time limit for the purchase of new license plates, at the same time limiting the extension to 60 days or March 1.

Thus it is within the province of Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald to say when cars must have their 1933 licenses. Thus far he has made no statement about extending the time but it is presumed he will make an announcement soon.

UNUSUAL MUSICAL PROGRAM PROMISED

Bi-City Chorus to Present Cantata Here December 26th

Approach of the Yuletide season brings the usual preparation for Christmas musical programs by various local church organizations.

With two presentations by a chorus of forty voices including singers from Charlevoix and Petoskey, a vested chorus for both processional and recessional, lending violinists from Petoskey and other instrumental numbers by Charlevoix musicians, the Christmas cantata to be presented at the local Methodist church on Monday evening, December 26, and at Emmanuel Episcopal church.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ps. 107:8, 9): "Oh, that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness."

Correlating passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 423): "The metaphysical, making Mind his basis of operation irrespective of matter and regarding the truth and harmony of being as superior to error and discord, has rendered himself strong, instead of weak, to cope with the case; and he proportionately strengthens his patient with the stimulus of courage and conscious power."

church, Petoskey, on Wednesday evening, December 28th, promises to be one of the most beautiful and artistic productions given in some time.

The original idea was a union of the choir of the Charlevoix Methodist and Petoskey Episcopal churches, but the collaboration of the two musical directors has been so successful that singers from other churches will be included. The Petoskey Methodist and Presbyterian churches will furnish most of the soloists, the latter the leading male quartet of that city, also several violinists, including one professional of considerable renown.

Mr. A. C. Belding will be at the piano and Mrs. Ray O'Brien at the organ. The beautiful "The Lord's Annointed" will be used, with printed libretto for the audience.

The admittance will be free and a cordial invitation to those in all churches is extended, as this date probably will not conflict with other services. A detailed program will be announced later.

COMMUNITY OPERETTA IS PLANNED

CHURCHES UNITE FOR PROGRAM DECEMBER 22

"The Magi's Gift," Presented About Five Years Ago, to Be Repeated at Gymnasium

"The Magi's Gift," a Christmas operetta which was given in Charlevoix with such marked success at the gymnasium about five years ago, is to be repeated this Christmas season.

It will again be sponsored by the combined Catholic and Protestant churches of Charlevoix, and will again be presented in the gymnasium to provide a setting of the true Christmas spirit for all people of this city and surrounding territory.

Hundreds of people who attended still remember the beauty and the effectiveness of the different scenes in this operetta, due to the masterly portrayal of the Christmas spirit that pervades the entire production. The gymnasium was filled to capacity at the previous presentation, and of course, everyone will again want to be on hand to hear and see this most excellent Yuletide operetta.

The operetta will be given Thursday evening, December 22nd, at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge, so that everyone, young and old, should come. An offering will be taken and the amount collected turned over to the welfare work of the community.

In the "Magi's Gift" the various beautiful Christmas scenes and the old English sketches are portrayed with such vividness that they linger in memory for years afterwards. The Mummies add a great deal of merriment and fun to the play, and the carol singers and strolling players stage "The Nativity," a scene from an old mystery play of the middle ages. The whole operetta has the setting and atmosphere of Medieval times.

As far as possible, the various characters will be taken by the same people as before, and the production will again be under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter. There will be a few additions and special features which will aid to round out the entire program as an ideal and free community entertainment long to be remembered.

DATES ARE CHOSEN FOR FARMERS WEEK

Farm Clubs Will Gather at East Lansing January 30-February 3

Dates for the annual gathering of the agricultural clubs of Michigan have been set for Jan. 30 to Feb. 2, when farmers' organizations from all parts of the state will meet at farmers week at Michigan State college.

Farmers week had its origin in the years when farmers' institutes were held in most of the counties of the state. Several speakers on agricultural subjects were sent from the college to meet groups of farmers who lived near enough to the meeting place so they could steer a horse and cutter through the snow drifts and still have time enough at the meeting to thaw-out before it was chate time.

The institutes became so popular and the demand for speakers so numerous that often it was impossible to send a member of the college staff who had technical training in the line of farm work of most interest to the audience. Crops men talked in fruit growing sections, livestock specialists discussed better pigs before groups of dairymen, and dairy husbandry professors told how to produce milk when the audience wanted to know the correct sprays for potatoes.

SOUTH BOARDMAN MAN GETS WARDEN OFFICE

Chester W. Bonny Succeeds the Late Henry Fike at Charlevoix

Chester W. Bonny of South Boardman, has been appointed by the Michigan department of conservation to succeed the late Henry Fike as game warden for the Charlevoix district.

Mr. Bonny, who received the highest grade at the examination held here, had completed a course at the school of instruction in Lansing since his appointment on December 5th, and has assumed his duties here.

He is making his headquarters at the home of Mrs. Henry Fike, 402 W. Upright Avenue.

DILLMAN WOULD CUT STRAITS AUTO FARES

Will Propose Fifty Per Cent Reduction to Legislature

A fifty per cent reduction in fares charged motorists for transporting their autos across the Straits of Mackinac will be recommended to the 1933 legislature by Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, he announced Monday morning.

Present schedules are fixed by statute so that the revenue pays for the operation of the state ferries and in addition covers interest charges on the investment and depreciation. Dillman proposes that the interest and depreciation charges be taken from the state highway funds and that the rates be lowered.

He said that under a new schedule autos which are now carried for $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 could be handled for $1.00 and $1.50.

POLAR BEARS WON ANOTHER VICTORY

GAYLORD THIRD VICTIM IN WEDNESDAY'S TILT

Polar Cubs Lose to Petoskey Bar-B-Q's in Prelim—Bears Play at Gaylord, Friday

The Polar Bears added another victory to their record last Wednesday evening by handing Gaylord independents a 31 to 21 trimming at the high school gymnasium for their third consecutive win of the season.

Gaylord's diminutive team, while fast and showing a good offense, were never a match for the rangy Polar Bears. Manager Gordon Todd used several combinations after his team had scored the first six points, and each aggregation managed to keep the margin of victory mounting.

Bears Led All the Way
The Polar Bears led 12 to 6 at the quarter, 18 to 9 at the half, and 24 to 15 at the close of the third period.

Supernaw and Dean Davenport again led the Charlevoix attack, each scoring 8 points. Beaudoin and Ikens each accounted for 4. Brown, Smith and Cooper 2 and Kipke 1. Gaylord's scoring was evenly divided among members of the team.

Cubs Lose Prelim

The Giles Bar-B-Q basketball team from Petoskey avenged a previous defeat on the local court by winning over the Polar Cubs 10 to 8 in the preliminary. Dombroski, with six points, was high for the winners, while Stroud, Supernaw, McCall and Wagner showed best for the losers.

Play Gaylord Return Friday

The Polar Bears play away from home for the first time this season Friday night. They will journey to Gaylord for a return game and, in all probability will drop the contest amid the pillars of the small Gaylord court. If they don't, the verdict will be a surprise to fans and members of the team alike.

REBEKAH LODGE SELECT NEW OFFICERS

Annual Election Held Tuesday Evening at I. O. O. F. Hall

Forty-two members were present at the regular meeting of Charlevoix Rebekah lodge, Tuesday evening. One new member was initiated and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Noble Grand, Olga Hendrickson; Vice Grand, Eleanor O'Neil; recording secretary, Blanche Smith; financial secretary, Prudence Yemmans; treasurer, Hazel Allers; Captain, Alice Anee.

The losing side in a membership campaign recently closed served delicious refreshments to the winners. Installation of the newly-elected officers will be held the first Wednesday in January.

DRIVES IN SECOND TO AVOID EXCESSIVE SPEED

Thomas K. Hill, 103, Minneclona, Michigan's oldest licensed automobile driver, explained how he avoided arrest for speeding or reckless driving, and admitted that piloting a machine was simple if you watched your top. "At 103 years a man has no business cutting corners," he said. "I like to be conservative. I drive my speed and the rest of the drivers can go as fast as they please. I'll never be arrested for speeding." The secret is, he revealed, that he always drives his car in second gear, and never exceeds 12 miles an hour.

MORE ROAD WORK FOR CHARLEVOIX

STATE TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR EMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Appropriation of $34,000.00 to Be Spent Next Year on M-66 and US-31 in This District

Promise of $34,000 to be expended in Charlevoix county during the first ten months of 1933 for highway work was given the Charlevoix delegation in attendance Monday at a state-wide meeting on employment relief sponsored by the Michigan committee for trade recovery at Traverse City.

Charlevoix county will be one of thirty-three in the lower peninsula to benefit from a $2,000,000 loan granted by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to Michigan for employment relief. The counties will pledge future federal aid money as collateral for the loan.

The Michigan state highway department, under whose direction expenditure of the money will be handled in cooperation with welfare committees of the various communities participating, is attempting to have the funds available by January 1, 1933.

Charlevoix county's share of the money will be spent on US-31 between Charlevoix and Bay Shore, and on M-66 between Charlevoix and East Jordan. The type of work to be undertaken will include grading, whittening, snow removal and underbrushing, with the understanding the work will be done as much as possible by hand labor.

The two highways in the west end of the county were selected to benefit from this emergency appropriation in an effort to distribute employment throughout the county. In the eastern portion, the relocation of US-131 during the coming winter and summer will provide additional work, and now, with additional funds available, the western portion will benefit also.

Attending the meeting from Charlevoix were H. A. Craig, Arthur Bergeson, Dr. C. J. Winder, A. L. Livingston and Jesse Smith.

BASKETBALL RULES MEET IS POSTPONED

Will Be Held Tuesday, December 20th, at Petoskey

The Northern Michigan basketball rules meeting, scheduled for Tuesday evening, has been postponed one week, and will be held the evening of Tuesday, December 20.

A. W. Thompson, state director of physical and health education, has been called to several southern cities this week and will be unable to make the Northern Michigan trip as planned.

The meeting at Petoskey December 20, will bring coaches and officials from schools all over the upper part of the lower peninsula. A similar meeting is booked for Cadillac on December 21. Mr. Thompson's letter states:

SCRAPS WITH BUCK DEER EAST JORDAN MAN HURT

Leslie Miles suffered severe bruises and abrasions when a buck deer he was feeding in East Jordan city park last Wednesday afternoon, suddenly attacked him. Alden Collins came to his rescue and fought the animal off.

LOCAL BASKETEERS DROP FIRST GAME

LOST 21 TO 16 VERDICT TO TRAVERSE TROJANS

Petoskey Regulars and Reserves Come Here Friday Evening for Initial Home Game

With accuracy on basket shooting the deciding factor, Charlevoix's Kipmen lost to Traverse Trojans 21 to 16 in their opening tilt at Traverse City last Friday night.

Both teams had possession of the ball their share of the time, but Traverse counted on their shots while Charlevoix was unable to locate the hoop.

Charlevoix battled their class B opponents practically on even terms in the initial period. The score was 6 and 5 in favor of the victors when the session closed, but in the second, the Trojans located the hoop for 10 points while holding Charlevoix to a goal and gift shot. The count at the half stood 16 to 8 with the Kipmen on the short end.

The third quarter was Charlevoix's best. When it looked as if the game was leveled because of the Trojan's big lead, Charlevoix stepped out and outscored their opponents 7 points to 3, coming within four points of tying the count. Could they have kept up the pace the outcome might have been different, but Traverse checked the rally in the final session, limiting them to a single free throw while adding a device to lengthen their lead.

Smith and Chew, with six points each, were best for Charlevoix. Kirby scored the other four on free throws. Seabright and Lichty led the Trojans scoring with eight each.

Score by quarters:

Charlevoix—5 7 1—13.
Traverse—6 10 3 2—21.

Petoskey Here Friday

The Kipmen take another fling at class B competition when they meet Petoskey's Northern on the local court Friday night. Petoskey lost their initial game with Boyne's veteran team, but it's too early in the season to predict results on past record, so Charlevoix may be expected to have their hands full. The bill calls for a double-header, with the reserves of the two schools opening the program.

CONSERVATION LAW MEET MAY BE HELD

Sportsmen Will Be Asked to Express Views on Laws

If Michigan sportsmen express assent, the department of conservation will sponsor a meeting to be held at Lansing some time this month when an opportunity will be given for a general discussion of conservation laws and recommendation for changes to the 1933 legislature.

Director George R. Hogarth has written invitations to a large number of sportsmen's organizations asking their reactions as to such a meeting.

"The department does not have a complete list of all hunting, fishing and other sportsmen's organizations in the state and as a result a few might not have received the mailed invitations," Director Hogarth said. "These clubs are not being slighted and we wish to include them in the general invitation."

COMMUNITY XMAS PROGRAM PLANNED

LEGION ARRANGES FOR VISIT BY SANTA CLAUS

Xmas Tree at Legion Hall Saturday, December 24—Free Movie at Palace Theatre—Next Day

That Old Santa Claus will make his annual visit to the children of Charlevoix and surrounding rural districts has been assured through efforts of the American Legion.

Following a precedent set several years ago, the Legion is sponsoring a community Christmas tree at their hall on East Garfield avenue, the afternoon of Saturday, December 24th.

Due to his many pressing engagements at this season, it was not without difficulty that the Legion was able to arrange with Old Santa for his visit here, but they finally managed. It will be remembered that a year ago he arrived by train. This year he may come by airplane, but regardless of the mode of transportation, his appearance at the appointed time is positively assured.

The usual distribution of gifts will close this happy afternoon for the kiddies.

Another happy event for the children is promised the following day, Sunday, December 25th. Following a custom of several years, Mrs. Elizabeth Moun, manager of the Palace theatre, has announced a free show for children under the age of 12 years. This annual children's party will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Parents are urged to arrange their plans so that the children may be able to participate in these Yuletide entertainments. Assurance of these two fine affairs for the kiddies, along with parties and programs at the school and churches, promise a Yuletide season which will long be remembered by the kiddies.

COMMERCE ASSN. MEETING FRIDAY

ANNUAL BANQUET AT LEGION HALL AT 6:30

Reports of Committee and Officers, Election of Officers, Etc., Important Business

Interest of Charlevoix business men centered this week in the annual meeting of the association of commerce, to be held Friday evening, December 16th, at the Legion hall on East Garfield avenue.

Plans call for a banquet dinner to be served at 6:30 o'clock by ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary. The business session will follow.

Of outstanding interest will be the reports of various committees in charge of entertainment features of the past summer season. From these reports one may measure the success of such events as the Michigan Riviera tennis championships, the Great Lakes golf tournament staged at the Charlevoix Golf club, and other features of a program designed to furnish entertainment for summer visitors to this region.

Other reports of interest will include that of the association's treasurer and its corresponding secretary, K. V. Tyler, who has charge of the city information bureau along with duties as manager of the department of state license sales for this city. Mr. Tyler's report, showing the inquiries received and results obtained through direct contact with prospective tourists, is always of interest.

The election of officers this year will see at least one positive change. George Bernan, who has served the association as secretary-treasurer for several years, has moved to Newberry, leaving this office vacant. The duties of the office have been assumed a greater portion of the past year by the corresponding secretary. Other present officers are: president, Dr. C. J. Winder; vice-president, A. L. Livingston, Maitin Black and J. M. Foster.

All those interested in the promotion of Charlevoix's resort and civic welfare, are invited to attend this annual meeting.

POMONA GRANGE WILL MEET NEXT SATURDAY

Afternoon and Evening Session With Deer Lake Grange

An afternoon and evening session of Charlevoix county Pomona grange has been announced for Saturday, December 17th.

The meeting will be held with Deer Lake grange with cooperative dinner at 12:30 and supper at 6:30 o'clock. Inasmuch as this to be a Master's program, many interesting numbers have been crunched to start the new year out with enthusiasm. Several interesting discussions will take place in the afternoon.

All members of the executive committee are urged to be present, as there is work for them to do, and all other committees are to give their reports at this meeting. Each Pomona officer is asked to give a report of their office, and every subordinate lecturer is urged to attend so plans may be perfected for still better programs for the coming year and a lecturer's exhibit next fall.

Visitors are welcome to attend the evening program.

SUPERVISORS VOTED REFUNDING OF BONDS

Action Taken Because of Uncertainty of New Tax Limitation

Meeting in special session last Wednesday afternoon, Charlevoix county supervisors made arrangement for refunding of $192,000 in highway bonds which fall due February 1, 1933.

The interest and sinking fund committee was authorized to confer with the various bondholders regarding their willingness to hold the bonds until funds from the Horton act, which is expected to yield the county $30,000 yearly, are available to retire them. If this plan succeeds it will not be necessary to refund the loan.

Wednesday's action was taken because of the uncertainty of the exact meaning of the tax limitation amendment passed last month becoming effective the next day.

If advice could solve the agricultural situation the people on the farm would be millionaires.

REPEAL BALLOT IN STATE TWO TO ONE

FINAL ELECTION FIGURES SHOW VOTE RESULTS

Amendments Adopted Took Effect Last Thursday—Tax Limitation Effective Next Year

Michigan voters repealed the dry clause in the state constitution and directed creation of a state liquor control commission by a vote of 1,022,508 to 475,265, the state board of canvassers have announced.

The vote was the first expression of prohibition sentiment in the state to be taken since 1919 when the electors turned down a proposal to legalize light wines and beer by a vote of 322,603 to 530,123. The voting last Nov. 8 was more than two to one in favor of repeal.

The formal announcement of the vote, by coincidence, comes on the day the amendment goes into effect legally. Actually, it will not become operative until congress and the legislature amend existing enforcement laws or the 18th amendment to the national constitution.

Three other important amendments to the Michigan constitution also were approved Nov. 8 and went into effect last Thursday, the board of canvassers announced.

The amendment limiting the tax on real estate for all purposes to $15 per $1,000 valuation was approved by a vote of 671,124 to 641,962. The fact that its provisions going into operation last Thursday caused a last minute rush of state municipalities to secure approval of bond issues which may be retired by taxes levied in addition to the $15 limit.

Six of these municipalities were given permission to issue bonds amounting to $1,224,900.00. The amendment provides that the limit shall not apply to public debt incurred before it becomes operative. The full force of the provision will not be felt by the taxpayer until next year, however, since the amendment states that it shall not apply to taxes levied in 1932.

The other two amendments were passed by the following vote, the canvassers announced:

Permitting only taxpayers to vote on bond issues—for, 642,142; no, 572,625.

Permitting electors to vote after living 20 days in their city. (The previous requirement was 20 days residence in their wards)—for 662,588; against, 476,849.

Four of the proposals were defeated at the November election and the canvassed vote reported is:

Constitutional reapportionment—yes, 520,740; no, 665,766.

Constitutional $3,000 tax exemption—yes, 445,141; no, 763,311.

Constitutional prohibiting pardoning of murderers—yes, 590,260; no, 616,583.

Referendum on legislative act prohibiting sale of colored oleomargarine—yes, 432,966; no, 754,372.

through the years the work inaugurated at that early day.

The crusade began in the little town of Hillsboro, Ohio, December 23, 1873, when, following a prayer meeting held in the Presbyterian church, 70 women led by Mrs. Eliza Thompson, formed a procession and marched up main street calling at drug stores, hotel and saloons where liquor was sold. "With persuasion, prayer and song" they succeeded in getting the number of drinking places reduced from 13 to one drug store, one hotel and two saloons "and they sold very carefully."

In fifty days the crusade "drove the liquor traffic, horse, foot and druggist, out of 250 towns and villages, increased by 100 per cent the attendance at church and decreased that at the criminal courts in almost like proportion."

Many incidents were related in connection with the crusade showing the daring courage and persistent faith of these women of long ago who gained for themselves, without intending it, the pioneer place in the woman's temperance movement that now belts the globe.

Mrs. George Brown led the devotionals after reading the 46th Psalm. Mrs. S. M. Rife conducted the installation service. An amendment to the constitution was read which will be voted on at the next meeting. If adopted this will make the year close October 1st instead of January 1st.

Mrs. Usher read some encouraging words from the state president, urging the women to the task of teaching the truth about alcohol to the children and training the leaders for tomorrow. "No cause is settled until it is settled right. There may be delay but there can be no defeat."

Michigan Industry Enlists 1,280 Boats for Purely Commercial Use

Commercial fishermen operating under Michigan licenses have invested more than four million dollars in boats, nets and other fishing equipment, a report issued by the fish division of the department of conservation shows.

Buildings and grounds hold the largest value with $1,517,000 invested. Boats used by commercial fishermen are valued at $1,129,000 and nets at $1,399,000.

The Problem of the Railroads

THE difficulty of solving the railroad problem has been greatly increased by the development of competing means of transportation by highway, waterway and airway, which are aided by subsidies by our national and state governments, and by exemption from such regulation as is applied to the railroads. The importance of the railroads to the economic welfare of the country is such that constructive efforts to solve the problem must be made at once, confronted as we are by evidence of the effects produced upon the entire industry and commerce of the country by the decline in railroad earnings.

THE SERVICE OF THE RAILWAYS IS INDISPENSABLE FOR HANDLING THE GREAT BULK OF OUR COMMERCE.

HERE are the facts as to the decline in railway earnings during this depression. The gross earnings in 1929 were $6,360,000,000 while in 1932 they will approximate only $3,200,000,000. Railroad operating expenses are 45 per cent less than they were in 1929, a decline of $2,052,000,000. This was effected by the reduction in the number of employees by about 620,000 and in the total wages paid them about $1,325,000,000. Purchases of fuel, materials and equipment have been cut about $1,430,000,000. The total reduction in wages paid, and purchases, exceeds $2,750,000,000.

THE recovery of the railways is essential to the recovery of national prosperity and they cannot recover under government policies that promote every kind of competition with them and at the same time impose every kind of restriction upon the steam lines to prevent them from meeting this competition.

EXPERIENCE AND COMMON SENSE DICTATE THAT EQUALIZATION OF TAXATION AND EQUITABLE REGULATION ARE NEEDED IN ALL BRANCHES OF TRANSPORTATION.

IMMEDIATE, vigorous action by national, state and local executives and legislators is required. They alone have the opportunity and the power to enact and enforce the remedial legislation on taxation and regulation so necessary in this extreme exigency.

THROUGH forthright action the tide can be turned, and by bringing back the railroads' purchasing power, and by their larger employment of labor, all industry will be quickened simultaneously. Every man, woman and child in the country would be benefited by this correction of basic causes.

TB SANITORIUM TO BE DELAYED

FUNDS AVAILABLE TOO LOW TO START PROJECT

Commission Names Committee to Investigate Sites But No Building Expected This Year

Because the state malt tax has failed to produce anticipated revenue, construction of Northern Michigan's proposed new tuberculosis sanatorium will not be started before the Democratic administration takes office January 2.

In special session Thursday afternoon, the state tuberculosis sanatorium commission named a committee to investigate possible sites for the institution, but instructed that group that its report would not be needed for several weeks.

The commission said that it recognized the need for sanatorium facilities in Northern Michigan, but said that funds for its construction are not available.

The 1931 legislature in passing the malt tax specified that all collections after last July 1 up to $100,000 should be placed in a hospital construction fund. The commissioners learned that there is only $209,000 available instead of the previously reported $300,000.

Addition of the federal malt tax to the burden carried by the brew project is blamed for a sharp reduction in receipts. The $209,000 collections since July 1 this year are compared with $453,000 during the same period a year ago.

The committee which will make a tour of inspection of possible sites is composed of Dr. J. D. Bruce of Ann Arbor, Dr. E. J. O'Brien of Detroit, and Schuyler Marshall of St. John. They will inspect possibilities at Traverse City, Gaylord, Grayling, Breckenridge, Frankfort, East Jordan, Petoskey, Central Lake, Cadillac and Mio.

KEEP IT HAPPY TIME

Thanksgiving is over and now we contemplate the pre-Christmas month, perhaps the jolliest, happiest and most exciting thirty days of the entire year.

Christmas, being based on the birth of a child, is pre-eminently a children's holiday. Looking back on our youth the Christmas seasons were the happiest of all and it must be difficult for the home without children to catch the same holiday excitement and anticipation which exists where children are.

Just a thought comes to us as we swing into the Christmas season. Let the children in on every joyous part of Christmas but keep them out of the calculating stage management this year. Let them think of Santa Claus as always being well heeled and with no dollar marks on his red uniform. There is no use talking depression to children. They can't do anything about it and it would only tend to tarnish the Christmas tinsel for them.

The coming four weeks should be joyous ones and they will be, too, if we will only make them so. It's a debt we owe to the children and to ourselves for none of us, even the youngest, have so many Christmas seasons left that we can afford to waste even one.

TAX REDUCTION SHOULD BE AIM

"IF IT'S CITIES SERVICE... IT HAS TO BE GOOD"

One of a series of plain talks on petroleum by Cities Service experts.

GASOLENE GOES TO THE "DOCTOR" AS A CHECK AGAINST BAD ODOR

You probably never gave it a thought—but odor is important to the reputable gasoline refiner. For the crude oils from which gasoline is made contain sulphur. And some sulphur compounds, such as might be present, give a highly sickening odor.

Cities Service chemists don't leave the matter of odor to the nose alone. They make every day's run from Cities Service refineries come up to visual chemical test, even though its odor is apparently clean and sweet.

As a test, they mix a sample of gasoline with a special chemical solution called "doctor." This is violently shaken—and a pinch of "flowers of sulphur" is added. The slightest discoloration of the liquid, or the slightest dimming of the bright yellow of the "flowers of sulphur" condemns not only the sample but the whole run of gasoline as "sour" and unfit for sale.

The chemists who make this test have only one boss—the public. So they can reject, and do reject, any product which their tests show might fall below Cities Service standards in any one of a dozen phases of performance.

Because this is true—and because they put every product through a whole list of checks and tests—you can put complete faith in the Cities Service emblem and this statement: "If it's Cities Service, it has to be good."

A penny in your hand....

What was your first adventure as a customer before the world? Possibly as a very tiny tot... with a penny in your fist; and your nose flattened against a show window. Long you debated with yourself—cocoanut strips, or licorice pellets, or chocolate soldiers? It was serious business, for you and the storekeeper.

But he put his best values before you, and in the end everybody was happy—you, because you'd made a satisfactory purchase; he, because he'd made a satisfied customer.

In that transaction blossomed a buying acumen which no doubt has helped to serve you ever since. Likewise, the aim-to-please policy of that storekeeper is to this very day the golden rule of successful merchants and manufacturers. Read any of their advertisements and see. Could they afford to spend money for advertising space and then disappoint you? Of course not. The goods they advertise are their best offerings. They count on them to win both your immediate and your continued patronage.

When there's something you need or want—or might want if attractively made known to you—clutch your pennies and greenbacks in either hand; study the advertisements in this paper; and surely you'll be guided in the direction that leads to the most for your money.

The 1933 Michigan plates have black numerals on a white background while Ohio is using black numerals on an orange background. The closest approach to the Michigan plates is the 1933 Minnesota plates which have black figures on a silver background. Illinois and Wisconsin plates for the coming year are using the same color combination that Michigan and Ohio used in 1932. This may cause some confusion in those states.

METHODIST CHURCH

Dec. 18—Topic, "State Law—Others—on Church Doors."

In the vesper service, led by Miss Naomi Block, instead of a collection, everybody brings a gift, either a toy or some small, useful article, to go later to the Indian Mission. A Christmas lesson.

The club has its annual Christmas party Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Frank Bird. A playlet, "The Jewish Baby in the Hospital," will be given. All are to bring the presents as usual, later to go to the Indian Mission. Juvenile Christmas program will be given Saturday evening, December 24. A detailed program of the beautiful cantata, "The Lord's Anointed," to be given by the high school chorus, here and in Petoskey, will appear in the next issue of this paper. For Monday, December 26th.

Beauty may be an asset to a young woman starting a business career, but unless she uses her brains there won't be many raises in the pay envelope.

Christmas Program

This year's Christmas program is one of an entirely different nature than any that has been given in recent years. The music for the program is under the direction of Miss Atkinson. Mrs. Dowd is general chairman, Miss Milner is taking care of the staging and costumes, Miss Ferneau is preparing the decorations and Mr. Sawyer and Mrs. Dowd have charge of the program.

The students on various committees are: Lila Tillotson, Lloyd Arnold, Harold Potter, Hyraee Laaphear, Marie Novak, Lewis Greenman, Margaret Gallagher, Ernestine Chew, Emerald Chew, Esther Lou Fochtman, Gordon Bartlett, Dorothy Staley, Steve Serano and Rose Dodd.

The main feature of the program will be a pantomime of Van Dyke's "Other Wiseman." It is believed that a program of this type will add to the dignity of the Christmas season and a large turnout is hoped for.

New seating arrangement has been provided that each class will have a certain section of the chairs on the floor. It is hoped that the parents and friends of the students will accept our cordial invitation and come to the gymnasium on Wednesday, December 21, at 2:30 o'clock. Seats will be provided for them in the balcony.

The 8th grade English classes have been enjoying writing Christmas stories. The following was chosen as also marked by legends and stories of the past. One beautiful legend is that St. Basil converted the German tribe from their worship of Thor to Christianity, and their "Thunder Oak," under which human sacrifices were made, was replaced by another tree dedicated to love and good deeds.

Many lands claim to have started the custom of the lighted Christmas tree, but it has long been common in Germany.

One story of the origin of the lighted Christmas tree is that, Martin Luther, on his way home on Christmas eve, was filled with wonder at the beauty of the Christmas stars and tried to describe the scene to his wife. Utterly unable to express his emotions in words, he went out and brought in a fir tree, lighted small candles and placed them upon the branches as a symbol. "This," he said, "is like the Christmas sky." Thus the Christmas tree.

Dramatics

Last Tuesday the C. H. S. drama club witnessed an interesting meeting. The president opened the meeting and Ruth Kruger followed with a report on David Bellasco's "Theatre Through the Stage Door." A resume of "The Cat and the Canary" was then given by Lloyd Arnold.

The last feature of the program was the dramatization of "The Fourth Mrs. Phillips." Paul McCartney took the part of Mr. Phillips, an actor, and Marjorie Carey, Marjorie Partridge and Julia Glados represented the three Mrs. Phillips respectively. Doris Chvatil made a very charming Dolly Harrison who realized the mistake she was making in marrying Mr. Phillips and thus avoided becoming the "Fourth Mrs. Phillips." The servant's part was taken by Crawford Norton.

The drama club has appointed a committee to photograph a resume of each meeting so that every member might have a copy of all that takes place at these Tuesday night meetings.

The Student Government Club

This club, which is one of the activity classes, is working for opportunities to function for the good of the school, in work that are not served or provided for by other clubs.

The committee, headed by Homer Struthers, is this week working out a system of conducting the pupils in the study hall, which, when completed, will become uniform for all the study periods.

Junior High Dramatics

Miss Milner's dramatic club now has 38 members. Jean Campbell is president and Esther Lou Fochtman is secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will have the spirit of Christmas. A committee has been appointed to read a short Christmas play and selections from well known Christmas stories.

Junior High Honor Roll

Those students who are on the honor roll are as follows: 9th grade,

GIRLS DON'T BE SKINNY!
—GET SOME CURVES!!
Fill out those thin places and get the pretty curves men admire. Take Vinol (iron tonic) and you'll be surprised how your figure improves. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

Adeline Hellinger and Clare Beattie, 8th grade, Jeanne Campbell, Esther Lou Fochtman, Anna Ilgman, Marjorie Miller, Billie Smith, Mildred Withers, Robert Wood and Marguerite Young; 7th grade, Florence Palmer and Dorothea Taylor.

Local History Club

This club, sponsored by Miss Ferneau, has a membership of thirty and meets for a half hour every Tuesday and Friday morning. Last Friday the following officers were elected: chairman, Steve Serano; program committee, Irene Celler, Lila Tillotson, Thad Pearl; collective material committee, Hazel Potter, Myra Thomson and Ben Yettaw. The work which has been planned for the club for the next few weeks is the reading of the story "A Child of the Sea" and "Life Among the Mormons" by Elizabeth Whitney Williams, a well known Charlevoix resident.

Foreign Correspondence Club

The foreign correspondence club, sponsored by Miss Ferneau, and meeting every Wednesday, elected the following officers: chairman, Lila Tillotson; program committee, Elizabeth Dhaeleer, chairman, Delora Richardson and Christian Haasen. The last two meetings have been conducted by Marjorie Newman. She has written to several girls in foreign countries and has received answers. She showed some pictures she received and told some of the interesting things written in the letters.

The Pep Club

The pep club is busy planning a big mass meeting in the gym Thursday prior to our first home game, which is with Petoskey Friday evening. The club is seeking to develop a better cheering group for this season.

A letter was received by Mr. Bush from the University of Michigan, saying that as a result of the inspection of the Charlevoix schools system early this fall, the diploma relations existing between the University of Michigan and the high school will be continued for another three-year period—ending June 30, 1936.

This is the highest recognition that can be given by the University to any high school and this will ultimately mean the recognition by the North Central association for the same period of time.

Band Concert

The Charlevoix school band will give a Christmas concert on December 20th at 8 o'clock at the gymnasium. Admission is free and the public is cordially invited to attend this evening of entertainment.

The program is as follows:
"Ode Beautiful Day".....Hildreth
"Men of Valor," March.....Klohr
"Fancy Free," trombone solo.....Smith

"Love In Idleness".....Macheth
"Pizzicato Polka".....Strauss
"Quel Suona" (What Sound).....Mozart

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 11.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (1 Cor. 10:1): "Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.56): "As the children of Israel were guided triumphantly through the Red Sea, the dark ebbing and flowing tides of human fear—as they were led through the wilderness, walking wearily through the great desert of human hopes, and anticipating the promised joy—so shall the spiritual idea guide all right desires in their passage from sense to Soul, from a material sense of existence to the spiritual, up to the glory prepared for them who love God."

"If you but leave your heart ajar,
A Christmas gift to win,
Some blessed angel from some star
Will softly enter in,
To hang upon the hallowed place
A portrait of the Saviour's face."

December is the "joy month," Joy month because of the coming of Jesus into the world. This month offers a ample opportunity for setting forth the gospel He came to bring. For some time past we have delivered a Christmas message each Sunday in the month. In keeping with that plan we will use for our subject next Sunday morning, "The First Christmas Service." In Charlevoix Mrs. Stelter has planned special Christmas music as follows:

Prelude—"Finale from Sonata Op.
53," Schytte. Lola Fessenden and Mrs. Stelter.

Introit—"Holy Is the Lord of Hosts," Gaul. Chorus.

Anthem—"And the Glory of the Lord," from Handel's "Messiah."
Chorus: Miss Helen Parker, organist;
Miss Lola Fessenden, pianist; Mrs.
Florine Stelter, precentor.

Offertory—"Harp and Voices,"
Dr. Mason. Men's chorus.

The junior church will meet next Sunday at 5 o'clock and Helena Laksen will lead. The trustees, deacons and deaconesses held a business meeting Monday afternoon and planned a Christmas party that will take place Wednesday, December 28th. As we did last year, the junior church will sing Christmas carols during an early part of Christmas Eve.

The senior Christian Endeavor held its first meeting last Sunday evening. This group will also sing

Christmas carols. The C. E. has taken upon itself the duty of publishing a church news sheet. This will be in connection with the Sunday bulletin.
Miss Esther O'Neill was elected as editor-in-chief, with co-editor, Jean Graves. Dorothy McCartney, Thelma Swanson and Shirley Partridge. The news will deal especially with the different departments of the church and Sunday school. The first issue will probably appear Christmas day.

The Sunday school is planning a Christmas program. It will be a program in which the spirit of worship will predominate. The exact date will be set Thursday night at the monthly meeting of the workers' council. Mrs.
VanAllenburg, Mrs. H. Craig and Dorothy Conner have charge of the service. In place of exchanging gifts each class will fill one of more handouts, bring them, and afterward turn them over to the welfare committee of the Lesson.

CITY LOOKS INTO TAX PROPOSITION

PROBE INTO TAX LIMITATION WITH STATE EXPERT

Find New One and One-Half Mill Limitation Falls Way Short of Actual Needs

Harold C. Smith, executive secretary of the Michigan Municipal League, met with the city council Tuesday evening for a discussion of the tax situation resulting from passage of the 15 mill tax limitation amendment November 8.

Through similar meetings throughout the state, Mr. Smith is compiling information regarding the tax needs of every municipality in order to work out a tax program to place before the next legislature.

After threshing the matter over, it was found that Charlevoix, like most every other Michigan city, is entirely at sea concerning the working of the amendment limiting taxation to one and one-half mills. This year the county will raise slightly over 25 mills for county, school and state taxes. Add this to the 10 mill city tax and you have 35 mills, which is about 18 mills more than the law allows under the new amendment.
And, with the possible exception of the schools, operating expenses have undergone drastic cuts. It appears 15 mills will fall way short of filling the bill.

In the first place no one seems to know how the one and one-half mill tax should be divided between state, county, school district and city. The entire one and one-half mill tax will be for just slightly over the need of 14 mills for schools, leaving no provision to care for revenues needed for state, county and city.

All over the state municipalities and other units of government are at a loss as to where revenue for necessary needs can be obtained, and Charlevoix is no exception.

TAKING STATE OWNED YULE TREES HALTED

Officers Ordered to Guard Against Trespassing This Year

Conservation officers and other field men of the department of conservation have been notified by Director George R. Hogarth to give no attention to trespassing on state owned land for the purpose of taking Christmas trees.

Cutting and selling of Christmas trees has reached the proportion of an industry in Michigan, Director Hogarth said, and many tree merchants disregard land ownership and haul away thousands of young trees.

In past years it has been reported that large numbers of trees in state forests and other publicly owned land have been removed and sold and officers have been ordered to halt such trespassing.

Notes of the Orchard

An apple orchard makes an ideal range for growing children.

One kind of sweet cherry planted along seldom bears much fruit—sometimes none. The blossoms need to be fertilized by those of another sort.

A strawberry patch can be cultivated more than two years if it is kept clean, well cultivated and fertilized, and if the old plants are removed each year in favor of the strong young plants.

The cheapest melons are expensive when used as substitutes for fresh fruits and vegetables.

The finest currants are produced at the base of one-year-old shoots and on one-year-old spurs arising from two-year-old wood and on spurs on three-year-old wood.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The normal program of last week was especially rich in variety of special numbers that appeared. On Tuesday, Dr. Everett of Western Teachers' college, gave a talk on "The New Education, and the Teacher." On Thursday Dr. Davis of the state department of health discussed "Mouth Hygiene." On Friday, through the efforts of one of the students, Mr. Day, the class had a most unusual opportunity of hearing
Dr. Boodagh, once of Persia, now of Boys City, talk on "Persian and Oriental Education."

Real Christmas spirit prevailed in the room. Christmas stories, read by the different students, samples of Christmas gifts, Christmas art work, festive decorations arranged by Mrs.
Santa Claus and assistants, and a real Christmas tree provided by Santa Claus himself, all add to the feeling of good-will.

These are questions that are being discussed in the physiology class. Wouldn't you

WINDER RETAINED COMMERCE HEAD

RE-ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

Will Call Public Meeting to Decide
Sewage Disposal Plan—Talk
Over Tax Situation

A small but enthusiastic gathering of local business men were present at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, held last Friday evening at the Legion hall.

Following a fine banquet dinner served by members of the Legion Auxiliary, the business session opened with reading of minutes of the last meeting and the report of the corresponding secretary, F. V. Tyler.

Dr. Winder Re-Elected
Proceeding next with the election of officers, Dr. C. J. Winder, who has headed the association successfully for the past three years, was re-elected unanimously. Charles Heise and Robert Bridge were chosen vice-presidents, and F. V. Tyler was elected to assume the combined duties of the offices of secretary and treasurer.

Discuss Summer Plans
A discussion of plans for the next summer season brought out suggestions for a home-coming. Cooperation has been promised by the Charlevoix Clubs of Detroit and Flint, whose members urged such an event following their successful get-together meeting last summer. A proposal to keep business places open and sponsor free entertainment features on Wednesday evenings during the next summer season was given consideration, and continuance of tennis, golf and boating features which have become annual summer entertainment features in Charlevoix was given approval.

Would Start Sewage Disposal
Major Arthur Bergeon forwarded a plan, which, if approved, will alleviate local unemployment. Citing present economic conditions and lack of labor for local men as reasons for quick action, he suggested starting work on the construction of a sewage disposal system at the earliest possible date. He told the assemblage the city had the plans and specifications for the project, and a balance of $36,000 in the electric light fund to finance the work without borrowing.

At Mr. Bergeon's suggestion, a committee composed of Martin Block, P. D. Campbell and Wm. P. Hicken was appointed to make arrangements for a mass meeting to be held in the near future to feel out public opinion on the matter.

Discuss Tax Situation
Following a general discussion of the situation brought about by adoption of the 15-mill tax limitation amendment, it was voted a committee of the association of commerce be appointed to join representatives of the city council and board of education to meet in January with the board of supervisors for a discussion on division of tax money under the new law. If possible, a state representative will be procured for this meeting also.

Following is the annual report of the corresponding secretary:

While no accurate record was kept of them, verbal inquiries for information at the bureau seemed to show a slight falling off from the number of the previous years, though not as much difference was apparent as might have been expected.

From January 1 to August 15, 1932, 175 inquiries were answered by letter; about 100 inquiries for accommodations were listed and a copy mailed to each of nine hotels. Thirty-four letters of inquiry regarding employment were answered. Charlevoix's attractive descriptive folder was mailed out to the number of 2,062 and 500 map booklets were also distributed among the towns of the region. A considerable saving in postage was effected this year, despite the rise in postal rates, by mailing the booklets in unsealed envelopes, separate from any typewritten matter. Probably another 500 pieces of literature descriptive of Charlevoix were distributed at the information bureau.

As respects the work of the department of state, a three-year tabulation of license plate sales shows the following:

That 1,049 sets of passenger plates were sold in 1930; 1,066 in 1931 and 1,031 in 1932.

That 234 sets of commercial license plates were sold in 1930; 226 in 1931, and 217 in 1932.

That no trailer license plates were sold in 1930; 39 were sold in 1931, and 76 in 1932.

That the total number of sets of license plates of all kinds sold in 1930 was 1,287; in 1931, 1,341, and in 1932, 1,324. It is interesting to note that between the figures for 1931 and 1932 there was only a falling off in 1932 of seven applications. Title transactions, both in connection with and separate from the sale of license plates, totaled 233 in 1930, 372 in 1931, and 273 in 1932. In 1930, applications for title for new cars alone totaled 122; in 1931, there were 86 such applications, and in 1932 they fell off to 55.

From May 13, 1931, to date, 738 automobile operator license applications were made out and recorded in this office and 56 chauffeur license applications—a total of 1,107 recorded applications. These were all for (Continued on page 4.)

POLAR BEARS DEFEATED GAYLORD

TOOK RETURN TILT FRIDAY BY 30 TO 22 COUNT

Play Manistee Iron Workers Here
Dec. 23, Alma College Dec. 28,
and Midland Dec. 31

Continuing their victory march, the Charlevoix Polar Bears defeated Gaylord in a return tilt played at Gaylord last Friday evening by a 30 to 22 count.

It was their fourth consecutive win, and the result was not only a surprise to fans but the team itself, for a defeat on Gaylord's small court would not have been unexpected.

In Friday night's tilt, Gaylord never had a chance with a Polar Bear line-up which averaged better than 6 foot 3 inches. Figuratively speaking, the game was completely over Gaylord's head. The Bears started right after the opening whistle to pile up a lead. They were once out in front by a 16 to 4 count and closed the half with a lead of 20 to 12. Only in the late periods, with victory certain, did the Bears slacken their pace and allow Gaylord to score.

"Bill" Supernaw again led the Polar Bears in scoring with 15 points. Bens had 9, Davenport 4 and Brown 2. McCoy was best for Gaylord.

Have Heavy Schedule
The Polar Bears are tackling a heavy schedule during the holiday season. Friday night of this week they renew a rivalry started several years ago when they take on the fast-traveling Manistee Iron Workers at the local gymnasium. Manistee is one of the few teams that has been able to keep matters somewhere near square with the Polar Bears.

On Wednesday evening, December 28th, the schedule calls for a tilt with the regular Alma college quintet. This contest promises to be a real test for the Polar Bears. Alma has one of the strongest aggregations of the smaller Michigan colleges and are out in a barn-storming expedition to win every game.

The following Saturday night, December 31st, Midland comes here for the first of a two-game contract.

BI-CITY CHOIRS UNITE HERE MONDAY EVENING

Prominent Charlevoix and Petoskey Musicians Will Present "The Lord's Anointed"

Program details have been announced for the beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Lord's Anointed" by Lorenz, which will be presented in the Charlevoix Methodist church, Monday evening, December 26th, at 8 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Ray O'Brien.

The same cast will repeat the production in Emmanuel Episcopal church, Petoskey, the following Wednesday evening at the same hour.

The combined choirs of these two churches, assisted by singers from other churches of both cities and Mrs. Mildred McArthur of Flint, will give the public one of the finest musical services ever heard in this region. Music of the cantata has been pronounced the most beautiful ever attempted here.

The vested choir will number over forty in addition to two violins, cornet, piano and organ. The soloists will be Mrs. R. Leo Brown, Lawrence Foley, Garnet Williams, Claude Greenway, Mrs. Mildred McArthur, Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd and H. W. Kirby. Quartettes for men's voices will be taken by Ralph Young, Lawrence Foley, Garnet Williams, Claude Greenway, C. R. Tanner and Alexander Doherty.

Mrs. McArthur will sing the soprano recitative, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," from the oratorio "Messiah," Handel's greatest masterpiece. Mrs. Brown's solo will be "The Angel's Song," with violin obligato by Mrs. Earl Kneal, who, together with David Cohen, will be the violinists. Mr. Cohen's solo will be "Rejoice" by Wieniawski, his number being followed by Mrs. McArthur's.

Mr. Cohen, a recent addition to the musical talent of our neighboring city, will be recognized as a real professional, and his playing will be a delight to all hearing him. Mrs. Kneal is also a violinist of finest skill and taste. She will appear in the obligato number.

Mrs. Virginia Block will play the cornet. Mrs. A. C. Bebling will be at the piano, and Mrs. Ray O'Brien at the organ.

The Methodist church extends a cordial invitation to those in other churches to attend their Petoskey friends have been very courteous and all should hear them. The offering for the Methodist children's home will not be expected of guests, but from Methodists only.

The nice thing about being a man is you don't have to stay home after you wash your head.

CHARLEVOIX WON PETOSKEY GAME

HANDS NORTHMEN 23 TO 7 DEFEAT FRIDAY NIGHT

Regulars Showed Superiority in All Departments—Reserves Snowed Under 47 to 8

Making their first appearance before home fans in the local gym last Friday evening, Charlevoix's high school eagles scored a decisive 23 to 7 victory over the class B Petoskey Northmen.

The Kipmen, showing a decided improvement since their appearance at Traverse City the previous week, were superior to the green, inexperienced Petoskey team in every department.

Taking the lead on Chew's deuce soon after the opening whistle, they piled up additional points through every session. Petoskey never completely solved Charlevoix's shifty passing attack, and were unable to locate the hoop when they did have opportunities.

The Kipmen led 6 to 2 at the close of the first period, counting on Chew's goal, a deuce and free toss by Smith and Kirby's gift shot. Riley, Petoskey forward, made a field goal for their lone score. Chew, Anne and Kirby contributed goals in the second period as Petoskey went scoreless, giving the Kipmen a 12 to 2 advantage at the half.

Petoskey scored five points to Charlevoix's six in the third period, their best showing during the game. White connected for two deuces and Hegener added a gift shot. For Charlevoix, Kirby scored a pair of goals and Chew a single. Petoskey went scoreless again in the fourth period, while the Kipmen counted on Anne's two goals and Potter's free throw.

Charlevoix's scoring was almost evenly divided among three players. Kirby counting 7, Chew and Anne 6 each. Smith had three and Potter one. White led the visitors with four. Charlevoix was successful on 3 out of 5 attempts from the foul line, while Petoskey counted 1 out of 5. John Ferez of Traverse City, refereed the contest.

Petoskey Reserves Won
Petoskey's reserves evened up the evening's results by running roughshod over Charlevoix reserves for a 47 to 8 victory. With Gile and Lesher leading the way with 15 points each, the visiting, second-stringers made the contest a free-for-all scoring spree. Upton had 8 and Braske 7 for the visitors.

All were armed.

In their escape, officers claim they stole automobiles at Marcelona and Lake City.

Lyle Barnes, the other escapee, was returned recently from St. Petersburg, Fla., and sentenced to Jackson prison for rape.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING SATURDAY

WILL BE AT LEGION HALL AT 2:30 O'CLOCK

Christmas Tree and Gift for Every Child Promised Under Sponsorship of the Legion

Saturday of this week will be a great day for Charlevoix youngsters, for Santa Claus is coming.

With a jingle of sleigh bells, the good old saint will whirl through town on his way to the American Legion hall where he will distribute presents to the boys and girls who will greet him there at 2:30 p. m. There will be a tree at the hall and a present for every tot.

The Christmas celebration for the city, this year, as formerly, is under the auspices of the local Legion post. The Legion has also established gift barrels and boxes in the various stores and the groceries, canned goods, etc., that have been thus accumulated will be given out to the needy at a later date—possibly sometime next week.

Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226 is merely following out what is to be the national policy of the Legion this year and that is to see to it, with the cooperation of the respective municipalities, that every child has a Christmas. While the grown-ups are bearing up with the present distressful conditions in whatever way they can, it is yet unthinkable that the children should be deprived of all the Christmas joys.

On Monday evening, the post auxiliary held a Christmas party for children of Legion members. A pot-luck supper was served at 6 o'clock and was much enjoyed by the children and the Legion members who were guests of the auxiliary.

COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

CHURCHES UNITE TO PRESENT CHRISTMAS OPERETTA

Eighty in Cast of "The Magi's Gift," to Be Given at High School Gymnasium

Rehearsals have been completed for the beautiful and impressive Christmas operetta, "The Magi's Gift," which will be presented in the high school gymnasium Thursday evening, December 22, at 8 o'clock.

The catholic and protestant churches of Charlevoix have united in sponsoring the entertainment. A cast of eighty people, all of whom have given their time and energy to make this community affair a success, will appear in the cast.

The scene of the story is laid in medieval England on Christmas eve. In the cathedral there is a shrine believed by many to contain the crown and scarlet robe once worn by Caspar, one of the Three Wise Men. Tradition says that once each year at the Christmas season, Caspar appears again on earth, wearing his scarlet robe and jeweled crown, and walks up and down the highways giving a gift of gold and a heavenly blessing to all who chance to meet him, just as he brought a gift to the little King so long ago.

Elsbeth, the little girl who lives at the inn, believes with all her heart in this legend. Her life is not a very happy one, as she is living with the innkeeper, old Thomas Moreley, whom she calls her uncle. Elsbeth has only a faint recollection of her father and mother, and Moreley will not allow her to speak of them, and tries in every way to convince her that what she says she remembers is not true.

On Christmas eve, Sir Arthur Hertford, a Crusader but recently returned from Palestine, comes to visit the rich people in the Manor House. He has been away from England for over five years, during which time he has learned of the death of his father and mother and little sister. The news of Sir Arthur's arrival frightens Moreley so that he plans to send Elsbeth to another part of England. However, before he can do so, Elsbeth meets Sir Arthur, and as he is wearing the white tunic of the Crusader, and a long scarlet cloak, takes him to be the Magi she has so long expected. Sir Arthur on talking to the little girl discovers she is his sister whom he believed to be dead; he also recognizes in Moreley the old coachman who was with his family for many years. Moreley is forced to confess that after the death of Elsbeth's parents who were killed in an accident, he was to take Elsbeth and a considerable sum of money to some distant relatives. However, he was tempted by the sight of so much gold and so he reported that the little one had been killed with her parents, and disappeared with the child and the money. He produced proof of Elsbeth's identity and the greater portion of the gold which he has never dared spend. So Elsbeth receives her gold and the greatest happiness she could ask for in the return of her brother, and feels that she has really received the Magi's heavenly gift.

START WORK ON MUNICIPAL SKATING RINK

Project Sponsored by Board of Education Started Tuesday

Work of scraping snow off the school ground in preparation for building a municipal skating rink was started Tuesday morning.

This announcement will be greeted by enthusiasm by everyone enjoying skating. Last winter, due to mild weather, no rink was built and its absence was keenly felt, for in previous years the rink was a gathering place for old and young alike.

Work of icing the rink will be started at once, and it is expected the ice will be in shape for use within a short time. The board of education is sponsoring the project.

SANTA CLAUS WAS NOT ORIGINALLY A PART OF THE CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL. THE NAME 'SANTA CLAUS' IS DERIVED FROM SAINT NICHOLAS, BISHOP OF MYRA, WHO WAS KNOWN AS THE PATRON OF THE CHILDREN. SAINT NICHOLAS DAY WAS CELEBRATED ON DECEMBER SIXTH AS A CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL WITH DISTRIBUTION OF GIFTS. A PERSON REPRESENTING SAINT NICHOLAS, RIDING A GRAY HORSE WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE LEAVING PRESENTS FOR THE GOOD CHILDREN. THE BAD CHILDREN WERE GIVEN A ROD TO BE USED BY THE PARENTS. SAINT NICHOLAS DAY WAS LATER MERGED WITH CHRISTMAS TO MAKE THAT EVENT A POPULAR FESTIVAL. WHEN THE DUTCH BROUGHT SANTA CLAUS TO AMERICA HIS HORSE WAS REPLACED BY REINDEER.

Old Hog Pastures Are

Cause of Runty Pigs

Hog lots and pastures used year after year are one of the causes of runty pigs. Rotating the hog lots and pastures so as to keep free from disease and hog parasites will help solve the problem to get the best and cheapest growth and gains from pigs. This is especially important if a farmer plans to grow hogs as a business.

Results obtained on farms where a system of rotation is being used to provide food and pasture, which are free from worms and diseases show that the size of the average litter increased and could easily be increased one or two pigs. An increase of 125 pigs for each litter was obtained in 1929 from 702 sows on 55 farms in South Dakota where such a system of lot and pasture rotation is being developed.

SPEARING PERMITTED BEGINNING JANUARY 1

All Inland Waters Excepting Trout Streams Open at That Time

The close of the 1932 black bass season December 31, will be followed January 1 by the opening of the season for spearing through the ice for certain non-game species of fish in all inland waters of the state except trout streams.

Spearing for certain non-game species of fish is permitted through the ice during January and February on all inland waters except trout streams.

The species which may be taken with a spear are carp, suckers, mullet, redbreast, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, pike (great northern, grass pike and pickerel), muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilotfish or menominee whitefish, dogfish and karpik. Jacklights or any other artificial illumination are not permitted during winter ice spearing.

While spearing is permitted only during January and February, the end of the ice fishing season does not require cessation of fishing with hook and line or other legal methods on inland lakes for bullheads, bluegills, carp, catfish, ciscoes, crappies or calico bass, dogfish, grass, lake trout, mullet, perch, grass and white-eyed pike, pilotfish, or menominee whitefish, redbreast, sheepshead, sunfish, smelt, suckers, warmouth bass and whitefish.

The season for taking certain of these fish and for fishing in inland lakes closes March 31 but others on which there is no closed season may be taken from non-trout streams and certain designated trout streams or portions of them at any time.

Sally Eilers in "Hat Check Girl"—Ben Lyon Has Lead Opposite Star in New Fox Romantic Drama

Bringing a swift-moving romance of two very different worlds to the screen, "Hat Check Girl" showing at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday with Sally Eilers and Ben Lyon in the leading roles.

Miss Eilers portrays the title part, that of a hard-working young lady who handles the hats and wraps at a famous New York night club, and Lyon that of a young millionaire whose first meeting with his future fiancée is when he finds her asleep in his apartment. From this accidental beginning their acquaintance flowers rapidly, complicated by such events as her arrest on a false charge of selling liquor, a ride on the city sprinkling cart when their taxi breaks down, and a trip to the Andromedaks during which Lyon proposes, and is accepted.

The course of true love is suddenly halted, however, when Sally's ex-lover, Monroe Owsley, appears at their engagement party and tells things he shouldn't tell. Subsequently Owsley is found dead in the apartment, and suspicion naturally falls on Lyon's shoulders, with the police deciding that they have a clear-cut case against him.

Sally's efforts in Lyon's behalf cause the boy's father to think she is only after publicity for herself, and matters become very tangled indeed, with a climax that is said to be one surprise after another. Directed by Sidney Lanfield, who made Miss Eilers' previous "Dance Team," this Fox Films offering is said to be a treat for picture-goers.

The sparkling Ginger Rogers, who enacts the role of Miss Eilers' chum and fellow-worker, supplies much of the comedy in the production, while the two principals are said to give brilliant performances in their well-suited parts. Arthur Pierson, Noel Madison and Dewey Robinson also have important roles in the film.

Shade Quite Important During Heat of Summer

It is not always going to rain, are all the coming days going to be cloudy and dark. During the early part of the season, when the sunshine is so limited, it is well to talk of the advantages of the direct rays of the sun, and they are important, but it won't be long now until we are complaining of the heat. It is then well to remember that there is such a thing as too much direct sunshine and that shade is just as important, and we should provide some for those growing chicks. If their yards have no natural shade, then provide some artificial shade for them. Also remember they relish fresh, clean water as well as you do. Do not allow their drinking vessels to become dirty and slimy. Keep them clean and supplied with fresh water.

Also see that their roosting quarters are kept cleaned and disinfected. They will not only brood but hatch lice and mites as well as they will brood chicks. It is much easier to keep rid of the pests than it is to get rid of them.

A little elbow grease and back bending exercise will do your chicks a lot of good, if rightly applied.

Honesty may be the best policy, but telling the truth isn't always exactly polite.

WINDER RETAINED COMMERCE HEAD

RE-ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

Will Call Public Meeting to Decide
Sewage Disposal Plan—Talk
Over Tax Situation

A small but enthusiastic gathering of local business men were present at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, held last Friday evening at the Legion hall.

Following a fine banquet dinner served by members of the Legion Auxiliary, the business session opened with reading of minutes of the last meeting and the report of the corresponding secretary, F. V. Tyler.

Dr. Winder Re-Elected
Proceeding next with the election of officers, Dr. C. J. Winder, who has headed the association successfully for the past three years, was re-elected unanimously. Charles Heise and Robert Bridge were chosen vice-presidents, and F. V. Tyler was elected to assume the combined duties of the offices of secretary and treasurer.

Discuss Summer Plans
A discussion of plans for the next summer season brought out suggestions for a home-coming. Cooperation has been promised by the Charlevoix Clubs of Detroit and Flint, whose members urged such an event following their successful get-together meeting last summer. A proposal to keep business places open and sponsor free entertainment features on Wednesday evenings during the next summer season was given consideration, and continuance of tennis, golf and boating features which have become annual summer entertainment features in Charlevoix was given approval.

Would Start Sewage Disposal
Mayor Arthur Bergeon forwarded a plan, which, if approved, will alleviate local unemployment. Citing present economic conditions and lack of labor for local men as reasons for quick action, he suggested starting work on the construction of a sewage disposal system at the earliest possible date. He told the assembly the city had the plans and specifications for the project, and a balance of $36,000 in the electric light fund to finance the work without borrowing.

At Mr. Bergeon's suggestion, a committee composed of Martin Block, P. D. Campbell and Wm. P. Hicken was appointed to make arrangements for a mass meeting to be held in the near future to feel out public opinion on the matter.

Discuss Tax Situation

Following a general discussion of the situation brought about by adoption of the 15 mill tax limitation amendment, it was voted a committee of the association of commerce be appointed to join representatives of the city council and board of education to meet in January with the board of supervisors for a discussion on division of tax money under the new law. If possible, a state representative will be procured for this meeting also.

Following is the annual report of the corresponding secretary:

While no accurate record was kept of them, verbal inquiries for information at the bureau seemed to show a slight falling off from the number of the previous years, though not as much difference was apparent as might have been expected.

From January 1 to August 15, 1932, 175 inquiries were answered by letter; about 100 inquiries for accommodations were listed and a copy mailed to each of nine hotels. Thirty-four letters of inquiry regarding employment were answered. Charlevoix's attractive descriptive folder was mailed out to the number of 2,062 and 500 map booklets were also distributed among the towns of the region. A considerable saving in postage was effected this year, despite the rise in postal rates, by mailing the booklets in unsealed envelopes, separate from any typewritten matter. Probably another 500 pieces of literature descriptive of Charlevoix were distributed at the information bureau.

As respects the work of the department of state, a three-year tabulation of license plate sales shows the following:

That 1,049 sets of passenger plates were sold in 1930; 1,066 in 1931 and 1,031 in 1932.

That 238 sets of commercial license plates were sold in 1930; 226 in 1931, and 217 in 1932.

That no trailer license plates were sold in 1930; 39 were sold in 1931, and 76 in 1932.

That the total number of sets of license plates of all kinds sold in 1930 was 1,287; in 1931, 1,331, and in 1932, 1,324. It is interesting to note that between the figures for 1931 and 1932 there was only a falling off in 1932 of seven applications.

Title transactions, both in connection with and separate from the sale of license plates, totaled 233 in 1930, 372 in 1931, and 273 in 1932. In 1930, applications for title for new cars alone totaled 122; in 1931, there were 86 such applications, and in 1932 they fell off to 55.

From May 13, 1931, to date, 738 automobile operator license applications were made out and recorded in this office and 56 chauffeur license applications—a total of 1,107 recorded applications. These were all for (Continued on page 4.)

POLAR BEARS DEFEATED GAYLORD

TOOK RETURN TILT FRIDAY BY 30 TO 22 COUNT

Play Manistee Iron Workers Here
Dec. 23, Alma College Dec. 28,
and Midland Dec. 31

Continuing their victory march, the Charlevoix Polar Bears defeated Gaylord last Friday evening by a 30 to 22 count.

It was their fourth consecutive win, and the result was not only a surprise to fans but the team itself, for a defeat on Gaylord's small court would not have been unexpected.

In Friday night's tilt, Gaylord never had a chance with a Polar Bear line-up which averaged better than 6 foot 3 inches. Figuratively speaking, the game was completely over Gaylord's head. The Bears started right after the opening whistle to pile up a lead. They were once out in front by a 16 to 4 count and closed the half with a lead of 20 to 12. Only in the late periods, with victory certain, did the Bears slacken their pace and allow Gaylord to score.

"Bill" Supernaw again led the Polar Bears in scoring with 15 points. Kene had 9, Davenport 4 and Brown 2. McCoy was best for Gaylord.

Have Heavy Schedule

The Polar Bears are tackling a heavy schedule during the holiday season. Friday night of this week they renew a rivalry started several years ago when they take on the fast-traveling Manistee Iron Workers at the local gymnasium. Manistee is one of the few teams that has been able to keep matters somewhere near square with the Polar Bears.

On Wednesday evening, December 28th, the schedule calls for a tilt with the regular Alma college quintet. This contest promises to be a real test for the Polar Bears. Alma has one of the strongest aggregations of the smaller Michigan colleges and are out in a barn-burning expedition to win every game.

The following Saturday night, December 31st, Midland comes here for the first of a two-game contract.

CANTATA PROGRAM GIVEN IN DETAIL

BI-CITY CHOIRS UNITE HERE MONDAY EVENING

Prominent Charlevoix and Petoskey Musicians Will Present "The Lord's Anointed"

Program details have been announced for the beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Lord's Anointed" by Mozart, which will be presented in the Charlevoix Methodist church, Monday evening, December 26th, at 8 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Ray O'Brien.

The same cast will repeat the production in Emmanuel Episcopal church, Petoskey, the following Wednesday evening at the same hour.

The combined choirs of these two churches, assisted by singers from other churches of both cities and Mrs. Mildred McArthur of Flint, will give the public one of the finest musical services ever heard in this region. Music of the cantata has been pronounced the most beautiful ever attempted here.

The vested choir will number over forty in addition to two violins, cornet, piano and organ. The soloists will be Mrs. R. Leo Brown, Lawrence Foley, Garnet Williams, Claude Greenway, Mrs. Mildred McArthur, Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd and H. W. Kirby. Quartettes for men's voices will be taken by Ralph Young, Lawrence Foley, Garnet Williams, Claude Greenway, C. R. Tanner and Alexander Doherty.

Mrs. McArthur will sing the soprano recitative, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," from the oratorio "Messiah," Handel's greatest masterpiece. Mrs. Brown's solo will be "The Angel's Song," with violin obligato by Mrs. Earl Kneal, who, together with David Cohen, will be the violinists. Mr. Cohen's solo will be "Romanse" by Wieniawski, his number being followed by Mrs. McArthur's.

Mr. Cohen, a recent addition to the musical talent of our neighboring city, will be recognized as a real professional, and his playing will be a delight to all hearing him. Mrs. Kneal is also a violinist of finest skill and taste. She will appear in the obligato number.

Mrs. Virginia Block will play the cornet. Mrs. A. C. Belding will be at the piano, and Mrs. Ray O'Brien at the organ.

The Methodist church extends a cordial invitation to those in other churches to attend. Their Petoskey friends have been very courteous and all should hear them. The offering for the Methodist children's home will not be expected of guests, but from Methodists only.

The nice thing about being a man is you don't have to stay home after you wash your head.

CHARLEVOIX WON PETOSKEY GAME

HANDS NORTHMEN 23 TO 7 DEFEAT FRIDAY NIGHT

Regulars Showed Superiority in All Departments—Reserves Snowed Under 47 to 8

Making their first appearance before home fans in the local gym last Friday evening, Charlevoix's high school eagles scored a decisive 23 to 7 victory over the class B Petoskey Northmen.

The Kipmen, showing a decided improvement since their appearance at Traverse City the previous week, were superior to the green, inexperienced Petoskey team in every department.

Taking the lead on Chew's deuce soon after the opening whistle, they piled up additional points through every session. Petoskey never completely solved Charlevoix's shifty passing attack, and were unable to locate the hoop when they did have opportunities.

The Kipmen led 6 to 2 at the close of the first period, counting on Chew's goal, a deuce and free toss by Smith and Kirby's gift shot. Riley, Petoskey forward, made a field goal for their lone score. Chew, Ance and Kirby contributed goals in the second period as Petoskey went scoreless, giving the Kipmen a 12 to 2 advantage at the half.

Petoskey scored five points to Charlevoix's six in the third period, their best showing during the game. White connected for two deuces and Hegener added a gift shot. For Charlevoix, Kirby scored a pair of goals and Chew a single. Petoskey went scoreless again in the fourth period, while the Kipmen counted on Ance's two goals and Potter's free throw.

Charlevoix's scoring was almost evenly divided among three players. Kirby counting 7, Chew and Ance 6 each. Smith had three and Potter one. White led the visitors with four. Charlevoix was successful on 3 out of 5 attempts from the foul line, while Petoskey counted 1 out of 5. John Ferenz of Traverse City, refereed the contest.

Petoskey Reserves Won
Petoskey's reserves evened up the evening's results by running roughshod over Charlevoix reserves for a 47 to 8 victory. With Giles and Leshar leading the way with 15 points each, the visiting second-stringers made the contest a free-for-all scoring spree. Upton had 8 and Bracke 7 for the visitors.

"Ghost House," most thrilling mystery play of the age will be presented at the gymnasium February 3rd under auspices of O. E. S. No. 72.—Adv. 5111.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING SATURDAY

WILL BE AT LEGION HALL AT 2:30 O'CLOCK

Christmas Tree and Gift for Every Child Promised Under Sponsorship of the Legion

Saturday of this week will be a great day for Charlevoix youngsters, for Santa Claus is coming.

With a jingle of sleigh bells, the good old saint will whirl through town on his way to the American Legion hall where he will distribute presents to the boys and girls who will greet him there at 2:30 p. m. There will be a tree at the hall and a present for every tot.

The Christmas celebration for the city, this year, as formerly, is under the auspices of the local Legion post. The Legion has also established gift barrels and boxes in the various stores and the groceries, canned goods, etc., that have been thus accumulated will be given out to the needy at a later date—possibly some time next week.

Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226 is merely following out what is to be the national policy of the Legion this year and that is to see to it, with the cooperation of the respective municipalities, that every child has a Christmas. While the grown-ups are heating up with the present distress, full conditions in whatever way they can, it is yet unthinkable that the children should be deprived of all the Christmas joys.

On Monday evening, the post auxiliary held a Christmas party for children of Legion members. A potluck supper was served at 6 o'clock and was much enjoyed by the children and the Legion members who were guests of the auxiliary.

COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

CHURCHES UNITE TO PRESENT CHRISTMAS OPERETTA

Eighty in Cast of "The Magi's Gift," to Be Given at High School Gymnasium

Rehearsals have been completed for the beautiful and impressive Christmas operetta, "The Magi's Gift," which will be presented in the high school gymnasium Thursday evening, December 22, at 8 o'clock.

The catholic and protestant churches of Charlevoix have united in sponsoring the entertainment. A cast of eighty people, all of whom have given their time and energy to make this community affair a success, will appear in the cast.

The scene of the story is laid in medieval England on Christmas eve. In the cathedral there is a shrine believed by many to contain the crown and scarlet robe once worn by Caspar, one of the Three Wise Men. Tradition says that once each year at the Christmas season, Caspar appears again on earth, wearing his scarlet robe and jeweled crown, and walks up and down the highways giving a gift of gold and a heavenly blessing to all who chance to meet him, just as he brought a gift to the Little King so long ago.

Elsbeth, the little girl who lives at the inn, believes with all her heart in this legend. Her life is not a very happy one, as she is living with the innkeeper, old Thomas Moreley, whom she calls her uncle. Elsbeth has only a faint recollection of her father and mother, and Moreley will not allow her to speak of them, and tries in every way to convince her that what she says she remembers is not true.

On Christmas eve, Sir Arthur Hertford, a Crusader but recently returned from Palestine, comes to visit the rich people in the Manor House. He has been away from England for over five years, during which time he has learned of the death of his father and mother and little sister. The news of Sir Arthur's arrival frightens Moreley so that he plans to send Elsbeth to another part of England. However, before he can do so, Elsbeth meets Sir Arthur, and as he is wearing the white tunic of the Crusader, and a long scarlet cloak, takes him to be the Magi she has so long expected. Sir Arthur on talking to the little girl discovers she is his sister whom he believed to be dead; he also recognizes in Moreley the old coachman who was with his family for many years. Moreley is forced to confess that after the death of Elsbeth's parents who were killed in an accident, he was to take Elsbeth and a considerable sum of money to some distant relatives. However, he was tempted by the sight of so much gold and so he reported that the little one had been killed with her parents, and disappeared with the child and the money. He produces proof of Elsbeth's identity and the greater portion of the gold which he has never dared spend. So Elsbeth receives her gold and the greatest happiness she could ask for in the return of her brother; and feels that she has really received the Magi's heavenly gift.

The cast of characters is as follows:

START WORK ON MUNICIPAL SKATING RINK

Project Sponsored by Board of Education Started Tuesday

Work of scraping snow off the school ground in preparation for building a municipal skating rink was started Tuesday morning.

This announcement will be greeted by enthusiasm by everyone enjoying skating. Last winter, due to mild weather, no rink was built and its absence was keenly felt, for in previous years the rink was a gathering place for old and young alike.

Work of iceing the rink will be started at once, and it is expected the ice will be in shape for use within a short time. The board of education is sponsoring the project.

Program

The Christmas spirit was well aroused among the observers of the high school Christmas program Wednesday afternoon. The gymnasium was gayly decorated with Christmas trees, candles, and other Christmas colors after much effort was put forth by the decoration committee. Mr. D'Amico of the Charlevoix Dramatic camp, was kind enough to lend his very fine lighting equipment, which was a great aid to the success of the program. Spot lights were cast on certain individuals at the appropriate moment with the result of very lovely lighting effect.

The program was opened by the chorus who sang a Christmas carol. The members of the chorus wore white robes and had black carol books, such as were used many years ago. The scripture followed, read by 14 boys from the junior and senior high schools. This was continued after another selection by the chorus, "From the Starry Heavens High" and the chorus again followed with "Midnight Strikes on Yonder Tower."

The main feature of the program was a pantomime of Van Dyke's "Other Wise Man," which is one of the classics of Arabian literature bringing out the message. The pantomime consisted of six scenes as follows:

Scene 1.—The Wise Man—Arthan's House.

Scene 2.—On the Way to Find the Christ Child.

Scene 3.—By the Temple of Seven Spheres.

Scene 4.—A Cottage in Bethlehem.

Scene 5.—Before a Prison Gate.

Scene 6.—Near Galgatha.

The chorus gave the final selection. The committees and cast of the Christmas program included many of the members of the faculty and senior and junior high schools. The committees are as follows:

Program—Mrs. Dowd, Mrs. Sawyer, Lila Tillotson, Lloyd Arnold, Ernestine Chew.

Staging and costumes—Miss Milner, Margaret Gallagher, Bernice Lamphear, Esther Lou Fochtman, Harold Chew.

Decorations—Miss Fernau, Lewis Greenman, Harold Potter, Ernestine Chew, Marie Novak.

Seating—Mrs. Dowd, Harold Potter, Bernice Lamphear, Rose Dodd, Steve Serno.

Lighting—Dorothy Stanley, Gordon Bartlett.

Music—Miss Atkinson, chorus.

The cast: Reader, Lila Tillotson; Arbutan, John Winder; Sick Man, Paul McCartney; Mother, Ernestine Chew; Soldiers, Bob Emery, Herman Meyer; Slave, Marcia Oldham.

Scripture readers: Junior Supernaw, Paul McCartney, Bernard Foster, Albert McMillan, Bob Emery, Herman Meyer, Charles Carey, Edward Vratinin, Harold Isaksen, Thnd Pearl, Clare Gleason, Leslie Shapton, Ben Palmer, Buddy Gebeau.

The first nine boys in the list above were also present in the first scene of the pantomime.

The program as a whole was well worth attending for it left the impression of the beauty and loveliness of the Christmas season.

Band Concert

The hour and a half of music presented Tuesday evening by the high school band was greatly enjoyed by the Charlevoix students and parents. The opening number was "One Beautiful Day," played by the whole band. Then followed "Men of Valor March" and next a trombone solo, "Fancy Free" by Carl Beattie. This solo deserves honorable mention as does "Quel Suono," a flute solo played later in the program by Marian Tyler. Other beautiful numbers played by the band were "Love In Idleness," "Pizzicato Polka," of which was a very lively tune in which members displayed their talent immensely. The concluding number of the program was "Beneath the Holly."

Many of the listeners were, no doubt, disappointed at not hearing the solo planned to be given by Mr. Meyer. He unfortunately was the victim of a toboggan accident which resulted in his not being able to play his horn. Miss Atkinson furnished the vocal music of the concert in which the chorus presented three Christmas selections. Tuesday evening was a great success for it showed that C. H. S. has a fine group of musicians.

Christmas Stories—8th Grade English Classes

"Origin of the Christmas Tree," by Edward Hansen.

The origin of the Christmas tree is not known. It may have some connection with the great tree "Yggdrasil" of Scandinavian mythology, or it may be a survival of the pine trees of the Roman Saturnalia, which were decorated with images of Bacchus. The custom may be of even greater antiquity, as the ancient Egyptians decorated their houses at the winter festival with branches of the date palm, which they regarded as a symbol both of immortality and of the heavens. In medieval times there was a tradition of holiness investing an illuminated tree. As a regular institution, the Christmas tree can be traced back to about 1600, when it suddenly appeared at Strasburg, Germany. For almost two hundred years it was continued along the Rhine, when about 1800 it spread all over Germany, and in a few years was used all over the world. Scandinavian, French and German legends attribute the origin of the Christmas tree to various noted persons.

The fir, pine, hemlock and spruce seem to be used in all lands as Christmas trees. Owing to the time of year, an evergreen tree must be used in the cold countries, and the custom appears to be followed wherever Christmas trees are used.

"Bethlehem and the Christmas Story," by Robert Wood.

Bethlehem, a small town in Judea, is the birthplace of Jesus. This town still contains much to help us visualize the first Christmas. The narrow, winding streets and lanes are cobblestone paved. The old homes, vineyards, olive yards, terraced gardens, and customs tell us much about the Christmas story. The town lies at the top of a hill. Except for a few Moslem neighbors its 6,000 inhabitants are all Christians and live together in peace. The people of Bethlehem are thrifty and industrious. All of the main streets of Bethlehem lead to the market-square in front of the Church of the Nativity. This is one of the oldest existing churches. The best authorities agree that it stands on or near the place of the first Christmas. The entrance to the church is so small that one must stoop very low to enter. It is closed by a heavy iron studded door. The interior of the church is very simple. There are double rows of pink pillars which are supposed to have been brought from the ruins of the temple of Jerusalem. Around the walls are scattered patches of gold and colored mosaics. Below the transept a chamber, part cave and part masonry, is supposed to be the birthplace of Jesus. A silver star fastened to the flagstone of the floor marks the place where the birth of Jesus was supposed to have been. Across the room is an altar where the cradle is thought to have stood. These half cave dwellings are still in daily use. The "Well of the Magi" is supposed to be the place where the three wise men stopped to water their camels on the way to Bethlehem. The shepherds still watch over their flocks by night just as they did at the birth of Christ.

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 18.

Among the bible citations is this passage (Amos 4:13): "For, lo, he that formeth the mountains and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning blackness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.507): "A material world implies a mortal mind and man a creator. The scientific divine creation declares immortal Mind and the universe created by God."

"IF IT'S CITIES SERVICE FUEL... IT HAS TO BE GOOD"

WHERE QUICK STARTING SHOWS UP IN "GASOLENE'S LIFE-LINE"

You know good gasoline by the way it starts—the way it pulls you up hills—its freedom from knocks. Here's the way a chemist shows its performance qualities—through a curved line drawn from point to point on a piece of paper ruled into squares.

The horizontal lines represent degrees of temperature. The vertical lines show what percentage of the gasoline evaporates at various temperatures when the gasoline is heated to those points.

For instance—this chart shows that 10% of this sample has boiled away at a temperature which will give good starting qualities under the prevailing climatic conditions in the territory where this particular gasoline will be sold. If less had boiled away, it would have indicated a "heavy" gas, slow to catch the spark. If more had boiled away, it would have shown too light a gas, with the possibility of vapor lock and not enough "body" for power.

Expert chemists, with authority to reject any batch of fuel, test every day's run of gasoline from Cities Service refineries—and this distillation test is only one of 22 which they make regularly. You can see why we say: "If it's Cities Service—it has to be good."

GIFT OF LIFE MADE BY CHRISTMAS SEALS

Tuberculosis Work of 1933 Depends on Support of Campaign

Yuletide gifts of incomparable worth—the chance for life itself—are the present granted this year to two youngsters at Michigan state sanatorium because of the Christmas seals Michigan people are buying for use on their holiday mail.

Several months ago these youngsters, a girl aged 13 and a boy 18 years old, living in Cheboygan county, were examined by X-ray by the Michigan Tuberculosis association. The X-ray pictures revealed active tuberculosis. Recently entered at the sanatorium, both children now stand good chances of recovering their health.

Many similar cases, found through the tuberculin test and the X-ray, are listed in the records of the Michigan Tuberculosis association. Tuberculosis of both the childhood and the adult types is constantly being uncovered in grade and high school children. Disease is also being found in teachers, two with active tuberculosis having recently been discovered in one upper peninsula city of several thousand inhabitants.

"The entire tuberculosis situation in Michigan today sums up to this," states T. J. Werle, executive secretary, in discussing the Michigan Tuberculosis association's findings in the schools. "Childhood is the focal point at which tuberculosis must be attacked. Scores of cases of active disease in children can be uncovered, through the tuberculin test and the X-ray, and in hundreds of other cases threatening tuberculosis can be averted. Each case found means that one more probable death from tuberculosis is being prevented."

"What we can do in 1933—how many children we can report next year as having been given the Christmas gift of health and life—depends entirely upon the people of Michigan. Every purchase of Christmas seals, whether one, ten, or a hundred, will help."

SEVENTY BEAR BAGGED IN UPPER PENINSULA

Seventy black bears, killed in the upper peninsula during the 1932 November season were carried south across the Straits of Mackinac, according to the department of conservation records. It is estimated that the kill in the state during the first 15 days of November was about 200.

EXTEND LICENSE LIMIT TO FEB. 1

1932 AUTO PLATES MAY BE USED EXTRA THIRTY DAYS

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald Cites Department's Need of Funds in Announcement

The time limit for the legal use of 1932 motor vehicle license plates has been extended to February 1, 1933, according to announcement by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald.

A further extension to March 1, may be made in the future unless there is a decided change in economic conditions, it was announced. Power to extend the time for using license plates is granted the secretary of state under the 1931 law which provides that "the secretary of state may for good cause extend the time of renewal for not to exceed sixty days from and after the said first day of January."

In 1931 and 1932 the use of the previous year's plates was extended the entire 60 days under the law. This year the decision to extend the legal period for 1932 plates only 30 days, was influenced by the fact that the state highway department, which receives motor vehicle weight tax fees, needs the funds for construction projects that will provide employment.

"The highway department has an acute need for all funds due it," Mr. Fitzgerald said. Any delay in receiving funds will seriously hamper that department. On the other hand, automobile owners have their January tax bills to meet a week after Christmas.

"In order to spread the taxes over a longer period, the time limit for securing new license plates has been extended to February 1. If the next few weeks show that thousands of automobile owners will be unable to purchase 1933 licenses by that date, and will be compelled to stop using their autos on that account, a further extension may be made."

"In the meantime, all automobile owners who are financially able to do so, will be aiding the state and their less fortunate neighbors, if they secure their 1933 plates as soon as possible."

As long as 1932 plates are legal in Michigan, they will be acceptable to Indiana, because Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and other nearby states change administrations January 1. The policies to be adopted by these states with regard to 1932 Michigan plates, can not be ascertained.

"HARD TIMES" PARTY ANNOUNCED BY E. L. S.

Event to Be Held Evening of January 2nd at Methodist Church

(By Harold Newman.)

The Epworth League society will sponsor a "hard times" party to be given at the Methodist church on January 2nd, 1933, at 7:30 p. m. The program will last until after 10 o'clock and will make a full evening of entertainment for almost anyone. The watchword is "Laugh Off the Depression."

Costumes are not essential, but as an inducement for everyone to wear old clothes, the program committee has announced that a prize will be given for the "hardest gal" and another for the "hardest guy." The games, songs, decorations and refreshments will all center around the "hard times" idea.

An added attraction will be the demonstration of his money-making trick by the magician, Joseph Everett. He claims that he can take a blank piece of paper and change it to real money. It would seem quite appropriate for this entertainment. He will also demonstrate a few other tricks.

Those young in years or young in spirit are invited to attend, and start the New Year right.

WHITEFISH SEASON RETURNS LOOK GOOD

Fish Plentiful and Fair Market Offset Adverse Weather

Operating under what has been termed the most adverse weather conditions experienced in recent years, boats of the Charlevoix and Beaver island commercial fishing fleets are at the Manitou and Fox island grounds for the whitefish spawning season.

Early lifts—made the few times weather condition have permitted—have ranged from good to bad. Barney Martin brought in 5,250 pounds, and other hauls have ranged anywhere from 200 to 1,400 pounds and over. The market price—10c in the round and 12c dressed—is firmer than in some past years, it is said. Last season the market opened at 17c, held for two days and then dropped to nothing. If the present price holds, fishermen will realize something for their efforts.

The fleet is making its headquarters at the fishing grounds. Through a cooperative movement, the gas boat "Rambler" is carrying fish to the market and supplies back to the fleet on its return, thus eliminating necessity of each boat making the run.

The average man is willing to wait, we will leave this out.

SHOW HOW STATE CAN CUT EXPENSE

COMMISSION REPORTS WAY TO SAVE MILLIONS

Drastic Curtailment in All Departments Recommended to Lessen Tax Burden

The course through which the 1933 legislature can lift $5,000,000 annually in tax burdens off the shoulders of Michigan property owners has been charted by the special commission created to accomplish that task.

In a 70-page report submitted to Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker the commission urges drastic curtailment of spending by all state departments and institutions; reduction of high salaries; and elimination of non-essential governmental activities.

It demands that the cost of education be substantially pared. It urges that local governmental units be restored the right to fix salaries of local public officers and to determine what shall be spent for education and other functions supported by the public purse.

Amendment of the probation laws to permit release of 2,000 convicts in state prison, "who without danger to society, might well be at large" is also proposed. An annual savings of $500,000 would be effected here.

Establishment of civil service for state employees is recommended by the commission, but it adds that economic conditions of the present would prevent an immediate step in that direction.

The commission—officially the "commission of inquiry into state governmental expenses"—was created at the special session of the legislature which itself started the retrenchment movement by reducing appropriations 15 per cent. The report submitted points the way to a further savings of 20 per cent. One hundred bills have been prepared for submission at the 1933 session.

"It is an indisputable fact that there is a maximum burden which government can impose upon its citizens," the report reads. "Whenever that burden increases beyond the ability of the people to pay the inevitable results are depreciation of land and other values, industrial depression and general destruction of confidence in government."

"Michigan is faced with such a condition today. This condition has resulted from a long era of unwise public spending, ventures into new fields of governmental functions and a general disregard for the taxpayer and his ability to pay."

The report asserts that many activities of the state government have been found to be of small benefit to the rank and file of taxpayers and that they should be discontinued or the cost placed directly upon those who are benefitted.

Through the elimination of educational "frills" the commission proposes the bulk of its savings. The University of Michigan and Michigan State college would be required to operate strictly within their mill tax appropriations and from that revenue finance all building projects. In addition they would be forced to deduct the proportionate share of delinquent taxes which the state failed to collect.

Normal colleges would be forced to return to their original purpose of training teachers and drop their tendencies to become "universities."

State laws which now dictate to school boards how they shall conduct their schools and how much money must be spent in maintaining them would be repealed. State salaries paid to athletic directors and music superintendents would be abolished.

The commission urges the legislature to recover its constitutional duty of exercising closer supervision over appropriation and the fixing of the state tax—functions which have been delegated to the state administrative board.

Abandonment of the state building program launched several years ago is urged and legislation to prevent future construction of buildings unless the full price is ready in the state treasury is proposed. The administrative board would be forbidden to make any construction appropriation except in cases of fire, flood or other emergency.

Bills have been drawn which would direct return of all fees except those of the highway and conservation departments into the general fund, with these two exceptions, all departments would be forced to operate on specific appropriations. The highway and conservation departments would be required to operate solely upon fees, no portion of their upkeep going upon real estate.

The cost and operation of the parks division of the conservation department would be shifted to the highway department on the theory that this function should be supported by tourist funds through the gasoline tax.

PROGRAM WILL KEEP WOMEN VISITORS BUSY

Lectures, Music, Drama and Banquet Arranged for Farmers Week

Music, drama, lectures, and entertainment features are crowded to the limit on the women's program during farmers week, Jan. 30-Feb. 3, but the program also provides enough free hours so any visitors to Michigan State college can enjoy any of the general programs in the afternoon or inspect the exhibits at the shows.

Clothes, children, and food are the factors around which most of the special women's program is built, but home furnishing and home beautification also have been given attention. The speakers will be members of the college staff and nationally known authorities in certain lines of work.

OUTLINE ROAD PROJECTS FOR RELIEF

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY APPLIES FOR FEDERAL AID

Several Improvement Projects to Be Launched Soon in Event Application Is Successful

Meeting last Thursday afternoon with the Charlevoix county road commission, A. L. Burridge, head of the northern division of the state highway department, and E. H. Eddyvean, of the maintenance department, discussed contemplated highway work in this county.

The meeting was called primarily to outline projects which will be undertaken in case a Michigan application for a loan of $2,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation is granted for employment relief work on highways. At a recent meeting in Traverse City, it was estimated Charlevoix county's share of such a loan would be $34,000. Amount in the allotment to each county is based upon the number of unemployed, number of families receiving county aid through the welfare department, etc.

It was explained that the state has been allotted about $15,000,000 in fund for unemployment relief by the federal government. The loans have come through the Reconstruction Finance corporation and apply on the normal allotment of federal aid highway funds which the state would receive between 1933 and 1945. The federal department will deduct this sum from the payment the state might expect, and in turn the state will deduct from each county during these years the federal aid funds which they have borrowed in advance. The benefits, it is said, would come from the fact that the money will be available during 1933 for relief of unemployment when it is so badly needed.

At last week's meeting a decision was made to make application for the loan and the county highway department signed an agreement with the state to carry on the work. The money must go for actual labor, with (Continued on page 5.)

POSTPONE MEETING ON SEWAGE SYSTEM

City Officials Gathering Data for Use on Future Date

Wm. P. Hicken, chairman of an association of commerce committees, appointed to arrange for a public mass meeting to discuss a proposal to construct a sewage disposal system in Charlevoix, has announced that the meeting has been postponed.

The date for the meeting was originally set for the evening of Wednesday, January 4th. Due to the fact that city officials desire to consult further with engineers on plans for the project, the meeting will be held over to a future date to be announced later.

This decision, it was stated, does not mean that the project has been abandoned. It merely is a means of getting necessary information to present the public.

HAYES FARMER SHOT FOLLOWING ARGUMENT

Officers Searching for Warren Baker and Unknown Stranger

Orson Cook, Hayes township farmer, was shot in the leg with a charge of buckshot Wednesday night, and officers are looking for Warren Baker, a neighbor, and a stranger with whom he had had difficulty earlier that evening.

According to Cook, an argument with the pair occurred at his home when he objected to Baker's attention to his daughter. He ordered the men from the house at the point of a shotgun following a scuffle, during which the stranger drew a gun.

A short time later a car stopped on the highway a short distance from the front of the house and a shot was fired through the door window. Armed with a shotgun, Cook slipped out the back door and shot in the direction of the car. The answering volley struck him in the leg.

James Porter Given 4½ to 5 Years at Jackson—Three Local Youths Given Jail Terms

At a special circuit court session called Wednesday to complete pending cases prior to the change in officers January 2nd, several chancery and criminal cases were disposed of by Judge Purn C. Gilbert.

James Porter, who in July escaped jail and was recently returned from Portsmouth, Ohio, to face a charge of breaking and entering, was sentenced to serve from 4½ to 5 years at Jackson prison.

Arnold Tillotson, 19, Boyne City, who attacked Jailer Harry Coblenz in an attempted jail delivery early this month while awaiting hearing on an assault charge, was sentenced to serve from 3½ to 4 years for felonious assault.

Stanley Withers and Frank Smith, who pleaded guilty to driving away a motor vehicle without permission, must serve thirty days in the county jail and at the end of that period sleep nights at the jail until June 1st.

Withers was ordered to pay costs of returning stolen car from Cadillac and for any damage done to the machine in addition to $25 court costs. Smith was assessed court costs in the same amount.

William Haddock, East Jordan, who broke parole when he stole a flashlight, was placed on probation until the March court term.

Ira Cook, charged with the theft of $225 in cash last week from Miss Pearl Bigge, county normal principal, pleaded guilty to grand larceny. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail, and, like Withers and Smith must report there to sleep each night until June 1st.

Several chancery cases were disposed of during the special session, practically cleaning up all present cases before the court.

CHARLEVOIX CAGERS DEFEATED PETOSKEY

Scored Second Victory Over Northmen Wednesday Night

Charlevoix high school cagers defeated Petoskey 15 to 14 on the Northmen's court Wednesday night in a close contest. It was Charlevoix's second win of the season over Petoskey.

The score by quarters indicated the closeness of the battle. Charlevoix led 4 and 3 at the quarter, 5 and 5 at the half and 13 to 11 at close of the third quarter.

Smith led the local attack with 6, Anee had 5, Kibby 2 and Chew and Patter one each. For Petoskey, Harbaugh led with 5, White and Roil had 1 each and Smith 1.

Petoskey reserves handled Charlevoix reserves nuthier had beating in the preliminary, winning 27 to 6.

COMSTOCK FAVORS STATE SALES TAX

May Recommend Adoption As Base of New Tax System

Prospective taxation for Michigan was forecast Thursday when Governor-elect Comstock announced he was planning use of a state sales tax as the base of a new system.

The next governor, who takes office the first of the year, was busily engaged with advisers conferring on the merits of the various plans. Out of the conference came reports that the entire tax structure would be materially altered to provide the necessary revenue for state government which heretofore has come largely from high property taxes.

It was believed that Comstock had abandoned any idea of making a state income tax one of the chief load carriers of the new system due chiefly to the expressed opposition of the electorate—which has three times voted negatively on the issue—and the failure of eastern states to find it practical.

Comstock stated that the income tax was least effective in producing revenue at the time when it was most needed—depression time.

Whether the sales tax as finally recommended would be a general tax or restricted to certain commodities remained an unsettled factor.

NEW OFFICERS ASSUME DUTY JAN. 2

FOUR CHOSEN AT NOVEMBER GENERAL ELECTION

Board of Supervisors Approve Officers' Bonds at Annual January Session Next Tuesday

Four new county officials will assume their duties when business opens at the Charlevoix court house following the New Year holidays.

Arthur L. Fitch returns to a familiar role, succeeding Rollie L. Lewis as prosecuting attorney. Mr. Fitch has held the office in the past. Floyd Ikens, a new-comer in the rank of county officers, takes over the sheriff's department, relieving Henry Steimel of Boyne City, appointed following the death of the late Dave Vaughan.

Edward S. Stacks of Boyne Falls, a former Charlevoix resident, becomes county surveyor, succeeding Samuel L. Tokoly of Boyne City, and William Straw, well known Marion township farmer, will become a member of the Charlevoix county road commission. He was elected at the October session of the board of supervisors to succeed Wm. E. Byers of this city.

Other Republican officers retained at the November general election are Fenton R. Balow, county clerk; Frank E. Bird, register of deeds; Joseph William Flanders, county treasurer, and Ervan A. Ruevsagat, judge of probate.

All officers have already filed their oaths as required by law, and before the first of the year will have made arrangements for their bonds. Acceptance of county officers' bonds will constitute one of the more important matters to be disposed of by the board of supervisors when they meet next Tuesday for their annual January session. It is also understood there are several items of unfinished business to be taken care of at that time.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE IS IN SESSION

Revision of Bonding Legislation to Meet Emergencies, Is Goal

The fifty-sixth Michigan legislature convened in its second special session at Lansing, Tuesday, with revision of bonding legislation a goal.

Provisions must be made for the city of Detroit to extend its bonding limit to meet bond issues falling due soon and for future operating expenses. Without such aid, it is a question of default, and of unpaid policemen and firemen.

A proposal has been brought before the legislature to increase the bonding limit of all communities in the state to four-fifths of their assessed valuation for emergency financing. Out-state legislators will oppose the features in the proposal making it state-wide to guard against an orgy in bonding.

The Socialist meetings are held in the Odd Fellow hall every Thursday night at 8:00. Everybody is welcome. —Adv. 5211 pd.

POLAR BEARS EARN SPLIT IN 2 GAMES

DEFEAT MANISTEE, LOSE TO ALMA COLLEGE

Wind Up Holiday Schedule in Contest With Midland at Gym Here Saturday Night

The Polar Bear basketball team earned an even break in their last two encounters, winning 28 to 23 from Manistee Iron Works last Friday night, and losing 58 to 22 to Alma college Wednesday night of this week.

The team that looked good in winning from Manistee did not look so good against Alma. In fact, the Polar Bears found college competition quite a bit out of their class.

Displaying a fast, accurate passing attack, the Collegians had things pretty much their own way. They came out of a close initial period with a 10 to 8 lead and from then on added steadily to an increasing advantage. The half closed with the visitor out in front 22 to 12 and the third session 34 to 16. They added an even dozen goals in a final period which approached a complete rout in the closing moments.

Barton scored 20 points for Alma, Dawson and Kahn following with 11 and 10 points, respectively. For the Polar Bears, Dean Davenport had 7, Ikens 5, H. Davenport 3, Brown, Supernaw and Beaudoin 2, and Smith 1. "Pete" Hallett handled the game satisfactorily.

Polar Cubs Lose
The Polar Cubs lost 14 to 11 to the Pott's Cleaners of Petoskey, in a rough preliminary contest.

Bears Defeat Manistee
The Polar Bears vanquished their powerful Manistee rivals Friday night after a close and hard-fought battle. Their advantage was never sufficient to assure victory and the result was in doubt up to the final whistle.

Staying on their feet, Davenport, Beaudoin and Smith, the Bears assumed a 4 to 1 lead in the first period. The visitors counted 8 to their 6 in the second session, however, knotting the score at 12-all for the first half.

The early minutes of the third period provided a nip-and-tuck battle. With the Polar Bears leading, Manistee tied the score twice before being out-distanced 22 to 18. Again in the fourth period they overcame a 4-point lead to tie the count at 22-all, but the Bears stepped out in the final minutes to sew up the victory.

Beaudoin succeeded Supernaw as high point man against Manistee, scoring 14. Davenport was next with 6, Smith had 4 and Supernaw and Cooper 2 each. Zientek, center, was high for the visitors with 10, followed closely by Ludwigson with 9. Manistee made only one out of 10 chances from the foul line. Hallett refereed the game.

Supernaw's free toss after the regulation playing time gave the Polar Cubs a 16 to 15 victory over the Willson Florals, a Petoskey five. This contest was a close one all the way.

MICHIGAN IS 9TH IN PRODUCTION OF OIL

Increased Its Ranking From Thirtieth in Past Year

High oil production records for 1932 placed Michigan's rating among the oil producing states to ninth place, a report issued by the U. S. bureau of mines to the department of conservation indicates. The report lists 19 states as productive of oil. Within a year, Michigan increased its ranking from 13th place among these states.

During the first ten months of the year Michigan well-produced 5,766,000 barrels of crude oil as compared with 3,785,000 barrels for the entire year 1931 and 3,928,000 barrels in 1930.

THE SPIRIT OF THRIFT

Thrift does not consist in worrying about last month's extravagances, but in nailing this month's expenses as you go along. "Hard payments" not "easy payments" is the motto of success. The harder you make it to spend when you cannot afford to spend, the more you will have to spend when you can afford it.

The happiest person is the person who thinks the most interesting thoughts.—(John Plows).

MEN OF FAITH AND COURAGE

The first real note of a slowly returning prosperity has been sounded by the automotive industry of Michigan. In the face of a winter season that threatened to be the most desolate this nation has ever experienced, these leaders in the automobile world are prepared to spend millions of dollars in the production of new cars.

As a result thousands of men have

We wish you all the Greetings of the Season and thank you for your patronage.

was under the supervision of the state police. Members of the constabulary were sent into all parts of the state for that purpose. Now that the squads are self-recruiting we must not forget where the movement received its first impetus. It remains a monument to their foresightedness.

SOUL SAVING SEALS

Never again the tragedies of past generations. No more neglecting the youth of our land until the silent spectre of tuberculosis has lain an all too heavy hand upon their frail and innocent little bodies. Science and proper care in time, provided with funds secured by the sale of Christmas Seals, is slowing up the march of this great enemy of mankind.

In the fight being waged against tuberculosis great souls have dedicated themselves to the task. All over Michigan we find members of the medical profession lending their services, hospitals their facilities, all are being mobilized against the white scourge, which if left unchecked would soon threaten the very life of the nation.

Nor has the state of Michigan been backward in this fight. Long ago our legislatures recognized the seriousness of the situation when they provided plans for the location of a second state sanitarium in the upper part of the lower peninsula. The work of selecting this site is in progress right now. It will have the solemn, sober, consideration of men whose heart beats are in sympathy with the afflicted.

Those engaged in the work of fighting tuberculosis warn us of the necessity of searching out its victims before the disease has become too firmly implanted in the system. Early diagnosis, followed by immediate treatment, is necessary to bring about the cure of the patient. Sale of Christmas seals makes this possible. The few pennies you give may be the means of saving a human life. What a beautiful thing in retrospect that would be.

STOCKHOLDERS AND EMPLOYEES

In a message from the president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, just made public, we note that there are 108,000 stockholders and 36,000 employees. In the popular idea of big corporations there is a picture of a handful of wealthy individuals as the stockholders and an army of employees. In this corporation there are three times as many stockholders as employees and a similar ratio exists in many other big corporations. The savings of millions of citizens of small means have gone into stock holdings, and when the slogan of the demagogue and the radical, "Sink the Rich," is analyzed it means sink these citizens. Crushing a big corporation with a multitude of taxes does not mean crushing a handful of the bloated capitalists of popular cartoons. It means confiscating the savings of hundreds of thousands of their stockholders as well as endangering the livelihood of thousands of employees.

SPEAKING ABOUT TAXATION

Most people these days like to talk about tax matters. It is a favorite topic during a time when taxpaying is a hard job, regardless of whether taxes happen to be high or low. Unfortunately taxes at present are high beyond the point of safety. To reduce taxes to a reasonable level will be the work of the incoming legislature. The lawmakers will be smart if they refuse to quit until the task has been completed.

The property tax limit addition to the state constitution has provoked more discussion following election than it did during all the time it was awaiting the verdict of the voters. So far nobody seems to have a clear understanding of what it is all about.

NEW YORK MEN TAKE IRON TO GET NEW PEP

New York.—C. Williams, W. 145th St., was all rundown and had no pep or vigor. Vinol (iron tonic) gave him new strength and vigor and made a new man of him. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

That the New Year will be the happiest ever is our wish to all. We feel a deep appreciation for the good will and support you have given us during the past year.

STERRITT SINCLAIR SUPER SERVICE

Lawyers are in disagreement over its exact meaning, and when lawyers disagree the final answer rests with the supreme court. Perhaps that is where the amendment will eventually find a lodging place.

But one thing has been made understandable — Mr. Taxpayer wants his tax burden considerably lightened. No longer is he going to be content with promises easily made, to be just as easily forgotten after election. Wise indeed will be the political leaders of the future who do not have to keep their ears to the ground to hear and know what the people are thinking and saying. Instead they will scale the mountain peaks of public service, where their deeds can be written on something more lasting and more enduring than the desert sands.

THE HOPE OF TOMORROW

"The way out of the world turmoil must be led by those who keep in view three essentials—beauty, service and truth. Keeping these three in view civilization will sail safely. Let one be occulted and civilization is in danger. Let two be occulted and peril is nigh. Let three be occulted and civilization falls. Thus Babylon fell, thus Egypt, thus Rome, and, I doubt not, fell all the civilizations of the past. So today civilization totters."—Sir Auckland Geddes.

Sunday morning we will celebrate the Last Supper at both churches. The subject for the meditation will be in keeping with the New Year and the communion.

Beginning Sunday, January 8th, we will pick up the series of sermons on "The Teachings of Jesus" where we left it several weeks ago. This series was beginning to prove both beneficial and interesting. We hope nothing will interrupt until the series is complete.

Christmas with its delightful atmosphere has passed once more. A few things will stand out in our memory for a long time and one of them the community celebration at the high school auditorium. To say that this meal, that visit, that sermon, or program is the best we ever listened to or was ever in town is a bit out of place to say the least. But to say they caused complete satisfaction, and gave us a thrill and an inspiration to make us better men and women is more in keeping. The community program gave us the thrill and the inspiration and we went away from the place with a renewed sense of the meaning of Christmas. Everyone who took part is to be congratulated and the community should congratulate itself that it has Mrs. Stelter, who gives herself so completely, to put on such a production. The Ironton church will hold its annual meeting at the church in Ironton, Monday, January 2.

"IF IT'S CITIES SERVICE... IT HAS TO BE GOOD"

One of a series of plain talks on petroleum by Cities Service experts.

THIS LAMP BURNS DAILY TO KEEP SULPHUR OUT OF YOUR GASOLENE

As a source of light to read by, this "lamp" would be anything but satisfactory. But as a means of seeing that you get reliable gasoline—gasoline that's safe to use—it is indispensable.

The crude oils which make the best gasoline, also contain sulphur. If this sulphur is left in gasoline, sulphuric acid forming compounds are formed when it burns in the combustion chamber. And sulphuric acid is highly corrosive—attacking cylinder walls, pistons, valves—any metal that it touches.

So chemists burn samples of gasoline in this lamp to see how much sulphur is contained in the gases given off. If there is as much as one-tenth of one per cent, Cities Service chemists will refuse to pass that particular batch of gasoline for sale.

Sulphur content is only one characteristic of gasoline that must be tested, if the refiner wishes to produce a pure, well-balanced, full-performance fuel—suited to the territory where it will be used. For this reason Cities Service maintains a complete staff of chemists, with the most complete equipment to work with. They have the power to reject any run of either gasoline or oil that does not measure up to their standards—and their word in the matter is final.

For Cities Service has given this pledge: "If it's Cities Service, it has to be good." These chemists see that this pledge is kept.

WEATHER HALTS WORK ON SKATING RINK

Inland Lakes Reported in Excellent Shape for Sport, However

Due to a week of unusually warm weather, Charlevoix must wait a while to enjoy the pleasures anticipated in use of the municipal skating rink.

The weather man, whose antics gave the community a green Christmas, also wrecked plans of building the municipal skating rink after preparatory work had been started last week. The project must wait now for more favorable conditions.

In the meantime, excellent skating is to be had on the several inland lakes, adjacent to Charlevoix. Fine skating is reported on Susan, Nowland, Twenty-Six and Twin lakes, and many are going there daily to enjoy the sport.

No matter which way you drive, if you don't drive the right way it may be the way to jail.

FARMERS WEEK SHOWS FEATURE LIVESTOCK

Center Stage Given Exhibits Best Animals from State Herds, Flocks

Michigan livestock owners will find their special interests given plenty of attention at the various livestock shows to be held farmers week at Michigan State college, January 30 to February 3.

Colts, beef calves, and sheep owned by Michigan farmers who are cooperating with the college in livestock improvement projects will bring the best of their herds to the college for show that week. Students will use college livestock to stage the "Little-International," a contest in which the showmanship ability of the students is judged and some of the world's best livestock is exhibited.

Good livestock has lost none of its appeal to farm owners and reports from the shows held throughout the country indicate that crowds attending and interest in these events have equaled any previous records.

PLANS TO CARE FOR BONDS PROGRESSING

Issues Due February 1 Handled Through Supervisors' Plan

Prospects that nearly $200,000 of county and federal aid highway bonds due February 1 will be taken care of without the necessity of refunding, appear very bright at this time.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, who has been working on the matter for the past several weeks, reports that a plan as adopted at a special meeting of supervisors early in December is developing satisfactorily. Bond holders are quite generally willing to extend payment until future funds are available, thus removing the necessity of refunding the portion of the bonds which will not be paid February 1.

COMMUNITY OPERETTA IMPRESSIVELY STAGED

Gymnasium Packed for Entertainment Last Friday Evening

"The Magic Gift," given last Friday evening by the churches of Charlevoix under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter, proved to be one of the season's most beautiful operettas.

The scenes of this story, set in medieval England on Christmas eve, together with lovely costumes and lighting, was very beautiful. The entire cast of characters, well chosen, played their parts exceedingly well to a full house.

Those in charge appreciated the free will offering of $32.84 which was given to the city welfare workers.

OUTLINE ROAD PROJECTS FOR RELIEF

the county caring for all the overhead expenses and for the rental of trucks and machinery, cost of oil, gasoline, etc.

Work contemplated in Charlevoix county in case the loan is obtained would include widening of grade on US-31 from the John Struthers farm north to Bay Shore; widening of grade on M-66 south of Ironton and similar improvement projects on other trunk lines.

The money would be received in three allotments, extending to October 1, 1933, with the indication that the work must be completed by that date. If the loan is obtained, it is probable the work will be started soon after the first of the year.

XMAS CANTATA WON DESERVED ACCLAIM

M. E. CHURCH FILLED TO CAPACITY MONDAY

Local and Petoskey Musicians Praised for Fine Rendition of "The Lord's Anointed"

A crowd that filled every inch of space, including aisles and balcony, was in attendance at the local Methodist church Monday evening, to hear the beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Lord's Anointed," by Lorenz.

The music was not only of the highest order from an artistic standpoint, but was exceedingly reverent and worshipful. The vested chorus of forty-four voices showed remarkable training, with perfect unison in ensemble and vigor of attack. The double procession, using the Christmas "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," was very effective, the first portion being sung in the distance, with closed doors. Four little boys in vestments, with trumpets, preceded the procession, with organ, piano, cornet and two violins in the chancel.

The brilliant work of Mrs. R. Leo Brown in the soprano solo, "The Angels' Song," was a revelation to a Charlevoix audience, greatly augmented in charm by the violin accompaniment by Mrs. Earl Kneal. Mrs. Brown's part in connection with the men's quartette, "Where Is The King?" was also very beautiful. Harter Kirby and Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd had solo numbers that were beautifully rendered and a great credit to the production.

High spots in the program were provided by one, a stranger in this locality, and by one of our own number, whom we still claim, though now residing in Flint. David Cohen, recently come to Petoskey, surprised and delighted everyone with his brilliant and artistic interpretation of Kreisler's "The Old Refrain," while our own Mildred Eckerling MacArthur gave an interpretation of the soprano recitative out of "Messiah," almost as matchless as the great production itself, from Handel's masterpiece "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

The solo and quartette work by Messrs. Foley, Greenway, Williams, Young, Doherty and Tanner was a delight and beautifully done. In instruments, the cornet, by Miss Block, was an effective addition. In tone production, Mrs. Belding, at the organ, gave foundation and unity, without which—and without which instrument—to this writer, all sacred music seems lacking; while the percussion touch and quality of Mrs. O'Brien, at the piano, gave direction and control, which led the large chorus as one voice. Her untiring labors for several weeks, in two cities, made the whole affair possible. The church is very grateful to her and to the many friends from Petoskey and from the other churches here. The Rev. Doane graciously consented to assist in the worship service, thus bringing together in the finest Christmas spirit, these two cities and these two churches—six churches in fact.—Contributed by W. W. Hurd.

FRESHENING BREEZES

A hot Bull should not get discouraged. He ought to see how emphatic the bankers can say "no" to a country editor.

There are a lot of house-holders in this county that could give Mr. Hoover plenty of good advice on how to balance a budget.

From "shirtsleeves to shirt-sleeves" was an old axiom, but it took the stock exchange to leave a lot of the boys without even a shirt.

No wonder John Garner wanted those new postoffice buildings. Just see who is going to occupy them the next four years.

When Michigan sets up those state-controlled liquor stores here's hoping they make Louis, the bartender, wear cleaner aprons than he used to in the old days.

If the new state administration can succeed in getting rid of those bank examiner tours for his city bond house, it will be doing the banking business of Michigan a long-needed favor.

Did you happen to hear what that radio football announcer had to say about the California weather last Saturday? Just wait until the next time somebody from that state starts talking about Florida wind storms.

Defense lawyers for an Ann Arbor youth advanced the unique plea that a common head cold had caused him to stage a gas station robbery. If the opposite end of that young man had been thoroughly warmed from time to time with a birch gad during boyhood he probably wouldn't be suffering from such complexes in his adolescent years.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

The acting local conservation officer and the district supervisor of the conservation department have been notified by the Department to turn over catches of confiscated whitefish to Leslie T. Shapton post for relief work again this winter, but so far there have been no hauls and consequently no fish to distribute. Another shipment of Red Cross flour is expected. There will probably be sufficient flour to carry over until spring.

The gift barrels placed by the post in various stores produced four full barrels of groceries and other articles and fourteen baskets of the provisions were distributed last Sunday morning. At the Christmas party held at the Legion hall Saturday afternoon, 650 boxes of candy and nuts were given out to the little ones.

The proceeds from the Christmas operetta, "The Magi's Gift," presented at the high school gymnasium last Thursday evening, totaling $35, has been turned over to the Legion welfare fund.

The post is planning another card party for Tuesday evening, January 10, and a hard-luck dancing party for Friday evening, January 12. If the party is successful, another will follow the first one.

On New Year's day, members of the post are going out to cut and buzz wood for the Legion hall. Any comrade who feels in need of a little exercise, bring an axe and show-up at the hall at 8 o'clock a. m. Monday morning.

AT THE MOVIES

Medicine Man to President Cohan's Leap

From medicine man to President! From an itinerant medicine show, George M. Cohan is catapulted into the White House in "The Phantom President," Paramount's new-season comedy showing Saturday and Sunday at the Palace theatre, with Claudette Colbert and Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante in other featured roles.

The nation is bemoaning the fact that "the country needs a man." Into the breach steps the medicine man with a panacea for national ills.

Senators Ronkton, Melrose, Sarah Seranton, and Pittairn, the "Big Four," are plotting the nomination of Theodore K. Blair, financier, played by Cohan. They are concerned, however, about his lack of "sex appeal." Missing their train after a visit to Blair's home, they come upon Cohan, as Doc Varney, in his medicine show, and are astonished by his exact resemblance to Blair.

The "Big Four" conceive the idea of persuading the fast-talking, magnetic medicine-man to assume Blair's identity. Blair dislikes the idea, but is assured that the hoax will elect him and that Varney will fade from the scene immediately after election. Meanwhile, Varney has met Felicia Hammond (Claudette Colbert), daughter of an ex-president, and the object of Blair's affections, and agrees to the hoax because of his rising interest in her.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "God."
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room. "Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 23.

Among the bible citations was this passage (1 Cor. 2:14, 5): "And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (1:127): "Science is an emanation of divine Mind, and is alone able to interpret God aright. It has a spiritual, and not a material origin. It is a divine utterance,—the Comforter, which leadeth into all truth."

The greatest distress this winter will be among the laborers in the crowded cities. Farmers may be broke, but they at least have something to eat.

You hear a lot of talk about self-made men, but all men are that.

COMSTOCK TAKES MICHIGAN REINS

INAUGURATED IN SIMPLE CEREMONY MONDAY

Heads First Democratic Administration in Michigan in 15 Years—Legislature Democratic Formally installed Monday as the state's chief executive, Governor William A. Comstock is now directing his attention to the impending session of the legislature and the message through which he will convey to the lawmakers the program which he desires written into law.

The session was opened Wednesday, but the messages of both the governor and his predecessor, former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, will not be delivered until Thursday.

In the meantime the Democratic majority in the House is busy dividing the patronage which falls its lot, the Senate having completed its caucus which resulted in the replacing of all but two of the former employees of the upper chamber and adoption of the so-called unit rule.

Of the more important appointments were: Leon D. Case, Water-viet, named to be president pro-tem; Donald Confield, Detroit attorney, selected to succeed Fred Chase, Lansing, as secretary of the Senate, and George B. McNally, Ionia, who will succeed Grover M. Rouse, Atlanta, as sergeant-at-arms.

In the House interest is centered upon the two-man race between Rep. Martin R. Bradley, of Ithaca, and Rep. Tracy Southworth, of Monroe, for the speakership. Both were the only Democrats elected to the 1931 session, and each claims about half of the Democratic votes in the House in their campaign to be presiding officer of the House.

Governor Comstock, however, has no intention of permitting this division of strength to continue, and will consolidate the Democrats behind a single candidate.

Republicans will confer their leadership upon Rep. Gus T. Hartman, of Houghton, but there is some doubt that he will permit his name to be placed up for the speakership.

The most important development following Monday's inaugural was the admission that Burnett J. Abbott, of Saginaw, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for secretary of state, will be named secretary of the state administrative board.

Abbott was the sole Democratic candidate on the state ticket who failed to win election, losing out to Frank D. Fitzgerald by a few thousand votes.

His selection to the post of secretary of the board—which is one of the choice political plums—apparently means that the Democrats do not intend to challenge the validity of Fitzgerald's election despite their bitter criticism of the conduct of a recount of ballots.

While Monday's inaugural ceremonies were not conducted with the degree of spartan simplicity which Governor Comstock professed to desire, there was little surplus pomp.

In the hall of the House of Representatives which was crowded beyond capacity the incoming governor and the other state officers took the oath of office and accepted from Governor Brucker their legacy of leadership and responsibilities.

"The people of the state have committed their future and their hopes into your hands for the next two years," Brucker said to Comstock. "Even Republicans must stand by ready to lend aid in this critical hour. I know you will do your best and I leave the office to you with no personal malice or prejudice."

To which Governor Comstock replied:

"We realize we are taking up a work which has been difficult for the previous administration and that it is our duty to continue with that which has been done in a period of emergency."

"We must lay a firm foundation for the return of more prosperous hours."

At the governor's side, in addition to the state officials who will compose his administration, was Mrs. Comstock, the state's new "first lady."

An informal reception followed the inaugural and later the governor was host at a small dinner party attended, in addition to his personal family and close friends, by George Welch, former city manager of Grand Rapids and gubernatorial candidate in the Republican primaries in September.

The governor's most pressing occupation at the present hour is the composition of his message to the legislature. He admitted that he has destroyed the first draft and is working on a second. While it will, in general, contain a program which he has outlined in campaign and post-election statements, it is known he will dwell principally with the problem of welfare relief and unemployment.

Governor Comstock has taken the position that the state must alter its past policy and begin making direct contributions to the communities in their caring for the indigent. In the past the state's position has been that the job belongs solely to the local governments.

A general program of economies will be outlined.

"BILL" NOVAK IS NAMED WEST POINT CANDIDATE

Robert Beard Sayles of Newberry, has been designated as alternate.

KIPMEN OPEN CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

JOURNEY TO BOYNE CITY THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

Polar Bears Take on Harbor Springs Merchants in Only Home Contest Thursday Night

With Coach Ray Kipke taking his high school cagers to Boyne City for their first Tip of Michigan conference tilt Friday evening, the Polar Bears will furnish the only home basketball attraction of the week. They will engage the Harbor Springs Merchants at the high school gymnasium Thursday evening.

The Charlevoix-Boyer City tilt promises to furnish the highlight in northern Michigan class C basketball competition for the week and, if predictions of dopesters are true, will reveal the 1933 class C champion. In view of their early season records in non-conference games, Charlevoix and Boyne are conceded to be the most impressive aggregations in the conference. Charlevoix, with a team boasting two veterans, is defending its 1931 and 1932 regional titles, while Boyne boasts as many veterans from a team which won district honors a year ago.

Due to the quality of 1932 reserve material available for first-string positions this year, Boyne is conceded a slight edge in some quarters, but despite these claims, fans are looking forward to a close and interesting struggle Friday night.

Polar Bears' Foe Strong

The Polar Bears are tackling a strong opponent in the Harbor Springs Merchants Thursday night. While they have been able to handle the Harborites in previous engagements, the team from across the Bay has always furnished them with strong opposition. It is anticipated, however, that after their defeat by Alma last week, the Bears will be out to keep the balance of their season's record unblemished.

Midland Game Postponed
The annual holiday contest between the Polar Bears and Midland, scheduled for Saturday night of last week, was postponed because of numerous other activities, financial and other reasons. The contest will likely be played later in the season.

RETIRING PROSECUTOR HONORED BY OFFICERS

Rollie L. Lewis Feted at Farewell Party Thursday Evening

Rollie L. Lewis, retiring prosecuting attorney, was the honored guest at a party given by county officers in the probate office at the court house Thursday evening.

All officers and deputies with the exception of Judge Ervan A. Ruegger, who was unable to attend, were present.

A fine gift was presented Mr. Lewis by his co-workers of the past four years, testifying to the high regard in which he is held by the county officers.

SUPERVISORS CUT EXPENSE FURTHER

MAKE SUBSTANTIAL SAVING ON SURETY BONDS

Place Limit on Amount of Rat Bounties and Adopt Move to Keep Funds Within Budget

Charlevoix county supervisors, convening in annual January session here Tuesday, continued their efforts toward economy.

In the neighborhood of $70,000 was lopped off the amount of surety bonds furnished officers at county expense by a plan whereby officers furnish personal bonds for half the amount set by law in several instances. For example, the treasurer's bond was set at $100,000, half of which will be furnished in surety bonds by the county and the other half in personal bonds. In cases of the drain commissioner, coroners, surveyor and road commissioners, each must furnish personal bonds for the amounts stipulated. In the aggregate, a savings of approximately $665 was made.

Five Charlevoix county banks were named as depositories for the coming year. The rate of interest was set at 2 1/2% on certificates of deposit and 2% on commercial accounts.

It was voted to limit the road commission appropriation to the exact proportion of money actually collected in taxes, thus eliminating the policy of making up the shortage caused by tax delinquencies from the county general fund. This method will help keep the various funds within their voted budgets and the road commission will stand a shortage in proportion to other funds.

Bounties on rats, which have cost the county in the neighborhood of $500 yearly, were limited to $100 in the future.

The board adopted a committee recommendation limiting expenditures of the county poor commission to $1,500 per month as a means of keeping within the $25,000 budget allowed for the current year. The $1,500 will be distributed in the following manner: $400 to Commissioner Benton's district; $500 to Commissioner Chev's district; $600 to Commissioner Rovick's district. Further recommendations were that the commission confine issues of food to the following staples: flour, when not obtainable from Red Cross; beans, potatoes, pork or beef, oatmeal and milk (where there are children); and that indigents be required to cut own wood. The commission has been informed that when the $25,000 appropriation for the present year is exhausted, relief work will stop.

At the suggestion of Prosecuting Attorney A. L. Fitch, the January session was adjourned until some early date in March, when the solons will meet to consider any legislative relief formulated in Lansing to relieve the situation brought about by the 15 mill tax limitation amendment, providing of course, any such legislation is made. Otherwise they will not meet.

TEXAS PUBLISHER LIKES DEPRESSION

EXPLAINS MANY REASONS IN HUMOROUS WAY

Says Hard Times Drove Him Back to Old-Fashioned Mode of Home Life

In a piece entitled "I Like the Depression," Henry Ansley of the Amarilla (Texas) Globe-News, speaks a lot of good truth. His article follows:

"I like the depression. No more prosperity for me. I have had more fun since the depression started than I ever had in my life; I had forgotten how to live, what it meant to have real friends, what it was like to eat common every day food. Fact is, I was getting just a little high-hat. Three years ago, only one man of the News-Globe organization could be out of town at a time, and he had to leave at the last minute and get back as soon as possible. Many times I have driven 100 miles to a banquet and sat through three hours of bunk in order to make a five-minute talk, then drive 100 miles back so as to get ready for work the next morning."

"Nowadays, as many News-Globe employees as are invited, make these trips, and we stay as long as we want to. The whole outfit could leave the office now and it wouldn't make any difference."

"I like the depression, I have time to visit my friends, to make new ones. Two years ago when I went to a neighboring town, I always stayed at the hotel. Now I go home with my friends, stay all night and enjoy home cooking. I have even spent the week end with some of the boys who have been kind enough to invite me."

"It's great to drop into a store and feel that you can spend an hour or two or three, or a half day just visiting and not feel that you are wasting valuable time. I like the depression."

"I am getting acquainted with my neighbors. In the last six months I have become acquainted with folks who have been living next door to me for three years. I am following the Biblical admonition, 'Love your neighbors.' One of my neighbors has one of the best looking wives I have ever seen. She is a dandy. I am getting acquainted with my neighbors and learning to love them."

"Three years ago I ordered clothes from a merchant tailor, two and three suits at a time. All my clothes were good ones. I was always dressed up. But now I haven't bought a suit in two years. I am mighty proud of my Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes. When I dress up I am dressed up and I don't mean maybe. I like the depression."

"Three years ago I was so busy and my wife was so busy that we didn't see much of each other, consequently we sort of lost interest in each other. I never went home to lunch. About twice a week I went home to dinner—at 6:30 o'clock. I never had time to go anywhere with her. If I did go on a party, I never could locate her, since there was always a 'blonde' or a 'red head' available. My wife belonged to all the clubs in town. She even joined the young mother's club. We don't have any children, but she was studying and between playing bridge and going to clubs, she was never at home."

"We got stuck up and bifalutin. We even took down the old family bed and hought twin beds—on the installment plan. When I would come home at night, if my wife was at home—she would already be in her bed and I would crawl into mine. If I came in first, it was vice-versa.

"We like the depression. We have come down off our pedestal and are really living at my house now. The twin beds are stored in the garage and the old family affair is being used. We are enjoying life. Instead of taking a hot water bottle to bed these cold nights, she sticks her heels in my back just like she did before Hoover was elected."

"I haven't been out on a party in 18 months. I have lost my book of telephone numbers. My wife has dropped all the clubs. I believe we are falling in love all over again. I am pretty well satisfied with my wife. Think I will keep her, at least until she is forty and then if I feel like I do now, I may trade her for two twenties."

"I am feeling better since the depression. I take more exercise. I walk to town and a lot of folks who used to drive Cadillacs are walking with me. I like the depression. My digestion is better. I haven't been to see a doctor in a year. I can eat anything I want to."

"I am getting real honest-to-goodness food. Three years ago we had fllet mignon once a week, now we have round steak and flour gravy."

GEORGE BEEMAN SERIOUSLY HURT

IN CAR WRECK NEAR MORAN MONDAY NIGHT

Body Paralyzed from Blood Clot on Spine—Taken to Ann Arbor by Airplane Thursday

George Beeman, former assistant cashier of the Charlevoix County bank and now cashier of the Newberry State bank, is in a critical condition from injuries received in an automobile accident Monday night.

According to information given over long distance telephone to the Courier Thursday morning by Robert Bridge, who went to Newberry Wednesday night, the accident occurred between 7 and 8 o'clock Monday night near Moran, 20 miles north of St. Ignace, while Mr. Beeman was enroute from Petoskey to Newberry.

Striking an icy spot, the car skidded, broke the steering knuckle and rolled into a ditch. Passing motorists extricated the injured man from beneath his wrecked machine between 9:30 and 10 o'clock and took him to Moran, where he was given first aid treatment by Dr. Edmond, called from St. Ignace. He was later taken to Newberry by ambulance, entering the hospital there at 3:00 a. m.

Mr. Beeman's injuries are very serious. A blood clot on the spine has caused paralysis from the lumbos down through the lower part of his body and he is suffering from numerous cuts and bruises. Due to long exposure, the danger of pneumonia is eminent.

Mr. Bridge stated "Bud" Hammond was taking the injured man to Ann Arbor for treatment this morning (Thursday) by airplane, leaving soon after his call to Charlevoix.

Everyone in Charlevoix was greatly shocked by the tragedy and all are hopeful of Mr. Beeman's recovery from his injuries.

MILD WINTER PROVIDES MANY RECREATIONAL ADVANTAGES

Due to unusual winter weather conditions, this northern Michigan region is enjoying a diversity of outdoor recreational advantages seldom experienced at this time of year.

A report comes to us that three Chicago girls went swimming in Torch lake on December 23rd. Last week a group of local young people enjoyed a morning round of golf under near summer conditions, while the same afternoon was spent skating and ice boating on Susan lake nearby.

LOCAL PHYSICIAN OFFICER OF MEDIC SOCIETY

The Northern Michigan Medical society, which draws its membership from Emmet, Cheboygan, Antrim and Charlevoix counties, has elected Dr. G. E. Frank of Harbor Springs, as its president. Dr. F. F. McMillan of this city, was chosen vice-president, and Dr. Ervin Brenner of East Jordan, secretary-treasurer.

ADVISE REFORM IN STATE GOVERNMENT

COMMISSION POINTS WAY TO ENORMOUS SAVING

Changes Recommended Range From Delinquent Tax Moratorium to Township Consolidation

Far reaching changes, ranging from delinquent tax moratorium to consolidation of townships in rural areas were recommended to the 1933 legislature last week by the commission named two years ago to inquire into possibilities of local government economy.

In its lengthy report handed to Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker, it finds many flaws in the present setup of rural governments, but advises against general abolition of either county or township units.

Relative to the delinquent tax situation, however, the commissioners made their most important recommendations.

Estimates are that taxpayers would be saved $10,000,000 annually if recommendations of the commission were adopted. This saving, coupled with a $5,000,000 decrease recommended by the commission investigating state governmental costs last week, would result in a total reduction of $15,000,000 in tax burdens it is estimated.

"No problem now facing the local governments of Michigan is more serious than the delinquent tax problem," the report reads. "The difficulty is cumulative. Increased delinquencies result in still larger burdens upon those who have paid, and these people, in turn, have borrowed upon the anticipated returns from taxes, and have now increased their debts to a point where some of the wealthiest districts find their credit exhausted. Their needs for funds most pressing, and the spectre of default just ahead."

"It is proposed that all proceedings for the collection of taxes now delinquent shall be suspended, and that owners who pay their current taxes for the year 1932 and future years be permitted to retire the present delinquent sum by paying a low rate of interest upon the balances remaining unpaid, together with annual 10 per cent installments on the principal, beginning at the time of collection for the current levy of 1934."

Owners whose property has been sold at tax sales for taxes and who still have the right of redemption should be permitted to pay 25 per cent of the redemption price, and the state should thereupon advance the balance. In such cases the amount advanced by the state should be repaid by the delinquent taxpayer on the same terms as other delinquent taxes.

"Constitutional authority should be obtained for the flotation of a state bond issue, the proceeds of which may be used to redeem real estate under the conditions just described, and to advance needed funds to assist local governments in meeting debt service charges, with preference being given to debts that should have been paid out of taxes that are delinquent."

Government Criticized

The present organization of county government is criticized in the report as being composed of "a series of independent officers, boards and commissions with no chief executive to coordinate their work." The commission believes this system should be supplanted by constitutional provisions.

MAY ALLOW LONGER FORECLOSURE TIME

Rep. Dana H. Hinkley, Petoskey, Behind Legislative Move

Possibility that the Michigan legislature of 1933 might constitutionally declare a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures without running afoul of the state constitution was recently admitted by Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies.

In a letter to Rep. Dana H. Hinkley of Petoskey, Voorhies said that a properly drawn measure might withstand the test of the state supreme court.

Rep. Hinkley's request for a formal opinion was based upon an announcement last week that a similar legislation will be made at the next session of the Indiana state assembly.

"Bills to suspend or defer mortgage foreclosure have been introduced and passed in previous sessions and my recollection is that one was passed in 1927 or 1929, which shortened the period of redemption, but such a bill, if passed, was vetoed," the attorney general wrote to Rep. Hinkley.

There has been considerable debate as to whether such a law would stand the test of impairment of contract, but the question has never been squarely passed upon in this state.

MASONS TAKE LEAD IN CRIBBAGE MEET

Annual Winter Series Between Masons and Odd Fellows Started

Local Odd Fellow and Masonic lodges opened their annual winter series of cribbage contests at the L. O. O. F. hall Monday evening.

The Masons, led by Will Bellinger, high scorer of the evening with 963 points, assumed a lead at close of the initial night's play. Team scores were: Masons 15,518, Odd Fellows 15,352, giving the Masons an advantage of 166 points. Fred Bergman led the Odd Fellows with a score of 862.

The series will consist of ten contests, the next to be held Monday evening at the Masonic hall. At the close of the contest, prizes are awarded for high score and the losers put in a "feed" for the winners.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Golden West" With George O'Brien, Opening

Zane Grey's "The Golden West," the romantic Fox thriller, brings the indomitable George O'Brien to the Palace theatre screen in the first dual role of his career next Saturday and Sunday.

The opening scenes are laid in the old south where a family feud results in a tragedy and hatters a romance between the hero and heroine. The locale then shifts to the far west where the real thrills of the picture takes place.

Torn from his sweetheart, the boy joins a wagon train going west and finally meets a pioneer girl whom he marries. When their son has reached the age of three years, Indians massacre the inhabitants of the entire settlement, saving only the child who grows up among them and eventually becomes the leader.

This accounts for a lapse of 20 years and in the second part of the picture O'Brien portrays the role of the young white brave. Destiny brings him in contact with the daughter of the girl of 20 years before, and their conflict of emotions is given full sway before the old romance of their forebears is refilled in their own hearts.

FIRST REPORT MADE ON SALE OF SEALS

Charlevoix County Contributions to Date Total $167.18

Summaries on the 1932 sale of Christmas seals, compiled by the Michigan Tuberculosis association, show a total of $167.18 received up to December 31 in Charlevoix county.

"In view of the times, a truly remarkable response has been made to the Christmas seal sale," Tuberculosis association officials acknowledge. "Letters accompanying remittances reflect the denials many, many families made to buy this year their usual quota of seals."

"Even so, the need for further support of anti-tuberculosis work is great. Approximately one-third of the people to whom seals were sent have not yet been heard from. Every remittance, large or small, from this group will further the work that can be done to find and prevent tuberculosis in children. Even a silver coin will help."

That nobody knows where the tuberculosis death rate is going in the next few years, or where the disease will strike, is emphasized by students of tuberculosis. Pointing to the increased tuberculosis rates reported from 15 large American cities in 1932, they warn that untiring efforts along all sectors of the tuberculosis battle-front will be necessary to guard against the possibility of general return of a high tuberculosis death rate.

BEAVER ISLAND AIR-MAIL SERVICE OPENS

Eleven Passengers Carried in Three Trips Across Lake Monday

While weather conditions still permit boat trips between Charlevoix and Beaver island, airmail service to St. Ignace was inaugurated Monday. Pilot Earl Schneider of Detroit, successful bidder for the airmail contract, made three cross-lakes on the initial day, carrying, in addition to mail, eleven passengers.

A considerable reduction in rates for passengers during the coming winter will probably tend to increase cross-lake by plane.

vision for election of an executive empowered to appoint and remove clerks, treasurers and other county officers.

Elimination of the counties, police force or deputy sheriffs is suggested and the report asserts that counties should have the choice of continuing under the present system or adopting a home rule government of their own election.

Universal adoption of the county as the unit for welfare relief is urged. Elimination of the offices of county registers of deeds and coroners is recommended, the duties of these offices being taken over by the clerk and prosecutor, respectively.

While the commission finds that complete elimination of the township unit would be inadvisable because it is the sole medium of government for rural areas, it does urge that the sparsely populated ones take advantage of existing statutes permitting consolidation.

Creation of a permanent state commission to supervise local financing and taxation is recommended.

"BUY AMERICAN"

Recently representatives from every dominion and province in the British Empire met in Ottawa, Can., and decided, among other things to "Buy British." In other words, each country making up the vast British Empire, pledged itself to buy British made goods and to help the great British Commonwealth. They have embarked on an extensive advertising campaign, to spread the slogan "Buy British." The American Legion of the state of Michigan is starting a similar campaign to spread the slogan "Buy American."

If every loyal American citizen would pledge himself to buy only American made goods, what an impetus it would give to our American factories and farms. Based on the average wage of 60c an hour to American workmen, and the current exchange rate on foreign money to the American dollar, the corresponding rate in France would be 12c an hour, in Italy 9c, and in Japan 7c an hour. Foreign made goods can be made, brought here to America and sold for less than some American manufacturers can sell them, even after paying duty and transportation—but, American made goods are made up from American produced raw material, in American factories, by American employees, using American fuel, power, lights, mines, etc., and paying American taxes. The American manufacturer is doing something to help build up our country. Isn't that worth something? Just think what it means. The farmer, the woodsman, the miner, the transportation lines, the producers of fuel, power, lights, machinery and other materials are benefited when you buy an American made product. American made goods are admitted to be a little higher grade than similar articles made abroad. Some of them may be just a bit higher in price, but isn't it worth it? There are mighty few manufactured articles of any sort whatsoever, that are not made here in our own U. S. A., and they are just a bit better than the imported article, in the majority of cases. Shall we not solemnly pledge ourselves, the next time we make a purchase, to look and see if it bears the sign, "Made in France" or Japan, or Germany, or England, and lay it aside and look for the article we know is made in America. Just last week, quite a furor was created in the House of Commons in London, over a member of parliament finding in a restaurant in the basement of the parliament building, a bottle of Tabasco sauce that was made in Louisiana, here in the United States. He took the matter up on the floor of parliament and demanded an investigation as to why an American made product should be served under the roof of the House of Parliament. Let us remember this incident the next time we are tempted to buy a foreign made article, and "BUY AMERICAN."

F. H. Wilkinson, Americanization Officer, American Legion.

SMALL PROFITS MAKE FARMERS STUDY MORE

Increased Enrollment Said to Be Due to Need for Careful Training

Decreased prices for farm products have apparently convinced many Michigan young men that thorough training in general and special farm industries is needed to offset the narrow margins of profit, according to the director of short courses at Michigan State college who points to the largest enrollment in short courses since 1922.

These already enrolled have entered the 16 weeks course in general agriculture in which the students are given training in the production of field crops, dairy products, fruit, and other lines of farm work. The college also has many courses which run for a day or a week, when training in only one subject is given.

Five of these special courses began January 3. Dairy production, dairy manufacture, agricultural engineering, poultry, and fruit production are the subjects. Other courses are given later in the year.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Members of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, turned New Year's day to good account. Some fifteen of them sallied out Monday with axes and cross-cut saws to cut wood on the city property, just south of Coulter's between highway 66 and the lake. Assisted by a car and trailer, a team and wagon and two extra horses to drag out the wood, the "lumberjacks" (most of whom were quite amateurish) succeeded in cutting some 12 cords of two-foot stuff for the Legion hall.

The club meets this week Tuesday by buzzing up the logs and most of it is now in the basement of the hall. A good day's work.

The Legion, all over the nation, is commencing to feel the strong, guiding hand of the new national commander, Louis A. Johnson. He has already dealt several paralyzing "hay-makers" to "Nels" and the gang of "plutes," admirals and other "bra-hats" who would like to see the disabled veterans thrown back upon the tender (?) mercies of local government and their own income taxes thereby reduced, and will probably head 'em a few more before he is through with them. They are not fond of some of the things he is exposing, such as the scandalous government mail contract of which Archibald Roosevelt—one of the "big boys" in the "Nels" organization—is said to have been the chief beneficiary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Subject, "Sacrament."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"God" was the subject of the lesson-convocation in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 1.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 19:6): "And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbooks, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.116): "Science so reverses the evidence before the corporeal human senses, as to make this Scriptural testimony true in our hearts. The last shall be first, and the first last, so that God and His idea may be to us what divinity really is and must of necessity be,—all inclusive."

Seed Production and Marketing Short Course Offered at M. S. C.

Announcement has been recently received from the Michigan State college that a one week's short course in seed production and marketing will be offered the week of January 23rd to 27th.

This short course should be of interest to any farmer who wants to know the latest findings along the line of good cultural practices. During the last three years a large number of those taking the course have been farmers who were interested in better cultural practices than in seed production. Many methods that are practiced by a seed grower can be properly followed by any farmer.

The expense will indeed be nominal. In fact, there will be no registration fee, no books to purchase, and rooms can be secured in East Lansing at the rate of 50 cents per night. Board also is very inexpensive. It would seem that the total expense of the complete week should not be over $7.50.

If interested, your county agricultural agent has the complete outline of the topics to be discussed.

Government Loan to Be Available to Charlevoix County Farmers — Committee Appointed

The machinery has already been set up in the county to make loans to farmers. The loans will bear 7 per cent interest and may extend for a maximum period of 12 months, with shorter periods recommended.

There are several types of loans available but the one no doubt that will be largely taken advantage of is commonly known as the "barnyard" loan. Under this loan a farmer may borrow money to increase his herd of cattle; to purchase feed with which to more adequately balance up his farm program; and secure a loan to pay current bills and other indebtedness.

However, it is necessary that each applicant have adequate security to cover the loan. In the majority of cases it will be necessary to give a chattel mortgage on all livestock and in case this is not sufficient, you may be asked to give a mortgage on your machinery and equipment and even the real estate itself.

If you are interested in this proposition you should see the nearest committee man or your county agricultural agent, and secure full details concerning this loan. The county committee consists of: Walter G. Cornell, East Jordan, chairman; George Meggison, Charlevoix; Dan Swanson, East Jordan; Dan Herrington, Boyne Falls; Wesley Dillworth, Boyne City.

On the loan application it is necessary for each applicant to state his financial condition fully and to have good knowledge of his farm income, especially the livestock sales and receipts.

You will recall that the government seed loan which was available last year, was for the purpose of loaning money to purchase seed, fertilizer, spraying materials and fuel for work units, while this loan has a broader interpretation, and can be used for more purposes than was the case of the seed loan.

The committee announces that applications will be made out on January 1, 1933, until such a final date as the committee later announces.

COMSTOCK ASKS FOR TAX REFORM

ADVISES CHANGES IN MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

Welfare Relief, Old Age Pension, Revision of Election Laws and
Other Changes Suggested

The complete text of Gov. William A. Comstock's speech to the 37th session of the Michigan legislature last Wednesday afternoon is as follows:

"This administration must face and solve problems of present emergency and future policy which will demand of us all the utmost in patience, self-sacrifice, patriotism and co-operation. The economic disturbance which has so upset individuals and business has not spared our governmental units. This legislature will be deluged with a flood of requests for legislation purporting to cure each and every one of the ills we are suffering. It is proper and right that all requests be given due consideration, but we should bear in mind that ill considered, or selfishly inspired, or partially corrective legislation will only make matters worse. We must direct our labors along definite lines. This message merely suggests a plan of attack upon our problems.

"These problems naturally divide themselves into two classes, the present and emergency problems and those which have to do with the period of business and social reconstruction which must naturally follow this period of depression. I shall discuss the immediate problems first.

In this, class, the most important is the Welfare Relief situation. The resources of many of our local subdivisions of government, applicable to relief of destitution, have been exhausted, federal aid is at an end, and provided the state bears its share of the burden. This legislature should recognize the plain duty of the state in this emergency. You should co-operate with our municipal subdivisions and with the federal government even to the extent of a direct appropriation if necessary.

While providing for this emergency, we must recognize a further responsibility, the necessity of a program of work relief to help take up the unemployment slack. Much study has been given this subject by public spirited persons in all sections of the state. You will have before you the results of their study and experience. We should seek out and commit the state government, in co-operation with the municipal subdivisions and the federal government, to a definite policy on this problem in order to preserve the independence and morale of our needy.

"The present method of caring for the aged poor in this enlightened state is antiquated and inhuman. The legislature should adopt an 'Old Age Pension Act.'

"The necessity for rigid economy in the administration of state affairs is increasingly evident. You will have before you an excellent and exhaustive study made by a committee of the last legislature on this subject. The economic recommended should be the minimum endeavor of our administration.

"We are all aware that the base of our taxation system has been shattered. The tax on real estate no longer provides a reliable source of revenue. This legislature must face this fact and the necessity of seeking out a new source or sources for state income. A combination of a sales tax and a gross income tax seems the natural answer to this problem.

"Due to the adoption of the 15 mill constitutional limitation, our primary school system is threatened with disruption. This system which has been the pride of our state and the model for modern educational systems the world over, must be maintained. It is probable that state aid will be necessary for those school districts most seriously affected.

"Much injustice has been caused in these times of stress by our drastic real estate tax laws. We must make it possible, in spite of tax de-

DILLMAN REPORTS DECREASE IN ROAD TAX

Sixty-Eight Per Cent Saved from Real Estate During 1932

A reduction of 68 per cent in the amount of real estate taxes levied for highway purposes was accomplished during 1932, Grover C. Dillman, highway commissioner, announced.

He credited the reduction to legislation which was passed at last spring's special session and to economies put into effect by local road officials.

He said that in 1930 the total tax levies for local highway purposes amounted to $22,854,095 while in 1932 they were only $6,379,993. The 1932 local road tax reduction was 68 per cent under 1931, he said, and 79 per cent lower than 1930.

The greatest reduction during the two year period was in county road taxes which dropped 86 per cent; township taxes were lowered 52 per cent; and special district levies were slashed 67 per cent.

INJURY FATAL TO GEO. W. BEEMAN

DEATH OCCURRED FRIDAY AT ANN ARBOR

Methodist Church Filled for Funeral Services Held at 2 o'clock
Sunday Afternoon

Injuries received a week ago Monday in an automobile accident near Moran were fatal to George W. Beeman, former local young man.

Death occurred at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at University hospital, Ann Arbor, where Mr. Beeman had been rushed by airplane earlier in the day. An X-ray revealed the back broken below the shoulders and the spinal cord severed.

Mr. Beeman was a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of '19, and of the University of Michigan. He was employed by the Charlevoix County bank for many years, becoming assistant cashier before taking over the duties as manager of that institution's Boyne City branch. Late last summer he took a position with the Newberry State bank, of which Congressman Frank P. Bohn is one of the principal stockholders.

While a resident of this city, Mr. Beeman was active in civic and fraternal affairs. He served as secretary-treasurer of the association of commerce for several years and was a member of the Masons and Knights of Pythias.

Mr. Beeman is survived by his mother, Mrs. Adah Beeman.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the First Methodist church, Rev. W. W. Hurd, officiating. Acting as pall bearers were Louis O'Neil, Richard Paddock and Warren Kibbe, this city; Dr. Vernard Miller, Big Rapids; Charles Standard and Charles Walker of Petoskey. The church was filled to capacity by friends who came from far and near to pay their last respects and a mass of floral tokens attested the esteem in which Mr. Beeman was held.

POLAR BEARS TRIM HARBOR TOSSERS

WON 30 TO 19 VERDICT HERE
THURSDAY NIGHT

Polar Cubs Defeated in Prelim by Harbor Seconds—Play at Manistee
Wednesday Night

The Polar Bears added another victory at the expense of Harbor Springs Merchants at the high school gymnasium last Thursday evening, winning 30 to 19.

Charlevoix led all the way, but by close margins in the first half. They had an advantage of a single point at the quarter, when the score stood 6 and 5, and had doubled that margin at the half when they led 16 to 14.

The Polar Bears struck their stride in the third period, piling up three goals and a gift shot while holding Harbor to a single point, and in the fourth added seven more points to the visitor's two goals.

Dean Davenport and Ikens were high for the Polar Bears with 10 points each. Brown scored 8 and Kipke 2. For the losers, Quinn and Francis scored 6 each.

Coach Brotherton of Boyne City, handled the game very satisfactorily. Harbor won Prelim.

Harbor won an even split on the evening's bill when their second squad took the Polar Cubs into camp by a 13 to 6 count in the preliminary contest. The visiting team showed a far better brand of team work in winning.

Polar Bears to Manistee

While the high school cagers are entertaining home basketball fans with contests here during the next two weeks, the Polar Bears will take to the road for one week at least. Wednesday afternoon they go to Manistee for a return tilt with the fast Iron Works aggregation from whom they won a week ago on the local court. This contest is the only one scheduled on the southern trip this year. In previous winters, the schedule usually took in Midland and some other strong aggregation.

ODD FELLOWS TAKE LEAD AT CRIBBAGE

Overcome Previous Masonic Advantage in Play Monday Night

The Odd Fellows turned the tables on the Masons in the second of their series of cribbage contests Monday evening, to emerge the leaders by quite an appreciable margin.

Overcoming a lead of 150 points following the first night's play, the Odd Fellows turned in a team score of 20,077 points to the Masons' 19,507, or a difference of 570. Taking 104 from this number leaves 194, the margin by which the Odd Fellows now lead.

James McGeehan turned in a perfect score of 968 for the winners, while Capt. Frank Partridge was high for the Masons with 962.

The next contest will be held Monday evening, January 23rd, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

PETOSKEY TEACHER IS FREED OF BLAME

Arthur Treloar, 34, Petoskey school teacher, was exonerated by a coroner's jury of all blame in connection with the death of George Heck, 38, Lansing attorney, who was killed when struck by a car driven by Treloar on US-27 January 2.

DEAD LINE FOR PLATES JAN. 31

CAR OWNERS SHOULD STUDY
INSTRUCTIONS HEREIN

Care in Following Them Will Save Time, Trouble and Confusion —Must Bring Your Title

(By E. V. Tyler.)

With the time drawing near when all car and truck owners in Michigan must equip their vehicles with 1933 license plates or be liable to arrest and fine, it is well to consider some of the things that are necessary to be done in order to procure a license.

First, as to the date. While no official information to that effect has yet reached the local branch office, reports in the press of the state announce that Secretary of State Fitzgerald has set the deadline for the purchase of license plates at midnight on January 31, 1933. It is also stated that this decision is provisional and that, in the event that economic conditions throughout the country have not materially improved by the date announced, a further thirty day extension may be granted. Sixty days, however, is the possible limit of extension within the discretionary power of the secretary. It is well, however, to make application well in advance of the first date set and avoid the annoying congestion that occurs when everyone waits until the last minute.

The hours of sale at the local branch office at the information bureau in Charlevoix during February and March will be 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m. Applicants are requested so far as possible to avoid coming at the noon hour (12:00 to 1:00). In cases of urgent necessity, special arrangements for attention outside of office hours may be made by telephone (Charlevoix No. 105).

Do not forget to bring with you your certificate of title. This is the large letter-size green or yellow sheet that looks like a bond, and must be inspected and stamped with the plate number at the time the plates are purchased. Absolutely no case will plates be issued unless this certificate of title is presented. This is an inviolable rule of the department of state. "The little square white slip issued at the time the plates are sold and intended always to be carried in the car with the driver's license is the certificate of registration. If it is convenient, bring this along also, as it carries all the necessary information regarding your car or truck that is used in making out the new application blank for plates—name of owner, address, name of car, style of body, model number or letter and year built and engine, serial and title numbers. It also bears the circular stamp of the branch, showing the date on which the plates were purchased and—beneath the stamp—the license tax amount and the weight of the vehicle. At the upper right hand margin is stamped the number that appears on your plates. A new certificate of registration will be issued to you with the new plates and the old one destroyed. This should always be carried when driving, as it is your evidence both of power registration and of ownership. The owner's signature on the left hand margin is for purposes of comparison and identification, similar to the method employed in the cashing of travelers' checks. The certificate of registration is the only document required to be shown when crossing the border into Canada. All of the above applies to trailers and motorcycle certificates as well. The certificate of title need not be used except when selling the vehicle or applying for license plates. It should never be carried in the car but kept at home in a safe or at the bank.

In issuing the plates, those who have their application forms already made out will be given precedence over those who have not. Blank forms will be provided at the writing table for those who wish to make out their own forms. Do not attempt this, though, unless you are a good writer and thoroughly understand what you are to do, as these applications, in order to avoid mistakes, must be very legibly written. Ask someone to help you or else give your certificate of title and registration to the branch manager to make out the form. Read carefully, beforehand, instructions under the lines on the form and also on its reverse side.

EXTEND TAX PEN- ALTY TIME LIMIT

COUNCIL ADVANCES THE DATE
FROM JAN. 9 TO FEB. 28

Collections Reported as 49% to Date
As Compared With 60% Paid
In a Year Ago

Charlevoix taxpayers will have until February 28th to pay winter taxes without penalty charges.

Following a precedent set a year ago, the city council extended the date from January 9th at their regular meeting Monday evening, thus affording at least temporary relief to those who were not in a position to pay on that date.

In view of present conditions, the payment of winter taxes is proceeding satisfactorily, according to City Treasurer Robert Rife. At the close of business Monday afternoon, $19,000, or 49% of a total levy of approximately $100,000, had been paid. On the same date a year ago, $72,000, or 60% of a total levy of around $120,000 had been collected. The decline of 11% is due to the fact that several large taxpayers have either remitted part or none of their winter tax to date. Otherwise payments seem to be nearly up to normal and, in fact, are quite a bit in excess of the amount city and other officials had estimated.

A considerable drop in the tax rate, due to state and county reductions has undoubtedly helped to no small extent. The rate of $28.36 per thousand valuation this year, compares with a rate of $31.08 a year ago, or a decrease of $2.72.

Based upon the present rate of payment, it is anticipated Charlevoix taxpayers will meet approximately 60% of the total levy before the deadline set for February 28th. Compared with other counties picked at random throughout the state, this showing will be far above the average.

As far as can be learned local citizens are meeting their taxes equally as prompt as non-resident property owners. This latter classification owns approximately fifty per cent of local property on the tax roll.

COUNTY HIGHWAY TAX CUT FIFTY PER CENT

State, County and Township Economies Bring About Decrease

Taxes for highway purposes in Charlevoix county have been reduced 53.61 per cent in the past year, according to statistics compiled by the state highway department.

Economies instituted by the county and township officials and laws adopted by the legislature, made the reduction possible.

In 1931 the total county tax was $15,097.69, but this was reduced to $20,927.21 in the last year. This includes reductions in county, township and covert road levies.

The total reduction of local highway taxes in the state amounted to 68.5 per cent.

STATES AGREE ON FISH REGULATION

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL LAWS TO GOVERN INDUSTRY

Recommendations Adopted at Chicago by Four States Now Up to Legislatures

Uniform commercial fishing laws for Lake Michigan were virtually agreed upon at the Chicago conference of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana conservation department executives, Fred A. Westerman, head of the fish division of the state department, said Saturday.

"We feel much good has come out of the meeting, sponsored at the request of the Wisconsin commission, Westerman said in outlining the points on which there is an agreement.

"Final decision, of course, is left with the legislatures of the various states, but from the discussions we have I believe that real conservation legislation will follow, to give added protection to the commercial fishing industry along Lake Michigan."

Wisconsin Agreeable

Wisconsin agreed to advocate amendments to its commercial fish bill that would increase the size of the mesh in gill nets to 1½ inches, the legal size now in force in the three other bordering states.

Michigan's statute provides a minimum size of 2½ inches for cubic net mesh. The other states now have 2½ but their representatives agreed to increase the size to meet Michigan's legal net.

Wisconsin agreed to prohibit the sale of undersized fish regardless of whether they are taken in a legal net. Under its present regulations, a legal net means a legal fish. Under Michigan laws undersized fish must be returned to the water.

Wisconsin also agreed to outlaw gill nets having a mesh between 2½ and 1½ inches with the exception of the southern end of Green Bay.

While Michigan will seek to limit the use of deep cub nets to 80 feet of water, Wisconsin will ask a 60-foot limit. Both agreed to a minimum of 4½-inch mesh in the pot.

The two states remain a little apart on the size of legal whitefish and trout, but Wisconsin agreed to step up its requirements.

Michigan says two-pound whitefish and pound and a half trout are legal. Wisconsin computes its requirements by inches. It now legalizes a 13-inch whitefish and a 12-inch trout. It proposes to increase the legal whitefish to 16 inches and the trout to 17 inches, which will leave both classes still under Michigan's.

Michigan agreed to meet Wisconsin's closed season on trout at Oct. 15 to Nov. 21, inclusive, but on whitefish Michigan will advocate a closed season for the month of November with the exception on the Fox, Manitowish and Boulder reefs and Rock river flats, where Michigan would extend the closed season to include Dec. 15 because of the late spawning in those sections.

To Get Copy of Bill

Michigan also will advocate no fishing for spawn during the closed season, but Wisconsin contended that would be asking its legislature for too large a concession at one time.

William H. Loutit, chairman, Westerman and Capt. C. J. Allers of the lake enforcement division represented Michigan; Dr. John Van Oosten, the United States bureau of fisheries; Paul D. Kelleter, director, and R. O. Webster, superintendent of hatcheries, and J. W. MacKenzie, chief law enforcement officer, represented Wisconsin; Walter Shurtz, director of conservation, represented Indiana, and Ralph F. Bradford, director of conservation, appeared for Indiana. Indiana has met most of Michigan's regulations and may introduce in its legislature the same bill the Michigan commission now is preparing. When it is completed Wisconsin is to be furnished with a copy.

NORTHERN AUTO GARAGE BURNS AT EAST JORDAN

The Northern Auto Company garage in East Jordan was damaged by fire early Monday, the loss being estimated at from $6,000 to $7,000. Fire, which started from an undetermined cause, was discovered at about 4:20 o'clock. The offices and show room in the front of the building bore the larger part of the damage.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

CORRESPONDENCE

ATWOOD

January 10th and no beer yet. Fifty per cent flu over this way. Rev. Kendall was out calling on the sick last Monday and Tuesday. Surely we feel very sorry to learn of the death of George Beeman of Charlevoix.

Living is getting cheaper. We learn that pork, dressed, is three cents per pound.

Eber Jolliffe of Grand Rapids, motored up to see the folks last Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday afternoon.

We hear that Aaron Harwood has rented his farm to Norman Arnold of Eastport. Guy Empey, who has been working the farm the past two years, will move onto his farm in the spring, commonly known as the D. H. Stebbins farm.

Little three-year-old "Billy" Jolliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe, fell and broke his collar bone one day last week. He was taken to Charlevoix hospital at once, where Drs. McMillan and Armstrong adjusted the broken bone. "Billy" says that they laid him on a table and three girls all dressed in white (nurses) tried to make him laugh when they knew his neck was broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans DeYoung's daughter was taken to Charlevoix hospital one day last week to be operated on for appendicitis. According to last reports she is doing fine.

Lowest price in 10 years. Campbell's Shoe Sale.—Adv. 22.

CENTRAL LAKE

Quite a fall of snow Sunday. Chickenpox is quite prevalent in town.

Mrs. Mary Carver is quite ill with ulcers of the stomach. Dr. McMillan is giving medical assistance. The basket ball game Friday evening was won by the local quintet over Elk Rapids.

Will Farrell, living northwest of town, has been seriously ill with the flu, but at this writing (Monday) is much improved. Dr. McMillan was called again Sunday.

The Central Lake school began again last week Tuesday morning. The school had been closed for two weeks, a week longer on account of the flu.

Rev. A. A. Wall left Friday for a visit with his son in Detroit. Letter from there says that the unemployment is getting more critical every day. His son, a graduate of the University, has had no employment for a long time.

Mrs. Manlos McGuire had a bad spell again Friday evening and there is little hope for her recovery. She has a bad case of stomach trouble and has tried several different medical doctors, but to no avail. Later:

"NOW I FEEL FULL OF PEP"

After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

That's what hundreds of women say. It steadies the nerves... makes you eat better... sleep better... relieves periodic headache and backache... makes trying days endurable.

If you are not as well as you want to be, give this medicine a chance to help you. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Mrs. McGuire passed away Monday morning.

Clyde Roller and Dan Triplet returned Friday from Detroit, where they had been visiting relatives for three weeks. Mr. Triplet caught a nice case of the flu while returning, and has been ill since. Miss Irene Triplet is not teaching, but has other employment.

Rev. Guy Liskum of Bay View, preached a fine sermon Sunday evening from the text, "They Found Him." A good crowd attended the services at the Free Methodist church. Rev. Liskum substituted for Glen Cortett, who has been ill for some time with the flu.

Barney Mitchell, county road commissioner, tells us that work is expected to begin on M-88 the 15th of this month, or as soon as money is received from the government. He says every corner on M-88 between Mancelona and Eastport will be eliminated. Larabee's corner, four and a half miles northwest of here, will be improved first.

Eastport Sunday school was organized at the Baptist church a week ago last Sunday. Mrs. Rauch is again superintendent. Alice Hooper is organist and secretary. Rewards were given last Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Guyer and Miss Hattie Nicola for attending every Sunday during the past year. At Bay View, James Dawson, Marv and Irene Knowls, Betty, Dorothy and Doris Morse were in attendance every Sunday. At Creswell, Joe Nendle, Lena Boyd and Sarah Boyd did not miss a Sunday for the year.

DEAD LINE FOR PLATES JANUARY 31

Since last licensing and trailers must be weighed each year, on official weight tickets issued by officially registered scales. S. M. See & Sons, Argo Milling Co., and Charlevoix Co-operative association scales are official in Charlevoix. See that the scales and the vehicle are free from snow, mud or other obstructions and that articles not commonly carried by you in the vehicle or attached to it are removed before weighing. This will save much time and trouble later on. The law simply requires that the vehicle be weighed as it is commonly to be used on the highways of the state. As the commercial rate changes at various weight limits, thirty or forty pounds excess may make a considerable increase in the amount of tax and the branch manager has no discretion in the matter. He must use the weight presented.

If you buy a new car from a dealer or a second-hand car from either a dealer or an individual, the law requires that you make application for title within ten days of date of sale. If the car is purchased second-hand and bears 1932 license plates, or was licensed in 1932 whether the plates are on it or not, and the transfer to you occurs prior to February 18, 1933, you must pay one dollar for transfer of title and also an extra dollar for transfer of 1932 license to your name, except that, if you apply for new title within ten days of date of transfer to you by the original owner, you have the privilege of applying for 1933 plates and surrendering the 1932 plates, in which case only one dollar for transfer of title need be paid. If, however, you allow the ten day time limit to expire before making application for new title or, whether within or without the ten day time limit, you decide to retain the 1932 plates, you must then pay the extra dollar for their transfer. Of course, after deadline set for the year, you have no option—the 1932 plates must be transferred if the title transfer was made before February 18, 1933.

If you buy a second-hand car, truck or motorcycle, either from a dealer or an individual, insist that the title to same, properly transferred and notarized be turned over to you at the time the vehicle is delivered to you. The law requires this. If bought from an individual, see that part one of the transfer sections on the back of the certificate of title is properly made out; if from a dealer, parts one and two should be O.K. before you accept it. Never accept a title signed in blank—that is, simply signed by the owner without having appeared before a notary or filling in the facts. Such a transfer is worthless. Never transfer a title certificate to anyone else this way, yourself. Every signature to a transfer must be written in the presence of a notary public, justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths and the notary must sign himself and affix his commission expiration stamp or date as well. No title will be accepted for transfer nor will plates be issued on same unless it is correctly filled out in every respect and no document will be notarized by the branch manager unless the signer appears before him personally to sign, or is known to him and appears in person to attest his own signature previously written. This last rule will be observed at all times and in all cases.

When buying a new car from a dealer, see that the latter gives you a reasonably detailed bill of sale to the same or fills out the application for certificate of title form with its attached assignment of which all Michigan automobile dealers are supposed to have a supply, in which latter case a bill of sale is unnecessary. If you buy a new or second-hand engine for your car, either from an individual or a dealer, see that you get a bill of sale for it or transferred title and remember that the certificate of title covering the motor vehicle you install the engine in must be sent in to the state department to be replaced with a certificate showing the number of the newly installed engine. There is a special application form to be made out for such changes of title which must be accompanied by the bill of sale or transferred title and the fee is one dollar. The same rule about correction of title holds good when the style of body is changed, as when a roadster is converted into a pick-up delivery or a touring body exchanged for a sedan body, etc. The bill of sale, however, is only required in case of the engine. In some makes of cars, the serial numbers are stamped on the bodies and, in case of a switch, the change in serial number should also be noted in the application for corrected title.

Where a car is purchased or last licensed in another state, before Michigan plates can be issued, the certificate of title or other documentary evidence of ownership issued by that state must be sent in to Lansing, accompanied by a bill of sale

If there is no assigned certificate of title, and an application on special form for Michigan certificate of title. The fee for this application is one dollar. When the Michigan title is returned to the owner, he may apply for his plates, or his application for plates and license tax money may be sent in to Lansing with the application for new title.

One other point to remember is that the license tax on your passenger car is the same from year to year, unless in some way you have changed the weight of it. The tax is written in ink just under the rubber stamp impression on your certificate of registration. Try and have the exact change with you, if possible, as it will save your time and that of others.

PHELPS SCHOOL

Quite a few children have the flu. Rose Saganeck is visiting her home here for a few weeks.

We are learning the song "Little Orphan Annie."

During drawing class Thursday we made Eskimo drawings.

Helen Saganeck made polar bears for window decorations this month.

The first and second graders are learning "Who Loved Best" for language.

Bernice Blanchard visited our school Tuesday and Mr. Mellenkamp on Friday.

Billie, Florence and Alice Himebaugh were the only pupils neither absent nor tardy last month.

MASS PRODUCTION

Somewhere I worked full hard and long.

The best I had was in that work. There came a day when I was told, "Be on your way, you are too old!"

It almost took my breath away. My tongue grew dry; thought I, "The hand that feeds the sparrows."

Won't forget; He's ever nigh. Machines that work how fast, how fine.

They're of our make and of our line; Sure, let them work, do all the work! They'll feed us all, they never shrink.

The looms are weaving night and day; They do not eat, they wear no clothes.

They have no families to support; What they produce we all must share. —Richard L. Schmitt.

AN ARMY of salesmen who take little time

When a salesman calls upon you, your subconscious question is, "How much time will he take?"

Yet every day an army of salesmen comes marching into your living room. They take your time only when you can spare it. They present their products to you briefly and politely, without a single interruption during your moments of consideration. They retire at your wish, or tell you more if you desire.

Are you learning all you can from these salesmen—the advertisements in your weekly paper? They come from the market places of the world. They bring the latest facts about the things you want and need, suggest other things you might want or need. They can make life more pleasant, efficient and economical. But you—and you alone—are the judge!

Can you afford to deny an audience to these salesmen? They do more than try to sell you something. They bring you the news of what your neighbors and your countrymen are doing in the world of business.

Advertisements do not ring doorbells—but they receive cordial reception from intelligent, discriminating people everywhere. Again and again they point out the only true bargains—sound merchandise at fair prices. When you read the advertisements, you are helping yourself to better things!

British Shaft Will, Honor Pocahontas

Norwich, England.—The Norwich consistory court has issued a decree permitting the erection in the Heigham parish church yard of a monument to Pocahontas, who is said to be buried there.

Pocahontas, among other distinctions, set the fashion for American girls by being revealed at the English Royal court. She died of typhoid fever in 1647 after having set sail for Virginia with her husband, John Rolfe.

Glatom dam raises the 'water bridge' to the height of a seven-story building."

Bradshaw strove desperately to finance a company devoted to gleaming mineral from the dumps and refuse of the old abandoned mines. It was a silly proposal, said other miners. But Bradshaw persisted and since 1924 has paid stockholders more than $182,000 on a minor investment. He was right. The old dumps were rich in gold, which pioneer mining methods failed to extract.

THE FARMER AND THE FARM

The plight of the farmer has been a topic of discussion for many years. It has been worn threadbare without yielding much in the way of either intelligent information about his business or improvement of his condition. It has been seized upon by the politicians to fortify themselves in office and for raids upon public funds. It is true the farmer suffered through the high price of things he had to buy and the low price of things he had to sell, but it is doubtful if any of the so-called remedial legislation in his behalf will have any permanent effect in relieving his situation. The farmer, like the banker, the manufacturer, and the merchant, must come to understand that only through better methods in the conduct of his business, and closer application to his job, can he hope to achieve any lasting benefits to himself. It took hard times in the cities to show the farmer that his standard of living has been higher than that of many of those whom he envied when wages were good and industrial employment abundant. Although many farmers are facing the loss of their farms, unless there is an immediate improvement in existing conditions, yet their suffering is not comparable to the city worker who has not only lost his job and his home, but whose family is actually undergoing starvation.

No matter how hard the times are for those living in the country, they generally have enough to eat and wear. Especially is this noticeable among the thousands of school children who throng city streets and country highways during the school week. Invariably country school children look healthier and are dressed better than their city cousins. The old story about the country bumpkin has been completely changed, which should be some source of satisfaction to those living on the farm where boys and girls are always the best of what is raised.

The drift from the country to the city is a rapidly growing movement. The movement was represented by thousands of deserted farm homes and constantly expanding urban centers. Great city skyscrapers were not only filled with boys and girls from the country, but the country districts were further impoverished when they were induced to invest their savings in city improvement bonds, which are now so deflated as to represent an almost total loss. The financial decline of many farm pocketbooks began when the farmer attempted to carry his double financial and economical burden.

Slowly a period of readjustment will come. Those who can leave the city for the country, with more respect for its advantages than they had when they went away. This will tend to a feeling of contentment with farm life and no citizen is a better citizen than the farmer who is satisfied with his place in life. Although the farm has been hard hit, although much of its former material value may have disappeared, it still offers a haven of refuge and happiness to millions of people. Hasten the return of these days of old when the country school house and the country church were the forums of a people—the very foundation of the Republic.

THE DISAPPEARING RAILROADS

Within the last two months the Interstate Commerce Commission has been petitioned to issue orders providing for the abandonment of several branch line railroads in Michigan. Two of these petitions have already been granted and rail service discontinued.

It's the same old story—not enough business to provide for the cost of operation, to say nothing about such other items as repairs, replacements, taxes, return on investment, and all of the other things that go into the successful operation of any business. There is a sorry plight.

The situation is not hard to understand. In Michigan interurban bus passengers can purchase tickets at fruitstand or restaurant ticket offices for any part of the country. Florida citrus fruits, Ohio coal, Indiana oil products are being trucked across the southern boundary line of the state without restraint or regulation. In the same manner are Michigan products being sent into other states. There is a hectic atmosphere overshadowing it all. No wonder we are witnessing former prosperous rail lines become only memories.

The railroads cannot be allowed to perish. They are part of our plan for national safety and security. To allow general paralysis of our great transportation systems would be a calamity. Congress, aided by the

A "Miracle Car" if there ever was one!—$595

Only the combined creative genius of Walter P. Chrysler and the Dodge Organization could have built this big New Dodge Six at such a price

NO ONE had dared dream of it before! Even Dodge engineers thought Mr. Chrysler was asking for a miracle.

The New Dodge Six must embody every feature for which Dodge cars are famous... Floating Power engine mountings... Hydraulic Brakes... Mono-piece steel bodies... Double-drop bridge-type frame... Free wheeling... everything... not a thing omitted... many new, startling improvements added—and sell for as low as $595!

They said it just couldn't be done—BUT—IT WAS DONE!

Only the combined genius of Walter P. Chrysler and the great Dodge organization made this seeming miracle possible. A car so big—so roomy and comfortable, with such luxurious appointments! Yet costing only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced automobiles.

Wait till you drive it! You've never known anything like it! Speed... go... get away! Push her to 60—70—UP. Smooth all the way. No vibration. That's the result of Floating Power engine mountings.

Relax! There's no rattling, no noise. The gears are quiet in every speed, including reverse. Springs can't squeak—they're special "Oillie" springs with covers.

And what a relief you feel in the super-safety of the New Dodge Six, with its Mono-piece steel body. No wood, no glue, no joints to loosen. Duplax safety plate glass windshield—non-plate, shatterproof. New "Airwheel" tires and low center of gravity. And hydraulic brakes with centrifuge drums.

If you want to see real VALUE, then see this new Dodge Six. Imagine the thrill of making it yours for so little more than you'd pay for one of the lowest priced cars.

STATE APPROVAL IS GIVEN RELIEF PLAN

Would Obtain Eight Million R. F. C. Loan for Road Work

Republicans and Democrats, working in full harmony, last Friday launched plans for an $8,000,000 winter road building program to provide employment for heads of 40,000 families during the next eight months.

The project, which was given tentative approval by the road committee of the state administrative board, was presented by Grover C. Dillman, Republican highway commissioner, and received the approval of other members of the committee including Gov. Wm. A. Comstock.

It will be financed through the Federal Reconstruction Finance corporation, the loans to be repaid by the state from its future federal highway aid funds. The counties, which will be the unit actually supervising the work, will be placed under no financial obligation except to provide materials and equipment.

In outlining the proposal the highway commissioner pointed out that test applications covering a dozen upper peninsula counties were given the approval of the Federal Reconstruction Finance corporation last week. He said that in the complete program $2,000,000 should be spent above the straits; $2,000,000 in the northern half of the lower peninsula and the remaining $4,000,000 in the southern half.

Only counties which can prove actual need of such assistance will be eligible to receive it, he said.

Dillman's estimate that 40,000 families will be aided is based upon a federal stipulation that $25 per month per family be provided. Advances from the corporation can be used for payrolls only.

MODERN SCHOOL IS NEARLY READY

New Building at Pellston to Be Occupied After January 20

Pellston's new school building is almost completed and plans are made to move into it about January 20, according to W. C. Bannister, superintendent. The floors are all finished and most of the wood work is completed. Some of the painting and finishing is to be done before equipment can be placed in the building. The new building will provide 12 rooms, which will be ample space to accommodate an enrollment of 350 students. There are five grade classrooms and a clinic room located on the first floor. The combination study hall and library and the typewriting room together with one recitation room occupy one side of the second floor and the manual training room is in the basement.

AT THE MOVIES

"They Call It Sin"

Loretta Young and George Brent, Hollywood's latest and most popular co-starring team bring a new type of screen romance in "They Call It Sin," the First National picture which is showing at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

The story, based on the popular novel of the same name by Albert Steedman Eagen and adapted for the screen by Lillie Hayward and Howard Green, gives these two young players an opportunity to display their abilities in a series of novel situations which culminate in one of the most dramatic climaxes seen upon the screen in a long time. The background of New York night life—scenes behind the wings of a musical comedy show, night clubs and pent houses all furnish the motif for his unusual adventure of romance, drama, comedy and music.

And so the earth is losing speed. Well, that sounds hopeful. Perhaps it is on the up-grade.

HUNTING SEASONS

CLOSE JANUARY 31

All Game Protected from That Date to Next October

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB

OFFICERS ELECTED

Harold Hallett Chosen President at Annual Meeting Monday

The Charlevoix Sportsman's club elected officers for the ensuing year and made plans for future activities at their annual meeting held in the K. of P. hall Monday evening.

Harold Hallett was elected to succeed L. S. See as president, and Roy Kanger was chosen vice-president. Other officers re-elected were: Clarence Wood, secretary, and Harry Gregory, treasurer. "Bill" Fessenden succeeds Oscar Nelson as director with C. Y. Marshall and A. L. Fitch.

Plans were made to sheet pile a portion of the lower end of Stover creek in an effort to improve smelt dipping conditions during the annual spring spawning run. By this means the channel will be made to run in a straight line into Lake Charlevoix instead of angling off to the south as at present. Another plan is to construct a settling pool, a distance upstream from the mouth of the stream to check force of the current. It is expected these improvements will greatly aid smelt dipping when the "run" is on.

Our Government
—How It Operates

By William Bruckart

MARKET INFORMATION

IN A nation that is as great as ours in volume of things produced, there must be the natural consequence of an enormous consumption of home commodities and merchandise produced here. It is essential, therefore, that the producer of agricultural commodities, the processor of those commodities and the distributor of them, all must be up-to-date on market data. The same is true if it be a producer of pigs, a grower of oil, a manufacturer of automobiles, and on through the list. So there is the need for domestic facts and figures.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce is just as thorough in its study of the domestic markets as it was shown heretofore to be in the assembly of information from the foreign field. Possibly the gathering of information at home is a little more simple than it is abroad, but that is more apparent than real; it only seems more simple because we are more familiar with the practices of commerce and industry here than, say, in France or Japan.

Throughout the United States, in all of the principal cities, the department maintains branch offices. Stationed there are men highly trained for their particular work. In the territory in which Akron, Ohio, is located, we find men who have intimate knowledge of the tire industry. Along the seacoast there will be men of shipping experience as well as men with knowledge of whatever other industries make up the principal businesses of the area. In the vast farming areas of the Middle West, there are men with intimate acquaintance with markets for agricultural staples, and so on.

These men are reporting constantly to the home office in Washington, and they are thus serving as advisors to the nation as a whole since it is calculated with some definiteness that our national consumption constitutes about 50 per cent of our production of all commodities put together.

Besides the "field offices," as they are called, there are the various divisions in the headquarters here with specific jobs to do. One of them, for example, has been engaged over a period of several years attempting to find out why some grocery stores prosper and why others alongside will fail. Another crew has been studying the reasons for demand in one section for certain types of merchandise while another community a few hundred miles away wants something of a different type.

The bureau's domestic division has men who are actually serving retail businesses of the country in exactly the same way as a physician treats a patient. They point out how to avoid wasting dollars instead of wasting health; they suggest ways to attract customers to increase trade instead of building up bodily resistance to disease, as the doctor would tell his patient. In other words, these are commercial diagnosticians, and the records would seem to indicate retail trade is on a very much firmer foundation and that the consumer gets more for his dollar as a result of their work.

Statistics constitute an important adjunct of this service, as well as that supplied by the foreign service, and in this the bureau of the census plays its role in behalf of business. I used to think before I knew better that all the bureau of the census did was to count the noses of the nation, but that is only a minor part of its work. It does that job every ten years, and it is a huge task, but all of the other time it is engaged in finding out how many washing machines were produced last year, how many pairs of shoes were manufactured in the first three months of this year, etc.

It always has been a matter of interest to me to observe these census statisticians "in action." They will examine a tabulation several feet square, spend hours doing so. From these figures they make others. Every movement, however, is towards a definite end, namely, a fact.

There is one result of constant calculation and one that illustrates better than any that comes to mind at the moment. In the census office is a giant electric clocklike machine. It has several hands, moving in clock manner, around the perimeter, and every time this "clock" ticks, it records the birth of an American citizen. In something of the same manner, a death is registered.

Of course, that machine does not register deaths or births; it merely registers figures on these vital statistics that represent the average number of deaths and the average number of births that have been shown to occur through tabulation of statistics.

One may say that has nothing to do with business, but that is an incorrect assumption. How, for instance, would manufacturers of large clothes be able to plan their production programs for ten years hence, say, if they could not figure on a certain increase in population in the territory they reach? That example may not be the best, but it will serve to show in what extent those statistics may be used. It serves to indicate likewise that the domestic staff of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce digs around in the most unexpected places for material with which to fill this new style Pandora's box, into which we will next examine.

RADIOTIC

Corn Bread That Will Please All

Delicacies Sure of Warm Welcome at Any Meal They Are Offered.

Different kinds of hot breads made of cornmeal are having a popular vogue just now among those who go in for all grades of elaborate or simple food. How it is to be made and whether the meal shall be yellow or white depends, in many homes, upon traditions and which section of geography the family came from.

Since most members of the average family, especially the men, like delicious hot bread at some stage of a meal, the relish with which corn bread is received is pretty sure to be ample reward for the amateur cook's bread making bother. Sally MacDonnell writes, in the New York World-Telegram.

Corn Meal Pudding.

Sprinkle three tablespoonfuls corn meal into a quart of milk that has been heated to the boiling point, stirring constantly, then let it cook for 15 minutes in a double boiler. Add three tablespoonfuls molasses and let it cook five minutes longer. Take it from the fire and stir in a piece of butter the size of an egg, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ginger and salt, one tablespoonful sugar and an egg that has been well beaten. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven for an hour and a half. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Moonshiner's Muffins.

Stir together a cupful of corn meal, three cupfuls flour, one tablespoonful sugar, one teaspoonful baking powder and one teaspoonful salt. Make this into a batter with two cupfuls milk and two beaten eggs, then add two tablespoonfuls melted butter or lard. Pour into buttered muffin tins and bake for 20 minutes in a hot oven.

ALL PURITANS NOT ALIKE IN THOUGHT

Worked in Various Ways for Church Reform.

During the sixteenth century the name Puritan was applied in England to all persons who urged a reform in the ritual of the established church. There were different degrees of Puritanism. There were those who wished only to bring about a reform of the church liturgy; others desired to abolish the episcopacy, while some declared against all church authority.

The pilgrims, as they styled themselves, who first formed a colony in Holland and subsequently emigrated to America, were "Separatists," so called because they had separated themselves from the Church of England and wished to maintain a distinct organization. These formed the Plymouth colony, which settled in New England in 1620.

In 1628 another company of Puritans came out and formed the Massachusetts Bay colony. These claimed to be members of the Church of England, and to have no desire to separate from that body, but to be unable conscientiously to conform to the established ritual. They sought in America liberty to hold their connection with the church, and yet to adopt a simpler ritual.

"We will not say," said Francis Higginson, "as the Separatists were wont to say at their leaving England, 'Farewell, Babylon! Farewell, Home!' but we will say, 'Farewell, dear England; farewell the church of God in England, and all the Christian friends there.' We go to practice the positive part of church reformation, and to propagate the gospel in America."

Nevertheless, when once established in America, the Puritans claimed and practiced quite as much religious independence as the others. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BOYNE CITY VICTOR FRIDAY NIGHT

DEFEATED CHARLEVOIX 26 TO 13 AT BOYNE CITY

Junior High Defeated 16 to 8 and Reserves Held to 14-14 Tie—Harbor Here Friday

Engaging in class C competition for the first time of the season last Friday night, Charlevoix high school eagles were defeated 26 to 13 by Boyne City on Boyne's court.

According to local fans attending the game, Charlevoix's inability to locate the hoop accounted largely for their defeat. The victory left Boyne City the only undefeated quintet in this district, although as far as class C competition is concerned, Harbor Springs shares the honor through victory over East Jordan.

Boyne placed a strong team on the court, with a fast-breaking offense that clicked from the start. They scored 6 points before Charlevoix found the hoop and led at the quarter 6 and 4. Their advantage at the half was 14 to 6 and at the close of the third period 24 to 8. With Jack Foster substituted in the line-up, Charlevoix's best period was the third. They gathered 5 points during the session, while Boyne was held to a single goal.

Fitzpatrick, center, was high for the victors with 12 points. Chow and Anee led for Charlevoix with 4 points each. John Ferenz of Traverse City, refereed.

In the opening contest of the triple bill, Boyne junior high won 16 to 8 over Charlevoix junior high, and in the semi-final, Charlevoix and Boyne reserves fought to a 14 to 14 tie.

The Kipmen play at home in their next two contests. Friday night they meet Harbor Springs, victors over East Jordan and co-leaders in the Tip of Michigan Class C conference with Boyne City. This contest promises to be a close one. On the succeeding Friday night, January 20th, Charlevoix takes on Traverse City in a return game. Traverse is one of two teams claiming victories over Charlevoix this season.

of the public attitude on this question.

"Our election laws should be revised to effect:

"A.—The return of party responsibility by placing party elections.
"B.—Amendment of the Corrupt Practices Act to provide for continuing publicity of campaign receipts and expenditures.

"C.—The recognition of the principle that political parties are voluntary organizations and so far as possible should be allowed to make their own laws of party government without state interference.

"In order that the department of labor and industry may function as intended, a thorough revision of the laws governing this department seems to be indicated. Benefits of compensation law should be extended to cover occupational diseases. Other changes should be made to correct abuses which have grown up under the present laws on this subject.

"Drafted legislation designed to effectuate the suggestions hereinabove set forth will be submitted for your consideration at the proper time. You will receive further messages as occasion may demand, submitting for your consideration other important problems not treated here.

"In the process of working out the above suggested problems, you will encounter many difficulties due to the inflexibility of the present structure of our state government system. If our government is to serve the people of Michigan properly in the period of rapid change and reconstruction which will follow these distressed times, we must change this condition. Therefore, it is suggested that the question of a constitutional revision by constitutional convention be submitted to the people of the state at the spring election, the purposes of said convention to be the reconstruction of the structure of our state and local governments, the reconstruction of our tax system, and the consideration of other problems of paramount importance.

"It may be possible also in such a constitutional convention to consider the question of the repeal would depend upon congressional action upon this subject. Simultaneously with voting on the question of holding the constitutional convention at the spring election, an amendment to the present constitution should be voted upon simplifying the procedure and shortening the time for the election and convening of the state constitutional convention.

"In the event this suggestion is concurred in, all problems not of immediate import should be deferred for consideration by the proposed constitutional convention or by subsequent legislatures. In the event the suggestion is not concurred in, those problems not of immediate import should be deferred for consideration by a special session of this legislature at a later time."

"Let Us Think"

Hard and cruel is the heart that does not burn with indignation at the unemployed. Our country is like a sinking boat with the big bankers and financiers selling the life boats and leaving the little children to perish.

We who feel must think. Now the prophecy of Karl Marx is coming true. Capitalism is beginning to collapse not only in this country but throughout the civilized world. When will it fall? Not right away, for the people of America seem determined to brace it up a little longer.

We must think broadly. A world wide task is before us. Narrow selfishness is not only wrong, it is terribly foolish. We must learn from our mistakes. Our thinking must be founded on knowledge which is only obtained by careful reading and study.

We cannot help grieving over the suffering all around us and the folly which caused it. We are astonished that most American voters do not think.

Every child has a right to equal opportunity. This is said to be a land of equal opportunity. Once there was a grain of truth—just one grain—in the statement. But that was long ago. That single grain oozed out. Today millions of children not only do not have equal opportunity, but have practically no opportunity at all and are being undernourished so that when equal opportunity comes they will not be in the best condition to avail themselves of it.

We say "when equal opportunity comes" because we have an abiding faith in the coming of Socialism, which will bring equal opportunity as naturally as the sun brings light.

Yours for Socialism,
Frank Novotny.

Charlevoix and Ironton

"Above all take the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked." Paul in Eph. VI, 16.

"Next Sunday morning the subject will be 'The Teachings of Jesus Concerning His Saving Mission.' This subject is very important to every Christian. Its discussion will bring us face to face with the great plan of God in Christ.

Tuesday evening the 50th annual meeting of the church was held. It completed 32 years of service, as clerk, of Mrs. H. S. Harsha. Feeling that she was unable to continue the work in a satisfactory manner she refused to allow herself to be considered for another term. The church appreciates the faithful services of Mrs. Harsha and a committee will be appointed to draw up suitable resolutions to express that appreciation.

Two others were placed upon the emeritus list, Mrs. Mary Shores who has served for many years in many offices and especially as deaconess. And W. H. Miller, for years an official member of the church as a trustee or deacon. The fact that these persons have been placed upon this honorary list does not remove them from their official offices, but relieves them from active responsibility.

The election of officers was as follows: clerk, Mrs. E. L. Dawson; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Sloan; trustees for three years, Messrs. N. Tilton and D. H. Wood; deacons for three years, Messrs. E. L. Dawson and A. F. Bridge; deaconesses, Mrs. S. M. Rife and Mrs. Eva McDonald; music committee, Mesdames F. J. Fessenden, A. Livingston and A. A. Swinton; religious education, Mrs. H. Craig; missionary committee, Mesdames G. R. Parker, S. M. Rife and A. Fochtman; social service, Mesdames C. Wood, R. L. Lewis and P. D. Campbell; auditor, Robert Bridge; ushers, Messrs. The leader for the junior church service next Sunday will be Master Billy Miles.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room. "Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 8.

Among the bible citations was this passage (Luke 22:17,18): "And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves; For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come."

MEASURES POUR TO LEGISLATURE

DELUGE OF BILLS NOW ARE BEFORE SOLONS

Old Age Pension, Relief for Tax Delinquents, Sales Tax, Etc.,
Are Being Considered

Vital segments of the legislative program outlined by Gov. Wm. A. Comstock to the state lawmakers are in the hands of House and Senate committees.

They call for establishment by the state of an old age pension fund and for legislation to those who are in danger of losing homes purchased on land contracts. Both propositions were specifically mentioned by the governor in his message to the legislature last week.

The old age pension was presented in the Senate by a Republican, Sen. Ray Derham of Iron Mountain.

The measure provides that persons over 70 years old with an income of $1 per day or less and whose property holdings do not exceed $3,500 would be eligible for aid. Applicants must be a resident of the United States for 15 years and a resident of Michigan for 10 continuous years.

Revenue for the operation of the act would be obtained by levying a $2 annual tax upon every resident of the state over 21 years of age. Repayment would come from sale of property of deceased beneficiaries in the amount in which they had received welfare aid, plus three per cent simple interest.

The bill provides that each county set up an old age pension board, members of which would be the county welfare agent, probate judge and one woman supervisor who would be appointed for a term of three years. The county set-up will serve as direct agent for the state pension bureau.

The land contract measure was presented in the House by Rep. C. W. Bischoff of Detroit. It provides a six months redemption period on land contracts on which 20 to 50 per cent of the principal has been paid and a year's redemption period where half of the contract has been paid off. The present period is 30 days regardless of the amount due.

The House also received Rep. Fred C. Holbeck's bill proposing to permit payment of 1930 and 1931 taxes in 10 annual installments if 1932 taxes are paid by next May. A bill by Rep. Ate Dykstra, (R), designed particularly for Grand Rapids, would permit cities to use their portions of state highway funds to refund assessments already paid by taxpayers for the widening of trunk line highways within the cities.

Two other bills were presented in the Senate. One, presented by Earl W. Munshaw, Grand Rapids, (R), provides that advertisement of delinquent tax lands in newspapers be made in "block" form, eliminating lengthy descriptions of parcels as is now done. He said that such a plan would save the state approximately $200,000 in 1933.

Another measure offered by Sen. C. J. Town of North Adams, (R), would permit cities, which have not already amended their charters to do so, to increase their legal issue of "calamity bonds" from one-tenth to three-eighths of one per cent of their assessed valuation. The measure applies specifically to the city of Jackson.

The second old age pension bill of the session was introduced in the House by Rep. M. J. Grajewski of Hamtramck. It is similar to one offered in the Senate with the exception that Grajewski's measure provides no revenue means to finance itself.

Its provisions call for pensioning of persons over 65 years of age who have lived in the state 10 years, who are indigent and who do not possess property valued at more than $3,500. The pension would not exceed $30 per month.

A bill which proposes to limit the working of miners and railroad employees to six hours a day was presented by Rep. A. L. Rummell of Ironwood and Rep. Melvin H. Lee offered proposed legislation to abolish permanent grand juries in the larger counties of the state.

The grand juries were set up by the 1931 legislature and Rep. Lee said their net result has been the indictment of a few persons for perjury.

In the Senate a bill was introduced by Sen. W. P. Doyle, Menominee, (R), asking for an appropriation of $125,000 for the next biennium for state advertising purposes. The amount is $25,000 less than appropriated for the purpose at the 1931 session and, under the measure will not be matched by a similar amount by the four Resort and Tourist associations.

The bill also provides that spending of the money be placed under the full supervisory power of the state administrative board and that the revenue come from the gasoline tax fund rather than from the general fund as at present.

Two such gambling bills were introduced Thursday, one in the Senate by Sen. Lee A. Gorman of Detroit, (D), and one in the House by Rep. Harvey H. Jarvis of Benton Harbor, (D). They are similar proposals, one requiring a $100 daily fee to be paid the state while the other would tax the races 10 per cent of each day's gate receipts.

The bill asking for outright repeal of the so-called Wiley act, which prohibits the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Ray Derham, Iron Mountain, (R). It does not provide for a state liquor control commission.

POLAR BEARS LOST LAST TWO GAMES

MANISTEE VICTORS, WEDNESDAY NIGHT 26 TO 20

Central Lake Takes Rough Tilt on Own Floor Tuesday—Come Next Wednesday for Return

Two defeats in as many games, quite an unusual record for the strong Polar Bear basketball team, resulted from their invasion of out-of-town courts in the past week.

Manistee Iron Works avenged a setback on the local court late in December by defeating the Polar Bears 26 to 20 in a return contest at Manistee last Wednesday night.

Manistee jumped into an 8 to 0 lead in the first two minutes of play, but this advantage was cut to 8 and 7 by a Polar Bear rally before the period closed. The remainder of the game was hotly contested, with the score at the half standing 13 to 12, and at the third period 18 to 10. The Polar Bears trailed 20 to 19 with four minutes to go, but foul, which gave Manistee their last 6 points, provided their winning margin.

Loss to Central Lake

Tuesday night the Polar Bears lost to Central Lake Cannery by a 22 to 20 count in a contest which fans declared a closer resemblance to football than basketball.

According to reports, the Central Lake quintet resorted to most every tactic forbidden in basketball rules to win. Holding, kicking, choking, slugging and whatnot predominated with the result the contest resembled closely a free-for-all fight.

The game was a close one, with Central Lake leading 6 and 5 at the quarter and 15 to 13 at the half. The count was tied 17-all at the third intermission.

Return Game Wednesday

A return game with the Cannery has been scheduled for next Wednesday evening, January 25th, at the local high school gymnasium. The contest will mark the final appearance with the Polar Bears of Dean Davenport, who has been one of the team's outstanding players since his organization. A straight admission charge of ten cents for each person has been announced by Manager Gordon Todd for this game.

L. C. ROUSE ACTS TO REGAIN OFFICE

S. E. ROGERS DIRECTED TO PROVE TITLE

Quo Warranto Proceedings Renew Road Commission Battle Started in June 1932

Lavern C. Rouse, Boyne City, former member of the Charlevoix county road commission, has instituted quo warranto proceedings against Samuel E. Rogers, East Jordan, his successor, to prove title to the office. Rouse was removed October 17th by a 15 to 7 vote of the board of supervisors following a controversy which carried through two regular and one special session of the board. Rouse contends his removal was illegal.

The fight for Rouse's removal started with the June session when an opinion from Attorney General Paul Voorheis, whose department investigated affairs of the road commission on petition of 600 Charlevoix county taxpayers, stated sufficient evidence had been uncovered to warrant charges of malfeasance in office against Rouse.

The road committee, to whom the matter was referred, found insufficient evidence to warrant charges and this report was adopted by a 15 to 10 vote. Later in the session, however, a resolution signed by eleven supervisors, demanding that charges be brought against Rouse on grounds he sold petroleum products to the commission, was adopted unanimously, as was also an amendment bringing charges against Commissioners W. E. Byers and Frank Wanzeman for reason they passed bills for gasoline purchased by the commission from the General Oil company, headed by Rouse.

A special session was called July 19th for hearing. Byers and Wanzeman were retained by majority votes and the board dead-locked 12 to 12 on Rouse's retention.

The matter flared up again at the October session, when by a vote of 14 to 11, the board demanded Rouse's resignation. On October 17th, the office was declared vacant by a 15 to 7 vote and Rouse found guilty as previously charged. Samuel E. Rogers was elected to the vacancy.

Rouse contends he was vindicated of charges by the 12 to 12 vote July 19th, and that his ejection October 17th was illegal for reason that he was not given a hearing.

It is understood Mr. Rogers has 15 days to file answer and that the matter will then be brought before Judge Parm C. Gilbert for decision.

LOCAL TOSSERS DE- FEAT HARBOR FIVE

TURNED IN LOP-SIDED VICTORY FRIDAY NIGHT

Meet Class B Traverse City Trojans in Return Game on Local Court This Week

Playing in their second class C conference game last Friday night at the local gymnasium, Charlevoix's high school cagers won 28 to 7 over Harbor Springs in a lop-sided contest.

Starting from the initial tip-off, the Kipmen showed a superiority in every department of the game. They drifted through the Harbor defense repeatedly for easy close-in shots and maintained a defense that was practically airtight.

Smith, Chew and Anee combined their efforts to score 11 points in the first quarter, while the visitors were held to a single free throw. Charlevoix added 6 points to Harbor's 3 in the second period to lead 17 and 4 at the half.

Harbor's defense tightened in the third session, holding the Kipmen to a pair of goals by Smith, while adding three themselves, but in the final session, with a substitute line-up, Charlevoix blanked the Harborites and scored three goals and a free-throw for 7 points.

Smith led the local attack with 10 points. Anee scored 7, Chew 6, Foster 3 and Richardson 2. John Ferenz, Traverse City, was referee.

Reserves Won Also

Charlevoix's reserves defeated the Harbor second-stringers 23 to 12 in the preliminary contest. After a close first half, which ended in a 7 to 7 tie, the locals pulled away by superior team work to win handily.

The Kipmen play at home again this week, meeting the class B Traverse City Trojans on the local court Friday night. Traverse defeated Charlevoix at home in the Kipmen's initial contest early in December. They handed Potoskey a neat trimming last week and can be figured to come here determined to repeat their previous performance.

Boys City, whose performance stamps them the region's outstanding team regardless of class, maintained an unblemished record Friday night by winning over the hitherto undefeated Cheboygan quintet.

General administrative salaries and expenses of the department of state for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, were $119,581 below the amount allowed by the legislature, according to the department's financial report to the governor and the 1933 legislature.

The legislature allowed $360,470 for administrative expenses, but only $240,871 was expended. Administrative expenses also were $43,000 less than was spent for the same purpose for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931.

Total revenues collected by the department for the 1932 fiscal year were $52,109,804 or $1,338,483 under collections for the previous fiscal year ending June 30, 1931. This represents a decrease of approximately two per cent in the state's receipts.

Motor vehicle weight tax receipts for the 1932 fiscal year were $15,792,129 while for the 1931 fiscal year revenue from this source was $20,190,447. The drop in gasoline tax collections was not as great. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, gasoline taxes yielded $23,343,912 or not quite $500,000 under the previous year. Corporation privilege fees were $7,112,063 or approximately $600,000 below collections for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931.

Due to the enactment of a new malt tax law by the 1931 legislature, malt tax revenues showed an increase of about 90 per cent. For the last fiscal year, the state received $1,060,586 from malt taxes as compared with $557,485 for the previous year. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, motor vehicle operators' license fees yielded $148,789. Because of the new law, revenue from this source increased to $1,047,065 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932.

SCHOOL CONTEST EXPENSE STUDIED

COST OF REFEREES TO BE SCALED DOWN

Northern Schools Urged to Work Out Plan for Using Men From Nearby Cities and Towns

The cost of official to handle athletic contests in Northwestern high schools is just now a topic being given much thought and study. There are two reasons for this. One is that high cost of officiating in the past few seasons and the other is the rapid decrease in gate receipts at the school contests. The matter is being taken up particularly among the Big Six schools, it is said, with a view of putting the rate for referees down somewhere near to the cost of other labor in these times of depression.

Low Holiday of the Traverse City Record-Eagle suggests that the big schools get together and arrange a list of referees who live in nearby cities and whose work would be satisfactory to the schools concerned. Then a rate could be established for the hours required for the trip to and from school holding the contest, with a reasonable price for the hour or hour and one-half which the official works in the game. The Traverse City editor suggests that the Little Six group of schools might also work out such a plan, all schools using men from near at home.

It is said that Harbor Springs boasts of three men very capable in handling basketball games, and many for handling football. Coach Quinn, Supt. Dickie, Mr. Sutton, all of the high school and Rev. Ralph Young, Presbyterian minister are all capable referees. Quinn, Sutton and Young are good at basketball. Quinn, Dickie and Sutton are good at football. All have had experience. Potoskey could offer McMillan, Loveless, Traylor and perhaps one or two others able to handle most any high school contest. Traverse City has Ferenz who has worked often and well in Charlevoix, and probably has several more good men connected with her schools. Cadillac has Miller and Taborham to head her list with two or three more who could be worked in. East Jordan has Coach Cohen while Boyne City has Buchen and Brotherston. Charlevoix could dig up one or two and other cities could do the same. Some suggest that the pay rate be $5 per game, together with enough expense money to cover the actual cost of the trip.

The Ludington board of education is reported to have been leading a movement to reduce this heavy cost of officials in high school contests.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Truth."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Life" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 15.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ecc. 12:1): "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.190): "Human birth, growth, maturity, and decay are as the grass springing from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native nothingness. This mortal seeming is temporal; it never merges into immortal being, but finally disappears, and immortal man, spiritual and eternal, is found to be the real man."

AT THE MOVIES

Color Inspires Players Though Lens Rejects It

The most alluring color combinations conceived by Paris and Fifth Avenue fashion experts are used in designing the costumes worn by motion picture actresses during the filming of pictures—this in spite of the fact that under the camera's eye all colors are reduced to variations of black and white.

But there's a reason for it, and a good one, according to Josef von Sternberg, ace Hollywood director, who made Marlene Dietrich's latest starring picture, "Blonde Venus," which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Dietrich has nearly a score of costumes in "Blonde Venus." As a woman who goes to work in a night club to earn enough money to save her husband's life, who ultimately gets the money from a lover.

"I know I did," returned the lawyer. "You had the benefit of my best legal efforts."

"Then, when the judge sentenced me to ten years, why didn't you object to that?"

NIZHNI NOVGOROD IS NOW "MAXIM GORKI"

Famous Russian Market Is Named for Novelist.

Washington.—After more than 700 years of fame as a great Russian market, Nizhni Novgorod recently was officially renamed from the world map when the Soviet government renamed the city "Maxim Gorki," in honor of the Russian novelist, a native son.

A city of 200,000 inhabitants, sprawling along the banks of the Oka and Volga rivers where they converge, Maxim Gorki is a husky child of water-borne commerce, says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Long before the city became a railroad center and telegraph wires linked it with important commercial and industrial centers of Europe and Central Asia, the inhabitants of the Volga valley and the vast agricultural and mining regions penetrated by the many Volga tributaries, recognized Nizhni Novgorod's accessibility and made it their market place."

"The city was not thrust into the world's commercial spotlight, however, until the early part of the Nineteenth century when it was made the permanent fair ground of the Volga valley fair. From ancient times merchants of the valley met to display their goods and to barter and trade. The site of the fair was frequently changed due to economic and political conditions. Nizhni Novgorod was chosen the fair ground in 1817 and, with the exception of the years from 1914 to 1922 when the World War and the Revolution interfered, the fair was held in the Volga metropolis every year until its final abandonment two years ago."

"Normally, for ten and one-half months a year, Nizhni Novgorod was abuzz with commerce, but in fair time—August 1 to September 15—it suddenly burst into even greater activity. It became a modern Babylon, for merchants from many countries of the eastern hemisphere joined with the Russians in displaying their goods, wares and merchandise."

"The city's streets, hotel lobbies, railroad stations and shops reeked with the gaiety of buyers and sellers and tourists of many races and tongues. The fair ground, normally a quiet, almost deserted area of stone buildings, suddenly awakened with 1,000 shops displaying an array of colorful merchandise ranging from tiny hand-made trinkets to huge oriental rugs. Bulky commodities, such as iron, lumber and grain, were deposited on nearby islands. The turnover of the last few years of the fair amounted to about $100,000,000 annually. In 1927, only a few years after the fair had been reopened, more than 2,500 merchants took part."

"Recently Maxim Gorki has been called the 'Detroit of Russia' because an American automobile company has built the largest automobile plant in Europe about 15 miles up the Oka river. When the workers' town near the plant is completed the entire project will represent an outlay of more than $150,000,000. There are 23 main trade-like factory buildings and more than 50 different shops. A large part of the modern machinery in the plant was built in the United States."

"Although commerce has been the city's principal means of support, it early began to accommodate industrial plants. Its shipbuilding and repair yards help to supply and keep in condition many Volga boats. Nearby, in the lower part of the town, are factories where thousands of workers are employed in the production of chemicals, telephones, matches, textiles and flour."

"It is a climb of nearly 500 feet to the upper portion of Maxim Gorki, which is dominated by the Kremlin whose walls include one of the few remaining relics of the old Nizhni Novgorod—the Archangel cathedral, which was built in 1227. Many of the city's antiquities fell before the persistent plundering of the Tartars in the fourteenth century."

"From the Kremlin wall the traveler may get a splendid bird's-eye view of the lower town and the surrounding region. The wharves below are kept busy as Volga boats of all sizes and shapes from row boats to steamers and huge barges come and go. On the opposite bank of the Oka, which is spanned by a pontoon bridge, is the old fair ground that has lost its glamor. Beyond the far bank of the Volga stretches a village-dotted area that ultimately rises into the peaks of the Ural mountains."

Rules Ladies May Kiss Male Patients

Vienna.—Women visitors to hospitals are permitted to kiss male patients, even if they are married, a court in Vienna ruled. Franz Johannes, lying in a Vienna hospital, where he had been operated on, frequently was visited by a girl friend of his wife. His visitor, a good-looking widow of about thirty, always kissed the man when coming and leaving. His wife considered the widow's behavior to be too "familiar" and filed a suit of divorce. The court, however, did not see a default in the kisses of the young widow and dismissed the case.

COUNTERFEITING INCREASES

Secret Service Reports Improved Methods.

Washington.—Counterfeiting has increased approximately 25 per cent during the last year, due to continued depression and discovery of new methods to alter and imitate currency and coins.

It was learned today that criminals are using extensively chemical processes which remove all coloring and printing on $1 bills and enable them to substitute larger figures in the corners of bank notes.

Another new development in counterfeiting is the increased production of spurious bills of small denominations rather than $10 and $20 notes. Large amounts of small imperfect coins also are appearing in widely scattered sections of the country.

Secret-service officials said that despite this improved technique they had succeeded in checking the increase in counterfeiting which began in the summer of 1931. During the 1932 fiscal year 2,339 arrests were made, compared with 1,521 the previous year. Agents this year seized $89,058 of counterfeit currency and $3,073 of coins.

One of the chemicals used by counterfeiters reduces genuine bills to the original silk paper. They then use engravings to print currency of higher denominations. In other processes the numbers 1, 5, and 10 are removed or altered to 10, 20, 50, or 100. The words on currency are also changed, since the ink can easily be removed.

During the fiscal year 17 new issues of counterfeit currency appeared, as compared with 11 in 1932. The 17 new issues were found to have 70 variations.

Secret-service activities show that counterfeiting has spread to new sections of the country and that the service must when its battle against currency and coin violators. Year after year, counterfeiters advance in their methods of production and distribution and their movements become more veiled and difficult to check, officials said.

SWISS PRESIDENT

Prince Offers a Trophy for Plane Circling World

Paris.—A trophy for the fastest flight around the world, whether by airplane or airship, has been offered by Prince Illseben, president of the International Aeronautic federation here.

Under the conditions, the course to be followed must include Karachi, in India, Tokyo, San Francisco, and New York, then back to the starting point, which either may be London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, or Bucharest. The prize always has been enthusiastic in encouraging long distance flights.

The round the world air race will be a flight of 22,000 miles. The trophy will be won by the first competitor who completes the trip at an average speed of at least 100 kilometers hourly. This is about 62.1 miles per hour and much slower than Post and Gatty's time.

Landings must be made at the four specified cities, but there is no other restriction. Fueling in the air may be made, so that any competitor can, if he wishes, make only four landings.

Carpenter Tries Music When Trade Fails Him

New Orleans.—John Titt, forty-six, South Dakota carpenter, couldn't make a living at his trade, so he bought his five children hand instruments, and now they're "tooting" for a living on a musical barnstorming tour of the country.

The Tibbs, Junior, eighteen, who plays a cornet; John, Jr., who plays the bass horn; Margaret, twelve, who also plays a cornet; Virginia, ten, who plays a melophone; Kousle, eight, the drummer, and John, Sr. came to New Orleans in a rumblestick automobile, spotted a likely street corner, and began giving their idea of how popular jazz should be played.

The father, who lends them, said the nickels and dimes they collect have given them a comfortable living.

Irish Governor Insists He'll Speak Only Gaelic

Dublin.—The new governor general of the Irish Free State, Donaghall an Balaich, or Donald Buckley, does not intend to allow his staff to use the English language in his presence.

He plans to change the name of the governor general's office to the Gaelic "seannasail." Instead of residing in the vice regal lodge, he will take a modest house in the suburbs which does not contain any furniture or furnishings of British manufacture.

The governor general is the direct representative of the British crown. He was appointed by King George V upon the recommendation of President Eamon de Valera.

COUNTERFEITING INCREASES

Washington.—Counterfeiting has increased approximately 25 per cent during the last year, due to continued depression and discovery of new methods to alter and imitate currency and coins.

It was learned today that criminals are using extensively chemical processes which remove all coloring and printing on $1 bills and enable them to substitute larger figures in the corners of bank notes.

Another new development in counterfeiting is the increased production of spurious bills of small denominations rather than $10 and $20 notes. Large amounts of small imperfect coins also are appearing in widely scattered sections of the country.

Secret-service officials said that despite this improved technique they had succeeded in checking the increase in counterfeiting which began in the summer of 1931. During the 1932 fiscal year 2,339 arrests were made, compared with 1,521 the previous year. Agents this year seized $89,058 of counterfeit currency and $3,073 of coins.

One of the chemicals used by counterfeiters reduces genuine bills to the original silk paper. They then use engravings to print currency of higher denominations. In other processes the numbers 1, 5, and 10 are removed or altered to 10, 20, 50, or 100. The words on currency are also changed, since the ink can easily be removed.

During the fiscal year 17 new issues of counterfeit currency appeared, as compared with 11 in 1932. The 17 new issues were found to have 70 variations.

Secret-service activities show that counterfeiting has spread to new sections of the country and that the service must when its battle against currency and coin violators. Year after year, counterfeiters advance in their methods of production and distribution and their movements become more veiled and difficult to check, officials said.

HOW TO STOP A COLD QUICK AS YOU CAUGHT IT

A New Method Doctors Everywhere Are Advising

Take 1 or 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets. Drink Full Glass of Water.

If throat is sore, crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a half glass of warm water and gargle accordingly to directions.

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nostrums. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICK-EST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drug store.

How Long Must This Continue?

The 1933 Michigan legislature is faced with the challenge to protect Michigan motorists and pedestrians with a Safety Responsibility Law now existing in 19 states and six Canadian provinces.

A bill prepared by the American Automobile Association through its nationwide legislative committee has been the model for other states and provinces. A similar bill will be introduced in Michigan at the next session, and its merit will be found in those sections of the measure which provide that reckless drivers shall be responsible for the damage they commit.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Most of the normal class have made a good start on their penmanship drills for securing a Palmer Teachers' certificate.

Anyone wishing to travel just list your name with the president of the class. He has expert seamen and mountain climbers to take you to frigid Alaska, torrid Polynesia, or rarefied Tibet.

Morning exercises this week have consisted of educational articles read from current magazines by various members of the class. One article discussing Bentoo Harlor's high school correspondence vocational school was of great interest.

It is hardly necessary to remind people in these days of thrift—yet, in hopes that each one may do his share to try to remedy conditions, "thrift week" is being observed.

One can hardly imagine Eskimos, without snow and ice, on the ground, but if you don't believe that much can be accomplished with just paper and chalk, come up and see for yourself what the art class has done.

Not only in business is there competition for jobs and positions—the same is true here. A number of applications for county normal next year have already been received—before this year's aspirants have had time to think of graduation.

Thanks to Mr. Powers, the lockers to be used by the normal students are much more conveniently arranged since the holidays.

Different members of the class are "listening in" on the radio educational lectures from the University of Michigan, and reviewing lessons to the class. The series of "Manners, Modes and History in Music" is being reviewed by Miss Supernaw and Miss Knulsen; "Studying a Poem" by Miss Reidel and Mr. Bussler; "Dark Ages in History" by Miss Elzinga. A very interesting art series is planned for March.

Through the courtesy of Miss Atkinson the school radio has been made available for the purpose.

BRUCKER BUDGET WOULD SAVE STATE MILLIONS

A budget which recommends a reduction in state government operating costs of $10,000,000 in next two years was presented to the Democratic administration Friday by former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker.

The budget sets up a schedule of expense and revenue which would reduce the amount of taxes normally placed upon real estate from roughly $23,500,000 this year to $18,520,000 during the first year of the coming biennium and $19,377,000 for the year 1934-35.

STATE LANDS PRODUCE CONSIDERABLE INCOME

The state department of conservation's contribution to the state treasury for the past two years has been $324,464, it has been announced. The receipts were comprised largely of revenue received from state owned lands and from royalties from oil, gas, sand and gravel, taken from other state property under lease. Money received from these sources revert to the general fund for distribution to state, county and township treasuries.

But it counts much whether we have had good companions in that time.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Charlevoix and Ironton

"You say, my son, It can't be done? Your statement isn't true. You mean my son, It can be done. But can't be done by you."

Being much opposed to the spectacular or sensational in a minister in the pulpit or in the announcement of his subjects we hesitate to say just what is in our mind with reference to our next Sunday's sermon. But we are going to break over a little and throw down this challenge to every member and friend of the Congregational church and to all others who do not attend our sister churches. We challenge you to hear our sermon next Sunday on, "The Teachings of Christ Concerning Human Responsibility." We are not in a boastful mood; we are not even suggesting that you will like it, but we have a few truths that we want you to know for your own instruction and good. People possess almost as many opinions concerning their personal religion as there are individuals. Well, we will not advance another opinion but a definite teaching of Christ. We have no patience with the alarmist, but that doesn't stop our saying that when mankind faces one great and inescapable experience untold thousands will stand mute and disappointed.

Plans are being completed by Mrs. Stelter and the choir to sing another Easter cantata as has been the custom for the past several years.

This is a notice considerably in advance but we want it known so that we can prepare for it. This church will hold a "Mission" during the two weeks before Easter. The pastor will be the speaker.

The Junior church meets Sunday afternoon at 5:30 with Marielle Van Allsburg as leader.

The Christian Endeavor meets at 6:30. Something special after the program.

The Congregational church will hold its annual budget supper Thursday night, January 26th, at 6:30. This supper will be held in the church basement.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Agricultural Meetings Continue This Week

The second week in the series of agricultural meetings being conducted in the county will begin Monday, January 23.

These discussions are very similar to the series last winter, at which time the subjects closely associated with soils and crops were studied.

Thus far these meetings have been very interesting and the discussions have been enlightening. Every farmer has his own viewpoint on how to meet the new agricultural situation, taxation problems, government aid to farmers, and many other vital questions. Your viewpoint along this same line will be appreciated.

Inasmuch as the first week of meetings has ended please keep in mind the following schedule for the second week:

Monday, Jan. 23—Norwood town hall, 10:00 a. m.; Barnard grange, 2:00 p. m.

Tuesday, Jan. 24—Bay Shore restaurant, 10:00 a. m.; Marion Center grange, 2:00 p. m.

Wednesday, Jan. 25—Maple Grove grange, 10:00 a. m.; Hortons Bay I. O. O. F. hall, 2:00 p. m.

Thursday, Jan. 26—Carl Stevens farm, Wallon Lake, 10:00 a. m.; Frank Russell farm, East Jordan, 2:00 p. m.

Your attendance at these meetings will give you many facts and additional information which will enable you to better make your future plans.

STATE REFORESTATION HAS HAD RAPID GROWTH

The first state forest was set aside in 1903 with a segregation of 34,000 acres. Michigan now has 12 state forests with a net area of approximately 800,000 acres. While plantings were made shortly after the first forest was established, less than 300 acres had been reforested up to 1910. The area reforested annually increased steadily up to 1927 when 7,500 acres were reclaimed. Since then progress has been even more marked and the 1931 planting of 32,036 acres still stands as a record for the largest area planted by any state in one year.

MICHIGAN RANKS 2ND IN 1932 POTATO YIELD

260,000 Acres Make Average Crop of 115 Bushels Last Year

The Michigan potato acreage planted in 1932 amounted to 264,000 acres of which 4,000 acres were abandoned due to failure of stands, disease, and late fall freezes. In some sections, especially the northern and western districts, there was a deficiency of moisture during the early growing period, but September rains brought added growth and an average yield of 115 bushels per acre was obtained.

Yields in the southern districts were decidedly better than in each of the preceding three years. The quality was also better than in any other recent year. Michigan's rank in potato production was second, being exceeded only by that of Maine this year.

PLANS PROPER USE OF KITCHEN SPACE

New York Woman Succeeds in New Profession.

As a new profession for women, that of "kitchen planning" has just turned up in the trade directories. So far as known, there is only one exponent of this novel way of earning a living, but she has succeeded in making a good living out of it, even though she launched her new business just about the beginning of the depression period. She is Mrs. Ann C. Willis, and she has offices in six cities.

One day may find her in New York at the office of an architect, planning the ideal kitchen before the house plans leave the blueprint stage. Another day she is at a client's house, perched upon step ladder, measuring her china and the space it requires, asking about the size of the family, the scale of entertaining, and the consequent demands made upon the kitchen. Between these stops she may drop in to study a kitchen that, like Topsy, "just grew," full of mistakes that no one, least of all the owner, realized were being made, and that now is to be done over.

In the comparatively short time Mrs. Willis has been a "kitchen planner" she has discovered that a great many kitchens have exactly the same defects. For instance, they lack sufficient storage space, with the result that utensils have to be piled in stacks and working surfaces become cluttered. Another common defect is that sinks, stoves, and tables are the wrong height. This, of course, is easily remedied, but many housewives tire themselves out day after day bending over a low sink, without ever realizing what the trouble is. Most kitchens, she finds, don't get enough light and air. Daylight is best, of course, and it should come from the left when you're standing in position most frequently occupied.

If your kitchen is so large and so old-fashioned that the unnecessary space wastes time and energy, move everything to one corner of the room. Mrs. Willis suggests in the American Magazine, "Put the stove over within friendly distance of the sink. If your husband is handy with the hammer, get him to build a cupboard near the newly assembled kitchen, or buy a kitchen cabinet.

If on the other hand, your kitchen is small and you are cramped for space, her advice is to build cupboards over the ice box and put slender ones in narrow places. Very often they can be built in under the sink, in space that usually goes to waste. Next, weed out pieces of china rarely used and banish them to the cellar or the attic.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
Author of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage," "The Personality of a House," Etc.

MAKING HIS FAMILY YOUR FAMILY

A girl, newly engaged, recently asked my advice. She said: "I am going to take a trip with my fiancé and his mother and father out West to visit my fiancé's grandparents whom I have never met. Should I take a present for each? Or will a joint gift be better? Also, what should I say when I meet them the first time, and again when I leave? And just exactly how should I word my thanks to my future mother and father-in-law for taking me with them?"

I told her she might take his grandmother a box of candy or confectionery or wait and send her something afterwards that you think she would like for herself. And send the grandfather something, too, if you like. Or, if it is not really necessary to give them or send them a bought present at all. The most perfect gift possible is the gift of your responsive appreciation, your inclination to take them to your heart.

There is no rate as to what to say. It is the evidence of interest and willingness to respond that counts. Remember that many people show their feelings with difficulty. They think kind and affectionate and approving thoughts, but they don't know how to say them or show them. Don't wait for his family to come all the way to meet you. Go half way— even three quarters of the way by yourself. Especially in the case of old people and children. Look and listen with interest to what they show you or tell you. Try to discover their pet likes or dislikes and act, or refrain from acting, accordingly. In other words, don't keep those waiting who like to be prompt. Don't try to assume the role of prima donna—even though they seem willing to give it to you. Don't flout your opinions. Don't contradict, no matter what you think. If asked your opinion, give it truthfully but don't emphasize it. And of course the secret of happiness for you, as well as for them, is to learn to love them; learn to like what they like, and then just be yourself.

Company had come to spend the evening and the children had been sent up to bed. Suddenly the patter of tiny feet was heard from the head of the stairs, and mother raised her hand and said to the visitors: "Just tell them they're going to tell you good-night."

There was a moment of silence; then the announcement came, in a shrill whisper: "Mamma, Billie's killed two more."

ONE BUCK TO THREE DOES IS REPORTED "SAFE"

Majority Hunters Believe Deer On the Increase and One Buck Law to Be Satisfactory

A ratio of one buck to three does exists in Michigan's deer herd if reports from 1,700 deer hunters who saw 36,800 deer during the November season is an indication of conditions. Those familiar with deer claim that such a ratio is "safe" and is indicative of a growing herd.

The game division of the department of conservation has completed compilation of reports sent by deer hunters during the past season. These reports express general satisfaction with the condition of the herd and with the present deer laws.

A total of 1,715 reports were received, coming from every county in the state in which deer hunting is permitted. While these hunters said they observed 36,819 deer, they were able to positively identify but 30,513. Of these 5,485 were bucks; 15,884 were does and 9,174 were fawns. This gives a ratio of one buck to 2.9 does and one fawn to 1.6 does.

Although the lower peninsula hunters gave an average ratio of one buck to 3.7 does the ratio in a few counties ran much higher than this. It is generally assumed that a ratio of one buck to five does is satisfactory and a ratio which greatly exceeds this may be unsatisfactory. The average ratio in the upper peninsula was one buck to 2.7 does and in no county does it exceed one buck to 3.7 does. Local adjustments in lower peninsula areas where the sex ratios of the deer herds have become unbalanced may be advisable much earlier than is generally expected, according to the game division.

Upper peninsula hunters had a little better luck in filling their licenses than did those hunting south of the Straits of Mackinac. Seventy-seven per cent of those who crossed the Straits, if the average from 1,400 reports is a fair sample, managed to kill their buck. In the lower peninsula 55 per cent of the hunters reporting to the department were successful.

The 1,700 hunters reporting said that 16 bear had been killed, which if representing an average would indicate that approximately 300 bears were killed during the November season.

Deer hunters expressed widely divergent views concerning the condition of the deer herd, but a majority of them claimed that their observation indicated that the herd is increasing in number.

Fifty-two per cent of those hunting in the upper peninsula said the herd was increasing north of the Straits; 23 per cent believed the number was unchanged and 25 per cent thought it was decreasing. In the lower peninsula 71 per cent believed the herd to be increasing; 15 per cent that it was unchanged and

MICHIGAN LEADING CHERRY PRODUCER

TOPS COUNTRY IN TREE AND CROP OF FRUIT

Hay Is State's Leading Crop, Followed in Order by Potatoes, Beans and Oats

Michigan ranks first in the production of cherries of all the states of the Union, according to the report of the Census Bureau at Washington. The report places the state at the top both in the number of cherry trees and also the production of cherries.

Hay, potatoes, navy and other ripe field beans, and oats for grain in the order named are Michigan's four leading crops in point of value, the Census Bureau said.

Their ranking was established from the canvass of census enumerators in the 15th census which shows the total value of all Michigan crops, their acreage and the average value per farm for the three census years were:

Year 1929 — Acreage, 7,915,332; total value, $175,314,607; farm average, $1,035.
Year 1919 — Acreage, 9,168,200; total value, $402,994,560; farm average, $2,657.
Year 1909 — Acreage, 8,194,842; total value, $152,102,869; farm average, $735.

The United States average was $1,285 in 1929, $2,288 in 1919, and $822 in 1909.

Michigan ranked 15th among the states in acreage of all crops, and 22nd in the value of all crops. The premier crop—hay—was valued at $38,364,852, or 21.9 per cent of the state's total crop value, and was grown on 2,723,278 acres or 34.4 per cent of the state's total crop acreage.

Potatoes, grown on 223,794 acres, were valued at $21,111,139, navy and other ripe field beans, grown on 574,596 acres, were valued at $19,282,966, and oats for grain, grown on 1,191,239 acres, were valued at $15,809,843.

Michigan ranked second in acreage in potatoes and fifth in sugar beets; sixth in production of potatoes; sixth in value of potatoes; eighth in value of vegetables for sale, and eighth in value of sugar beets; first in number of cherry trees; third in number of grape vines; first in production of cherries; second in production of grapes and raspberries, and fourth in production of apples.

On the basis of the 1929 crop values and acreages as ascertained by the census, the department of agriculture is now revising its estimates for all years back to 1919. The values for 1931 and 1932 are to be announced by the department in February on the basis of this revision.

ALEX BUSH, EAST JORDAN VETERAN, IS DEAD

Former Mill Operator and Banker Was 95 Years of Age

Alex Bush, 95, East Jordan, grand old man, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nellie Hunsan, Saturday evening.

Mr. Bush, born in New York, followed the gold rush to California in 1854. Returning east he and two brothers came to Michigan and settled near Ann Arbor where in 1859 he married Miss Jennie McCormick. He enlisted in 1862 and served through the Civil war. He spent five months in the confederate prison at Danville, Va., before being exchanged and held the rank of captain when discharged.

Returning to Michigan he engaged in the manufacture of wa-lboard in Mason and Saginaw, Germany's first importation of these boards was from the Saginaw mill. His partner invented a barrel hoop and in 1881 they built a hoop mill in West Bay City. After selling the washboard factory, in 1883, they built a hoop mill in East Jordan which operated until elm timber was exhausted in 1892.

Mr. Bush and Ruben Glenn then bought East Jordan's only bank. Mr. Bush sold his interest in the bank in 1896 and bought and sold timber land until 1901, when he purchased a saw mill, which was destroyed by fire in 1903.

Mrs. Bush died in 1904 and in 1912 Mr. Bush married Mr. Dora Timmerman, who died in 1923.

Of the five children born to the first marriage three survive—Stanley A. Bush, Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Nina Malone. Funeral services were held at the Hudson residence Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebotham, and burial was beside his wife at Mason, Mich., Wednesday.

MANY WANT CHANCE TO SELL BEER—APPLY

While it may be a long time before the sale of beer becomes legal in Michigan, there are many eager to be among the first to have the right to sell it in various counties.

For reasons known only to the writers, Frank D. Fitzgerald is receiving on an average of three applications a day for beer-selling rights and very often the mail brings in an application for the management of a state liquor store.

Fitzgerald has prepared a form letter for reply stating the application has been received but that until such time as the Michigan and federal laws are changed there will be no state supervision of the sale of beer and no licenses issued.

Passage of the bill would clear the way for the manufacture of any intoxicants which congress may approve. The measure is in line with the administration policy of Gov. William A. Comstock, Sen. Derham said.

The Wiley statute was passed at the 1917 legislative session and became effective May 1, 1918, simultaneously with the Volstead Act.

While his special committee continued work on the emergency tax legislation which will probably be presented to the legislature this week, Governor Comstock has revealed that it probably will closely resemble the measure introduced in the House Thursday by Rep. Paul A. Hupert of Mt. Clemens, (D).

The executive said that the Hupert bill is not entirely what the administration bill will be, but he admitted that since it is modeled after the Mississippi Act it closely resembles the one his committee will produce.

The Hupert bill levies a tax of roughly two per cent on all manufacturing, sales and public service.

Three bills aimed against high interest rates of small loan companies were introduced in the Senate Thursday. One of two, introduced by Sen. Francis A. Kelo, Battle Creek, (D), proposes outright repeal of the small loan act, passed in 1921, which permits loaning sums of money up to $300 at a monthly rate not to exceed 3 1/2 per cent.

The second of Sen. Kelo's measures asks that a similar act, passed in 1907 but which provides for a two per cent rate of interest on amounts of not more than $50, be also nullified. The third bill, submitted by Sen. Leo G. Karwich, Detroit, (D), is an amendment to the loan act of 1921. It asks that the rate of interest be reduced from 3 1/2 per cent per month to two per cent.

TELEPHONE BRINGS AID TO INJURED CHILD

An actual incident, reported to this company

The small daughter of a Michigan family, playing in the basement of her home, was painfully and critically injured.

Her mother, hearing the child's screams, and seeing what had happened, dashed frantically to the telephone and called the doctor. The physician arrived without delay, and through immediate and skillful medical attention, was able to treat the child's injuries successfully and prevent serious complications.

In such emergencies, just one telephone call for assistance may be worth more than the cost of the service for a lifetime.

Farmers Week — January 30th to February 3rd

A most splendid program has been arranged for the thousands of visitors to farmers week, which is the red-letter event of the entire year. There will be some outstanding speakers on the various programs, including men such as C. N. Wright, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; Dr. A. J. Brock, Beet Sugar association, Bay City; Dr. G. F. Warren, Cornell university; and Samuel T. Metzger, newly appointed commissioner of agriculture for this state. In addition a large number of different agricultural organizations within the state will hold their annual meetings. Recognition and awards won by many farmers in the state will be presented during the week.

A feature of farmers week will be the state potato and grain show, which brings together the outstanding exhibits in the state. Charlevoix county will have its prize-winning potatoes on display and most certainly will be in the thick of the battle. Remember this is an event you should attend if it is at all possible for you to lay aside your work for a few days. Hope to see you there.

Twenty-eight Boys' and Girls' Clubs in Charlevoix County

We certainly can be pleased with the splendid 4-H Club program that is being carried on in the county this winter. The enrollment exceeds last year by quite a margin in spite of the fact that we have one less club.

Recent visits to these clubs find their programs are coming along nicely and that the achievement day to be held some time in April will be an occasion you are sure to enjoy.

This winter we have ten handicraft clubs, 12 clothing clubs and six hot lunch clubs, as follows:

Handicraft — Advance, 5, Mary Behling, leader; Bay Shore, 12, Douglas Ross, leader; Maple Grove, 6, Marguerite Bogart, leader; Clinton, 13, J. M. Vester, leader; Hilton, 11, Lottie O. Webster, leader; Marion Center, 7, Paul LaRue, leader; Murray, 10, W. S. Jolliffe, leader; Phelps, 5, Charles Muscho, leader; Tainter, 11, Ray March, leader; Walloon Lake, 9.

Withers, leader; Walloon Lake, 7, Lucille Spalding, leader; Evelyn Orchard, 7, Miss Esther Omland, leader; Clinton, 4, Mrs. Edna Dingman, leader.

Hot Lunch — Advance, 13, Mary Behling, leader; Barnard, 28, Dwight Fisher, leader; Grand View, 21, Ruth Matchett, leader; Tainter, 15, Mrs. Addie Ward, leader; Undine, 9, Ruby Stueck, leader; Wildwood, 7, Anna Murphy, leader.

An announcement that will be of interest to the many club leaders in the county is that the next leaders' conference will be held in the Boyne City gymnasium on Thursday, February 9th, with a supper at 6 o'clock. Mr. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Sylvia Wikson, will be present to help us in our 4-H club program.

A cordial invitation to be present at this conference is extended to the presidents and secretaries of the clubs. The cost of the meal will be very nominal, not to exceed 30 cents. Games and recreation will follow the supper, after which Mr. Kettunen and Miss Wikson will meet their respective groups and discuss ways and means of improving the club work in the county.

Potato Show Area, to Hold Annual Meet Feb. 8th, 1:30 P.M., Gaylord

Announcement has just come to us that the annual meeting of the Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show association will be held in the Gaylord court house on Wednesday, February 8th, at 1:30 p. m. It is hoped that all of the board of directors, as well as others interested in the development of Michigan's leading potato show will be present.

Officers and directors for the new year will be elected at this time. Plans for the 1933 show will be discussed which will be the 11th annual show.

* WEEKLY NEWS *

* * * * *

During the year ending June 30, 1932, a total of 52,157 persons were arrested and confined in Michigan jails, according to the annual abstract of sheriffs' reports recently presented to the governor by the department of state. For 60 years, state laws have required the annual report to be made by the department.

Of those arrested, 15,985 were charged with major crimes, 34,105 with misdemeanors and 2,067 were not charged with any crime. Of those who were arrested and the 1,774 who were in one of Michigan's jails on July 1, 1931, 2,308 were convicted and sentenced to state prisons; 968 to the Michigan reformatory; 2,139 to the Detroit House of Correction; 32 to the Boys' Vocational school and 13 to the Girls' Training school.

The report shows that cost of maintaining jails, traveling and other expenses was $1,469,741.

Few persons know that the department of state is charged with the duty of registering names and distinctive markings of milk bottles. This act is conferred by Act 361 of the Public Acts of 1927.

A company desiring exclusive use of words or marking on milk bottles must first file a copy of the desired marking with the county clerk of the county in which the company is located. Then it is mandatory under the law for the company to advertise its intention for three weeks in some newspaper in the county. Upon certification of these facts to the department, the words and markings are registered.

Printed sheets containing names and addresses of all county officers in Michigan are now ready for distribution by the department of state. These charts are usually compiled before January 1, but were delayed this year because of the many recounts on elections of county officers which prevented securing the necessary information.

PHELPS SCHOOL

The first and second graders are learning "The Wind" for language. The seventh grade hygiene class made some drawings of the joints and bones.

The seventh graders gave a program Friday afternoon during the period we have for penmanship on other days.

The sixth graders have been studying Australia. They made maps to show rainfall, population and sheep raising.

A fine baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Blanchard, Wednesday, January 18. She will be called Ruth Naomi.

Don't despair. If you can't run, you can sit on the fence and register scorn during the race.

The interest you have to pay on borrowed trouble is usury.

"Will you put that in writing, please?"

The busy executive wants the facts about the proposition but often he hasn't time to listen to the spoken word. So he makes this request of the salesman or informer — "If you will put that in a letter, I can read it when I have more time."

The wise manufacturer who has a story to tell knows that it is physically impossible for the merchant or his assistants to tell all the facts about his product, even though they knew them all, and even though they were willing to undertake the job. Furthermore, the manufacturer knows that you—the customer—haven't, always, time to listen.

So the manufacturer puts his story "in a letter" — an advertisement — usually in a series of them, addressed to you, his prospect. As they appear in the weekly paper, you can read them at leisure, and make up your mind whether you want the product he describes. Before you go to the store there is no need for prolonged questioning, no need for wasting your valuable time. You know the merits of the article because its producer was smart enough to tell you about them in "his letter" to you.

You can judge products better, and save time in the bargain by reading the advertisements.

IT'S A CASH CROP

The beet sugar industry in Michigan should be encouraged. Last season 14,000 farmers harvested 1,184,000 tons of sugar beets from 121,000 acres of land. The cash value of the crop will be well over $6,500,000 and places Michigan in third place as a beet sugar producing state. There should be no diminution of effort until first place is reached.

Wherever sugar beets are raised there is prosperity in that particular farm community. Many farmers are finding that this cash crop is helping them to solve their financial problems. Stimulation of a home market for beet sugar by the homewives of Michigan, backed by remedial legislation in congress, will result in over 200,000 acres being planted this year, it is said. Factories which have been closed for several years will be opened and millions of dollars in new wealth for agriculture created.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHTER

There are three factors which will tend to shape our economic welfare during the coming year. The first has to do with our financial conditions, which is vastly better than it was during 1931 and the first few months of 1932, when a financial panic threatened. We now find but few banks suspending, hoarded funds are coming back into circulation and gold is returning from abroad. These are helpful signs.

The second factor concerns business conditions, which are not as well as they were a year ago. We need to balance the national budget, assist the railroad towards recovery, bring about a rise in commodity prices and adjust war debts in such a manner as to increase international trade. With these adjustments made, industry will show signs of revival and unemployment will decrease. Such progress will be slow but it will be permanent.

The third set of factors is made up of elements that are less surely ponderable, but which are perhaps more important than the others. They are those that make up the morale of a people beset by the difficulties of a great economic depression. Probably these conditions are better than they were a year ago. The steady return of hoarded funds reflects increasing confidence. The elections largely eliminated political dissatisfactions. Great numbers of families and firms are solving the problems of carrying on successfully.

We can improve conditions in 1933 if we grapple with realities, and crowd them for solution. It will require vigilance and cooperation for much that must be done, both locally and nationally, depends on governmental action, and everywhere inexperienced administrations are coming jubilantly into office. For individuals it is a time for the old-fashioned virtue of thrift and self reliance. For governments it is a time for budget balancing by expenditure reduction. For all it is a time for adjustment to new conditions without repining for the old.

RAILROADS NEED ASSISTANCE

The plight of our railroads constitutes one of the most urgent of our national economic problems, and so far no adequate steps have been taken towards solving it. The roads have introduced stringent economies, and greatly increased their efficiency of operation. Nevertheless all their efforts have been unavailing to offset the reductions of income resulting from the shrinkage in the volume of traffic during depression. In 1931 the net income of all the class I railroads amounted to about 141 million dollars, which was sufficient to meet fixed charges about one and one-fifth times. In 1932 net incomes had shrunk to a point where only three-fourths of the fixed charges were earned.

As things are going a railroad crisis is in the making. The roads constitute almost our greatest industry, and one that is directly essential to our national welfare. They are one of our greatest employers of labor, and in the first rank as purchasers of materials from other industries. Their bonds are held in vast amounts as investments by banks, insurance companies, trust funds, and institutions. The roads are so important as taxpayers that many communities are largely dependent upon them for the support of their public services. We need a thoroughgoing revision of railroad legislation across our state border, but adding in a new national transportation act. Meanwhile, to tide over present emergency, the roads need legislation to enable their owners and creditors to readjust their capital structures without being blocked by small dissenting minority groups.

BUYING THAT HELPS

Never before in the history of the automobile industry has there been such values offered for so little money. Compared with prices only a few years ago the change is almost impossible of belief. Price reductions, coupled with safety, comfort and style, is but a part of the program adopted by the automobile industry to stimulate sales and pave the way for solving a part of the great unemployment situation which the country has faced for the past three years.

Many people have refrained from buying a car because of timidity or a fear that they might be criticized. Exactly the reverse should be true. With every car that is sold, the proceeds of that sale finds its way into many helpful avenues, chiefly that of labor. Its benefit are widespread, especially here in Michigan, where we must have the assistance of the automobile industry in the work of setting our industrial house in order. Without such help we cannot expect much in the way of recovery. To buy a car this year means better times for everybody—think it over.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

The W. K. Kellogg food products company, of Battle Creek, believes in the value of newspaper advertising. Early in 1932 the company determined upon an aggressive merchandising campaign, which included the largest newspaper advertising appropriation in the company's history.

As a result of this intelligent planning, backed by a liberal use of printer's ink, the company saw their business increase and were able to keep their factories operating on a 24-hour a day schedule throughout the year, with employment at the highest peak ever recorded. Because of this forthright policy Battle Creek's welfare problem has been much smaller than cities of similar size throughout the country.

Mr. Kellogg, in speaking about the course which the company is pursuing said: "We have proved that in our line of business, the aggressive use of newspaper advertising is a most effective means of producing results—even in times like these."

STATE SALES TAX PROPOSED

A state sales tax for Michigan is being proposed as one means of relieving real estate of the tremendous burden it has been carrying for many years. Before such a proposal is enacted into law it should be subjected to a most searching investigation. We don't want any additional taxation that will only mean more dollars for the tax spending oligarchy to squander.

Before we adopt a state sales tax law let us inquire deeply just how it is going to work out regarding the business man, who already is facing the sunset because of these reckless expenditures of the past. There might be some merit in a national sales tax, but to adopt a similar measure in Michigan would not only mean bootlegging of merchandise

WE SHALL PAY FOR IT

It is time to get ready for some people to make out an income tax statement.

Many will have an opportunity to do this for the first time this year. That is not because earnings have been larger but because exemptions for married men is put at $2,500. For single people the exemption is but a thousand dollars. That means that many young people must make returns and pay something to their Uncle Sam.

It is estimated that these changes will put about 1,700,000 additional people upon the income tax rolls.

It was to be expected. The feeling of a car because of timidity or a fear that they might be criticized. Exactly the reverse should be true. With every car that is sold, the proceeds of that sale finds its way into many helpful avenues, chiefly that of labor. Its benefit are widespread, especially here in Michigan, where we must have the assistance of the automobile industry in the work of setting our industrial house in order. Without such help we cannot expect much in the way of recovery. To buy a car this year means better times for everybody—think it over.

URGE REPEAL SHOOTING PRESERVE RULE

Conservation Commission Will Recommend This Change

The department of conservation will recommend to the state legislature that the shooting preserve law be repealed.

A resolution by the conservation commission at its January meeting says that so serious opposition to the act has developed that there is a tendency to undermine public cooperation in many other conservation affairs.

Director George R. Hogarth, in asking the commission to take a stand for repeal of the law stated that "While I am recommending its repeal, I would not have you lose sight of the necessity of finding some way to make it worth while for many people to take a direct interest in the production, protection and year-round management of pheasants and other farm-type game birds."

Numerous communications and resolutions from Michigan sportsmen's organizations, recommending action both for and against the law were read by the commission.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.448): "It is Christian Science to do right, and nothing short of right-doing has any claim to the name. To talk the right and live the wrong is foolish deceit, doing one's self the most harm."

How Alphonse Bertillon, the World's Greatest Scientific Detective, solved the extraordinary "Murder at the Opera," is revealed by H. Ashton-Wolfe in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with the January 29th Detroit Sunday Times.

Reports from herd improvement association testers show that heavy losses in butterfat occur whenever separators are poorly adjusted or not properly cleaned. Among the more common causes are separators not set level, excessive vibration, irregular speed, failure to keep clean, dishing with cold instead of lukewarm water, and so on. It has been found that losses of fat may be three times greater in separators which have not been washed after each use.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Charlevoix and Ironton

"Let opportunity do all the knocking."

Many a person has looked at the world through hopeless eyes when he meditates upon his personal fight with sin and his weakness in the face of temptation. We will have something that will challenge that person's thought next Sunday morning.

During the past few Sundays we have considered the teachings of Christ concerning sin and salvation. We found that He was continually conscious of the fact of sin and that the passion of His life was to reveal to every heart that God had provided salvation for the sinner. He taught us that the purpose of His mission in the world was salvation and the responsibility of humanity was to accept His plan if it desired perfect salvation.

Many a soul-hungry sinner has sighed, "If I could hold out faithful I would try this salvation." We have just the message for that person next Sunday. We will tell you how Jesus teaches that He can take the weakest sinner and make out of him the strongest saint. This isn't anything new. It is something that the ministry and the church have either sidestepped or forgotten during the past quarter century. The testimony of millions proves Jesus' teachings. Subject, "Sanctity."

Romantic Origin of Package Medicines

Some of the most interesting romances will be found in the march of industry; for back of nearly every product which gains public acceptance is the very human story of somebody's ideal, ambition, ingenuity, enterprise, disappointment, struggle and final achievement.

The privations and hardships which accompanied the early years of the development of package medicines are an important part of the history of our nation. The public seldom appreciates the doubt, the ridicule, the ostracism and the enormous financial risks which were suffered by the early pioneers in medicine. Their faith, determination and pioneering spirit were responsible for developing and bringing to our medicine shelves those well known package medicines which afford economy and convenience, and which are so essential to our everyday lives.

Today we take our family remedies for granted as naturally as we accept the air or sunshine.

Most package medicines were originally prescribed by that beloved individual, the memory of whose self-sacrificing life is most beautiful—the old family physician. Being prescriptions of merit which produced results, they survived. They became much in demand and consequently much prescribed by their originators. Perhaps the demand grew so rapidly that the old doctor found himself unable, with his limited equipment, his modest kit, to fill the need. Often he, sometimes assisted by his kinsmen or friends, prepared to meet the demand by a quantity production, that the meritorious prescriptions might receive the widespread use which their popularity justified. Then came years of toil, hardships, risks, struggles with life's earnings and life's cares invested. Eventually the laboratory and the machine entered the picture, and every invention of a modern world was utilized to increase perfection, production and distribution.

Whether an individual package medicine has been on the market for scores of years, or whether it is the more recent product of medical research, a large proportion of package medicines in general are based upon solid scientific knowledge, and deserve the confidence of the public. Proprietary remedies which can ease human suffering, mitigate human distress, or add to human health and physical efficiency, at a price within the reach of the poor man's pocketbook, are indeed worthy adjuncts to American life, as well as American commerce. "They can be safely relied upon," as Lord Bacon expressed it, "to tune the curious harp of man's body."

Dinner Menus of Past and Present

In the yard next door a turkey gobbler paced back and forth, complaining bitterly about our tiresome habit of feasting on holidays. Once he was a luxury which only the affluent could afford, but now he is out of luck, for turkeys cost less than they have in many years. Time was when turkeys feared for their lives only twice a year, but now they're in constant danger because they have slipped from the luxury class.

Back in 1850 Christmas dinner for a well-to-do American family would have consisted of 12 meat courses and only a couple of vegetables. Today the idea makes us shudder, for doctors tell us that so much meat is not good for us, and that the lowly vegetable once scorned by the rich is full of vitamins necessary to health. Calories have changed our eating habits a lot.

Dr. Julius Klein, medical secretary of commerce, says that his turkeys have overlooked the influence that longer has had upon history. Our stories of the past deal with crowned heads and pompous potentates, with wars and movements of peoples. "It would make a fascinating tale," writes Doctor Klein, "and in some ways a far more important one in terms of recording human experience, if we undertook to learn more about a people from a study of its cookbooks."

For example, a cookbook published in the days of Columbus shows that a dinner in those days for anyone who really amounted to anything in Spanish society consisted of from 12 to 16 meat courses. No person of quality would have dared serve vegetables at his table, for in so doing he would appear to be economizing at the expense of his guests. That was before it became smart to be thrifty, and it was thought that vegetables were humble fare fit only for peasants who couldn't afford meat. Then, too, vegetables were scarce, since they grew best in tropical countries, and transportation was undeveloped. Besides they were perishable, and the refrigerator was unknown.—Indianapolis News.

NOW! EASE A SORE THROAT INSTANTLY

Feel Rawness, Irritation, Go At Once

These Pictures Tell You What To Do

Remember Only Medicine Helps A Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes.

Results are among the most extraordinary in medical science. On doctors' advice, millions are following this way... dissolving old-time "washes" and "antiseptics." For it has been found that only medicine can help a sore throat.

Simple To Do. All you do is crush and dissolve three BAYER Aspirin Tablets in half a glass of water. Gargle with it twice—as pictured above. If you have any indication of a cold—before gargling take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water. This is to combat any signs of cold that have gone into your system. Keep on taking if cold has a "hold." For Genuine Bayer Aspirin will not harm you. Your doctor will tell you, it does not depress the heart. Get a box of 12 or a bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Reduces Infection, Eases Pain Instantly. Gargling with Bayer Aspirin will do three things: Relieve soreness at once. Alleviate inflammation. AND—reduce infection, which is the important thing in fighting a sore throat.

It requires medicine—like BAYER ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout America are prescribing this BAYER gargle in place of old-time ways. Results are quick and amazing.

Be careful, however, that you get real BAYER Aspirin Tablets for this purpose. For they dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles. Watch this when you buy.

NEXT WASHDAY

IMAGINE SOAP MAKING SUCH A DIFFERENCE! I'M THROUGH IN HALF THE TIME, AND MY WASH IS WHITE AS SNOW. RINSO'S SO EASY ON THE HANDS, TOO.

So economical—TRY IT in tub, washer, dishpan

YOU'LL say its economical, too, when you see how long one big box of Rinso lasts. That's because you only have to use a little Rinso to get a lot of the thickest, liveliest suds you ever saw... in any kind of water.

Rinso is equally good in tub or washer. Dirt loosens and floats right off in its creamy, cleansing suds. You don't have to scrub or boil the wash. Rinso does a complete job—just by soaking. This saves the clothes from being scrubbed threadbare; saves your hands from getting red and worn, too. Rinso's active suds speed up dishwashing—make all cleaning easier. Try Rinso in your tub or washer—and dishpan. Get the BIG box.

CUTTING STATE EXPENSE

Considerable interest has been aroused throughout the state over the recent decision by Auditor General Stack, that hereafter full description of tax delinquent lands will not be published in connection with the annual tax sale as has been the custom for many years. In some quarters, more especially the larger cities who came to the country for help when they are broke, this move on the part of the auditor general is being heralded as a direct saving to Michigan taxpayers of nearly a quarter million dollars.

Former Auditor General O. B. Fuller, whose more than a quarter of a century of service to Michigan gave him the title, "watch dog of the treasury," says Stack's decision will not result in such a saving to the state. Mr. Fuller points out that the one dollar description charge made to the owner or buyer of tax delinquent lands, not only paid the cost of publication, but left a substantial amount in the treasury each year. He also points out that title to all tax delinquent lands sold without proper description would be held invalid by the courts under the present law.

It seems strange that the first attempt by the new administration to cut the cost of state government should be directed at outstate newspapers, where most of these annual tax sales appear. Refusal to publish tax sale descriptions is but one of many income destroying measures directed against these same newspapers that will be introduced during the present session. Why this is so, is hard to understand, but it is true nevertheless.

Publishers of small town and city newspapers are without exception, loyal to the Commonwealth. There is never any doubt as to where they stand when it comes to easing the taxpayer's burden. It is only natural, that while their own interests are being slashed, they wonder why the sacred cows of the special privilege class are not being led to slaughter. Two years ago more than seventy-five million dollars of taxable property was taken off the tax rolls of the state by one single class without a murmur of protest being heard. In the interest of good government Mr. Stack's decision should be met in a spirit of fair play. We'll be good fellows, but we will also insist that all other interests in the state join in this good fellowship movement. That is only fair.

BUY MICHIGAN PRODUCTS

No matter what may have happened to the investment world, how many panaceas we may bring forward for alleviating our ills, the law of supply and demand continues as it always has, measuring commodity prices with the same old yardstick of impartiality, subject only to fluctuations imposed by the cost of finally delivering your product into the hands of the consumer.

It is only reasonable to expect that with greater demand will come greater values in the things we have to sell. If we would keep this simple thought in mind the annual product of Michigan farms would be enhanced many millions of dollars every year. It is surprising how easily we are induced to buy against our own interests.

Perhaps it is the neat cotton sack that leads us to purchase a peck of Idaho potatoes, the lustre on a box of Washington or Oregon apples, the belief that Cuban sugar is superior to our own Michigan beet sugar, whatever it is we continue our un-economic practice to the tune of the sheriff's hammer falling on the foreclosure sale of a Michigan farm whose owner is unable longer to continue the unequal struggle.

It is time we took a selfish view of the matter by demanding Michigan products only. We need to stimulate agriculture in this state so that farming can continue under individual ownership and our farmers saved the ignominy of becoming tenants on the farms they once owned. When we quit leaning on the everlasting arm of Uncle Sam and start fighting our own battles we'll begin to see the first streaks of dawn shooting across an economic night. Why delay longer?

NEW BANKING LAWS

Banking conditions in Michigan are expected to receive more than the usual amount of consideration during the next session of the legislature. Many people are going to ask questions and demand much in the way of legislation from our lawmakers. It is common belief that our present banking laws will get considerable overhauling before the legislature ceases its labors some time next spring. It will be the policy of this newspaper to keep its readers informed from time to time regarding what manner of changes are being proposed.

Whatever has been wrong with our present banking laws has not been the fault of the people. Whenever the bankers asked for anything in the way of legislation in recent years it has been granted willingly by a complacent legislature. Perhaps they may have asked for too much for their own good and the safety of their institutions.

It is easy for carelessness and poor judgment to creep in when one has everything his own way. Hundreds of closed banks in Michigan during the past three years tell a pretty grim story of what took place with the coming of adversity. Now that some of these closed banks are being reopened under different management for service to the public, it might be a good thing if the public began taking a keener interest in matters having to do with banking government and politics.

AID JOBLESS YOUNG MEN

Immediate governmental aid for the vast army of jobless men now roaming the country is visualized in a measure to be introduced in congress by Senator James Couzens, of Michigan. It is the plan of Senator Couzens to make available the military camps of the nation for this purpose.

Cantonments, such as existed during the World war, would be established from coast to coast where these youngsters can receive care and military training until such time as economic conditions makes possible their return to the ordinary affairs of life.

This wandering army of young jobless, said to number nearly a half million, present a serious social problem that demands nationwide attention. Every day sees new additions to their ranks, due to social conditions in the home, and unless something drastic is done in the way of relief, most of them will eventually find their way into lives of crime.

Senator Couzens believes that army officers, trained in handling large numbers of men, could best undertake this gigantic task. All America wants to see these boys saved to future citizenship and will approve any intelligent plan proposed for their salvation. As a patriotic people we have no right to pass on to future generations a social problem fraught with grave consequences. It is time the gleaners were busy at their labors.

THE SMALL BORROWER

If Michigan's new legislature has the sympathetic understanding of the "forgotten man" it professed to have during pre-election days something will be done for the benefit of the small borrower, who, during this period of economic upheaval is being forced to pay confiscatory interest rates on what he has to borrow. Unless some immediate provision is made in our banking laws to provide for this class of loans through regular banking channels the devastating havoc caused by this form of usury will retard for a long time to come our complete recovery from the evils of depression.

When business men come to realize that in this country today thirteen million small wage earners are living in financial bondage, their power to buy from the retail merchant destroyed, perhaps somebody will come forward to speak in their behalf. Not only is the business of the retail merchant being seriously injured, but savings banks and building and loan associations are feeling the effects of this uneconomic situation, which if allowed to continue will result in complete paralysis of the buying power of a great part of our citizens.

It ought to be patent to everybody that the small borrower, who is forced to pay an interest rate of 42 per cent, is headed for destruction, no matter how much he may struggle to free himself from such financial slavery. It may be within the province of the legislature to ignore his plight, but the real danger to society lies in the fact that a great portion of our social fabric will be clutched in his fingers as he falls.

TECHNOCRACY

And now comes Technocracy to confound an already harassed people. In the midst of our blind groping for a way out of our present situation we are being further bewildered by a subject as difficult of understanding to the average individual as is Einstein's theory of relativity. We have a faint idea of what technocracy is all about, but rather than attempt an intelligent discussion of the subject we are content to turn the job over to a group of college professors, who talk glibly about this new science, yet know so little about the practical application of our capitalistic system to that of human affairs.

This is the age of the machine, just as the disciples of technocracy claim, but the machine is no Frankenstein monster beyond the control of its owner, who can order its service for the greater good to the greatest number if he so wills. The problem is not one for the millions of unemployed to solve, but rather for the owners of the machines who have vision to see that in the regular employment of the worker the level of living for everybody reaches its highest plane.

Slowly we are being forced to a new economic appraisal of our needs. What would have been called pure socialism of a decade ago has now become a necessity if we are to be saved from industrial destruction. Wise leadership by hard boiled executives in the world of industry, rather than technocratic postulates from the laboratory of science, is what is needed to cure the ills of our body politic.

"BUY MICHIGAN"

There is a movement being fostered in this country to "Buy American." It is a sensible attempt to meet and solve some of the problems of industry. To "go native" and buy only those articles manufactured in the United States will have a far-reaching effect in the stabilization of American manufacturing. Such an attitude might be termed selfish, but selfishness of this kind is needed to start the industrial wheels of America turning. Our first concern is that of relieving the present deplorable condition of our own people. To take any other course would be unpatriotic.

In this state the movement should be enlarged to include Michigan beet sugar. We should stipulate that brand of sugar with every order sent to the grocer. Michigan made sugar should be on every table and in every pantry supply room. Michigan grown sugar beets is a cash crop. It is one crop, more than any other, that will help restore the buying power of the farm. The Michigan beet sugar industry needs our support. To do this will add millions of dollars in new wealth to the state every year. Michigan grocers and Michigan housewives should set themselves firmly to the task.

THRIFT IN FOOD PURCHASES

Although nature gave generous return in field and garden produce last harvest time, the unfortunate mess man has temporarily made of his world, apparently not allow all human beings to have enough to eat. The hard fact is that the worrying housewives of many families are today finding it increasingly difficult to properly feed hungry children.

Yet youngsters require above all else good food. Slightly inferior educational opportunities today can always be reinforced by study in later years. Poor housing, except when it goes to the extreme of tarpaper shanties, need not affect health if labor and ingenuity are used. Worries of the mind eventually will be forgotten. But the sapping of vitality through malnutrition presents a situation whose lifelong results cannot be minimized. It affects the very heart of national well being.

Nutrition experts declare that through careful selection of food-stuffs, it is possible to stretch to the limit money spent for food and at the same time to avoid eliminating from the diet of children any of the substances necessary for growth and for protection of health. How this selection may be made is explained simply and understandably in a pamphlet entitled "Thrifty Food for Health Protection." Interested persons—probably everyone should be interested whether or not kitchen economy is a dire necessity—can secure the pamphlet without charge by directing a note to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, Health Service Building, Lansing.

Some economic advisers tell us that how quickly and how successfully the country rids itself of its present troubles depends on the extent to which its inhabitants work out their own salvation. If we argue that a complicated and interlocking social system makes self-help in many fields virtually impossible, perhaps in the still quite important business of food selection and preparation we can yet demonstrate that there remains a fragment of personal responsibility for shaping our own destinies.

REAL FARM RELIEF NEEDED

This country is waiting for someone to come forward with a plan of farm relief, whose administration by governmental bureaucracy will not cost more than the farmer, who it is supposed to benefit, will actually receive in cash. We have had many experiences of the former kind and they have always proved painful.

Nobody denies agriculture is in need of assistance, but it should come in such a manner that its value as a relief measure will not be destroyed by an equally increased cost of government. Many have already pointed out that there is a direct connection between the extensive growth of government bureaucracy in recent years and the farmer's economic ills.

Helping the farmer will help the nation. This help should be so simple and direct that immediate relief assistance will be placed within his reach. Congress is now engaged in working out such a plan. It should have the sympathetic support of every citizen, so long as it does not entail outrageous cost of operation at the hands of those who have for years been using the farmer as a means for extracting money from Uncle Sam's pocketbook.

THE HIGHWAY DOLLAR

Perhaps no dollar of public money for relief of the unemployed worker is being spent to better advantage than that of the state highway department. In this manner thousands of workers are being furnished with part time employment, which enables them to retain their self respect by not becoming objects of charity.

The $8,000,000 winter relief program recommended by State Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman, has received the endorsement of Governor Comstock and work is already under way. Funds for this relief measure will be procured through R. F. C. financing.

Backed by years of experience Commissioner Dillman is giving his personal attention to this winter program, which is especially vital at a time when labor is being confronted with the worst unemployment situation in the history of the nation. One healthy sign in connection with this huge undertaking is the fact that the cost of administration has been reduced to a minimum. The highway dollar set aside for relief is being expended for that purpose and no other. It is a welcome departure from some of the relief measures we have observed in the past.

REDUCE FARM COSTS IS PROGRAM THEME

Discuss New Types of Building Construction and Use of Equipment

Methods of reducing the cost of farm operations will be the theme of the program prepared by the agricultural engineering section for farmers week at Michigan State college, January 30 to February 3.

Dairymen will be interested in the talk by E. W. Ruch, Caladonia, on his experiences with the old type of dairy barn as compared with the new design, which is known as the pen barn system. Mr. Ruch's talk will be given Thursday morning. Models of the pen barn will be exhibited to show how this type of barn is constructed.

F. W. Wallin, Jenison, will discuss methods of applying engineering principles to farming to save time, labor, and money. Mr. Wallin operates the Wallinwood farm and will talk about experiences and not about theories.

G. C. Bartells, American Zinc Institute, New York, will discuss sheet metal roofing for use on farm buildings. This talk is listed for Thursday morning as is that of Mr. Bartells. The talk by Mr. Ruch will be given Tuesday morning.

Members of the agricultural engineering department will speak on several phases of the problem of lowering the costs of farm equipment. Electrical apparatus, equipment for irrigation, machinery repairs, and tractors are some of the subjects listed. The program will be held in the gymnasium annex, as in previous years.

An air-tired tractor, recently placed on the market, will be exhibited as well as a model of a Gothic roofed barn. It is said that this type of roof decreases building costs.

Another chain store tax found its way into the House from the desk of Rep. Michael J. Grajewski, of Hamtramck, (D). It proposes establishment of a tax ranging from $3 on a single store to $25 on the larger chains of the state.

A bill offered by Sen. Leon D. Case of Watervliet, (D), would abolish the office of superintendent of private employment agencies—a position which pays $5,000 annually—and his duties with the labor department.

The House received the 1933 edition of Rep. John Dykstra's bill which would make it impossible for married women to secure employment if their husbands are drawing pay checks. The measure provided amusement during the 1931 session but it was permitted to die chiefly because it is generally conceded to be unconstitutional.

Another graduated chain store tax bill has made its appearance in the House. It was introduced by Rep. Chester B. Fitzgerald, Detroit, (D), and is sponsored by C. V. Fennel, president of the Michigan Home Defense League. The measure provides

On each store over the 25 limit, a $250 tax would be assessed under Rep. Fitzgerald's measure. Revenue collected would be used to equalize the cost of education in the state.

Expansion of the workmen's compensation act to provide compensation for diseases contracted as a result of employment conditions is proposed in a bill offered in the House by Rep. Alvin L. Rummel of Ironwood, (R).

TIBBITS APPOINTED TO FOUR COMMITTEES

Other Northern Michigan Representatives Treated Well

Northern Michigan first term members of the legislature were well treated by Speaker Bradley in handing out committee appointments, according to political minded observers, each of the three members from counties surrounding Charlevoix receiving one or more important assignments.

Representative Tibbits, of Charlevoix district, was named on four committees, horticulture, aeronautics, fish and fisheries and Michigan School for the Blind.

Representative Priest, of Antrim, also received four assignments, being placed on conservation, printing, Ionia State hospital and Boy's Vocational school.

Representative Faircloth, of Cheboygan, who succeeded Speaker Ming, is a member of conservation, roads and bridges, state sanitarium and State House of Correction and Branch state prison in upper peninsula.

The appointments of Messrs. Tibbits, Priest and Faircloth are declared to compare favorably with those of the other new members, and to be a distinct indication of the friendly consideration given this end of the state by the speaker of the House, Martin R. Bradley of Menominee.

TORCH RIVER PAIR FINED ON VIOLATION

Taken by Local Conservation Officer for Game Law Infraction

Dan Lynn and Douglas McCrimmell of Torch River, caught by Conservation Officer Chester W. Bonney while coming off Round lake with 75 nests in their possession, were placed under arrest last Thursday.

Appearing before Justice Hierlihy at Bellaire, the following day, the men pleaded guilty to violation of the game laws and were assessed fines of $25 and $20, respectively, plus court costs. The alternate sentence was 60 and 30 days in jail. Lynn received the heaviest sentence due to the fact the violation was his second in the last 90 days.

AT THE MOVIES

Immortal Sherlock Holmes Portrayed by Clive Brook

"Sherlock Holmes," the new Fox picture, based on one of Conan Doyle's most thrilling tales, comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday. Clive Brook, who plays the great detective, finds himself, in conjunction with Scotland Yard, pitted against the arch criminal, Moriarty, and a band of gangsters recruited from both sides of the Atlantic.

How Moriarty set his traps, which are quickly sprung by Holmes, and how the detective exterminates the gang and sends Moriarty to the death cell, form the basis of what is said to be one of the most thrilling and exciting screen dramas ever produced.

Miriam Jordan, English stage beauty, who made her film debut in "Six Hours to Live," opposite Warner Baxter and John Boles, enacts the leading feminine part, having the romantic interest with Brook. Ernest Torrence, outstanding in menage parts, portrays the role of Moriarty. Reginald Owen, distinguished English actor well known on both the stage and screen, appears as Dr. Watson, devoted friend and ally of Holmes.

The film was directed by William K. Howard, who directed "Scotland Yard," "The Trial of Vivienne Ware," "Transatlantic" and "The First Year" for Fox Films.

MASONS OUT-SCORED ODD FELLOWS MONDAY

Advantage of 72 Points Failed to Overcome Odd Fellow Lead

The Masons out-scored the Odd Fellows at cribbage Monday night, but not sufficiently to overcome the margin piled up by their opponents in previous play.

Monday night's results gave the Masons 19,942 points as compared to 19,870 for the Odd Fellows. The difference of 72 taken from the previous Odd Fellow lead of 104 points, leaves them still leading by a margin of 332 following the fourth contest of the series.

Individual high point winners Monday night were Harrison Bedford for the Masons with 965, and Allison Bingbee for the Odd Fellows with 960. Forty-four members of the two fraternal orders participated. The next contest will be Monday evening, January 30th, at the Masonic temple.

The 5th grade group enjoyed a visit to the fish hatchery last week. Much interest was shown in the trout eggs which are now being picked over. Another visit is to be made in March, when the eggs hatch. The art lesson was very interesting last week. Acetic scenery and eskimo life were portrayed by means of white chalk on blue paper. Everyone is back in school again. A number of absences have been caused by the flu.

CHARLEVOIX REMEMBERS SARAH TEASDALE'S POEMS

Sarah Teasdale, noted poetess who died recently in New York City, was a widely known summer resident of Charlevoix, making her home on Michigan avenue with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Teasdale of St. Louis, Mo. Many of her poems had local coloring and were inspired by legends and folk lore of this region. Local newspapers have published many of her contributions.

Your wife, as well as your sins, will find you out.

BEAVER MOVIE ADDED TO STATE COLLECTION

Shows Activities of Animals in Their Wild Habitats

"Michigan Beaver," a motion picture—several years in the making and considered as outstanding among wildlife films has been announced by the educational division of the department of conservation as now ready for loan through the State.

The picture, photographed by Walter E. Hastings, department cinematographer, details most of the better known activities of the beaver. The actual building of a beaver dam in the northern part of the state is pictured as well as other beaver workings including a beaver "canal," beaver houses and cuttings. Beaver are seen swimming beneath the surface of the water, feeding on bark, gnawing their fur and cutting trees.

The picture has been added to the film library operated by the department through which motion pictures are loaned to the public. "Michigan Beaver," a one-reel film, is printed in both the 35mm and 16mm sizes.

AUTO LICENSE IS GOOD TO MARCH 1

DATE SET AHEAD ONE MONTH BY FITZGERALD

Makes Plea That All Who Are Able Buy Plates At Once—Continue Road Program

Use of 1932 auto license plates Saturday was extended to the last possible legal date—March 1—by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald. He has no authority under the statutes to permit use of the old plates after that date.

In announcing the extension the secretary of state pleaded with all motorists who are financially able to purchase their 1933 licenses immediately, pointing out that the money collected will be used to furnish highway employment.

At the same time Fitzgerald expressed the view that as soon as economic conditions are improved the state should take immediate action to reduce the tax now imposed upon automobile owners. He said that in recent years the number of licensed cars has decreased about 80,000 annually and that during the first 25 days of 1933 collections were $65,000 less than those of a year ago.

"Study of the steady decrease," he said, "discloses that the present weight tax is too high under present conditions and as a result thousands of citizens are deprived of the use of their property and the State is deprived of the revenue it would receive from the gasoline tax, if all automobiles were in use."

"It does not appear feasible to make any change in weight tax laws as long as the local need for relief from highway taxes is acute. At the present time, the entire weight tax is being returned to local government units for retirement of highway bonds and reduction of local highway and bridge taxes."

"As soon as the present acute need for local tax relief passes, I believe there should be a drastic reduction in weight taxes. Pleasure cars should be allowed to operate on payment of a greatly lowered license plate tax. Trucks used by farmers for hauling their own produce and by small business concerns in a manner incidental to the main business, should pay a lower tax than do trucks that are in almost constant use on the highways."

"Such a change in the law would greatly increase the revenue from the gasoline tax and would provide welcome relief to more than one million citizens each year."

Buy "American-Made" goods.

"BUY AMERICAN" IS LATE SLOGAN

PLAN OFF-SETS SIMILAR FOREIGN MOVES

Wheels of Industry Will Start to Turn When Americans Purchase American Products

For a number of months leading statesmen of the British Isles have advanced—and are still advancing—the idea of the British public purchasing homemade and homegrown products in an effort to stem the unemployment situation and to get away from the cancerous dole, the expanding of this doctrine eventually takes deep root, finds employment for the British subjects and their cousins in all parts of the globe.

Their efforts are bearing fruit in many places, it is reported.

The "Buy British" slogan is not confined to England exclusively, but it applies to the products of Canada, India, Australia and other English possessions that merchandise some of its products in the mother country.

France has adopted the slogan and the proposition is going over strong. Factories are humming, farmers are happy, merchants glad. All are evidently "making money."

With these countries finding home patriotism a paying proposition and putting thousands of men back to work in hundreds of factories the attention of William Randolph Hearst was gained and he is credited with the launching of a "Buy American" program in this country. Mr. Hearst owns and controls a number of influential newspapers and these publications were utilized in spreading this doctrine. In fact these dailies are still spreading it. As a patriotic gesture the sentiment is appealing to all classes.

America has been made the dumping ground of many European products for years. Articles have been imported that could just as well have been manufactured in this country by American workmen, in American factories, aided by American capital.

It is a well known fact that foreigner with a lower standard of living can produce articles cheaper than we can, even with the onerous barrier of a high protective tariff this side of the Atlantic. If we continue to import European articles we must either lower the standard of living of the average American or else put up a high tariff wall so that competition shall be more fair and on an equal basis at least.

Why keep European factories spinning along merrily while the factories in America are gathering cobwebs? Again, were the tables reversed, Europe would lose no time in putting up a high tariff wall.

With a dallying congress there can be but one answer to the threat against American homes. That is: "BUY AMERICAN."

LAWRENCE BOND PURCHASES ARE GIVEN O.K.

Bond purchases for safe sinking funds by former state treasurer, Howard C. Lawrence, have been given a clean bill of health by his successor, Treasurer Theodore I. Fry. Fry said that of the $7,355,445 in bonds bought by Lawrence only default thus far has been a principal payment of $29,000 by the City of Flint, and he said that he is confident this will be made good. The interest on the sum has been paid.

DEATH OF PIONEER OCCURRED MONDAY

JAS. O'BRIEN SUCCUMBED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Active Church Worker Had Resided in County 65 Years—Funeral Thursday

Charlevoix today mourns the death of a highly respected pioneer resident, James O'Brien, who succumbed at 12 o'clock Monday noon at his residence on Norwood road following an illness of but two days.

Mr. O'Brien was born January 28, 1849, at Ellenburg, Clinton county, New York. In the fall of 1867, at the age of 18 years, he came to this region, first settling on a farm near Antrim City and later moving to Norwood, where he was married on November 3, 1873, to Miss Alma Van Dusen. The couple resided at Norwood until 1911, then moving to Charlevoix, where they have since resided.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien were seven children, four of whom survive in addition to the mother, viz: Mrs. Mary Estlin, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. O. Parker, Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Belle Hartwell and Lige O'Brien, both of Charlevoix. Other survivors include two grandchildren, Alma Hartwell and Robert O'Brien, and four brothers, Julius, Albert, Josiah and Andrew, all of whom are now residing in Charlevoix.

Mr. O'Brien's death was the second in a family of six brothers, whose combined ages at the time of a family reunion four years ago totaled 450 years. The other brother now deceased is George O'Brien, whose death occurred three years ago. The family history traces back to the Revolutionary war, in which Josiah Knight, the great grandfather, took part, and the War of 1812, which saw the services of Mr. O'Brien's grandfather, Elijah Knight, and the latter's brother, Joseph Knight.

During his residence in Norwood township, Mr. O'Brien served in several official capacities. He and Mrs. O'Brien recently celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary, and during the past year Mr. O'Brien was feted as the only living charter member of the Charlevoix Baptist church, which he joined soon after coming to this region, and in whose interests he was a liberal contributor and untiring worker. Mr. O'Brien will be greatly missed as a man of sterling character.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Baptist church with Rev. W. H. Ruohi officiating. Interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

LAKE CHARLEVOIX DRIVE COMPLETED

Road Commission Eliminates Cut-Off at Boyne City

The taking over by the county road commission of Lake street from North street to the corner of Liny and Groveland at Boyne City, means a great deal to Charlevoix county by completing the drive around Lake Charlevoix.

This was made possible by the W. S. Shaw company donating a strip of land off the northwest corner of their property for right-of-way. When completed the road will be tarvisurfaced.

EVERYONE WILL LOSE WHEN PEST ARRIVES

State Entomologists Predict Early Invasion by Japanese Beetle

City dwellers as well as farmers in Michigan are due for more trouble, according to the entomology department at Michigan State college, which predicts the invasion of this State by the Japanese beetle within a short time.

Small numbers of this insect have already been found in Detroit and control measures have been undertaken to eradicate any of the younger generations which might be the result of this appearance. However, this will only postpone the time when the beetle appears in such numbers that its control will become a continuous problem in Michigan.

The pest is somewhat larger than the common potato beetle and its body is metallic green or greenish brown except the wing covers which are brown. The wing covers do not completely cover the body and the tip of the abdomen shows five white spots on each side.

MANCELONA DEFEATED FRIDAY

KIPMEN WON BOTH GAMES OF DOUBLE BILL

Boys' City, Conference Leading Class C Team, Here for Return Tilt Friday Night

Charlevoix high school basketball teams invaded Mancelona's court last Friday night and returned home with a double victory.

The varsity squad hung up their second class C conference victory with a 23 to 14 win over their Antrim county rivals, and the reserves copped the preliminary contest by a 17 to 13 count.

Assuming an early advantage, the Kipmen outlasted Mancelona all the way, adding steadily to their lead as the game advanced. They were out in front 15 to 7 at the half and, although Mancelona's defense stiffened in the last two periods, Charlevoix managed 8 more points to 7 for the losers to insure victory.

Smith and Potter shared scoring honors for Charlevoix with 8 and 6 points, respectively. Chew scored 5 and Aune and Foster each 2. Johnson led the losers with 9 points.

Cary, Schwab and Pearl combined their efforts to give the reserves a win in the preliminary game, which ran close up to the final minutes.

Important Game Friday

The Kipmen meet their most severe test of the season Friday night on their home court. Coach Brotherton's conference leading Boys' City cagers, the only class C team to win over Charlevoix so far this season, come here for their return game.

Charlevoix has been waiting for this contest since the trimming they took at Boyne several weeks ago. Boyne, if results of late games may be taken as an indication, has slipped from their early-season form. In the past few weeks they have lost to Grayling, defeated East Jordan only after an overtime period and were given a hard battle by Harbor Springs, a team Charlevoix defeated by a lopsided score.

The Kipmen have been improving in form with every game and with the advantage of playing at home in their favor, should give Boyne plenty of action Friday night.

CHILD HEALTH COMMITTEE MEETING THURSDAY

Election of Officers to Be Held at Health Unit Offices

The next meeting of the Charlevoix County Child Health Committee will be held Thursday afternoon, February 2nd, at the District Health department offices on Petoskey avenue.

The meeting will open at 1:30 o'clock. Election of officers for 1933 will take place at this meeting, and plans for the year's activities outlined.

Members and everyone interested are urged to be present.

FUTURE OF SCHOOLS UP TO LEGISLATURE

FUNDS MUST BE FURNISHED TO INSURE OPERATION

Restrictions of 15 Mill Tax Limitation Barely Provides Fixed Expenses in Charlevoix

"Unless the Legislature now in session enacts measures that will offset the tax revenue loss that will incur through State adoption of the 15 mill tax limitation amendment, the Charlevoix public schools will be forced to operate on either a part-time basis for the 1933-34 school year or adopt a school calendar of not more than six months," Gerald F. Bush, superintendent of schools, declared this week.

Estimating a revenue loss for the local school system of more than $20,000 in tax receipts, on an assumption that 5 out of the 15 mills allowed by the amendment will be allocated by the State Legislature to school districts for tax levies, Supt. Bush said that collections would be entirely inadequate to meet operating requirements. Even if all taxes levied would be collected, the return on a five mill basis would be insufficient. On our present rate of 14 mills the district raises a tax of approximately $19,000. This amount, however, includes a debt service item of $11,500 for principal and interest obligations on school building bonds which will be assessed separately under the provision of the amendment, leaving $7,500 necessary operating revenue to be raised. A levy of 5 mills on our $3,524,000 school district valuation would raise only $17,620 of this amount, even if that tax collection were 100 per cent.

In addition to the reduction of $20,000 in school revenue from tax receipts, reduction in the State primary fund of approximately seven million dollars will diminish Charlevoix's apportionment by an estimated $4,700. The Turner bill will be operative under the tax limitation amendment and annual local revenue from that source in the amount of about $2,000 will be eliminated. Proposed legislation lowering amount of high school tuition which rural districts must pay will result in a further loss of revenue estimated at $500. Altogether a reduction in revenue of approximately $27,500 is anticipated unless the Legislature now in session devise some plan of State support of local educational units.

Present economy measures now in operation in the local system will not allow for further reductions sufficient to offset the loss in revenue. In any 1933-34 budget fixed charges that cannot be diminished as for fuel, light, bonds and interest, insurance and general maintenance would total approximately $29,000.00. With revenue and total expenditure for the current year in the neighborhood of $7,000 from 1931-32 estimated loss in revenue will permit a total budget for 1933-34 of perhaps $41,500. Deducting $29,000 for charges that cannot be reduced if the buildings are opened and any sort of school maintained, $12,500 would remain for possible capital outlay, tax delinquency, (an item that might easily exhaust the whole $12,500) and for teacher's payroll. Obviously, even the most drastic cuts in salaries and elimination of teachers will not permit operation of the schools for more than five or six months unless some form of State aid be provided.

"That the problem is not local but State-wide is evidenced," Supt. Bush declared, "by a bulletin on public school costs in relation to taxation compiled and published by the Michigan Education association. It is conservatively estimated that without State aid and operating with staffs reduced to a level of practical ineffectiveness the average school term in Michigan schools next year will be about five months."

Petitions to the governor and Legislature are now being circulated locally and throughout the State asking that the State devise some form of school support other than a tax on property. An estimated 900,000 names will be secured of men and women who believe in the preservation of our public school system and in a reduction of the tax on local property.

Blessed is he who maketh Christmas presents and expecteth nothing in return, for he shall not be disappointed.

"Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 29.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Isa. 56:1): "Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do justice; for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 462): "The anatomy of Christian Science teaches when and how to probe the self-inflicted wounds of selfishness, malice, envy, and hate. It teaches the control of mad ambition. It unfolds the hallowed influences of unselfishness, philanthropy, spiritual love. It urges the government of the body both in health and sickness."

"Three On A Match" Given Rare Treatment—Feature Star Players

The contrasting stories of the lives of three young girls when their paths converge to create a series of highly dramatic events, is the unique material used by writers Kubeck, Glasmon, John Bright and Lucien Hubbard for the plot of "Three On A Match," the First National picture which comes next Saturday and Sunday to the Palace theatre.

Due to the importance of these three feminine characters in the story, First National has placed in these roles their three most important and popular leading ladies, Ann Dvorak, Joan Blondell and Bette Davis. With the addition of Warren William to the leading male part, this four star arrangement makes the picture one of the outstanding events in the cinema year.

Then Spend Your Money With CONFIDENCE

For someone, every day, the biggest news is not on the front page. It's not even in the news columns.

There may be an earthquake in Italy or a revolution in Central America. There may be a hot election campaign or a million dollar fire or a metropolitan crime wave. But for Jim Jones, who has decided to buy a new Sedan, and for Mrs. Thompson, who needs some school dresses for little Mary Lou, the big news of the day is in the advertisements.

Even the doings of Congress and the big league baseball results pale into insignificance beside the news of something you really want.

The advertising columns bring you, each day, sound information about quality, style and price. They announce new products and new developments that save time, trouble or expense for millions of people. They point out healthful habits of eating, sleeping, exercising.

Constantly advertised goods are safe to buy. Behind them stand the manufacturer and the merchant, guaranteeing their uniform quality. Read the advertisements before you buy.

English Land Held by Lincoln Family

Antiquarian research has unearthed an interesting reminder of what is believed to be a link in the early history in England of Abraham Lincoln's family.

A record collated by J. E. Ansell of the Society of Genealogists shows that one Abraham Lincoln was a holder of land in Norfolk in the early part of the eighteenth century. This record is published in the Times tells how in 1726 Abraham Lincoln and Sara, his wife, were joint vendors with Isaac Lincoln and Edward Bush and Lydia, his wife, of Carlisleham and Aldley, Norfolk, to one Sir Edmund Bacon, Esq., of London.

1932 SEES CHANGES IN WORLD GOVERNMENTS

Spain and Iraq Most Important Nations Affected.

Washington.—Removal of mandate restrictions from Iraq and its elevation into an independent state, was one of the outstanding changes affecting the world's family of nations during the past year, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society's headquarters in Washington. Among the other important changes listed in the summary are the creation of Manchukuo, the setting up of Catalonia as an autonomous unit within the Spanish republic, and the granting of a constitution by the king of Spain.

"Iraq is the first of the group of mandated territories established following the World war to graduate into the group of independent nations," says the bulletin. "Great Britain gave up all of its special privileges as holder of the mandate, and the new state became a full-fledged member of the League of Nations."

"Following Japanese occupation of Manchuria, that territory, together with the Province of Jehol to the west, was made into the state of Manchukuo with Pu Yi, one-time heir to the Chinese empire, as ruler. Western powers have not officially recognized the new state."

Catalonia Given Autonomy.
"The granting of autonomy to Catalonia, made up of the four provinces of northeastern Spain, fulfilled the aspirations which the Catalonians have held for centuries. The newly empowered state has a unique status among the major divisions of the Spanish republic. It has its own president, parliament, cabinet, and courts, and will collect its own taxes. Foreign affairs, however, will remain under control of the central government at Madrid."

"After an almost bloodless revolution during the past summer, King Praxandipus of Spain promised a constitution. This new charter for the Spaniards was made public on November 19."

"In Arabia no major changes in boundaries or sovereignties took place during the year, but the principal state of the peninsula received a new name. The country embracing all of central Arabia and extending from the Red sea to the Persian gulf, formerly known as the Kingdom of the Hejaz and Nejd, was, early in December, given the title, 'Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.'"

"Aral, one of the most famous mountains in the world, changed hands during 1932. The mountain was traded to Turkey by Persia in exchange for a strip of territory along the Turkish-Persian border to the south."

"Next to the fighting in Manchuria, the longest continued military conflict during 1932 over boundaries or sovereignties has been that in the Gran Chaco of South America between Bolivia and Paraguay. Each contestant demands that its title to this large region south of the center of the continent shall be recognized. In late weeks spirited fighting has continued along the string of forts which extends through the center of the Chaco."

Merry-Go-Round in Chile.
"Since June 1, Chile has had five changes in presidents, and for a time was ruled by a socialistic regime. The changes have all been effected other than by elections, but little fighting has occurred."

"The latest armed contest over territory in South America began in August on the Putumayo River, one of Ionia, Mich.—Andrew Stutte, seventy-six years old, a patient at the Ionia State hospital 47 years and its oldest patient, is dead. Stutte was one of the patients sent to the hospital on its opening day, September 7, 1885. Stutte was allowed the freedom of the grounds as a trusty and worked often as a member of the carpenter crew.

the headwater streams of the Amazon system. The dispute was initiated when Peruvian citizens seized the town of Leticia from Colombia. The community is still in the hands of Peruvians.

"In the Near East a dispute between Syria and Iraq over their common boundary line between the Euphrates and Tigris rivers was advanced toward solution by a report of the Syria-Iraq frontier commission to the League of Nations, recommending a line which lay between those claimed by the two contestants."

"A frontier contest which involved the operation of customs between France and Switzerland was settled amicably by a decision of the Court of International Justice at The Hague (La Haye) during June. The decision was in favor of Switzerland and operated to permit a free customs zone near Geneva, but in French territory. France formally accepted the decision in September and ordered the withdrawal of her customs officials from the zone."

"Work toward solution of the boundary dispute between Guatemala and Honduras in Central America, was carried toward a decision by an arbitration commission headed by Chief Justice Hughes. The United States War department played an important part in this work by assigning army air corps flyers last summer to prepare an aerial map of the disputed line."

"The controversy between Norway and Denmark over portions of the east coast of Greenland is still under consideration by the Court of International Justice at The Hague."

He's 'Too Nice,' Rich Bride Sues

Unfailing Consideration Is Too Much to Bear.

Cleveland.—If the decision of Judge Alva Corbett in an annulment case involving a wealthy society girl is to be taken as a criterion, it's just as much an offense against a wife to smother her with kindness as it is to shower her with blows.

"The unusual ruling arises out of the marriage suit involving Marion Corbett, and William Graham Abell of Warren, Ohio, who married in haste and apparently repented soon afterward."

Marion, daughter of Brig. Gen. L. S. Corbett, of the United States National guard, and popular debutante, married young Abell last March. She quickly found out it was all a mistake.

Her young husband, she complained to her parents, simply was "too nice."

A short time ago he went to Des Moines, Iowa, as an accountant for a New York firm.

In the meantime he had been declared dead by a court at Rich Hill on the petition of his father, who sought to collect a $1,000 insurance policy. The father and mother were divorced many years ago.

English Doctor Stops Fights Among Africans

London.—An African chief eating kola nut with pepper and salt from the edge of a razor blade during an inter-tribal peace ceremony is among the things witnessed by Dr. Melville D. MacKenzie during a recent visit to Liberia as special commissioner of the League of Nations council.

MacKenzie, a Scottish doctor on the league secretariat, cooperated with the Liberian government in a successful effort to pacify Kru tribes who, having come into conflict with the government and with each other, had fled into the bush. Forty-four towns had been burned and at least 12,000 men, women and children were in a state of advanced starvation as the result of the disputes.

The success of MacKenzie's mission involved settling tribal quarrels about land, women, canoes, and palm trees. Finally he managed to stop all fighting and disarmed the natives. He taught them how to mark out boundaries and build houses, and himself carried out their first land survey.

GET PEARL FINISH FROM FISH SCALES

Chemists Have Found Uses for Former Waste.

Automobiles and fish scales sound no unrelated as rabiages and kings. Yet the first two are being joined with increasing frequency by the alchemy of industrial chemistry. From the scales of sardine herrings chemists are able to obtain the so-called pearl essence which is used in preparing the pearl finish on expensive automobiles. Pearl essence is used also in other products, such as imitation pearl knife handles and fountain pens and imitation pearls themselves.

Formerly boats transporting sardine herrings from waters to factories would dump overboard the huge quantities of scales that accumulated. The scales were just another of the misuses of their business. They came tempting offers to purchase this waste product, and today the fishermen retrieve the scales by ingenious methods and sell them at from 5 to 10 cents a pound. The demand for scales is steadily increasing as new uses for pearl essence is found.—New York Times.

Los Angeles Boy Needed Help

Leroy Young, 116 Georgia St., Los Angeles, is a "regular little fellow," active in sports, and at the top in his classes at school. To look at him now, you'd think he never had a day's sickness but his mother says: "When Leroy was just a little fellow, we found his stomach and bowels were weak. He kept suffering from constipation. Nothing he ate agreed with him. He was fretful, feverish and puny."

"When we started giving him California Fig Syrup his condition improved quickly. His constipation and biliousness stopped and he has had no more trouble of that kind. I have since used California Fig Syrup with him for colds and upset apples. He likes it because it tastes so good and I like it because it helps him so wonderfully."

California Fig Syrup has been the trusted standby of mothers for over 50 years. Leading physicians recommend it. It is purely vegetable and works with Nature to regulate, tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels of children so they get full nourishment from their food and waste is eliminated in a normal way.

Four million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it. Always look for the word "California" on the carton to be sure of getting the genuine.

FREE FROM POLITICS

The candidacy of Grover C. Dillman, who is seeking to succeed himself as state highway commissioner, seems to have met with encouraging support from all parts of the state. Boards of supervisors in a number of the counties have already endorsed his candidacy, and there is general indication that this eminent proponent wherever his candidacy becomes a topic of conversation.

Such widespread endorsement is not hard to understand. Mr. Dillman has kept the department free from politics; the millions of dollars which is annually expended on Michigan highways, has been disbursed without one breath of scandal or charge of favoritism. His conduct of that office has been a refreshing part of Michigan's political history. There should be no question about his reelection.

UNWISE LEGISLATION

During times of too many strange legislative proposals make their appearance. One bill of this type has already been introduced at the present session of the Michigan Legislature. It is known as the "Utility Merchandising Act" which, if enacted into law, would prohibit the sale of appliances by utility companies.

Sponsors of the measure claim that by removing utility competition, independent dealers in gas and electric appliances will get a larger volume of business. Kansas passed such a law in 1931, and the result have been exactly opposite what was expected.

Unable to obtain the service which the gas and electric companies formerly gave on appliances, they sold them, which the independent dealer was unable to furnish, sales to customers fell off at an alarming rate and the great bulk of what remained went to chain stores and mail order houses. In many instances, the independent dealer found that instead of an increase in sales he had actually suffered a loss. Many of them are now joining a movement looking to the repeal of the law.

With the Kansas utility merchandising law in effect scarcely more than eighteen months, over two hundred retail stores formerly operated by the utility companies have been closed, and more than three thousand sales and service men and women thrown out of employment. Previous to the enactment of the law the utility companies yearly spent thousands of dollars in newspaper advertising to popularize the use of new and old appliances. These newspaper campaigns not only increased their own sales, but the independent dealer also benefited. Now that this advertising appropriation has been withdrawn, both the newspaper publisher and the independent dealer are feeling the effects of such ill-advised legislation.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

What this nation needs is less governmental competition in private business. Whenever government attempts political control of what is purely the private affairs of its citizens, the results have always been unsatisfactory. Successful business undertakings on a large scale demand trained leadership. This kind of leadership the government cannot supply.

We are now looking to business to revitalize the country from its present situation. Governmental regulation of big business to prevent fraud and deception is necessary, but to go beyond that point there is always danger that business will be injured rather than helped. If business is to succeed in the great task that lies ahead, it should be allowed to work out its problems unimpeded. Government supervision and control of business by governmental ignoramus means ruin. That is one lesson we need to learn.

The nation has been promised a "new deal" at Washington. No better place could happen to the country than the wholehearted demand of a new deal from the government, who have put themselves under the body and under the guise of helping this great industry. They have been responsible for increasing the cost of government, by or even times what it was previous to the World War, and their number is constantly growing. It will take courage, but unless a political party has the courage to rescue the nation from the evils of big government, that party cannot continue in power. The people have found how easy it is to bring about a change. They will continue to make changes, until official Washington meets their demands.

GIVE FULL CO-OPERATION

We are glad to read that political leaders in the State Legislature are now attempting to smooth over factional differences that threatened to postpone important business in favor of prolonged bickering. The trouble began over the fact that Gov. Comstock refused to file a statement of his campaign expenses. Probably he should have, although it is quite common knowledge a multitude of sins may be and often are concealed in such reports. A group of Republican senators became filled over the attitude of the governor and threatened to start impeachment proceedings unless the report specified by law was filed promptly. This thrust was undoubtedly a mere gesture but nevertheless the senators were wrong. Even if Mr. Comstock has failed to comply with all the requirements of the election law, the Legislature has more important work on hand than going out of their way to stir up partisan dissension over some minor consideration. We notice that the senators received very little sympathy even from rock-ribbed Republican papers. Our own view of the matter is that the Republican minority in the Legislature should discard obstructionist tactics and give the new administration full co-operation in putting through economy program and other reforms needed badly in the state with as little delay as possible. In other words let them consider their state first and their party second.—Hastings Banner.

JUST AN INCIDENT

If you wish to know how little humanity amounts to in the whole scheme of big things, read one of the first chapters in an intensely interesting new book—Van Loon's Geography.

If you take all the people in the world, the hundreds of millions of them, and put them all together, pack them like sardines in a box, the great big box will be a half mile square. If this were tumbled down into the canyon of the Colorado, it would be completely lost to vision.

That is Mr. Van Loon's statement. Then follow some other things, as to how many billions of years it would take to travel on an express train to some of the far distant stars of which we know nothing.

So, I see, we are small. We live a few years and the old earth has been going around for millions. We think we are important. We are, in only one sense. We do carry on, even in the past with the future.

Of course, we are all important to ourselves. We have some temporary importance to other people. But humanity is small, an incident in the life of the universe.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

OUR OWN PEOPLE FIRST

The American workman is vitally retting no competition from immigrants from abroad.

The number of people entering the United States in the year ending June 30, 1932, was the smallest since the year 1821. Only about 35,000 came in and nearly 20,000 were deported.

Such facts present the interesting theory that development depends upon the coming of people from other lands. That was true when these people settled upon the land. When the immigrants became workers in industry, willing to live with standards which were below those of the American people generally, it became a serious problem.

It is just as well that every nation take care of its own people during these times of uncertainty. That is the best for everyone.

MONOXIDE POISONING

Health authorities have just issued a warning against the danger of monoxide poisoning in closed cars. This new danger, they point out, comes from driving cars long past their mechanical prime. The exhaust system on thousands of these cars have developed leaks. So, also, have the floorboards of the cars. This permits escape of fumes into the passenger compartment.

Monoxide gas is invisible, odorless, and tasteless. Its presence is not detected until its victim is seized by a helpless drowsiness, which quickly passes into unconsciousness. Owners of faulty cars are urged to have the exhaust system of the vehicle thoroughly inspected, and repaired if necessary. It may be the means of preventing serious accidents, and perhaps loss of human life.

DANGEROUS LEGISLATION

If the Legislature declares a moratorium on property taxes and it will be permissible to hold back on taxes for a half dozen years or more, Mr. Stock may just as well be allowed to pursue his play to stop the advertising of the annual tax sales, because who will want to buy a tax title? Who will be a fool enough to pay his taxes, and what kind of a chaotic mess will occur? When one of Michigan's keenest newspaper writers stated that it was possible no taxes would be paid in 1933, he perhaps envisioned what would come out of the hair brained gestures being put forth to relieve the tax situation. Just imagine if you will, if you have the best particle of knowledge of property transfers and the necessity of unclouded title, what will happen to property titles (tied up by a lot of self-starter politicians. It is the most dangerous threat that confronts the property owner today. What will Michigan and what will the counties receive in tax payment if a moratorium plan is put across?—Cheboygan Observer.

NEED FOR JUDGMENT

What amounts to a kind of a revolution is one in the farming states where there are mortgages maturing. The farmers are organizing and attend the sales in numbers to intimidate the officers of the law and prevent sales. This is a very bad condition and there should be more attention paid to it than it is being done at the present time. In fact some common sense should be used by holders of mortgages and swaps of some kind made that will keep owners' title perfect and at the same time give the farmer whose crops are abundant but worth nothing a chance to recoup later on. This economic situation is bad enough without callards making it worse.—Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

When the immigrants became workers in industry, willing to live with standards which were below those of the American people generally, it became a serious problem.

Health authorities have just issued a warning against the danger of monoxide poisoning in closed cars. This new danger, they point out, comes from driving cars long past their mechanical prime. The exhaust system on thousands of these cars have developed leaks. So, also, have the floorboards of the cars. This permits escape of fumes into the passenger compartment.

Monoxide gas is invisible, odorless, and tasteless. Its presence is not detected until its victim is seized by a helpless drowsiness, which quickly passes into unconsciousness. Owners of faulty cars are urged to have the exhaust system of the vehicle thoroughly inspected, and repaired if necessary. Sows Eat Pigs

Depraved appetite due to some abnormal condition which almost always is caused by improper feeding usually is the reason for sows eating their pigs, and the way to stop it is to balance the ration. Lack of protein or mineral matter is indicated, and the addition of skim milk, buttermilk or tankage or the placing of a mineral mixture before sows during pregnancy is suggested. Keep the pigs away from their mother except at nursing time for a few days.

BOYNE CITY MAN CONFESES SETTING FIRES

Perry Campbell, 25, Admits Guilt on Six Recent Blazes

In a confession to Deputy State Fire Marshall M. A. McKenna, Tuesday afternoon, Perry Campbell, 25, admitted setting several recent fires in the immediate vicinity of Boyne City, his home.

Campbell has been held in jail here since January 23rd, when he was arrested and brought to Charlevoix by Sheriff Floyd Ikens following a voluntary confession he set fire to the Boyne City Co-operative association warehouse, where he was employed, on January 20th.

In the previous confession, it is said Campbell admitted theft of $250 over two years ago from the company's safe.

McKenna, who contributed his success in obtaining a full confession to the efforts of Prosecuting Attorney Arthur L. Fitch and Sheriff Floyd Ikens, stated he believed Campbell to be a pyromaniac, a condition brought about as the result of injuries received in a serious automobile accident four years ago. He stated Campbell would probably be taken to Ann Arbor for observation.

At a hearing Monday afternoon before Justice Robert Withers, Campbell waived examination on a charge of arson and was bound over to the March term of circuit court. Bond was set at $1,000.

Our Government—How It Operates

By William Bruckart

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

THERE is one characteristic of the American people that constitutes something of a puzzle to me. Whenever they have dealings with their government that result in disagreement, they simply rebel against a compromise. They want to go to court and fight it.

That reference, of course, is to civil matters. Criminal charges of which the government necessarily is the prosecutor occupy a different status. In theory, there may be no compromise in this respect.

Since the government must protect its own rights as well as prosecute individuals who violate the rights of others, it is readily seen that it requires a great law office to look after the business of the distinguished client, Uncle Sam. He really has an immense amount of litigation and in view of that fact he has his lawyers scattered in every important city in every state in the Union. They are so distributed as to make them available to the greatest number of people and thus avoid as much expense to the individuals and to the government as may be, since it would be impossible to place them in every community.

The government's law office, the Department of Justice with a cabinet member, the attorney general of the United States, at its head, naturally has to have its headquarters in Washington. The attorney general is just like the general attorney for a railroad or a bank or any other organization. He is the legal advisor to the President of the United States, among his other duties, and represents the United States in every matter in which the United States has an interest. He, or one of his representatives, represents the United States whenever penal statutes are invoked against anyone who transgresses the law of the land.

There is no better way to show the varied interests with which this immense law office is concerned than to set out its administrative organization for handling the vast amount of work.

The attorney general, of course, is the boss. His right-hand man is the solicitor general of the United States, who appears in behalf of the attorney general at all times in the Supreme Court of the United States. There is no assistant to the attorney general, an office created especially to deal with one type of prosecution, namely, the anti-trust law violator.

Seven assistant attorney generals serve in their respective fields with more or less limited subjects that they may become specialists in their work. One of them deals exclusively with questions involving tax laws and enforcement of prohibition; a second devotes his time to defending the government's interests in the United States court of claims where Uncle Sam is always a defendant and never a complainant in suits for money; a third has an assignment of work in connection with admiralty litigation and foreign relations as well as much of the financial controversies in which the government is concerned; a fourth does nothing but consider the government's rights in land matters, and with the memory of oil scandals still in mind the job embraces great detail; a fifth assistant attorney general is the official criminal prosecutor of the great law office; a sixth is a highly trained lawyer in matters of customs, the laying of duties at the customs houses, appraisements of merchandise and such like, and the other official of this class seems to be the general superintendent, for it is he who watches over the scores of United States attorneys who represent Uncle Sam in their respective jurisdictions throughout the country.

It must be remembered, however, that before the automobile thief or the bootlegger is convicted, there must be evidence to satisfy a court and a jury that the defendant is guilty. So this law office has a group of highly trained investigators who do nothing but run down criminals and gather evidence.

The Department of Justice now has charge of enforcement of the prohibition laws, too.

But the policy of the government is to look after its citizens who have been found guilty of law violation, and the attorney general is charged with that duty as well. He manages, through his subordinates, of course, every penit and correctional institution operated by the federal government, and in connection with them carries out the national policy of trying to make better citizens out of violators before they are released again into society. There is a parole system and an arrangement for pardons, the latter a matter left to the President, and constant attention is given to means of improving those prisoners who will accept instruction as a means of equipping them to earn a livelihood without resorting to crime.

The courts, of course, provide the machinery through which much of the Department of Justice work is accomplished, but the judiciary constitutes the third branch of the government and ought to be treated aside from the executive establishment of which the government's law office is a part.

First Germans to Settle in America

The first permanent German settlement in America was that founded by William Penn at Germantown, founded in 1683. Francis Daniel Pastorius, a leader of the movement of German Protestants in America, took ship in advance of those he had induced to migrate, and landed at Philadelphia August 29, 1683. On October 6, 1683, the ship Concord, the Mayflower of the German immigrants to America, arrived in Philadelphia, and this date has customarily been observed by Germans in America as the beginning of their history in the United States.

POLAR BEARS TAKE CENTRAL LAKE TILT

Defeated Antrim Team 19 to 13 in Close Game Wednesday

Marking up their second win in three games with the Central Lake Cannons, the Polar Bears took the Antrim county aggregation into camp at the high school gymnasium last Wednesday night by a 19 to 13 count.

While the visitors put up a scrappy resistance all the way, their method of attack in attempting to draw out the Charlevoix forwards slowed up the contest considerably.

The first quarter was fought on even terms, with the score standing 4-all at the intermission. During the next two periods the Polar Bears annexed a total of 15 points to the visitors' 3 to lead 19 and 7, but in the fourth they were held scoreless while the visitors rang up three goals in a belated rally.

Dean Davenport, who made his last local appearance with the Polar Bears before joining a professional team at Elgin, Ill., scored 8 of his team's points. Supernaw was next with 6, Ikens 4 and Brown 1.

The Polar Cubs snatched the Central Lake seconds under a 15 to 3 count in the preliminary contest.

COMMUNICATION

As announced at our last game, January 25th, we presented to the school board the petition signed by 309 citizens and taxpayers of Charlevoix.

The school board has rejected the request therein and made demands impossible to meet.

The members of the team have for the past three years received no compensation for themselves, but all net earnings, namely $410.52, have been given to the school activities, such as donation for the high school band, gym rentals, to pay expense of high school basketball team to Pellston, and in addition to the above amount, the total proceeds of one game to defray expense of the high school team to the state tournament.

With two exceptions every man on our team is a graduate of Charlevoix high school and all are citizens of Charlevoix. We feel the gymnasium is a community gym and it was only with this purpose in view that Charlevoix was able to get its new building.

The school board has denied us the privilege of even practicing in the gym and have asked us to turn over the keys.

Therefore, the Polar Bears take this occasion to thank their many friends for their support and to advise that the season's games at home came to a close with last week's game.

Copy of the rejected petition follows:

"We, the undersigned, believe and are convinced that under the present existing conditions, recreation and diversion are necessary to our civic welfare, and

"Whereas, the Polar Bear basketball team has given the community a high grade, clean sport and have contributed liberally in the purchase of suits for the high school band, and the school board, in total amount of $410.52, during the last four years, and

"Whereas, the school board has and now demands payment to them as rental for the gym all of the 10 cent admissions to all games, which, if done, will make necessary the discontinuance of the games as the use of the gym is denied the Polar Bears after Wednesday night this week if payment is not made.

"Resolved, that we, citizens of Charlevoix and supporters of athletic sports, do hereby recommend to and urge the school board to waive all demands and charges for the use of the gym until such time as the receipts will pay the expense and then to accept such amount as may be over and above such expense."

In 1871 he moved with his parents to Michigan and settled on a farm near Antrim City. He spent the latter part of his life on the Hilton farm, where he passed away.

He was the oldest of a family of eleven children, three of whom survive, viz: Mrs. Frances Crawford, Mrs. Harry Hyde and Albert Sinclair, all of Ellsworth.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Hilton residence, with Rev. G. E. Parker officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

WALLOON LAKE ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD

Otto VanDyke, Cheboygan, In Jail Here for Questioning

Otto VanDyke, 35, Cheboygan, is being held in jail here as a suspect in the Walloon Lake postoffice robbery January 26th.

VanDyke was arrested last Monday by Cheboygan officers on advices furnished by Prosecuting Attorney Arthur L. Fitch, Sheriff Floyd Ikens and Deputy Henry Steinel of Boyne City, after an extensive investigation following the robbery.

Although VanDyke denies any guilt, and claims he was at home and sick the night of the robbery, local officers declare he has been identified by several Clifton residents as the man seen loitering there that night, also by a man and woman who gave him a ride to Petoskey, by a clerk at the Cushman House, where he stopped to phone a taxi, and by the taxi driver who drove him within a mile of Cheboygan the night of the robbery.

A box containing bonds and a quantity of pennies, part of the loot estimated in value between $250 and $275, was found on a railroad siding near Clifton, two miles from Walloon Lake.

VanDyke is said to have a previous record. He served part of a 7½ to 15 year term at Jackson for carrying burglar tools, and just prior to his arrest completed a 30-day jail sentence at Cheboygan.

No date has been set for his hearing.

The series will continue next Monday evening at the Odd Fellow hall.

It will also be the topic for special discussion by the sub-district meeting of ministers and their wives to be held here February 15th.

The Club meets this week Thursday with Mrs. Partridge, Park avenue, and probably next week with Mrs. Egloff, South Bridge Street. Charlevoix and New York City

Although we are very proud of the beauty of our own city and keenly appreciate its natural advantages, we have hardly thought it had anything in common with our great national metropolis in the east. However, it is quite interesting to learn that this campaign, on the part of some of our churches, for collecting old gold and silver, has struck New York. Probably one of the most conservative and dignified bodies in America is the old Trinity church (Episcopal) at the foot of Wall street, and the news has gone out that they are receiving donations of old gold, etc., for church and welfare work. Many such articles lie around our homes for years, when they might do some good. The churches that are trying it here should have the co-operation of all their respective members as far as possible.

Polar Bear Sunday

"The Lord is a gun and a shield; no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly."—Psalms 84:11.

Next Sunday will be crowded with interesting features. The Polar Bears will be present in a body. We will deliver the first sermon in the last division of our series on "The Teachings of Jesus." The fortnightly social program of the senior C. E. will take place and everyone who comes to Sunday school next Sunday morning will be in a moving picture.

We appreciate very much that the Polar Bears have accepted our invitation and we will call the day Polar Bear Sunday. Our subject will be "The Fundamental Conception." The title of this third division in our series is "The Teachings of Christ Concerning the Kingdom of God," and our purpose next Sunday is to bring out the conception that Jesus had with reference to the Kingdom. It will be interesting.

Earl Young rather took us by surprise last Sunday by announcing that he would be prepared to take a motion picture of the scholars who came to Sunday school next Sunday. This film will be shown Thursday evening, February 9th, when the Sunday school gathers in the church dining room to partake of a dinner in honor of the Sunday school class that recently won a contest. If you wish to see yourself in the movies be on hand next Sunday.

An effort will be made to organize a Bible class among our young married people. The rules will be elastic enough to take in the older young people who have not yet experienced the matrimonial state. All interested remain for this service after the morning service.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Practice for the musical show, which is scheduled for some date in the near future, discloses the fact that it's going to be one of the best features the Legion has ever sponsored.

"Buy American" stickers, with the name of the local post on them, have been purchased to the amount of $5.00. Thus will the Legion push this vital campaign in Charlevoix to put American labor back to work.

According to the State by-laws, you are delinquent if your 1933 dues are not paid by the 20th of this month. On March 20th, your privileges as a Legion member—voting in meetings, etc.—are automatically canceled, if you have not then paid up. Also, your state and national Legion publications will stop coming to you. That's the worst of it. On the positive side of the argument—well, there is a national contest under way for membership. Only one citation is granted to a district. Let's see if we can't get that national citation for Charlevoix. Due must be in by February 28th under the ruling of the contest.

All members who feel the need of some healthy out-of-door exercise are urged to turn out next Monday morning, February 6th, arrayed like Paul Bunyon and armed with an axe. There is about three hours work on the wood in the Legion yard that was cut last month. Try and show up by 9 o'clock a. m.

TAX PROGRAM IS IN LEGISLATURE

RETAIL SALES TAX WILL REPLACE PROPERTY TAX

Division of 15 Mill Tax, Installment Payment of Delinquent Taxes, Other Provisions

The administration's tax relief program was unfolded to the legislature Thursday.

In a series of bills which propose enactment of a retail sales tax, installment payment of delinquent taxes and abolition of the State tax on real estate the governor launched a program which he hopes to cut between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 from next year's tax bill.

In addition he submits a proposal for the division between local units of government of the $15 which will be the maximum amount to be levied for each $1,000 assessed valuation.

The sales tax bill makes a flat levy of three per cent against all retail sales, but exempt personal incomes.

These measures, which received the approval of the taxation committees of the two Houses last Wednesday night at a conference with the governor, were to be introduced in the House Thursday morning by Rep. Tracy Southworth of Monroe, administration floor leader.

The sales tax measure is expected to yield $35,000,000 annually under present schedules, but these may be changed later to conform with the needs which are apparent after the budget is fixed.

In a message accompanying the bills, the governor urged their passage as the sole means of saving the state from a tax crisis which he said has reached serious proportions.

The governor also revealed that he will eliminate the cost of supporting the University of Michigan, Michigan State college and the normal schools from the real estate tax. He said that legislation will follow which will give these institutions fixed shares of the sales tax receipts.

The sales tax bill first calls for $1 privilege fee for the right to do business in the state and the entire tax scheme places a levy upon professional services.

Newspapers and radio stations are specifically exempted together with the sales of gasoline, malt and petroleum products which are taxed under other acts.

Publishers, however, are required to pay the three-fourths of one per cent manufacturing tax.

The tax schedules as proposed in the measure are:

Retail sales—three per cent.

Manufacturers—Three-fourths of one per cent.

Mining, etc.—Two-fourths of one per cent.

Public utilities—three per cent.

Amusements—three per cent.

Professional services—three per cent.

All taxes would be based upon gross receipts.

With the exception of the tax collected from public utilities the entire proceeds would be appropriated to the state's general fund for re-appropriation into such channels as the legislature decides.

Taxes paid by public utilities would be credited to the primary school fund which will be materially reduced by the lowering of the average tax rate of real estate which is the rate paid by the utilities.

The measure is also, in effect, a chain store tax because it grants an

PLANE BRINGS MAN HURT TO HOSPITAL

John Carmody, Beaver Islander, Was Brought Here Sunday

John Carmody, well known Beaver Island resident was brought by plane Sunday from St. James for treatment at the local hospital for a fractured arm.

According to reports, Carmody fell from a ladder when climbing into the hay mow in the barn at his farm. His arm was fractured in two places by the fall.

Clarence Schneider, Detroit, made the crossing Sunday with a Ryan cabin plane. He is substituting on the route until repairs can be made to a ship owned by his brother, Earl, which was damaged last week taking off from the island landing field. Due to persistent low ceiling, the trip Sunday was the first since arrival here early last week.

REAL WINTER RETURNS TO NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Storm of Tuesday Brought Coldest Spell of Present Winter

All the while this community missed in December and January descended out of the northeast Monday afternoon and raged until Wednesday morning with blizzard-like proportions.

The cold wave prophesied for mid-week started Monday when the thermometer began falling. From a moderate figure the mercury hit below zero Tuesday, and hung there until Wednesday morning.

Snow fell almost continuously from Friday until Wednesday morning, when bridge street took on an appearance of old times with drifts piled high and fronts of business places plastered with snow. The street department has men at work shoveling away the snow accumulation.

The big plow of the State highway department went to work Monday and have been plowing steadily ever since. The trunk lines are all open and have been kept so, but to the place have worked day and night.

BOYNE TOSSERS AGAIN WINNERS

SPURT IN FINAL PERIOD GAVE THEM 33 TO 12 WIN FRIDAY

Second Team Scored 26 to 10 Victory Over Boyne Reserves—East Jordan Here Friday

Boyer City clinched their leadership in the Tip of Michigan class C basketball conference last Friday night by defeating Charlevoix 33 to 12 on the local court.

Scoring their second victory over the Kipmen, Boyne apparently has removed the last serious obstacle in their path to a conference title. Only the most decided of upsets can stop them now.

Despite the apparent one-sided score, Boyne did not win an easy victory Friday night. Held on even terms for over three periods, they amassed the surprising total of 21 points in the last six minutes of play to produce their overwhelming margin.

Plying cautiously, both teams stressed defense for three periods. Scoring on a drive by Foster and Chew's goal and free toss, Charlevoix led 5 and 4 at the quarter.

White's goal was the only score of the second period, giving Boyne a 6 and 5 advantage at the half. In the third, Barden, White and Fitzpatrick each found the meshes once for Boyne, while Smith and Potter produced scores for the Kipmen. At the third intermission Boyne led 12 to 9.

Then came the fourth period. Barden slipped through for a couple of close shots and Charlevoix defense cracked. From then on Barden, White and Fitzpatrick rained in shots from all angles and when the final whistle sounded they had collected the astounding total of 21 points. Awe's goal and Potter's free toss were the reward of Charlevoix's efforts.

Tabraham of Cadillac, refereed the game very satisfactorily.

Charlevoix's reserves saved the evening from a complete rout by winning from Boyne seconds in the preliminary. Leading 11 to 2 at the half they increased their margin steadily to score a 26 to 10 victory.

Carve was outstanding for Charlevoix.

The Kipmen play at home again this week, taking on Cooch Abe Cohen's East Jordanites in another conference tilt. Judging from comparative records of the two quintets, Charlevoix should win this contest handily.

FOUR WITHDRAWN FROM MARCH 6TH ELECTION

No Democratic Opposition for Offices of Treasurer and Clerk

Withdrawal of four petitions has again narrowed the field of candidates seeking nomination for city and ward offices at the primary election March 6th.

On the Democratic ticket, petitions for Monica Smith and Oakley Hammond, filed for the offices of treasurer and clerk, respectively, have been withdrawn. In Republican ranks, Harley I. Ochs, second ward aspirant for alderman, and Joe Howard, candidate for constable in the first ward, have been withdrawn.

WOMEN ASKED TO BOOST CHERRIES

PRIZES OFFERED FOR THE BEST WAYS OF USING FRUIT

Big Hotels and Railroads Join in Movement to Help in 1933 National Cherry Week

Michigan's Cherry Land, which includes all of northwestern Michigan, again is taking a leading part in the promotion of plans for the second annual National Cherry Week, to be observed during the Washington anniversary period, February 15 to 22, inclusive.

Last year's program did much to move a large stock of canned cherries in warehouses, preventing an unfavorable situation from becoming worse. This year, the effort is being renewed with the hope that it will give in a large measure to enable the cherry industry to return to a sound economic footing.

Large cherry orchards dot the farm regions all along the Lake Michigan shore, especially around the Grand Traverse and Little Traverse Bays and Lake Charlevoix regions. The headquarters of the Cherry Week effort is at Traverse City, considered the cherry capital of the world.

Cherry-pitied women, who realize that the welfare of extensive regions depend on the prosperity of the grower and all who handle his produce, have practically taken charge of the 1933 program. Under the direction of Mrs. Julius Beers, Traverse, a women's committee is sponsoring a national cherry recipe contest, stressing the economies that can be effected by using the larger-sized cans of cherries now available to the retail trade.

The woman who presents the most economical and most toothsome array of recipes produced from the seventh, or No. 10 can, will be awarded $100 in cash and will be the National Cherry Week Committee's guest at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, where the winning collection of recipes will be exhibited.

Women's club, home economics classes and others interested in culinary arts, are taking part in the contest.

Recipes, together with a brief statement of why the author considers them the best method of utilizing the big-sized can must be in the hands of the contest committee at Traverse City not later than February 11.

The committee has established headquarters in the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce. The label from the can used by the contestant must accompany the recipe.

Serving with Mrs. Beers are: Mrs. Hugh Scott, of Northport; Mrs. C. F. Stickney and Mrs. W. P. Wilson, residents of the Peninsula cherry-growing district of Grand Traverse county; Mrs. James T. Milliken and Mrs. Glenn W. Powers, of Traverse City.

National organizations of hotelmen, restaurant owners, bakers and grocers are again co-operating in the cherry week program. Railroads throughout the country, too, have promised to emphasize cherries on their menus during cherry week, February 15-22.

REDUCE CONSERVATION COST AGAIN

REDUCTION PLANNED TO SAVE AROUND $100,000

Many District Supervisors Are Reduced to Ranks—Mark McClure Heads This District

Faced with a fifty per cent drop in revenue the state department of conservation has placed into effect drastic personnel and service curtailment which is expected to cut operating costs between $50,000 and $100,000 during the spring and summer months.

The retirement program is one of several forced upon the department because of losses in revenue resulting from economic conditions and higher license fees imposed by the 1931 Legislature. The department's budget, according to Director George R. Hogarth, is 40 per cent lower than that of previous years.

Of the total savings, $10,000 will be obtained by restricting the activities of the fish division through reduction of hatchery personnel and elimination of three or four trout feeding stations. Another $10,000 will be lopped from the payroll of the field force through dismissal of 25 officers.

Proportionate reductions are made through all departments which will result in small personnel at state parks; reduction of forest fire equipment and restriction of the work of game farms. For the present Hogarth does not contemplate closing of any of the parks.

In the enforcement division the state will be divided into five instead of ten districts and four districts of ten districts will be in the lower peninsula and two in the upper. The northern lower peninsula district will be in charge of Mark McClure.

Boon-Common and Tom Muellette, Gaylord, will be demoted to county officers. The central division will be headed by Russell Martin and the southern division will be in charge of James Tawse of Jackson, former division chief. Allen Wilkinson of South Lyons and Frank Denner of Kalamazoo being demoted.

WILL HOLD STATE CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION

Two Charlevoix Organizations Will Be Represented at Lansing

A Michigan citizens' conference on the crisis of education, to be held at the Prichard auditorium in Lansing on Wednesday, February 15, is being called jointly by thirteen state-wide organizations. The conference will be similar in purpose to one held January 5 and 6 at Washington, D. C.

The responsibilities of education, as they relate to the progress and welfare of the citizens of Michigan in the present social, civil turmoil, will be presented by representative speakers in morning and afternoon programs. Invitations to the conference are being issued in a joint appeal signed by the chief State officers of the various organizations.

Representatives of at least two Charlevoix civic organizations will attend delegates to the conference.

GOLDEN WEDDING OBSERVED FRIDAY

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT E. EDWARDS HONORED

Twenty-six Were Present in Family Group at Party Held at Their May Street Residence

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Edwards of Charlevoix, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Friday evening of last week at their home on May street, with their six children and eleven grandchildren around them. With the "in-laws" there were twenty-six people present in the family group. Several fine wedding presents were displayed and ice cream, cake and coffee were served, the honored couple co-operating in the cutting of the big wedding cake which was the main feature of the feast.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, who were born in Kent, England, within a few years of each other about the middle of the nineteenth century, were married in 1883 at Upper Raynham, near London, and came to America with their two oldest children, Herbert and Percy, in 1888, first settling in the southern part of Michigan. They came to Charlevoix in 1892, following the birth of their two daughters, Ivy and Nellie, the former now Mrs. Cameron McNally, and the latter, now Mrs. Fred Tyler. They located on a farm near Mt. McSaubia, owned by the late E. W. Kane, here.

Mr. Edwards started in the milk business which he followed for eleven years, during which time he acquired the property which he later sold to E. C. Walker of Chicago, and that became a part of the Orchard Bay farm for which Mr. Edwards subsequently served as manager for a number of years. On the Kane place, the three younger boys were born, Edward, now warden of the Belvedere institution, and Arthur and Albert, now associated with their father and older brother, Percy, in the conduct of the present green-house and vegetable business. There also occurred the death of the oldest son, Herbert, the severe prostration of the entire family with typhoid fever and a disastrous fire that left them without a home.

In 1912 Mr. Edwards purchased the thirty acres from R. S. Shapton that forms the site of his present flourishing business. Starting with the cultivation of table vegetables and small fruits, the concern, which took the form of a partnership, soon realized the opportunity in greenhouse work both for the raising of flowers and as an adjunct to their vegetable business in the rearing of plants during the winter for spring setting. This part of the business rapidly came to the front as a profit producer, requiring the erection of three greenhouses, and it is likely that a fourth will be necessary in the course of time. In this work, Mr. Edwards' early training as a gardener on large estate in England stood him in good stead and the success of the present business is largely due to his practical experience and intelligent use of it. It has also meant a tremendous amount of the hardest kind of labor on the part of both Mr. Edwards and his sons. As an example of faithful co-operation in the face of great hardship on the part of an entire family, reaching back into the little farm near Mt. McSaubia, the business stands unique in this part of the country.

Members of the family present at the reunion on Friday evening were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Percy Edwards, son, Billy, and daughters Bernice and Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Edwards and sons, Richard and Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Edwards and daughters, Ruth and Elaine; Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Edwards and daughter, Marjory; Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Tyler and daughter, Marian, all of Charlevoix, and Mr. and Mrs. Cameron McNally of Boyne City, Mrs. McNally's sons, Edward and Hudson Robinson, and Mr. McNally's son, R. C. McNally.

The retirement program is one of several forced upon the department because of losses in revenue resulting from economic conditions and higher license fees imposed by the 1931 Legislature. The department's budget, according to Director George R. Hogarth, is 40 per cent lower than that of previous years.

Of the total savings, $10,000 will be obtained by restricting the activities of the fish division through reduction of hatchery personnel and elimination of three or four trout feeding stations. Another $10,000 will be lopped from the payroll of the field force through dismissal of 25 officers.

Proportionate reductions are made through all departments which will result in small personnel at state parks; reduction of forest fire equipment and restriction of the work of game farms. For the present Hogarth does not contemplate closing of any of the parks.

In the enforcement division the state will be divided into five instead of ten districts and four districts of ten districts will be in the lower peninsula and two in the upper. The northern lower peninsula district will be in charge of Mark McClure.

Boon-Common and Tom Muellette, Gaylord, will be demoted to county officers. The central division will be headed by Russell Martin and the southern division will be in charge of James Tawse of Jackson, former division chief. Allen Wilkinson of South Lyons and Frank Denner of Kalamazoo being demoted.

A Lesson in Americana

HILLMAN MAN MAKES PET OF WOUNDED DOE

William Hunt of Hillman has a deer that he found out in the woods with its two front legs shot off at the knees. The stubs have healed over and the deer seems to get around about like a kangaroo. When found the deer had numerous other bad gun shot wounds. The deer has become a family pet.

POTATO GROWERS
WIN AT LANSING4-H CLUB WINS HIGHEST STATE
AWARDCharlevoix County Exhibit Given
Second Prize While Individual Prizes Went to Several

(By B. C. Mellenkamp.)

The annual state potato show has come and gone and as usual Charlevoix county received high recognition in competition with the potato producing counties of the state.

Clinton Blanchard of Charlevoix, won second place with a peck of Russet Rural potatoes, being defeated by a sample from Emmet county exhibited by Dale Nichols. After having won the sweepstakes at the Gaylord potato show, this is further evidence that Clinton "knows his potatoes."

In the same class, Harry Behling, Boyne City, won 8th place. In the White Rural class, Harry Behling won 4th place in a highly interesting competition.

In any other variety of merit, Lawrence Straw of Charlevoix, came through with flying colors, winning the blue ribbon on his peck of Russet Barbanks.

In the certified seed bushel competition, Clinton Blanchard won 3rd and Harry Behling 4th for two more high awards.

In the county exhibit competition, each exhibit represented 8-peck samples. Charlevoix county won second place in a large field, being topped by Emmet county.

Our greatest winnings took place in the boys' and girls' potato club division, where our club exhibits won first. This consisted of five samples, all of which made a most wonderful showing. In this competition, Howard McDonald of Ellsworth, won second place, and Gwendolyn Holt of East Jordan, third. Ralph Shepard won fifth, Ernest Rude sixth, and Carlton Smith an award of merit.

With the winners from the State potato show, the year 1932 has been one in which our county has received the most recognition and one in which the amount of premium money exceeds $400.00. The year 1933 is here and let us hope that Charlevoix county can again occupy a leading position in the State of Michigan.

TAX PROGRAM IS IN LEGISLATURE

exemption of $4,500 on gross sales, but grants that exemption on only one place of business for each company. Chains would hence, be denied the exemption except upon a single store.

The next most important segment of the program is the measure appropriating the 15 mills tax limit among the local units of government and this bill, by inference, abolishes the state tax on real estate.

The bill proposes creation of county budget commissions which review local budgets and approve them in addition to appropriating their share of the real estate levy.

The measure, however, provides that the counties shall be definitely allocated two mills and that cities, villages and school districts shall have not more than five mills. The remaining eight per cent is to be divided by the budget commission between the subdivisions according to their needs.

The county budget commissions in the small counties would be composed of the clerk, one member selected by the supervisors, a school commissioner or superintendent, and one member representing each city or village of more than 3,000 population.

In counties having a city whose population is between 30,000 and 100,000 such cities would have two members.

In counties having a city of more than 100,000 population the commission would be composed of the clerk, the chairman of the county board of auditors, and the mayor, city attorney, and the chief finance officer of each city above 100,000 population.

The measure proposing installment paying of taxes would permit retirement of present tax delinquencies in ten annual payments beginning May 1, 1934, if 1933 taxes are paid by March 1, 1934.

A constitutional amendment is proposed which would exempt personal property from "uniform taxation." This would permit a reduction in rates and encourage use of this means of taxation.

William Pearson Favors Consolidating Rural Schools

Strong arguments for consolidated schools backed up by years of experience were advanced this week by William J. Pearson, of Boyne Falls, former state senator, who occupied a prominent place in the activities of Farmers' Week in East Lansing.

Senator Pearson's address was broadcast by station WKAR and many favorable comments were received both from those at the meeting and his radio audience.

Citing the reduced school tax and improved service in his home vicinity, Pearson contended that the plan supplied both, and earnestly urged those having difficulties in rural districts to contemplate adoption of the consolidated plan.

For someone, every day, the biggest news is not on the front page. It's not even in the news columns.

There may be an earthquake in Italy or a revolution in Central America. There may be a hot election campaign or a million dollar fire or a metropolitan crime wave. But for Jim Jones, who has decided to buy a new Sedan, and for Mrs. Thompson, who needs some school dresses for little Mary Lou, the big news of the day is in the advertisements.

Even the doings of Congress and the big league baseball results pale into insignificance beside the news of something you really want.

The advertising columns bring you, each day, sound information about quality, style and price. They announce new products and new developments that save time, trouble or expense for millions of people. They point out healthful habits of eating, sleeping, exercising.

Constantly advertised goods are safe to buy. Behind them stand the manufacturer and the merchant, guaranteeing their uniform quality. Read the advertisements before you buy.

When children won't eat—and won't gain weight—

The youngster who has no appetite, probably has stasis. A little syrup of figs will soon correct this condition—then watch the child eat—and gain!

Mothers should never coax a child to eat. Nature knows best. Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Read what the "California treatment" is doing for sluggish, listless children in every part of the country!

A FORTNIGHT A WEEK. Your child will eat well from the day and hour you conquer stasis. But that girl or boy with tummy trouble and a bad breath should not be dosed with stasis!

Begin tonight, with enough pure syrup of figs to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week, until the appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone. When a cold or other ailment has again clogged the system, syrup of figs will soon set things to right.

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, California syrup of figs will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food.

The claims made for California Syrup of Figs are true and it will do the same for you—if you get genuine CALIFORNIA Syrup of Figs. Don't accept any substitute.

Our Government—How It Operates

By William Bruckart

FEDERAL JUDICIARY

IT is a common mistake for persons to mistake the title of the head of the federal judiciary. He is chief justice of the United States, not the chief justice of the Supreme court of the United States, for his duties and powers are vastly broader than just those of presiding over the nation's highest judicial tribunal.

The constitution provided for our system of courts, but it established only the Supreme Court of the United States. It gave power to congress, however, to create the entire system of United States courts as it might see fit, and to that end the legislative branch of the government established the courts of original jurisdiction, calling them District courts, and Appellate courts, which are known as Circuit Courts of Appeals, of which there are ten with a varying number of justices, depending upon the amount of litigation in the circuit.

District courts, of course, are nearest to the people. It is into that court that the United States attorneys go seeking indictment and prosecution of violations of federal statutes, and it is into that court corporations and individuals go to seek adjudication of differences when their claims arise under a federal law or when the defendant resides in another state. The District courts, therefore, provide the citizen with a means of reaching those against whom he has a grievance even though that individual or corporation be located across the continent.

The name of the Circuit Court of Appeals defines its place in the judicial structure. It is just that, and in a great majority of the cases that reach it from the District court, it becomes the court of last resort as a result of the power which the Supreme Court of the United States has. The highest court can say and, indeed, it does say in the bulk of the cases decided by the several Courts of Appeals, that it will not consider them further. That ends it. The question then is res adjudicata, to employ the legal phrase.

The Supreme court cannot avoid consideration of all of the cases, however, for if they involve a question of constraining the Constitution, those cases can reach the highest tribunal. Likewise, in a dispute between two states of the Union, the Supreme court has to hear of the matter, because in that instance it becomes a court of original jurisdiction and can have a jury to hear the testimony if it so desires.

Appellate courts operate in something of the same fashion, except that they obviously have to examine every case that is appealed from the District where all of the evidence was taken. Very frequently, it is true, they do not go far with the cases sent to them from the court of original jurisdiction, because a very great number are dismissed when the Circuit judges have satisfied themselves that justice was done in the court below. However, even then the litigants in the cases can ask the Supreme court to review the matter, but that court may or may not let the cases come before it as it sees fit. It never refuses, however, if there is a Constitutional question involved, or if serious doubt is shown as to rights of citizens under the statutes of their own states.

From this it becomes evident that the Supreme court transacts an enormous amount of business.

It has been said that the Supreme court is never able to catch up with its work. That is true, in a sense, for it always has cases on its docket awaiting decision. In another respect, the statement is untrue, however, for it always allows itself time in which to study the questions before it and determine the far-reaching consequences of its rulings, a condition of which every justice is mindful at all times. Its reputed slowness, therefore, may be said to be in the interest of justice to all.

But I mentioned at the outset that the chief justice had other work to do. Without attempting to recite his duties in detail, it may suffice to show the character of his duties by calling attention to the fact that it is an obligation of his to see that the Circuit courts keep up with their work. It is quite obvious that circuit judges sitting in areas like the plains states, where the population is scattered, have not the amount of work to do that confront those sitting in a populous circuit like New York. The chief justice knows the status of the dockets throughout the nation, and if, for example, the judges get behind in New York, one or more of the judges from elsewhere in the nation is ordered to New York to help out.

There are two other courts which should be mentioned in any discussion of the judiciary. They are the Court of Claims of the United States and the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Both are in Washington; both have limited jurisdictions. The Court of Claims is the only tribunal where only the United States can be the defendant. In other words, it hears only suits against the government. The Court of Customs and Patent Appeals deals only with the highly technical questions relating to tariff duties and patent rights under the laws affecting those two fields.

Cottons of High Style Importance

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A GAIN we arrive in that time of the year when fancy, or is it stern duty, turns to thoughts of spring sewing. If any inspiration is needed to fire the woman who makes her own clothes into a doll-like frame of mind, it may be found in the dishes and dishes of enchanting spring materials now on display throughout all fashionland. A significant fact about the new fabric showings is the prominence given to cottons which are that amazingly novel and chic as to be almost unbelievable.

So completely have some of the newer cottons managed to conceal their identity, one has almost to look in their labels or inquire of the salesperson to make sure that they are what they are, and not perhaps fine silk or woolen as they appear to be. Almost any effect is possible with novelty cotton yarns as they are now being churned out, often worked with rayon strands into bangles or soft-twisted finishes, or with silken sheen or perfectly dulustered, as the case may be.

The reign of cotton weaves in the textile realm should prove very encouraging to the amateur seamstress with whom the thought of handling and cutting into easily silk or woolen all but brings on an attack of "stage fright," for although the new and smart cotton weaves are high style and "look like a million," they are in reality inexpensive enough to afford any ambitious home-sewing woman to experiment with them without fear and trembling.

Bold and diagonal cotton fabrics are proving of special interest to the Paris houses, such as for instance a type known as drone fabric, which appeared in dresses, suits, hats, shoes, handbags, beach clothes, scarfs, and coats last year, and which, incidentally, is being revived for the coming spring especially by millinery and footwear houses. Diagonals are shown in wide variety, including those of heavy construction on solid grounds.

Shirred, crepe and bistered effects are vastly important. The new cotton matelasse weaves in monochrome and two-tone combinations enter in the prevailing feeling for erly surfaces.

Fabric faces—that is faces made to be used for dresses and not merely for trimming—are fortuitously popping up again. Among the new durable face fabrics are effective swirled patterns, minute floral and geometric designs, antique block effects, eyelets and mids. Both pastel and high colors of spring importance are available. These faces are washable and can easily be handled by the woman who makes her own clothes, at the same time they are a great favorite with the professional designer and dressmaker. A dress and hat ensemble (that is same material as the frock are high fashion) made of soft charmeuse drone face combined with crepe is shown in the right in the picture. The crepe of the giraffe is repeated in the solid plants which give graceful fullness.

At tweedy-looking drone mesh as used for the demure three-piece suit for the younger girl or for any youthful appearing woman, for that matter, is pictured to the left. Wooden buttons fasten the short jacket straight up to the neckline. The blouse which shows its cravat tie is of drone mesh. Hat, shoes, gloves and handbag are a cravat brown which harmonizes with the brown in the tweed.

CAPE TAKES PLACE IN SPRING MODELS

There is more and more evidence of the coming popularity of the cape. It appears almost daily in some new form, in the studios of the well-known designers—as a half-length evening wrap, as a full-length sports over-all, as an accessory to the afternoon dress, as the collar on a town coat.

It is made in velvet, tweed, corduroy, satin—practically every imaginable material.

As Malmbocher indicates in a good many of his new spring clothes, the cape looks its youngest when it is short.

He puts it, in a dashing abbreviated form, on the back of little wool dresses; he wraps it around the shoulders of spring suits; he makes it into elbow-length and hip-length wraps to go over young girls' evening dresses.

Slippers for Evening Are

Cinderella's glass slippers can't compete with the glamorous modern models that go dancing now.

Exquisite new evening slippers tempt from the show windows—all colors, all dainties, to match or contrast with the gown. They are fashioned of velvet, deskin, crepe, satin, brocade, silk and gold khaki, and are elaborate and original.

The latest cut-out sandal is passing out of the fashion picture. It is being succeeded by a new sandal pattern in which the tips of the toes and the heels are covered.

Coral Velvets

Could anything be lovelier than lounging pajamas of coral colored velvet made with a flustering surplice neckline which is embroidered in a conventional design with white angora?

COTTON MATELASSE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If you are going South, or if you are staying at home, for that matter, there is nothing surtier and newer for your next party frock than cotton or silk matelasse. This material which has either a quilted or a toasted or a quilted surface is the rage both here and in style centers abroad. The gown pictured is of white cotton matelasse with a ruce-edged sort of a capelet affair of organdie. The wrap which milady carries is of cherry taffeta.

Invents New Type Soda Fountain

Druggists, Ice Cream Companies and the General Public will be greatly interested in a new type of electrically refrigerated Soda Fountain which has just been placed on the market, known as "Wilbur's 100% Dry Refrigerated Soda Fountains." There is no brine in the ice cream cabinet, no water bath around cooling coils, thus there can be no leaks. Brick ice cream, tea and bulk ice cream should each have its own degree of coldness, and this new type Fountain provides for that, which has never heretofore been done successfully. The carbonated and city water are instantaneously chilled in large volume by an entirely new method of heat absorption, and the fruits and syrups are kept at a lower temperature than ever before.

This new type Soda Fountain is also a safeguard to public health, because it is 100% Dry Refrigerated; no moisture is found conditions. Furthermore, the Fountain is a great money saver and business getter for the merchant, who now well realizes what the advantages of 100% Dry Soda Fountain Refrigeration would mean to his business.

These new type Wilbur's 100% Dry Refrigerated Soda Fountains, (invented and manufactured only by the Wilbur Mfg. Co., Decatur, Ill.) are destined to lead the field for time to come. They are backed by 22 years' successful Soda Fountain manufacturing experience.—Ady.

No Difficulty at All for Man of Medicine

The doctor's patient looked terribly worn out.

"Oh, doctor," he said, "I don't know what's wrong with me. I'm never well. I can't tell you why."

"When was the last time you felt like this?" asked the doctor.

"I don't know, doctor," continued the patient, "I can't quite locate it, but it's something that leaves me quite done up, as if something inside isn't working properly. Still, I'm sure you will know what's wrong."

The doctor nodded.

"I see," he replied. "Here's some medicine. It is for cases exactly like yours. Take it from time to time for as long as it suits you. I can't tell you just how often or how long or what doses to take, but when you are cured you can come back to me for some more."

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pop" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and loss in the face. And so unnecessary.

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath or a clogged bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to your children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

"How these suds save work!" ... she tells mother

REALLY—I can't understand why anyone still bothers with old-fashioned soaps! See what thick, creamy suds Rinso gives. Grease soaks loose from the dishes without any help from me. All I need to do is to rinse them in hot water—and let them drain dry. The dirtiest dishes—the greasiest pots and pans—soak spotless this easy way.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Millions of women use it on washday for whiter clothes without scrubbing or boiling. Wonderful suds for glassware, porcelain, tile, woodwork—and all cleaning. So economical! Get the BIG thrifty package.

THE UNPROFITABLE BOARDER

Farmers owe much to their cow testing associations. If every farmer belonged to his county association there would not be the slightest danger from overproduction, we are told. As prices declined the farmer would make further elimination of the least profitable cows and in this way production could be curtailed until prices rose again.

It has been demonstrated with facts and figures that if every cow, now a loss to her owner because of her limited production, could be eliminated, there would be no chance of milk and butter overproduction. It is the several million pounds of butterfat produced at a loss that makes up the surplus. Thus the poor producing cow hits the dairy industry two ways—she ruins the individual dairyman who keeps her and, in the aggregate, she ruins the dairy industry as a whole. Ship the low producers to the packers and do it now.

POLITICAL CHARITY

Several weeks ago Senator James Couzens called the attention of Congress to the plight of the army of young men wandering aimlessly about the country, without work and easy prey to crime and disease. At that time the Michigan solon made the sensible suggestion that with very little expenditure of money it would be possible to place these boys in army camps throughout the nation. Army officers, trained to handle large bodies of men, could take these boys and give them proper training and care until economic conditions made

STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BULKETS, the bladder physic, also containing burchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. E. J. Fessenden, Druglist, Charlevoix, Mich., and J. K. Gerrie, Druglist, Boyne City, Mich., say BULKETS is a best seller.

possible their return to the ordinary affairs of life.

Immediately a few and timid souls saw in the senator's proposal a militaristic attempt to train these young men in the art of war, rather than a sane and sensible means of saving them to future useful citizenship. Now we find Senator Cutting of New Mexico proposing to spend fifteen million dollars of the taxpayer's money to build three thousand work camps in every state in the Union, all of which would call for separate untrained supervision, which would mean the selection of thousands of political workers for these jobs without regard to fitness or previous training.

Senator Couzens' plan called for immediate relief at low cost; the other a long drawn out expensive campaign filled with political bickerings. In the meantime, the plight of these young men is growing worse and their numbers are being increased every day. What a refreshing thing it would be if official Washington could find some way to act in the cause of charity without being compelled to make a pork barrel contribution to our political leaders.

THAT EXTRA JOB!

Springtime, which will not be long in coming, is a good time to build. This nation has been suffering from psychological as well as economic setbacks. Hiring, like buying, became mentally taboo with many people. Not sure of the future they put off completely many intended and needed projects. The past three years have seemed a good time to quit everything and await a return to normalcy, but like the old time song we are "waiting for the ship that never returned."

But there is a safe and sensible way out of our dilemma. Never was there a better opportunity for the employment of skilled workmen in a fair wage scale than right now—fair to both employer and employee. Prices of all building material are the lowest in years—soon there will be a rising market. The home, the office building, the manufacturing institution, every building of every kind built or re-built now will increase in value with each succeeding year.

But best of all every new project will give needed employment to somebody. By building now you now only add to your own wealth, but you help to bring happiness to others.

WINTER BACK IN NORTHERN AREA

In spite of stories of wild geese winging northward and pre-season robins putting in an appearance, winter weather descended on the region Friday and is still holding its grip. The light snow fall which came Friday was augmented by another inch or two during the night and the thermometer kept pace with the appearance of winter and went down well below freezing.

Those German philosophers were nearly right. War won't make a people tough, but grubbing to pay for it will.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The students are organizing the material that they have decided to use for their geography projects. The projects are going to be decidedly informational.

Do you imagine, or think? Ask one of the psychology students.

Several interesting lessons including geography and physiology, have been taught by various of the county normal students to their own class, the past two weeks.

The normal class are improving in their sight reading in music. They will soon begin studying two part music.

The Charlevoix county normal class experienced the trials and tribulations and danger of a "house divided against itself," last Friday, when Charlevoix high school played Boyne City high, since Boyne City has a majority in the normal this year—and "first love" is so strong.

MAKE PLANS FOR GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVANCES

County-Wide Plan to Be Followed Same As Previous Years

Rev. G. R. Parker attended the monthly meeting of the Little Traverse Bay Ministerial association at the Methodist church in Harbor Springs, Monday.

Rev. Paul Boodagh of Boyne City, discussed the report of the investigation committee on "Re-Thinking Missions." It was a splendid report, but there seems to be a general dissatisfaction with many suggestions in it.

After the association meeting, pastors of Charlevoix county met to make formal plans for the Good Friday services that have received such universal sanction in the county. The plans will be similar to last year—a county affair. Rev. G. R. Parker was asked to submit a program at once for the approval of the other ministers.

A total of 6,200,000 barrels of oil, valued at $4,500,000 were produced in the Mt. Pleasant oil field, the largest in Michigan, during 1932, the State department of conservation has announced. The Muskegon field, the second largest, yielded 400,000 barrels which sold for approximately $340,000.

Baptist Sunday school classes taught by Harold Dahlquist and Galo Chew enjoyed a party at the church last Thursday evening, February 2.

The occasion was also in celebration of Mr. Chew's birthday anniversary. Luncheon, a feature of which was a large birthday cake, was served by Keith Carey and Harold Isaacs.

The evening was a very pleasant one. Plans for the 1933 smelt run will be formulated when the Jordan River Sportsmen's club elects its new secretary at its next meeting, Bill Love-day, the present secretary, having moved to Lansing. At the close of last year's run, a conservative check-up showed over $2,000 had been spent in the business places of that city by the out of town people. This year the channel in Jordan river has been deepened to encourage a better run and facilitate dipping. Should the present weather continue, an earlier run may be expected and East Jordan committees will soon be at work, getting ready to handle the crowds that will arrive.

Focusing attention on the need of Michigan's public schools for funds to take the place of those previously available from the general property tax, petitions are being circulated in Charlevoix and the more than six thousand school districts of the state. It is expected that early next month the petitions will be laid before the governor and the Legislature, asking the State to provide some means of school support to relieve the severe burden on property, and to provide sufficient revenue so that the public schools of Michigan may be maintained at least on the 1933 level of operating costs. The petition leaves the choice of method entirely to the lawmakers.

The Benzie Record published at Benzie reports the following: "With the production of hook and line caught smelt rising to a new high peak, the bottom seems to have just dropped out of the market. Latest reports show a price of 10c per pound in large lots and the trend seems to be toward an even lower figure. Don Lee has just concluded the sale of 500 pounds at 10c per pound to an out-of-town buyer. Smelt have been biting especially well lately, many fishermen hooking as much as 60 or 70 pounds in one night. It is due to this fact that a number of Platte Lake sportsmen have been moving their shanties over to the Crystal lake ice."

Past Noble Grand will give a dance at I. O. O. F. hall, Friday evening, February 10, Compe 25c, extra ladies 10c.—Adv. 6t1.

POLAR BEARS MEET
BIG RAPIDS FEB. 15

Schedule Fast Down-State Team for Next Local Engagement

With the high school basketballs closing their home schedule Friday night, the Polar Bears will swing into action at the local gymnasium next week.

A gift of $30 from F. B. Sloan of Chattanooga, Tenn., has provided necessary funds for gym rental for three games and the Polar Bear management has scheduled the classy Big Rapids team for their next game on Wednesday evening, February 15.

The Polar Bears and Cubs dropped both games of a double bill at Harbor Springs last Thursday evening. The Cubs lost the preliminary, and the Bears, after trailing 14 to 5 at the half, were nosed out by a 21 to 19 count. Harbor scored their last 7 points on free throws. Bothered by the small Harbor court, the Polar Bears did not get organized until too late to overcome the winner's long lead.

The team has been completely re-organized since the withdrawal of Davenport, and Manager Todd believes he now has the best combination since organization with Brown and Ikens at forwards, Supernaw at center, and Kipke and McColl in the guard positions. Fans will see this line-up start against Big Rapids next Wednesday evening.

Everyone was profuse in their praise of the program and the excellent manner in which it was given.

Your Welfare..

and prosperity are a matter of real concern to us. We fully realize that farming is a serious business and that making a success of it is a most worthy accomplishment.

Fortune does not smile upon the business man when the people of his town and surrounding country are unable to maintain a secure financial position.

We can not hope for any large measure of success unless the good folks of this community prosper.

For the present, at least, the possibility of making money on the farm lies in the ability of the farmer to cut the cost of production through the application of sound farming principles and the intelligent use of improved methods.

We hope to be of benefit to you in 1933 in helping you to produce and market your crops successfully.

Program arrangements have been completed for the Sixth Annual Michigan Winter Carnival and regional sports meet to be held in Petoskey Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Expect Visitors
The three-day program is filled with highlights offering visitors opportunity to participate in many events while there will be entertainment to appeal to persons of all ages. Hundreds of persons from southern Michigan are expected to come to Petoskey for the winter fete and the entire Northern region will be represented, said Wilson J. McDonald, secretary of the Winter Sports club and Chamber of Commerce.

The opening event will be a luncheon at 12 noon, Thursday at Hotel Perry given jointly by the Petoskey Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. Both men and women are asked to wear winter sports costumes. The program is being arranged by Mayor D. C. Levinson of Petoskey, who will be toastmaster.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Prentiss M. Brown, St. Ignace, congressman-elect of the 11th district.

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the amateur regional skiing championship will be decided. There will be exhibition and comedy ski jumping.

At 3 p. m. hockey games will be played by Traverse City and Petoskey teams and the Petoskey American Legion and Winter Sports club teams.

Coronation Ceremony
The big event of Thursday will be the coronation of Miss Mable White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis White of Petoskey, at the ice rink at 8 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed at a huge ice throne 50 feet long and 25 feet wide. Ice pillars will be constructed on either side of the throne. The queen's court will include Miss Mary Ella DuChaine, runner up, Miss Mable Johansen, Miss Ann McGinn and Miss Jeanne Dombrski. Mr. Brown will be principal speaker and will crown the queen. Beautiful lighting effects are to be arranged for the ceremonies.

During the evening there also will be exhibitions of figure skating at the rink. A treasure hunt will follow at 9:15 o'clock.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

On February 12th, this nation will observe the 124th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, 16th president of the United States of America.

"How swift the flight of time." Nearly a century and a quarter has passed since the dawning of that morning when a wee babe was pressed close to a mother's bosom in a little backwoods cabin in the wilds of Hardin county, Kentucky.

Abraham Lincoln lived during the most trying years of this Republic. To him, more than to any other man of his time, credit should be given for the preservation of the freedom of a great people.

He met the problems of his day and generation with stern courage. When all others around him were bending in the storms of fratricidal conflict, he, alone, remained calm and unafraid. His was a single purpose—in perpetuate the Union at any cost.

Although nearly three score years and ten have been marked down in the great Book of Time since he fell martyr to an assassin's bullet, his fame and influence continues to grow with each passing day. The story of his life has been the inspiration of millions of American citizens. His spirit, his personality will never die.

Let it be for us then in this hour of travail to remember Abraham Lincoln for his homely virtues, for his uncompromising courage when grave perils threatened the ship of state. And bearing in mind these simple truths we again hear the anchor chains being cast in the harbor of national safety, peace and prosperity.

COMSTOCK TAX PLAN

Governor Comstock's long expected tax relief program has been handed to the Legislature. There is one thing that can be said in its favor; it bears all the earmarks of an honest attempt to solve some of our tax burdening problems by enlarging the tax base so that it will not bear too heavy in any one single direction.

The several measures introduced by the administration, would do away with the State property tax, assist suffering school districts and provide aid for cities and villages who have found their welfare work beyond their ability to meet. The dual sales and gross income tax proposed may be just what is needed in our present extremity. Nearly half the taxable real estate in Michigan is now tax delinquent, with the probability this situation will continue to grow worse unless something drastic in the way of relief is adopted.

There should be no politics in dealing with the Comstock plan. We need the best remedial legislation possible, and that without unnecessary delay.

The proposal to set up a commission in each county to apportion the property tax revenue raised under the new constitutional 15 mill limitation among the local and county units is a sensible suggestion. It will have the effect of bringing all our tax problems out into the open, where they can be studied and revised as their needs warrant. On the whole, these measures, coupled with a sharp cut in the cost of all government, may be the answer to our economic prayers.

TAKE OFF OTHER DOLLAR

Auditor General Stack created a sensation when he cancelled the order of publication of sales of tax delinquent properties. He set forth that if these sales were not printed as the law provides the state would save $200,000 a year. The court in one county has ordered the printing, but the Legislature is seeking to rush to Mr. Stack's support with bills to amend the law so that printing will not be necessary.

The fact is that the State doesn't pay for the printing of the tax sales at all. The poor devil whose property is to be sold pays for it, because under the law one dollar is charged against each description advertised. The fact is the State actually makes money by the advertising of the delinquent tax properties, because the State pays the newspaper publishing the sales 40 cents per description and keeps 60 cents.

It is perfectly proper, if the Legislature desires to do it, to abandon the practice of printing the notices of sales of tax delinquent properties, but if this is done the amended law should also provide that that one dollar on each description shall no longer be charged. Let the poor taxpayer reap the benefit of the saving, rather than the State should profit even more than it now does.

LINCOLN'S PHILOSOPHY

"I shall not try to read, much less answer, all the criticisms of me and my associates. Else this office might as well be closed for any other business. I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep on doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me will amount to nothing. If the end brings me out wrong, ten thousand angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

Love sometimes sneaks out at the window without waiting for poverty to come in at the door.

EXPECT RELIEF ROAD CASH IN SHORT TIME

Anticipate Charlevoix County to Be Granted $8,000 Fund

Anticipating early approval of the State highway department's request for R. F. C. funds for emergency highway work in Northern Michigan, highway departments of the various counties are making plans and preparations to put hundreds of unemployed men at work.

Charlevoix county's request for the month of February is $8,000, and State highway department officials have given strong hopes that the money will be forthcoming this month and following months as well. R. T. Davis, county road superintendent, attending a recent meeting in Cadillac, at which time road men of this region present were practically assured their requests would be met.

Work has already been started in Antrim and Kalkaska counties, their loans having been approved by the R. F. C. The allotments to all counties will apply on the two million dollar loan the State highway department is seeking for work in Northern Michigan this year. It is expected that applications of other counties of this region will be approved within a few days, according to A. L. Burridge, district engineer, who stated that as soon as the word of approval is received by the state welfare department and transmitted to Commissioner Dillman work will begin without actually waiting for the money to be in hand.

The State will require that the money be used for hand labor only improving State trunk lines. The road commission is to furnish tools and supervise the work, and the county welfare committee will make selection of men to be given work.

Newspaper space is too valuable to fill it up with boastful talk with reference to a church attendance but we would like to say that the attendance last Sunday was a contradiction to the prevailing notion that people have ceased to attend divine worship. One woman said that the women would have to be careful or the men would outnumber them. We appreciate very much the gradual increase in attendance since the first of the year. Last Sunday was Polar Bear Sunday and many were there to honor the boys, but judging from experience of the past few weeks, we can safely say that if you plan to attend our services, come early. I wish to thank, in this manner, Gordon Todd and his Polar Bears for their presence and the inspiration they gave us last Sunday.

Next Sunday we have a still more interesting message than last Sunday's. Take my word for it and don't miss it.

COAL DEPOSITS ARE FOUND IN MICHIGAN

Scientists of the U. S. Geological Survey, after a long and arduous search, have found a shadow depression in the Michigan State Board of Agriculture. The depression is located in the Saginaw valley, and is being studied by scientists of the U. S. Geological Survey, headed by Dr. Chester A. Arnold.

The coal, although seldom found in large seams, is of fair quality. It is being mined on a small scale, and is being used for domestic purposes.

OUR HEADACHE CAME FROM FINANCE DRUNK

Nebraska Farmer-Banker Tells Michigan Audience to Forget Past

"We went on a financial drunk, and now we are having a hangover financial headache," was the diagnosis given by C. N. Wright, Scottsbluff, Neb., for the present business conditions confronting those attending Farmers' Week at Michigan State college.

The speaker continued, "It was the greatest financial drunk and the greatest headache in history but the ache will pass away and we will soon feel better. The sick period is over and we are now left to work out our own salvation."

"We are all of us, bankers, business men, and farmers, like a group of shipwrecked sailors on a raft, intent upon our own problems. If we could forget our individual difficulties and work for the salvation of the group, present conditions could be improved much faster."

"A knee-hole view, such as many have now, is always had. We must co-operate not only with college specialists but also with neighbors to get an intelligent, comprehensive view of the situation before we can finally work out of it."

"We talked too much about the depression and sold ourselves the idea that there was one. Now, we are getting somewhere. We are beginning to think and analyze ourselves. We must get our feet on the ground again before we can climb. Bankers talking conservatism scared people to death."

THE POLAR BEARS ARE PLAYING AGAIN

NOTE THIS: --

Charlevoix, Michigan, February 2, 1933.

Mr. Gordon Todd, Manager Polar Bear Team, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Todd: As a more or less regular winter visitor in your city, I am very much disappointed to learn that your team has been forced to close its season and not play the remaining three games scheduled on account of the local gymnasium being closed to you.

Newspaper article this morning would indicate all games are definitely called off, however, if cancellations have not actually been made, could you yet arrange to play these three games?

Understanding that the question involved is the demand of the School Board for the payment of $10.00 as gym rental for each game, I am pleased to advise that I have today placed with Mr. Robert Bridge, at the Charlevoix County Bank the sum of Thirty Dollars ($30.00) to pay the rental demanded for these three games, this amount to be paid to the School Board on your instructions.

One further request or suggestion: It is my understanding that previous to this season it has been your policy to issue free passes to the members of the School Board for all games but that this policy has not been followed this season. Would it be consistent for me to ask that you kindly issue free passes to each member of the School Board for these three games?

With best wishes, I am,

Cordially yours,

F. B. SLOAN,

of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Dear Mr. Bridge: Herewith $30.00 in currency, to be paid out by you as above indicated. Many thanks for your courtesy.

TAXES, FEES, AND LICENSES TELL THE STORY

Staggering Total of $124,724,083.30 Paid Out in Year by Michigan Taxpayers

(By Elton R. Eaton)
Now that the officials of Michigan are talking about collecting a $35,000,000 sales tax from the residents of the State, just how much money does the State collect from the people of Michigan?

There are many who believe that the real estate tax, the gas tax and the automobile weight tax constitutes about all the income of the State.

True there make up a good percent of the income, but what makes up the total of $124,724,083.30 that was collected for the last fiscal year ending July 1, 1932?

Yes, those figures are correct, one hundred twenty-four million, seven hundred twenty-four thousand and eighty-three dollars plus some additional cents.

All of this money came from the people of Michigan in fees, licenses, taxes, penalties, etc.

The $24,526,049.76 that came during the last fiscal year from the general property tax sinks into a pretty small figure when compared with the near one hundred and a quarter million total that the State did collect.

To the farmer of Charlevoix county, Emmet county or any other county you might name facing the loss of his life's earnings through inability to meet the tax demands of the State, these figures tell the story of his plight.

The State collected on real estate during its last fiscal year a tax of $18,504,285.28. Add to this amount another $6,021,764.48 that was paid on delinquent real estate tax and you have a total of $24,526,049.76 that was paid into the State treasury during the fiscal year of 1931-32 on real estate. This is the tax that Governor Comstock proposes to abolish. In its place he plans a general sales tax that is estimated to raise $35,000,000.

Nine or ten years ago the State enacted a corporation tax law. This was a special act designed to raise sufficient funds to take care of additional buildings needed at various institutions at that time. It was the original object to abolish this tax when the building program had been completed, but like all other tax laws, once they get on the books, they stay there, although the buildings were long ago completed.

So Michigan manufacturers last year in addition to their real estate tax paid into the State treasury $6,909,141.12. This money came from what is known as the corporation tax law.

Two years ago the State Legislature enacted the malt tax law, the funds to be used for the support of tuberculosis hospitals. The malt tax brought into the State $1,060,004.32.

Special taxes, such as the mortgage tax law, brought the State treasury $391,553.97.

The trout fishermen, the hunter and the automobile driver paid Michigan $1,598,790.82 for various licenses that the State issues.

Under the heading of "fees" the State collected $890,050.23. For rentals and leases of buildings and property the State owns but lease out to individuals, it collected $30, 507.47. It sold confiscated property, such as guns and automobiles taken from game law violators, that brought in $7,611.78.

Under the heading of "contributions and aid" the State treasury received from the Federal government for health aid and other similar purposes a total of $289,560.26.

Michigan people paid into the State treasury $1,924,232.74 for the support of some members of their families in State hospitals. There is a law on the statute books which requires a family financially able to do so, to support the afflicted that the State provide hospital facilities for.

Michigan during this same fiscal year sold real estate and personal property that brought in $13,980,311. Products sold from the various farms owned by State institutions added $32,814.51 to the grand total. $23.23 of supplies amounted to $2,238.23. Interest earned on State deposits amounted to $201,638.94. There were miscellaneous revenues amounting to $72,132.16.

Michigan collects millions in special taxes in addition to all of the above revenues.

CHARLEVOIX WON CARNIVAL PRIZES

FRED HARDY SHARED SKI TITLE AT PETOSKEY

Local Skaters Take Two Firsts and Several Seconds in Ice Competition Saturday

Petoskey's sixth annual winter carnival is over and, despite the season's most severe weather, was hailed a big success by the many who attended the various events.

From a competitive standpoint, Charlevoix shared with Petoskey in laurels won in the skiing and skating contests. Quite a number of local contestants took part in the skating races held Saturday, bringing home with them prizes in several events.

While Fred Hardy, 1932 ski champion, failed to repeat as winner of the Petoskey title, he shared it with Louis Kleinhenz, runner-up a year ago and each year a strong contender for top honors. At the contests held Sunday afternoon, Hardy and Kleinhenz each scored 130 points for first place. Lowest jump records were 47 feet even. Second place went to Robert Russell of Petoskey, with 128 points. John Zeiler of this city, was among others making a good showing.

Charlevoix contestants won two firsts and several seconds in the skating championships held Saturday afternoon, with David Livingston carrying off most of the honors.

In the three-quarter mile race for juniors, Robert Livingston was second to Gerald Leshner. Livingston finished in the same position in the junior 440 and 220. Drew Young won second award in the fancy skating competition for juniors. Bruce Withers finished in second position in the juvenile 410 and 220, and third in the half-mile event.

David Livingston won the senior 440-yard dash, with George Bergman, also a local entry, second. They finished in the same order in the senior half-mile event. Livingston also won second prize in the two-mile silver trophy race, one of the major events of the carnival skating program.

A third member of the Livingston family came in for his share of the honors when Archie Jr., won third position in the 440 and 220 yard dashes for midget boys.

Quite a number from Charlevoix attended the crowning ceremony Saturday evening and were profuse in their praise of the beautiful setting.

GAYLORD POTATO SHOW POSTPONED TO MAY 16

The Tip O' Michigan Potato Show association annual meeting, set for Thursday at Gaylord, fell a victim of the winter blizzard. Some few men were on hand but not enough for a meeting. In order to make sure the weather would be warmer the session was postponed to May 16.

B. C. Melencamp, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, attended, but reported only a few men arrived, owing to the storm.

BANKING HOLIDAY CALLED IN STATE

ALL BANKS CLOSED FOR PERIOD OF SEVEN DAYS

Governor Comstock Acts As 'Crisis Threatens Big Detroit Financial Group

Every bank and financial institution in the State of Michigan was closed Tuesday under a sweeping, eight-day suspension order issued in the early hours of the morning by Gov. William A. Comstock.

The closing order brought to a standstill the financial affairs of Detroit, the nation's automobile capital, and halted similar activity in scores of farming and industrial communities of the State, which has a population of more than five million.

Immediate necessity for the unprecedented moratorium is explained in the following statement issued by Governor Comstock at noon, Tuesday:

"The Union Guardian Trust Co. of Detroit has been doing banking business in Michigan under the laws of the State. Like other financial houses it has suffered depreciation of its assets and was seeking to get out of the banking business, leaving that field to other units of the organization.

"To do that it would have had to pay off its depositors in cash and it did not have funds available to do that. The company already had borrowed $15,000,000 from the R. F. C. and had asked for more.

"Representatives of the Federal Corporation were in Detroit going over the assets and were prepared to loan an additional $25,000,000. This loan, however, would have still left the Guardian company about $2,000,000 short of paying all depositors.

"The largest depositors of the company were the General Motors Corporation, Chrysler Corporation and the Ford Motor Co. Both G. M. C. and Chrysler had agreed to subordinate their deposits to the R. F. C., which was to have taken over the 'quick' assets, and smaller depositors.

LOCAL BANK MEETS CHARLEVOIX NEEDS

COUNTY BANK OPERATING ON RESTRICTED PLAN

Move Deemed Advisable to Eliminate Unnecessary Shortage of Cash for Local Needs

While both Charlevoix banking institutions closed Tuesday in compliance with Governor Comstock's eight-day banking moratorium, the Charlevoix County bank opened its doors Wednesday morning to conduct business on a restricted plan. The State Savings bank is adhering to the original order, and is awaiting developments before making definite announcement.

Robert Bridge, cashier of the Charlevoix County bank, announced that in order to alleviate an unnecessary shortage of money locally, officers of his institution had decided to open, although only checks written on the County bank for local needs will be cashed. Deposits will be received and business conducted as usual with exception of the one restriction. The same rule is being followed at the institution's Boyne City branch.

Mr. Bridge pointed out that local banking institutions were not directly affected by the crisis in Detroit, and that closing for the entire period of the moratorium would only bring unnecessary hardship locally. The move allows county, city, schools and private interests to continue business uninterrupted, inasmuch they may draw upon checking accounts carried in the County bank for their immediate needs.

The city council issued its two-week payroll Tuesday night as usual, also the board of education. The county officers will continue their usual functions without interruption.

The post office was in a position Wednesday to carry on as usual, with sufficient funds to meet ordinary cashing of post office money orders. In case of necessity, additional funds will be made available to meet the situation. The same condition is true of the Western Union, whose officials have made preparations to meet any requirements which might be made upon them.

It appears that public confidence is the only thing needed now to "ride out the storm." The situation in Detroit is being rapidly cleared up and banking business generally is expected to continue on an even keel in a few days.

MASONS SHORTENED ODD FELLOW CRIBBAGE LEAD

Were Victors at Monday Night's Session by Narrow Margin

The Masons emerged victors by a slender margin in their cribbage contest with the Odd Fellows at the Masonic temple Monday night. Their advantage took only a small nick from the long Odd Fellow lead, however.

Team scores gave the Masons 23,467 points to 23,434 for the Odd Fellows, a difference of 34. The previous Odd Fellow lead was 1,067, leaving them still with an advantage of 1,034. Individual high scores were Len Carey with 961 for the Masons, and Matt Routley with 951 for the Odd Fellows.

The next contest of the series will be held Monday evening, February 27th, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

KIPMEN MEET HARBOR FRIDAY NIGHT

TWO REMAINING GAMES ARE AWAY FROM HOME

Contest With East Jordan Last Friday Night Postponed Because of Weather Conditions

Charlevoix high school basketball players will play away from home the next two games remaining on their schedule prior to the district tournament at Boyne City in March.

Friday evening of this week they journey to Harbor Springs for a return contest with the Emmet county quintet. Charlevoix was victorious in their first encounter with Harbor on the local court and are hoping to repeat the performance Friday night. Harbor has improved considerably since early season, however, and, playing on their home hardwood, are hoped to give the Kipmen a hard tussle.

The other remaining tilt in the schedule is with East Jordan on Jordan's court. These two teams were to have met in the Charlevoix gym last Friday night, but owing to weather condition and uncertainty of highway travel, the contest was cancelled upon request of East Jordan school officials.

A request that the game be played Saturday night was turned down by local athletic officials due to the fact Charlevoix does not favor Saturday night engagements. The contest was left open on the schedule of both schools and may possibly be played during the next two weeks. Due to the closeness of the district tournament and wind-up of the season for both schools, it is hardly probable that the game will be held at all, because no matter what week is selected, Charlevoix would be forced to engage in two contests the same week. A win for either school would affect their standing in the Tip of Michigan class C conference, although with Boyne securely perched on the top of the ladder, there seems to be little interest for the other players.

Play in the district tournament at Boyne City opens the first week in March. All class C and D schools of the region will compete for a place at the Petoskey regional a week later.

REBEKAHS TO SPONSOR FIREMEN'S MASQUERADE

Annual Washington Party at I. O. O. F. Hall February 22

The annual firemen's masquerade, a regular Washington's birthday event in this city, will be held the evening of Wednesday, February 22, at the I. O. O. F. hall under auspices of the Rehkah lodge.

Committees have been appointed to handle the affair and the usual interesting program is planned. Several fine prizes are being provided for the best costumes on display at the masquerade, following out a long established plan.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HERE FRIDAY

EDUCATORS OF THREE COUNTIES WILL ASSEMBLE

Morning and Afternoon Programs Arranged With Strong Speakers and Musical Entertainment

Four hundred school teachers from Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim counties are expected to assemble here Friday for the annual tri-county teachers' institute.

A morning and afternoon program has been arranged by Commissioners Wm. C. Palmer, Charlevoix; May Blanchard, Emmet, and J. W. Thumm of Antrim county. Ladies of the Baptist, Congregational and Methodist churches will serve dinner at noon.

Foremost among the speakers are Dr. Howard McCluskey, professor of education, U. of M., and Dr. R. L. Lyman, professor of English, University of Chicago. Supt. M. R. Keyworth of Hamtramck, formerly of East Jordan, will discuss Michigan's present educational problems. The Charlevoix high school band and chorus will give musical selections.

Following is the program:
9:00—Music, Charlevoix school band, Robert Magor, director.
9:30—Address, "Establishing Habits of Efficient Workmanship," Dr. R. L. Lyman.

10:30—Vocal music by Charlevoix school pupils, Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, director.

10:45—Address, Dr. Howard McCluskey, University of Michigan.

1:15—Address, "Problem of Teaching Oral and Written Discourse," Dr. R. L. Lyman; high school gymnasium.

1:15—Address, "Why Youth Are Misunderstood," Dr. Howard McCluskey; senior high school assembly room.

2:30—General meeting, address on school finance, including the 15 mill amendment; speaker, Supt. M. R. Keyworth, Hamtramck.

All the speakers listed on the program are leaders in the field of education and will bring messages of vital interest to the profession. All sessions will be at the high school gymnasium with exception of the afternoon address by Dr. McCluskey to be given in the high school assembly room.

ANNUAL RURAL MEETING SET FOR MARCH 1

"Farmers' Night" Sponsored by Charlevoix Commercial Assn.

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce will hold its annual "Farmers' Night" on the evening of Wednesday, March 1st, at the Odd Fellow hall.

Ladies of the Rehkah lodge will serve the supper, which is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. The charge for supper will be quite reasonable and an unusual series of entertainment is planned for the evening.

These "Farmers' Night" affairs are always good fun and have been well attended in the past. Officers of the association want our rural friends to feel that they have as much part in affairs of the community, which includes the outlying districts as well as the city, as have the city folk and they are to have an equal voice in the deliberations of the association and representation on its committees.

It is especially necessary in times like these that there should be solidarity of action and thought between city dweller and rural resident. In a resort community such as this, the interests of both are, for the most part, identical and much more can be achieved by co-operation than by working separately.

MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAIN LEGIONNAIRES

Session Monday Night in Interests of Legion and Activities

The special interests and activities of the American Legion will be sponsored at a meeting of the Men's Community club next Monday evening at a supper in the dining room of the Methodist church.

A fine crowd was out at the last meeting when the matter of school costs, taxation, etc., was considered. At this next meeting a special speaker, perhaps two, will come to Charlevoix in the interests of the Legion.

Of course men of the Legion are especially invited. The supper will be "men's stuff," served by men.

Confidence is Necessary

Charlevoix bankers were surprised by telegram Tuesday morning announcing that Gov. Comstock had declared a banking holiday.

Not one of them had any intimation that a condition existed anywhere in Michigan to warrant such action. Charlevoix banks have no need for such a holiday and were in perfectly sound condition and ready to open for business Tuesday morning following Monday's legal holiday.

In the meantime, Charlevoix residents are asked to observe the situation with confidence. The situation in Detroit is being rapidly ironed out and in all probability the ban will be lifted before the eight-day period is over so that business may be resumed as usual.

The condition which made the Governor's action seem advisable was limited to Detroit. Charlevoix banks have no need for the holiday and are sound. One bank is already open, and that the other follow out the mandate of Governor Comstock was necessary and beyond their own jurisdiction.

All that is necessary is confidence "to keep the ship on an even keel."

If the Truth Were Told

CHARLEVOIX'S ICE HARVEST STARTED TUESDAY MORNING

The Charlevoix Coal & Ice company started Tuesday morning putting up this city's natural ice supply from Lake Charlevoix.

Ice of better than 12 inches and of excellent quality is available this season. A crew of 28 men and nine teams are being used in the operation. The company's own storage place in the old beer sugar factory is being given first attention. Wildfield's two houses, the Belvedere and Chicago Club have contracted with the firm for their supply.

It is understood D. J. Eckinger will have charge of the filling of Booth Fisheries, using the company's equipment, also Hallett Hotel on Belvedere avenue. Contracts for filling other storage places are pending.

Recent cold weather has insured Charlevoix of an ice supply of excellent quality for next summer. The harvest will probably continue for several weeks.

Michigan Needs a New Gate

Nearly half of the states and six Canadian provinces have adopted the Uniform Vehicle Code which provides for a law in effect, accident victims are reduced by restricting the privilege of driving to those who are either established a record of safe conduct, or ability to stand up for the damage they illegally cause. Such a measure has been drafted by the American Automobile Association after a national study. It will soon be placed before the Michigan Legislature for consideration.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Just think! Two of our normal boys have become so ambitious as to give us a party Tuesday night. We are looking forward to it with great interest.

We have just finished our second term of teaching and some of us have progressed in being a pedagogical advisor.

The normal and training rooms are presenting quite a festive aspect, thanks to Miss Burdick and Miss M. Reidel.

The heavy storms of last week resulted in a drop in the usual good attendance record; some of the students couldn't get away from here, others couldn't get here. The normal is running full force, double

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.
At fifty, you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives, you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A special every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

Our Government
—How It Operates

By William Bruckart

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

THERE is every evidence that when,
in 1913, congress passed a law creating the Department of Labor, that few of those who were most vociferous in support of the proposal had any conception of what the new department of the government was to do. A review of the debates of the time indicates rather clearly that somebody wanted to do something for labor, but they did not know exactly what that something should be.

So I am prepared to say that it was the administrative officers who have filled the several posts from secretary of labor down the line of rank who have made the Department of Labor something of value. Some of those observers who watched proceedings when congress enacted the law tell me that the movement had every appearance of a "sop" to organized labor, and if their conclusion be true, it certainly can be said now that the legislators built much better than they knew.

The law which those legislators passed said the Department of Labor was to promote the interests of labor, of the working people of the country, that their working conditions might be improved and that their opportunities might be advanced. While I still entertain some doubt concerning what congress thought this would mean, it has become quite evident that it is possible for the great intangible thing, called government, to act in a very personal capacity when occasions require. It has so acted through the Department of Labor.

There is an illustration:
In a great textile mill of New England, the workers clamored for better conditions; they wanted shorter working hours; they wanted assurance that they would not be dismissed without notice; they wanted certain agreements with the owners as to the rates of pay, and they sought an agreement with their employers to reach these understandings through a committee of their own members. The employers turned a deaf ear to the proposals and would not even discuss them. A strike was the alternative which the workers offered.

One might say that was a private matter and that the government had no right to mix into it. But the Con-stitution's preamble says that the government is, among other things, "for the people." Surely, here was an instance where something could be done for the people, for workers and employers alike.

The Department of Labor did mix into the controversy. It sent several men to the scene. They listened to the grievances of the workers and to the statements of the employers. They suggested ways out, one after another, until they were able to get a committee from the workers and a committee from the owners to sit in the same room. Eventually, these secret discussions, always with a conciliator from the Department of Labor participating, developed a compromise on which each side had yielded certain concessions.

The terms are not material here, but suffice it to say there was no strike in that mill and there probably never will be one for the reason that each side learned something about fairness and the rights of the other fellow.

That controversy was simple compared with some that arise and with which the department has to deal in order to do what its officials regard as their public duty that there may be peace in commerce and industry.
It shows, nevertheless, how the multiple eye of the government is upon us all.

And in connection with this last reference, one must recall that in this same department there is what has come to be known as the children's bureau. It goes beyond the working man in its course of duty. The welfare of children of all classes come within its surveillance, and throughout the country one now finds juvenile courts, orphanages and other institutions having to do with children who are receiving constant advice from the bureau in Washington, D.C. It watches industry, too, that there may be no undue dangers developed, that conditions conducive to disease may not be continued and that every aid within the power of the national government is extended to correct them.

Another phase of the department's work gives it control of the entry into the United States of foreigners. Our immigration law is perhaps the most stringent in the world, because it is our policy to conserve our racial standards. The "melting pot" is receiving no more foreign blood in quantity. The department watches this closely, and it sees to it that those who are admitted either become American citizens, swear allegiance to our flag and adopt our traditions, or else they go back home. And this job of Americanizing foreigners is one which obviously most strengthen our nation in order that it may live in the future.

Osprey's Value
The osprey, if protected, is permitted to live in peace, is capable of adapting itself to civilized conditions, and the presence of one or more nests of this handsome and harmless bird about a large body of water would provide much of interest and entertainment.

Ribbed Velvet for High-Style Coats

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

RIBBED velvet for the midseason and early spring coat is a style suggestion which should prove particularly good news to the woman who covets distinction in dress. The haute monde in Paris are all enthusiastic when it comes to this handsome material, while the best shops here are displaying new coats and suits made of it in both dark and light colors.

When signs of spring stir within a desire to discard one's cumbersome fur coat, comes the problem of a timely substitute which shall measure up in chic appearance to its worthy predecessor. The coats pictured give a highly satisfactory answer to the question. Ribbed silk velvet fashions each of them. Notice how the strips or ribs are worked for the model shown to the left. In the body of the coat the ribs run vertically, thus contrasting the horizontal direction of the sleeves. The scarf collar takes a diagonal movement. An interesting item in connection with this soft-felt coat is that it is attached to the beige wool dress underneath, for this model is really an ensemble costume. This same coat worn with one of the new so-fashionable separate or removable fur neckpieces makes an ideal wrap with most any gown for midseason wear.

This telen of working the stripes or

CHECK WITH PLAIN
By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Here's how they are combining check with plain this season. The picture happens to be of a beach costume and is therefore made up of washable materials. However, the rule holds good for the newest spring suits which have their swagger coats lined with checked silk adding jaunty scarfs of the check. One piece dresses with bodice or yoke tops of check or plaid are also good style. These often have soft the fastenings of self material.

Hand Knitted Effects Are Chic for All Sports Wear

Hand-knitted effects are enormously chic for all sports clothes, with the simulated patterns running a close second in popular esteem. . . . rusty reds and browns, rich browns and copper colors and some stimulating burnt orange shades are new and cheerful under dark top coats.

ribs of the velvet in a designed way is stressed throughout the garments which are fashioned of this swagger material. One is especially impressed with this when it comes to observing the high-style resort apparel which the better shops are now displaying. Some perfectly ravishing little sports coats are shown with the most unique yokes and pockets, like wise belts, tails, flaps, scarfs and cuffs which make a play on maneuvering the ribs of the velvet in begious effects by contrasting verticals, horizontals and diagonals.

String color, beige and various tones of gray are favorite colors for these resort coats, which later on will feature for wraps to wear over one's summer dresses. Even more alluring are the sports coats which are made of white ribbed velvet. Of course these are strictly tailored, their only trimming feature being conspicuously large buttons.

In the opinion of leading French style leaders white ribbed silk velvet qualifies as a superb material for the formal evening gown. Just so you may see how effectively it is handled we include in this sketch in the illustration of an evening gown which Mazette Rouff creates of white ribbed velour. The sleeves are unique in that they are fashioned of white silk toss to simulate soft feathers.

NEW SPRING MODELS
NOW BEING SHOWN

The Worth mid-season collection introduces a new range of colors, but principally combinations of beige gray, sand, black and white in a delightful manner.

Aside from the fur trimmed long coats and suits shown at this time,
Worth has shown a number of models which will have a decided influence on spring fashions. These are the flaring shoulder capes, worn over light wool or crepe frocks with fur around the bottom.

"Fontainebleau," a black and white crepe satin afternoon ensemble, is already a favorite with Parisian clients.
Its bodice of draped white satin, with short sleeves of the black, catching the simply cut skirt offer a smart afternoon costume, suitable for many occasions.

A brownish beige woolen costume consists of a simple sports dress and jacket with cape sleeves, the distinguishing feature of which is its trimming of stitching. It is called "Etreux" and is particularly young and charming.

Bustles Are Back Again,
but in Pleats and Folds

The younger generation will have to run to the dictionary for the "bustle" is back. It was to have been expected, after the return of the Empress Eugenie hats a few months ago and the leg-of-mutton sleeves.

Marlene Schiaparelli is the culprit.
She has stepped in where other style creators feared to tread and put bustles back where they once were frowned. Here are not the same old mattress-like fillers of horsehair and canvases; she makes her bustles out of pleats and folds.

Dress Designers Return to Fringe for Trimming

Fringe is in again. For evening it borders capes, capelet sleeves and scarf ends. For daytime it borders round collars. It always matches the color to which it is joined and black fringe or black and white on white are the colors most frequently used.

Events in Order for House GuestTwo Ways of Entertaining the Visitor Within Home's Portals.

There are two ways of entertaining house guests. One is with a succession of events, whereby they will be kept occupied. The other is in let them become, for the time being, a part of the family, entering into the usual regime of the household, and taking its daily life, with perhaps a few extras in the way of entertainments, not as an outsider, but a close friend. When guests are asked for a week-end, continual social events are often planned. It is a holiday period for most families as well as guests. It is when there are mid-week house guests, or those who are making rather prolonged visits, that continual festivities may be trying to friends and family alike.

To be permitted to enter into the life of a family as one of it is a compliment to be desired as much as to be considered an outsider for whom one must do special things. Like all things, however, there is "a happy medium." For example, a hostess should arrange enough entertainment to introduce high lights into the visit.
Are cards liked? An evening of this game or an afternoon, can be planned, whereby the visitor will meet and be met by congenial persons. A tea, large or small, to meet the friend, gives opportunity for becoming more or less acquainted according to the size of the tea and its formality or informality. Then, too, friends of the hostess generally plan some reciprocal entertainments for visiting guests.

A theater party which may consist of the family with but one or two others may prove just the sort of entertainment pleasing to family and friend alike. Or, driving to some especially beautiful or notable part of the country and having tea there can give the guest a glimpse of the surroundings which will be carried away as a happy memory to visualize.

It is a mistake to so strain at entertaining that the pleasure of visiting with the guest is lost to the hostess. After all, friends come to see and enjoy the family, or else they are but casual acquaintances. For a guest to realize or to discover that her visit was a tax on her hostess robs the time of its happy aspect.
Unless there are plenty of continual entertaining is going on, the housewife's energies are drained, and the visitor's nervous system alike. There are occasional gala periods when house guests and family revel in a series of festivities. A few days of rest and relaxation are necessary afterwards to make the balance right and restore normal times.

Sinus Trouble

Makes Life Unbearable

Last year a prominent New York judge and his wife committed suicide because sinus trouble made life unbearable. Present sinus trouble. If nose is stuffed, head hurts across the front, throat is lined with phlegm, use SINASINTEC, the marvelous discovery of a St. Louis doctor. SINASINTEC makes breathing easy, keeps head and throat clear, and protects against colds, catarrh, hay fever and sinus infection. Try this out. Get a large bottle of SINASINTEC from your druggist and use it in warm water as directed. Say it—Sinus-Stop-It.

HOW TO STOP A COLD
QUICK AS YOU CAUGHT IT

4 New Method Doctors Everywhere Are Advising

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nourishments. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICK-EST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drugstore.

STRICT ECONOMY
In changing our tax raising methods from the antiquated property tax to a sale and gross income tax, we must not lose sight of the great necessity for drastic reduction in the cost of all government. This is something that many people, including the politicians, apparently seem so willing to forget.

Governmental costs must be lowered to a point where the saving will begin to compare favorably with what we are now spending to provide for the unemployed. Many tax collecting units have already borrowed years in advance on anticipated revenues. Such a practice cannot always continue. Some day these loans from the banks and the government will have to be repaid.

It makes no difference what means we pursue in extracting the tax dollar from the pockets of the tax-paying public, there is always a limit to their ability to shoulder the load. Only strict economy in all matters of government cost, local, state and national, will prevent the saddling of enormous debts on future generations. This we have no right to do.

THE RIGHT MOVE
That the State of Michigan will before long meet at least in part its debts to the counties for treatment of indigent patients in county tuberculosis sanatoriums now seems probable. Governor Comstock has voiced definite approval, and steps are being taken to include the item in the current budget.

To the State at large, this decision carries a very real and a very personal meaning. It means that institutions from Detroit to the mining country of the Upper Peninsula will be able to keep their patients under treatment. Thousands of sick people, suffering from a communicable disease, will not be dumped helter-skelter upon their home communities to spread disease whenever and wherever they move.

The people of Michigan, who know the havoc tuberculosis can spread and the woe it can cause when it is allowed to go its way unmolested, will approve this policy as much as they would a similar policy to keep criminals isolated in prisons and the insane in hospitals.

FARMERS CAN SECURE LOANS ON LIVESTOCK

County Agent Mellencamp Will Furnish Necessary Blanks

Application blanks for loans on livestock can be obtained from the county agricultural agent. Some Charlevoix county farmers already have applied. The loans will be made by the Regional Agricultural Credit corporations. Michigan is in region No. 7, with headquarters at Minneapolis.

Applicants for loans must indicate on the blanks their resources and liabilities. Under resources are such items as cash on hand, accounts and loans due, farm products, livestock (not to be mortgaged), farm implements and machinery, farm land cultivated and for grazing, farm buildings and improvements, and other real estate, including owned in cities. Liabilities include accounts payable, chattel mortgages, real estate mortgages, other indebtedness, liability as endorser to accommodate others on notes, bonds or contracts, and unpaid taxes.

The interest rate is 6½ to 7 per cent.

When a pending farm loan is enacted, raspberry growers will also be able to get crop production loans to enable them to buy baskets for marketing next summer's crop. They may each borrow up to $100, secured by a mortgage on the crop. The basket manufacturer will give a discount for cash which will more than pay for the interest on the loan.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

ALL TROUT STREAMS ARE ORDERED OPEN

Order Affects Many Feeder Streams Closed Past Five Years

An order which will open every stream in the State to trout fishing this year was issued Friday by the State conservation commission. The action affects several hundred small "feeder" streams which have been closed for nursery purposes the last five years.

The commission feels that because its field force has been reduced the department would be unable to properly enforce the law. Some of these streams may later be closed if the commission determines such necessity.

AT THE MOVIES

Warner Baxter, Miriam Jordan, John Boles Have Leads in Fox Picture

Warner Baxter, popular screen star, is said to have the most powerful character role of his career in his latest Fox picture, "Six Hours To Live," which opens Saturday at the Palace theatre. Adapted from the original story, "Auf Wiedersehen," by Gordon Morris and Morton Bartheaux, this picture presents Baxter in the role of an international diplomat, standing firmly in the face of ruin and death, in defense of his country at a disarmament conference.

"Six Hours To Live," directed by William Dieterle, marks the screen debut of Miriam Jordan, beautiful young English girl recently recruited from the Broadway stage. She is said to be generously endowed with that illusive charm which distinguishes the more successful stars, and studio executives are confident that this unusual vehicle will place her within the realm of stardom. John Boles has a featured role and figures very prominently in the denouement of the story.

The Pythian Sisters will give a bridge party at the K. of P. hall, Saturday evening, February 18. Admission 15 cents.—Adv. 701.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, is planning a benefit dance at the high school gymnasium on Friday evening, February 24th, if the hall can be secured for that date. Definite announcement of time and place has been left until next week, as arrangements could not be completed at this time. The admission fee for the dance will be some article or articles, either of food or clothing, that can be given to the needy of the community. It is hoped that the use of the hall, lights and music will be donated so that no expense will be incurred.

Legionnaires of Charlevoix and their friends are also looking forward to Legion night at the Men's club, next Monday night, at the M. E. church parlors, to another stage card party at the Legion home (date of which will be later announced) and to the visit of Department Commander Gilmore at Potoskey, March 27th.

The Red Cross flour will be stored from now on in that part of the Powers building formerly occupied by Emery's Men's Shop.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The young people of the church will again have charge of both Sunday services. We believe we are safe in saying that they will be equally as interesting and profitable as those conducted last week, which were highly praised by all.

10:30—Morning worship. Miss Pearl Smith, leader.

11:45—Sunday school.

7:00—Evening worship. Ty Kirby, leader.

Mid-week service Wednesday at 7:30.

Women's Missionary will be held Wednesday at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Milner.

SMELT SCHOOLS REPORT-ED OFF STOVER CREEK

Presence of Fish Indication of "Run" There This Spring

Evidence that Stover creek will be one of the many streams of this district furnishing a smelt "run" this spring was discovered Sunday, according to reports.

Local anglers fishing through the ice on Lake Charlevoix off the mouth of the stream reported seeing huge schools of smelt almost continuously, and quite a large number were caught by hook and line. Indications of a spawning "run" are usually heralded by large schools of these small fish congregating off the mouth of the stream, sometimes several weeks before the actual "run" starts.

While general predictions have been made that spawning would be early this year because of mild weather, conditions the past week have altered the situation largely, and with ice becoming thicker in the lake all the time, the spring break-up may be considered far distant at the present time.

Plans of the Charlevoix Sportsman's club to facilitate dipping in Stover creek, located just outside the south city limits, are to sheet-pile a new channel entering Lake Charlevoix on a straight line, and construction of a pool some distance upstream from the mouth to allow regulation of the water flow.

FARMERS FORCE SALE AT REDUCED PRICES

Large Group Near Ithaca Bid $3.08 for Mortgaged Goods

A crowd of 1,000 angry farmers held a Federal official prisoner near Ithaca late last Wednesday, while they were bidding $3.80 for the mortgaged livestock and farm tools of Roy Marzoff.

The farmers seized Peter A. Holman, 40, United States treasury official and receiver of the defunct Ithaca National bank, holder of the mortgage, when he arrived on the Marzoff farm three miles from Ithaca.

After the sale, they compelled him to accept the $3.80 and sign a release of the $900 mortgage. When Holman informed them the mortgage note was in the bank, the farmers forced A. A. Borsum, clerk, to get it from the vault and turned it over to Marzoff.

SHOW NEW FORD V-8 AT NORTHERN GARAGE

New 1933 Model Embodies Many Improvements Over Last Year

The first of the new Ford V-8 cylinder, 112-inch wheelbase motor cars are being displayed here in the show-rooms of the Northern Auto company.

The new V-8 is the largest and most powerful Ford ever built. It has new and distinctively modern lines, a most attractive front end, longer wheelbase, larger and roomier bodies, faster acceleration, increased power and speed and is exceptionally economical in operation. With its 75-horsepower, V-8 engine, the New Ford is capable of a sustained speed of 80 miles an hour.

The styling of the 14 body types expresses the new mode in motor car building. The modern note is found in the sloping Vee radiator grill, the skirted fenders, newly-designed headlamps, cowl lamps and bumpers, the curve of the hoodside ventilators, the 20-degree slant of the windshield, the curved roof header, the reverse curve of the rear quarter and the backward sweep of the apron masking the gasoline tank.

The new all-steel bodies are materially wider, almost a foot longer and consequently much roomier. The attractive instrument panel is directly in front of the driver, with a large package compartment at the right side of the instrument board. Front seats in closed cars are fully adjustable. Interior fittings are luxurious. Options in upholstery and a wide choice of body colors are available.

HALF YEAR AUTO LICENSE IS PROPOSED

Would Permit Cars to Be Operated Until August for Split Price

Legislation which will permit more than a half million Michigan motorists to drive their autos during the next six months by paying only half of the normal license fee was presented in the Senate Friday on behalf of Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of State, by Senator Norman P. Orr, of Caro, R.

Fitzgerald asserts the bill has the approval of Governor Cocksack.

The Secretary of State's proposal is the outgrowth of the pleas of thousands of auto owners who will be unable to operate their vehicles after March 1st if they are required to pay in full for their plates. The plan calls for issuance of temporary tags which would be attached to the 1932 licenses and would be sold for half of the regular fee.

They would be honored until August 1st when the motorists would be required to pay the remaining half fee and then would receive their 1933 plates.

TO MOTHERS whose children won't EAT

Nature knows best. Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite. When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children a constipating, cathartic that drains the system. California syrup of figs is all the "medicine" they require.

Specialists will tell you that a sluggish appetite almost always means the child has a sluggish colon. Correct this condition called stasis, and see how quickly a listless, drooping boy or girl begins to eat—and gain! The only "medicine" such children seem to need is pure, undiluted fig syrup.

Children who get syrup of figs, now and then, soon have the appetite and energy of young animals! They keep well and avoid colds and sluggish spells.

Nature never made a finer laxative for children; and they all love the wholesome, fruity flavor of the real California syrup of figs. It's purely vegetable, but every druggist has it all bottled, with directions. Begin with it at once. The very next day, your child will be eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the syrup of figs a few days and see amazing improvements in appetite, color, weight, and spirits.

The promises made by the bottlers of California Syrup of Figs are true, and it will do the same for you. It's genuine CALIFORNIA. Don't accept substitutes.

LILLIE M. SAUNDERS

"June," said Mrs. Dennis sharply ever pretty the silver may be. Now is the time when she is supposed to be in training for home-making. She is a sensible girl with good taste and judgment. Should she not be allowed to exercise it? Should she not be allowed to choose her own clothes, too, or part of them at least, and to go with you when you are buying the others?"

"No, you can't. I want them on the buffet, and I'm going to have them there. This is my house and I'm boss here, yet awhile."

"All right, mother," said June, flushing with embarrassment at being spoken to so sharply before Mrs. Drake, a caller whom she liked very much. She left the room as quickly as possible after her evening task of drying the dinner dishes was finished.

When she was out of hearing, her mother, still busy with the evening work, said to her friend, "June has reached the age when young people now-a-days want to run everything. I don't propose to be bossed by my own daughter, as some mothers that I've seen are. I insist on buying her clothes, too. She doesn't always like them, but she can wear them or do without."

Mrs. Drake hesitated, then said, "Since you have opened the subject, would you care to know what I think?"

"Why, yes," replied Mrs. Dennis. "Very well, then, I think you are making a mistake. June should be made to feel that this is her home, too. She has seen how things are done in the homes of her little friends, whose mothers follow modern practices and she has learned at school the accepted way of doing things. She knows it is considered old-fashioned to have the buffet loaded down, how-

"I have noticed that boys and girls who are constantly rebuked of the fact that the home in which they live belongs to their parents, leave it just as quickly as they possibly can for what they hope will be a home of their own. This often results in unsatisfactory early marriages, many of which end in the divorce court. If young people are made to feel that the home in which they live belongs in part to them while it is their home, they are not going to leave it without thoughtful consideration."

Mrs. Dennis was silent a moment, then said, "Thank you, I will think this over."

REGION CLERGYMEN
AT MEETING MONDAYAddressed by Rev. Louis Bradford, Oxford Group Specialist

Ministers of the north Traverse group, together with their wives, met in the local Methodist church for an all day meeting Monday. The ministers' wives were urged to be present, but no other laymen were included in the plan.

The meeting was called for special consideration of the Oxford Group Movement that is attracting so much attention throughout the world today. All lunched together at one o'clock with local laymen at the Sugar Bowl, where the proprietor arranged the guests to attend as a social party and served a hearty lunch.

The forenoon was given over to Rev. W. W. Hurd, who had been invited to compare the original doctrine and program of Wesley with the modern movement. The pastor gave a very thorough and critical comparison of the two great movements, advanced some important criticisms of the newer one, showed how most of the differences were in secondary details only and more human methods of approach. The speaker was highly complimented on his address and was requested to publish it in the church paper of the Methodists.

The afternoon was devoted to a conference and discussion, conducted by the Rev. Louis Bradford of Wooster, Ohio, a member of the Oxford group that has been working in various American cities. He followed the usual plan of that work with one of the "quiet hours" for which the movement is so famous.

He will be working in Petoskey for some time. The latest news is that the oldest son of Harvey Firestone, the son-in-law of Franklin Roosevelt, and others in similar position have been won to the work, and that Henry Ford is greatly fascinated and actively interested though not joined yet.

HOW THE STATE
GETS YOUR CASH

For the last fiscal year it turned into the State treasury $5,580,055.37 collected under the inheritance tax law. It took $7,848,290.03 from the realtors in taxes. The telephone companies paid $3,606,014.99. A premium tax of $3,532,849.68 was collected.

Automobile drivers paid a gasoline tax that netted the State $21,572,229.79. The total gas tax collected amounted to $23,315,300.63, but some of this had to be refunded and the collection cost is taken out of the gross total.

In addition to this tremendous amount paid by automobile owners, they turned over to the State treasury another $18,792,129.76 for a right to drive their car. This amount came from the weight tax.

The gas tax was jumped from one to two cents, then to three cents and the heavy weight tax was placed on cars for the purpose of hard surfacing within a few years the main trunk line roads of the State.

The roads have been completed but still the millions pour into the State treasury from the pockets of the automobile owners.

New automobile buyers during the last fiscal year paid the State $441,873.00 for certificates of titles. People who lost their automobile plates paid $32,758 for new ones. Automobile owners who had their titles transferred paid $189,641.

So the story goes on the grand total of $124,721,083.30. The $4,842,325 men, women and children of Michigan paid it. No matter if some of it came from the corporation tax or the telephone tax, every tax is passed on to the individual.

That same individual is now looking to Lansing for a relief from this tremendous tax total. He does not want a new tax and he cannot figure out why the State keeps up a weight tax that officials said six or seven years ago should be cut in two, why a three cent gas tax is maintained, why a corporation tax is passed on to the individual, in view of the fact that all the buildings have been built, that were needed and highways completed. This is the reflection of pub-

Juniper Oil is pleasant to take in the form of HURKETS, the bladder physic, also containing buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels but a 25c box from any drug store. lie opinion coming to Lansing verbal and by letter.

Governor Comstock and members of the Legislature are fully aware of the public demand. To their credit it can be said they are giving most attentive consideration and out of it may come not only the entire elimination of a real estate tax, but a reduction of both the weight and gas tax.

Already the demand for a cut in the gas tax is being reflected in thousands of little metal plates attached to automobile license plates with the printed words "Reduce The Gas Tax." The number of these plates on automobiles is increasing daily and before the present session of the Legislature is over, there is pretty sure to be serious consideration of a cut in the gas tax as well as the weight tax.

It will be noted from the above figures that Michigan farmers, workmen and other automobile owners paid into the State treasury a total of over $42,781,702 during the State's last fiscal year, almost twice as much as was collected from the general property tax. This money came collectively from the gas tax, weight tax, certificates of titles, etc. It is pointed out that if these taxes are not reduced and if a sales tax should be imposed, it would add many more millions of taxes to the burden now being carried by the automobile owner.

Automobile dealers, grocers, druggists, and all other retailers under the administration bill now before the Legislature, are supposed to pay a three per cent tax on all sales they make. If you buy an automobile costing say $600 you now pay into Uncle Sam's pockets a sales tax of $18. Under the sales tax bill before the Michigan State Legislature in addition to the $18 on a $600 car you pay Uncle Sam, you will pay another $18 into the State treasury, providing of course the bill becomes a law. On the groceries you buy, the consumer under the proposal would pay a three per cent tax. Public utilities and amusement places would be required to pay a similar tax.

Michigan taxpayers should not get the impression that because the Legislature is not turning out new laws daily, that it is not doing anything. Never before did a group of lawmakers have such vital questions to consider. Each day and night committees of the Senate and House are at work delving into the details of proposed new legislation that will bring tax relief.

One legislative group is insisting that the economy program be worked out before there is talk of new taxation. The Hartman-Brown economy recommendations so far remain the only ones before the Legislature.

Governor Comstock has let it be known that he favors the recommendation of Representatives Hartman and Brown relative to no State aid for fairs during 1933. In fact the program may go so far as to eliminate the State fair for the present year.

There is some talk around legislative halls of a bill being passed to require lumber companies that cut timber this year on land where no taxes have been paid, to turn over to the State some sort of security on the lumber taken from the delinquent tax lands. While it is not known that the Stack Lumber company, of which the auditor general is one of the chief owners, plans to cut lumber on its thousands of acres of delinquent tax lands in the Upper Peninsula, if it did so, the State would under the proposed legislation have some sort of protection. In past years it has been the practice of some lumber companies to skin the timber lands and then turn back to the State the de-nuded timber land. The Stack Lumber company owes in Schoolcraft county alone over $10,000 of delinquent taxes on timber lands.

Club Work

It is hoped that our 4-H Club program can be enlarged this year to include sheep clubs. This project fits in very nicely with the farm program being carried on on many Charlevoix county farms. A very small beginning was made last year but instead of two or three members in each project, we hope to have at least 20 or 25 for the year 1933. The expense will be very small and the development of a good flock takes place rather rapidly.

The project starts the first of March with a bred ewe. A club member from that date will accurately keep record of all feed and other costs that enter into the sheep business. The boy will soon have an ewe and lamb or lambs with which to work for the next five or six months. The sheep and lamb will then be shown at the summer achievement day which will be held sometime in September.

We have a large number of hall-tins and other literature that will be of great help to the boys and girls in the care of their flocks. Within the next two or three weeks it is hoped that we will have three or four club organized. Any boy or girl in the county between the ages of 10 and 20 is cordially invited to join this project. Wherever possible we would like to have several clubs scattered throughout the county so that the club members will not need to go outside of their own community. If you have a boy or girl who is interested, kindly notify your county agent who will be glad to see you and endeavor to interest other boys and girls in the same community. Remember the club should be organized by the first of March.

MASONS WILL "BURN" MORTGAGE ON TEMPLE

Celebrate Retirement of Debt at Meeting Next Tuesday

Extensive plans are being made for the annual meeting of the Masonic Building & Loan association, scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 21st.

This meeting has a great significance for Charlevoix Masons, inasmuch as part of the ceremonies for the evening will include "burning the mortgage" which the organization has been retiring since their new building at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets was constructed many years ago.

A chicken dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, to be followed by an extensive program which is now being planned by the entertainment committee. All members of the association and their families are invited to the meeting.

Those planning to attend are requested to make reservation in advance with H. R. Fowler, secretary of the association.

MICHIGAN BELL MAKE REPORT OF BUSINESS

Earnings Fail to Meet Dividends, Telephone Decrease

Ratio of net earnings of the Michigan Bell Telephone company for 1932, to the cost of plant and other assets, was 2.60 per cent, compared with 3.62 per cent the previous year. The company failed by $636,500 to earn the dividends of $2.50 per share paid on its stock during the year, according to the report of the company's operations for 1932 presented by Burch Fowler, president, at the annual meeting of the stockholders held Thursday, February 9.

The report also shows a net loss of 105,495 telephones during the year, excluding purchases, sales and transfers. Installations totaled 150,560 and disconnections were 256,055. At the end of the year the company had 527,710 telephones in service. Exchange messages declined nearly 11 per cent, and toll messages more than 22.5 per cent.

The February meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, postponed last Thursday because of weather conditions, will be held at the high school gymnasium Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The program as originally planned will be carried out with Dr. Howard McCloskey, eminent U. of M. professor, speaking on the topic, "Your Child Is Different."

The evening's musical program will include a group of original numbers by several members of the high school thirty class, a piano group by Miss Lohi Fessenden, and a trombone solo, "Florida," by Carl Bentlie.

AIR MAIL SERVICE IS RESUMED AGAIN

Plane Snow-Bound Four Days Makes Many Trips This Week

Airmail service between Charlevoix and Beaver Island was resumed Monday after being held up for several days because of weather conditions.

After making two trips last Wednesday, the plane was forced to return to the island by a heavy snow storm and subsequent storms and unfavorable flying conditions kept it grounded until Monday.

The week-end accumulation of mail was cleared up by several crossings Monday, and four round trips were made Tuesday to carry mail, passengers and freight to and from the island.

BANKING HOLIDAY CALLED IN STATE

"The Ford company refused to make such an agreement and the result was necessity of a reorganization."

"Had the agreement gone through the three automobile manufacturers would have permitted the R. F. C. to cover its loan and the smaller depositors would have been paid off in cash. The Motor concerns would have taken over the remaining $2,000,000 in unliquidated assets."

"The suspension of banking was ordered to give this company and other banks opportunity to effect an orderly reorganization."

"Unless it had been declared the larger depositors who were informed in advance of the condition of the institution would have withdrawn their money and left the smaller ones holding the bag."

"I understand that the deposit of the Ford company in the Guardian Trust Co. was about $7,500,000."

"That is the real inside story of the affair and I want the public to know it. I do not think that it would be given out by the bankers."

The governor, who spent the entire night in conference with the Detroit banking officials and who slept only three hours Tuesday morning, will confer with R. E. Reichert, State banking commissioner, in an effort to formulate emergency banking plans.

"If I had not ordered a suspension of banking," the executive said, "none can tell what the result would have been. The board of directors of the Guardian group had already decided to close their doors Tuesday and the effect upon banking in the State in general would have been disastrous."

"One result, however, was inevitable; the big fellows would have rushed in to take out their money."

Possibility that the eight day banking holiday "might be modified in a day or so after the banks get straightened out," was made by Gov. Comstock Tuesday morning as he prepared to return to the capitol.

John P. Wilson Buys "Malabar X," Bermuda Race Winner

John P. Wilson, Chicago attorney and well known Charlevoix summer resident, has purchased the famous Ahlen sailing schooner "Malabar X," winner of last year's race to Bermuda and one of the outstanding boats of her type in the country.

The boat will be sailed to Chicago early this spring for entrance in the Mackinac Island classic. It is rumored that several other eastern craft will also enter the Mackinac Island race. It is understood Mr. Wilson will make Charlevoix the home port for his new craft for the summer season at least.

The Wilson family are well known sailing enthusiasts, having a boat in the famous Charlevoix "Six Meter" fleet.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Charlevoix and Ironton

"Life is not a little bundle of big things, but a big bundle of little things."—Morrison.

In the teachings of Christ He speaks of the Kingdom as yet to come and foretold the activities that were to bring it about. He thus revealed the way to ultimately realize His ideals in human history and upon earth. A Kingdom high is realized; in process of realization is still in the future; not come, Jesus does not cast doubt upon the fact that the universe is under the government of God. But He sees anarchy instead of order, a Kingdom not recognized, not yielded to, unrealized as to its benefits and glories. He expressed His thoughts in the words of Matthew: "When He saw the multitude, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd." Next Sunday "Existing Anarchy."

What is news? One said, "If a man bites a dog, that is news." In the religious world it wouldn't be news if the women urged their husbands to go to church, but if the men would suddenly challenge the women to a contest of church attendance who wouldn't glance up from their jig-saw puzzle. But the men whose wives form the Mary Brewster Circle have thrown down the gauntlet to the ladies and the manner in which it was snatched up indicates some real activity from that quarter.

Beginning Sunday, February 26, a friendly rivalry in church attendance will be conducted among the Circles. There will be three Sundays to be known in this order: Mary Brewster Sunday, Pilgrim Sunday, and South Side Sunday.

The Sunday school banquet held Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Rife's Sunday school class of girls, was a grand success in attendance, eats and entertainment. Mr. Young was present with his pictures and the pictures of the Sunday school in motion was quite unique. Thanks Earl.

STATE-WIDE HOLIDAY WILL END THURSDAY

Comstock Proclamation Lists Provisions to Protect Michigan Financial Institutions

Michigan's absolute moratorium on banking will end Thursday morning.

Climaxing a week of conferences with the state's financial leaders, Gov. Wm. A. Comstock Tuesday afternoon issued a supplementary proclamation which will permit banks to open after Wednesday's legal holiday to do a limited business.

Withdrawals will be limited to a fixed percentage of deposits and the banks will be permitted to carry on vital business transactions.

Proclamation

The governor's proclamation reads: "I do hereby proclaim that all banks, trust companies and financial institutions conducting a banking or trust business within the State of Michigan prior to the holiday shall be open for the transaction of business at the regular opening hour on the morning of Thursday, Feb. 23, provided, however, that such business shall be limited to the following functions:

"1.—Reserve deposits shall be available to depositing banks and may be drawn without creating a preference.

"2.—Payments to depositors in either commercial or savings departments shall be limited in amount to the proportions the total individual deposits bears to the cash on hand, available reserves in banks and United States government bonds in each such department. Such payments shall only be allowed for necessary purposes such as payrolls, created on and after Feb. 23, necessary living expenses, tax payments or other obligations of the State of Michigan and subdivisions thereof, or to the federal government, drafts with bill of lading attached. Reconstruction Finance Corporation monies on deposit for welfare purposes, and such other purposes necessary for the ordinary conduct of business, providing always that no depositor shall be preferred as against any other depositor.

"Banking institutions may take new deposits but such deposits shall be completed as trust deposits, and there shall be open in each such institution a trust deposit department. Such deposits shall be payable on demand without interest and held solely for the repayment of such deposits.

"4. Bank and trust companies acting in a fiduciary capacity may perform their duties and discharge their obligations in such capacity, provided that in the exercise of such functions debtor and creditor relationships shall not be involved.

"5. Such modification of the foregoing limitations as may be necessary in extraordinary cases may be allowed with the consent of the state banking commissioner, provided, however, that no depositor shall be preferred as against any other depositor.

"6. The bank holiday heretofore proclaimed by me shall continue to the extent subject to the foregoing limitation until otherwise ordered by me."

Local Banks Will Open

The Charlevoix State Savings and Charlevoix County banks will be open Thursday morning. Officers of the two institutions were unable to state as yet to press Wednesday afternoon, however whether or not they would institute restrictions as outlined in Gov. Comstock's proclamation. Neither had enough time to give the matter sufficient study to make a definite statement.

The proclamation, while possibly appearing to favor financial institutions, in reality provides protection to depositors. Continued confidence will be necessary to allow time for the situation to be worked out satisfactorily to all concerned. Charlevoix citizens must give that confidence to benefit themselves.

M. C. TO ABANDON EAST JORDAN LINE

The State public utilities commission has issued an order permitting the Michigan Central Railroad Co. to abandon its East Jordan branch line. The order affects 36.31 miles of the company's line in Crawford, Otsego and Antrim counties.

THE INN HOTEL WILL OPERATE NEXT SUMMER

M. H. Turner Heads Former Operating Staff in Management

The Pere Marquette Railway company announces that its summer hotel, The Inn at Charlevoix, will open the latter part of June for the 1933 summer season.

The operation of The Inn, Charlevoix's largest hotel, was for over a quarter century under the direction of the late A. I. Creamer, and to perpetuate the high standard of service to its clientele, inaugurated and maintained by Mr. Creamer, the hotel and vast acreage of playground and other properties will be under the management of M. H. Turner and associates.

Returning to Charlevoix early in May with Mr. Turner after the close of the season at the Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, N. C., will be Associates William E. Flynn, Dan C. Walsh, Lee McDonald, Leon M. York and James T. Flynn, all members of The Inn managing force last summer.

KIPMEN DEFEATED HARBOR QUINTET

COMPLETE SCHEDULE AT EAST JORDAN FRIDAY NIGHT

Class C and D Teams of Region Go to Boyne Next Week for District Tournament

Charlevoix high school cagers complete their 1932-33 schedule Friday night when they take on Coach Abe Cohen's East Jordan quintet at East Jordan. A game between the two teams at Charlevoix was cancelled by East Jordan due to storm conditions. The Kipmen gained a more secure hold on second position in the Tip of Michigan class C conference last Friday night by handling Harbor Springs a second defeat. Boyne City, twice conqueror of Charlevoix, heads the conference with an unblemished record, and appears headed for their first championship in several years. Charlevoix now needs only to win from East Jordan to clinch the runner-up position in pre-tournament competition.

Harbor Game Close

The Harbor Springs contest Friday night was a close one all the way, with the Emmet county aggregation putting up an anticipated stubborn resistance on their own court. Scoring was short in the first half with Charlevoix leading 9 to 6 at the intermission. Harbor substituted freely in the final two periods in an attempt to find a winning combination, but the Kipmen's bewildering offense, coupled with some superior work on both long and short shots, carried them through to victory.

Harbor seconds nosed out Charlevoix reserves 13 to 11 in a close preliminary.

Tournament Next Week

Interest of northern Michigan basketball fans will shift next week to Boyne City, scene of the district class C and D tournament. Boyne, with no defeats and the advantage of playing on their own court, look like top-heavy favorites to win the class C title. Several class D schools have top-notch teams and it looks as though the keenest competition will be in this class.

Northern Michigan athletic officials will gather at Boyne on Saturday of this week to draw for positions. The tournament dates are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 2, 3 and 4.

"BURN" MASONIC TEMPLE MORTGAGE

APPROPRIATE CEREMONY CONDUCTED TUESDAY NIGHT

Occasion Fittingly Observed at Masonic Building Association 21st Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Masonic Building association, held Tuesday evening at the Masonic temple, was sung by the assemblage as flames reduced the mortgage to ashes.

With fitting ceremony, a mortgage upon which the final payment of an original $11,000 indebtedness had been met, was "burned." An appropriate song, paying tribute to those whose untiring efforts were responsible for success of the project, was sung by the assemblage as flames reduced the mortgage to ashes.

Arthur L. Fitch, who, together with John Ackert, S. M. Rose, W. H. Miller, F. H. Wilkinson, F. G. Hines, F. M. Glassford, D. S. Payton and Charles E. See, were original members of the association founded Feb. 17, 1912, was master of ceremonies.

The program, following the banquet, included invocation by Rev. G. R. Parker; singing of "American"; introduction of the master of ceremonies by W. H. Miller, president of the association trustees since its inception; history of the association given by H. R. Fowler, secretary-treasurer; reminiscences by S. M. Rose; tribute from Blue Lodge by Lance Neff, worthy master; tribute from Royal Arch by H. A. Craig; tribute from Eastern Star by Mrs. W. H. Miller; "burning of the mortgage"; and address by Louis B. Anderson, Northport, Most Worthy Master of the Michigan Grand Lodge.

Mr. Fitch paid special tribute to W. H. Miller, whose efforts contributed much to the project's success. A communication from D. S. Payton, another loyal member now residing in California was read, and following a suggestion offered at the meeting, the ashes of the mortgage will be sent to him as a token of appreciation.

In addition to the regularly outlined program, many members contributed remarks. The meeting was a fine tribute to the successful conclusion of a project every member of the order is justly proud.

At a business session following the program, H. A. Craig was elected president of the association for 1933, succeeding Olaf Nordrum. H. W. Miller, A. L. Fitch and D. S. Payton were chosen to succeed themselves as trustees for three years. A. L. Livingston was elected to the auditing committee to succeed himself, and the report of H. R. Fowler, secretary-treasurer, was heard.

PROPOSES A DELAY ON AUTO LICENSES

New Bill Would Postpone Collection Until June 1st

Postponement of auto license collections until June 1st was proposed in a bill offered Thursday by Rep. Francis D. Murler of New Troy, D. The measure proposes that the sale of plates start in June instead of the first of the year, beginning next June.

Persons who have already purchased 1933 plates would be permitted to use them during the first six months of 1934 upon payment of half the regular fee.

ICE CROSSING REQUIRED TWO DAYS

TRIP BY LOCAL MEN WAS FULL OF DANGERS

Harl Schneider and William Gibson Take Lower Wings to Repair Plane at Beaver Island

Harl Schneider, Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail pilot, William Gibson, local resident, and Joe Stone, Indian mail carrier of Cross Village, arrived at Beaver Island late Monday night after a hazardous 36-hour trip across Lake Michigan ice from Cross Village.

The trip was made with a horse and sleigh to transport two lower wings for Schneider's plane, damaged two weeks ago taking off from the Beaver Island landing field. The party left Cross Village early Sunday morning. Due to numerous cracks causing long detours, and slow progress over extremely rough ice, the men found themselves in the vicinity of Sillalakee lighthouse near nightfall Sunday. They spent the night there.

Monday morning the journey was resumed again and it was not until late that day they reached Garden Island. They were found by a searching party from the Beaver Island coast guard station which had gone there by motor truck in an attempt to locate the men.

The distance between Cross Village and Beaver Island is 26 miles, and under ordinary conditions a crossing over the ice would have been made in less than a day. Some anxiety was felt locally when the men did not reach the island late Monday and constant telephone communication with the Beaver Island coast guard station was maintained until their safe arrival was assured.

William Gibson, former Beaver Island resident, and for several winters mail carrier from St. James to Cross Village, stated the trip was one of the most trying in his experience. Heavy winds had caused the ice to crowd and pile up, and the party was forced to detour many miles by cracks from two to several feet across. Drifting snow had filled many of these places, making the travel dangerous and uncertain. The horse broke through several times.

Since Schneider's plane was damaged, service between the Beavers and mainland has been maintained by his brother, Clarence, who brought a Ryan cabin plane here to substitute until repairs could be made to the other machine.

STATE DELEGATES CHOSEN TUESDAY

REPUBLICANS HELD COUNTY CONVENTION HERE

Pledge Confidence in State and National Republican Policies--Instruct Delegates

Meeting in convention at the court house here Tuesday afternoon, Charlevoix county Republicans elected delegates to the state convention, adopted resolutions pledging faith in Republican state and national policies and support of Republican candidates for office at the spring primary election.

The meeting was harmonious and business was conducted with promptness and precision.

Delegates elected to the state convention at Grand Rapids on Tuesday, February 28th, were: Herman C. Meyer, Boyne Falls; John M. Harris, Boyne City; John J. Parter, East Jordan; Dr. F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix; D. D. Tibbitts, now of Lansing. Alternates chosen were: Mrs. Matt Armstrong, Charlevoix; Roy Scott, Boyne City; Samuel E. Rogers, East Jordan; Gerald F. Bush, Charlevoix; Frank Wangeman, Eveline township.

The above delegates were instructed to cast their votes at Grand Rapids for Howard C. Lawrence as chairman of the state central committee; Grover C. Dillman as highway commissioner; Webster B. Pierce as superintendent of public instruction; George M. Clark as chief justice, and John S. McDonald as justice of the Supreme Court.

The spring election, for which hard Democratic and Republican forces are preparing, is not only a question of fact affair in which Republican power is displayed in its greatest weight. The situation may be different this year, however, because of the Democratic upheaval last fall.

For the Republicans it will be their last stand to retain representation in the state administration. For the Democrats it will be the opportunity to take full advantage of the sentiment of the voters as expressed last November—if the sentiment continues to exist. Republican office holders likely will all be re-nominated. Democrats will hold their convention next Friday at Grand Rapids with spirited contests in sight for many of the offices to be filled. (Continued on page 8.)

PTA MEETING WAS OF ESPECIAL INTEREST

Large Attendance at February Session Thursday Night

A capacity attendance of school patrons were present at the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Thursday evening, and from a point of interest, the program was the most outstanding the association has ever offered.

Dr. Howard McCluskey, professor of education at University of Michigan, gave a wonderfully enlightening address on the topic, "Your Child Is Different."

While his address was the high spot of interest on the evening's program, musical numbers by the high school theory class showed remarkable ability. Miss Lora Fossenden entertained with a fine group of piano numbers, and Carl Beattie's trombone solo, "Florida," of his own composition, was well received.

SALES AND INCOME TAXES FACE HARD FIGHT

Moore Delinquent Tax Bill Branded As An Aid to Real Estate Dealers

There will be no sales tax bill enacted by the present session of the State Legislature. There will be no income tax bill passed—not unless the administration is able to convert some of its own aggressive leaders to a belief that Michigan should have an additional tax income.

It has just become known that there is a Senate group of which Senator Francis Kulp, Democrat, of Battle Creek, apparently seems to be the leader, determined to stop any taxation legislation of any kind.

Senator Kulp is outspoken in his determination to see to it that no new tax revenues are passed on to the people of Michigan.

"Why should the people who last year paid into the State treasury nearly $125,000,000 be required to pay more? How can they pay it even if we do pass new tax laws? And I tell you here there will be no new tax bills passed by this Senate if I can stop it. I am not alone in this stand," stated Senator Kulp this week.

"Not only will we oppose any new tax plan but I am inclined to believe that some of the present taxes and licenses should be reduced. The automobile weight tax is too high. The gas tax is too high. Every tax we have got is too high. How do I know? When people can't pay their taxes, isn't that sufficient proof of the fact that taxes and licenses are too high? Yes, I realize that Governor Comstock would like to see a sales tax law passed, but I cannot and will not support any legislation of any kind that provides an additional cent of new taxes in any form. I will support every bit of legislation that comes through that tends to reduce taxation," added Senator Kulp. Senator Kulp represents the Calhoun-Branch district, being the first Democratic Senator elected from that part of the State in nearly a generation.

Right on top of the determined stand taken by Senator Kulp against the Governor's sales and income tax proposals, comes a declaration from Rep. Vernon J. Brown that he will fight to the last ditch the bill hurried through the Senate by Senator Moore of Pontiac that provides for the payment of delinquent taxes and special assessments over a period of years.

"Moore is in the Legislature representing a group of Detroit and Oakland county real estate speculators who have benefited more than any one else in the world through the sale of real estate. These speculators platted off thousands and thousands of acres of land. They sold it to the working man, to those that wanted to create homes for their families. These buyers, no longer able to keep up payments on the land, have turned it back to the real estate operators, who made a nice profit on their first transaction," states Rep. Brown.

"Now that they have repossessed this land from the little fellows who rail all they had into these lots, they have had the Senate pass a bill to provide for the payment of delinquent taxes on these lots in the years to come. All they want to do is hold these lots until times get better and they do not want to pay any taxes on them, but they want to pass that tax on to the fellow who when times get better buys these lots again. Then (Continued on page 8.)

Mrs. Clarence Heise and daughter, Beth, of Charlevoix, were guests of Mrs. Heise's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones, last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Madsen entertained the Add-More circle at their home last Wednesday evening. The evening was spent playing progressive pedro, after which delightful refreshments were served.

A group of friends surprised Mrs. Sterling Nickerson Saturday evening, honoring her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in dancing and all joined in singing "old time songs" after which a fine pot-luck lunch was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Light enjoyed entertaining a group of friends at their home last Wednesday evening, playing progressive pedro. Delightful refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fred Hull and Albert Shutz.

Funeral services of Charles Wisner, one of Norwood's respected citizens, was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mink Harris at Boyne City, with burial in the cemetery at Norwood. Mr. Wisner was a life-long citizen of Norwood and Charlevoix, and leaves many friends who will miss his presence.

Miss Marjorie Richardson entertained a group of the younger set at the town hall in Norwood Saturday evening. The evening was spent playing buncos, first prize being awarded to Miss Mary Baumbach and Glenn Lord. Booby prizes were awarded Elsie Rumesik and Archie Swartout, after which dancing was enjoyed by victrola music. Delightful refreshments were served at the close of the evening's fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Madsen received word Thursday morning of the death of Mr. Madsen's brother-in-law, R. W. Blow, whose death occurred in Winnetka. Mr. Blow's mother and his sister, Mable Blow of Eastport, and Mrs. Madsen and son, James, immediately left for Winnetka, where they attended the funeral services. Mr. Blow was born near Atwood, attending school and spending his boyhood days in this locality. Following his marriage he moved to Winnetka, where he became a prosperous business man until ill health overtook him. Mr. Blow is a highly respected citizen and will be greatly missed by friends and relatives here.

(Too late for last week!)

Ten degrees above zero Tuesday morning. Weather is moderating.

Mr. Peaslee of Charlevoix, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Rauch to Eastport Baptist church Sunday.

Blaine Wilson was a caller at the county seat Monday and saw a crazy Indian brought in from Elk Rapids.

Mrs. Fred Hodges has a new patient at her hospital, a Bohemian with a broken leg, from East Jordan.

Elmer Russell of Creswell is drawing logs into the Watkins saw mill here. The mill has quite a few logs banked.

Fishermen have a number of fish houses on Intermediate, and some pretty good catches are being made. The lake has been frozen over two months.

Sam Makel of Bay View, will close his school Friday to attend the teachers' institute at Charlevoix, as will also his cousins from Cedar River and South Milton, George and Anna Makel.

The ice is a foot thick at the head of Torch lake at Eastport and Clyde Baker is putting up some for the Eden Shores resort, also for himself. The lake appears to be frozen over the entire length now.

Mrs. Charles Briggs is improving as well as could be expected, from the injury received by fracturing her hip when she fell on the ice a few weeks ago. She is still at the Madges hospital here, as is also her son, Willard.

Mrs. Carney tripped on a house rug at her home Saturday, breaking her leg. Dr. Duffie immediately reduced the fracture and she appears to be doing nicely. She is quite an elderly lady and it will probably take quite a while to heal. She is the mother of Mr. Carney of the Torch force.

Many here were surprised to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Audrey Brower Lee at her home near Harbor Springs, Saturday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brower, formerly lived here. Audrey had graduated not long ago from the Charlevoix high school and was a very bright student. She was the only daughter of Mr. Brower's people.

The death of Mrs. Richard Gidley occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chris Robertson, north of Eastport, last Saturday. She had been ill for quite a while. Mrs. Gidley was about eighty years of age. She was an old resident of Eastport and had been making her home until recently with her son, Jim Gidley, at East Jordan. Funeral services were held from the Robertson home Monday afternoon. Funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Sidebotham, Presbyterian pastor of East Jordan. Remains were interred by the side of her husband in Bay View cemetery. Her husband preceded her in death 26 years ago.

Mrs. Charles Russell, an old resident of Creswell, near Elk Rapids, passed away at the home of her daughter, Bertha, in Detroit, last Friday. The body was brought to Sisson's funeral parlors Saturday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Lincoln at the Free Methodist church Monday afternoon at one o'clock. The former Mary Petrie, daughter of John Petrie of Echo, was born in 1864. She was a consistent christian, member of the Baptist church at Eastport. The singing was by the Free Methodist choir. Miss Minnie Osterbaum, Miss Cornet, Blaine Wilson and Glen Cornet. Remains were interred in the Lake View cemetery at Eastport. She leaves to mourn their loss, Sarah Russell, Bertha Russell Crisp, Floyd Ernest, Delbert and Lowell.

About forty men were put on the road work on the Wilkinson hill east of Eastport by the road commission, Monday. Men from Central Lake, Bay View, Eastport and Creswell are working. It is a big help to the farmers and townspeople who are out of work at the present time. The road is being widened at the bottom of the hill. It has been a very narrow place for the passing of cars and will be a great improvement to the road. Two trucks are used, the rest is all hand, pick and shovel work. Surveyors Monday were surveying for the cut on the corner at the base of the Morrow hill towards Central Lake. It starts in on the west near the Sidney Dawson residence, striking the hill at the former cut. Other corners are planned to be cut also, the Sage and Larabee corners.

The Comforts of the American Home . . .

IT IS a well-known fact that, home to home, the American household has more comforts and conveniences than that of any other nation.

In foreign lands the modernized dwelling is found only in the better sections of the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find the radio, the vacuum cleaner, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless labor-saving appliances.

There is a well-kept look about residence, store or out-buildings with an atmosphere of prosperity and content.

Did you ever stop to realize why this is so; how this condition was brought about?

It is largely due to advertising. And a big share of the credit belongs to newspaper advertising.

Stop and think how many of the foods you eat, the things you wear and other articles entering into your every-day life, you first heard of through newspaper advertisements.

You will then realize what a part they do play, or should play, in your daily life.

Read the advertisements in the newspapers regularly and thoroughly, if you are not already doing so. They mean more to you than you can tell.

WASHINGTON'S NAME

The name of Washington is intimately blended with whatever belongs most essentially to the prosperity, the liberty, the free institutions, and the renown of our country. That name was a power to rally a nation in an hour of thickening public disasters and calamities; that name shone amid the storm of war, a beacon light to guide and cheer the country's friends; it flamed too, like a meteor to repel her foes. That name, in the days of peace, was a lodestone, attracting to itself a whole people's confidence, a whole people's love and the whole world's respect.—Daniel Webster.

COURT ABOVE POLITICS

The urgent plan to nominate former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker for the Supreme Court and crowd out either Chief Justice John S. McDonald or Justice George M. Clark has proved a boomerang to its promoters and an inspiration to the friends of these two eminent jurists, who are not in politics, but are among the leading judges of the country's higher courts. Justice Clark, in his fourteen years on the bench, has made a record recognized frequently by the United States Supreme Court, and Justice McDonald has written some of Michigan's oldest decisions in many important cases. That the movement was begun without the consent of Mr. Brucker, is evident. The latter's prompt denial of any intention of becoming a candidate against either of these two outstanding members of the supreme bench is proof of that. If the Republican party hopes to rehabilitate itself in Michigan it must first throw overboard those who would invade even the sanctity of the courts to obtain their selfish ends.

— TIME TO GO SLOW

Big business is always slow to follow the trend of mass thinking. We have in mind particularly the big financial interests of the country, who could not immediately force in the unprecedented political upset of last November that a new and gigantic force had been unleashed—the power of a people to bring about a change.

The financial geniuses of the nation must have believed the storm of vengeance was being directed, not against themselves, but against the politician and his party, for they kept right on demanding their legal pound of flesh by recording the greatest number of mortgage foreclosures ever recorded in the history of this country. Now they know they made a mistake. With militant debtors everywhere banding together for mutual protection, it would not be hard to vision a time, unless a hind is called, when violent repudiation of all debts will take place.

The sensible thing to do, is for both debtor and creditor to set down and talk things over quietly and agreeably, with a view to conserving each other's interests. If the creditor is convinced the debtor is making an honest effort to meet his obligations, then the debtor should be given any reasonable extension of time in which to work out his problems. It should not be necessary for him to appeal for legislative help to secure such relief.

But no matter how lenient the lender may be, whether it be our big insurance companies, the banks, or private money lenders, there will always be a certain class of debtors who will refuse to make any decent kind of an attempt to pay.

IF YOU GET UP NIGHTS Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of RUKETS, the bladder physic, also containing kachin leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. F. J. Essenden, Druggist, Charlevoix, Mich., and J. K. Gerrie, Druggist, Bayne City, Mich., say RUKETS is a best seller.

Rather, they will rely on militant repudiation to lift their debt burden. Protection to the lender in such cases will be the refusal of any community to come to the rescue of the dishonest borrower once they are convinced of his dishonesty. Certainly he is not entitled to the help of his neighbors, or legislative immunity.

This is a time for calm and sober reflection. If the government could come to the rescue of the big insurance companies and the banks to save them from disaster, then it is not unreasonable to ask them in turn to pass a little of this help along to others in distress. We are inclined to believe that time will serve to wipe out most of our difficulties. Only disaster will follow hasty and ill-advised action. Therefore let us be patient one with another against the day when most of our present troubles will have taken wings and flown away.

JUSTICE GEORGE M. CLARK

Justice George M. Clark of the Michigan Supreme Court comes up for re-election next April 3rd. He has been twice elected by the people since his appointment in 1919 by Gov. Sleeper to succeed Justice F. C. Kuhn, deceased. Justice Clark is the "commoner" on the Michigan Supreme bench, having been promoted directly from his private practice at Bad Axe. He has become one of the nation's foremost jurists, and in 1929 the U. S. Supreme Court quoted at length Justice Clark's precedent in the famous Baltimore Railroad case. His decision in the Michigan Telephone case settled a long and expensive controversy in favor of the telephone users of this State. Probably the most famous case which established the rights of insurance policy holders, was that of the farmer who fell over a log and was frozen to death while deer hunting in Mackinac county. Deciding against the insurance company, Justice Clark held the death accidental and gave the heirs a double indemnity. His experience in the woods came in handy. This able jurist is 58 years of age, lives in Lansing and is perhaps the hardest worker among the eight able men on the Michigan Supreme Court bench.

IT TOOK COURAGE

Prompt action on the part of Gov. William A. Comstock in an hour of grave emergency prevented a financial shock that would have reverberated to all parts of the country. That he had the courage to step in and give our financial leaders time to think things over calmly, to agree on a plan of safety which they had been unable to do, is to his credit.

And the surprising part is, he found people everywhere, in all walks of life, willing to co-operate. Within a few hours after business opened on the morning of his proclamation declaring a bank holiday had been given out everything was apparently going along as usual. Main street took up where the governor left off and so far there has been but few notes of distress and these were unavoidable.

Now that most of the shouting and tumult has died away, let us hope we can proceed with some degree of security. True, we turned the corner on two wheels, but the old wagon didn't upset and we managed to keep the road. There is nothing radically wrong with our financial structure—it has withstood greater shocks—it will withstand this. We found out what co-operation will do in an emergency, so why not continue that spirit from now on in all things that touch human existence.

MANITOU ISLAND GETS LONG DELAYED MAIL

Mail service to North Manitou Island has been resumed after nearly two weeks of isolation from the mainland. Capt. Tracy Grosvener, who operates the mail boat between the island and Leland, has announced. Drift ice prevented landing of Capt. Grosvener's craft at Leland, but he landed at the Sleeping Bear coast guard station, where he turned the mail over to the coast guardmen, who transported it to Traverse City by truck.

REDUCTION OF CHERRY PRODUCTION ADVISED

Recommendation Would Bring Better Prices, Claim

Cherry growers and canners in the Grand Traverse region, which has produced as high as one-half the nation's cherry crop, are considering proposals to reduce the 1933 crop to restore profitable prices.

The program, as explained by A. J. Rogers, manager of the Michigan Cherry Growers, provides for voluntary curtailment of the crop from 80,000,000 pounds normal to 50,000,000 pounds.

Rogers revealed that he has presented the plan to 600 members of the Michigan association, as well as a number of private canners. According to the organization manager, the canners are standing side by side with growers in the curtailment plan.

"Cherry prices have dropped 64 per cent since 1930," Rogers pointed out. "At present prices growers would receive only one cent a pound for a 75,000,000 pound crop—less than the cost of production. Curtailment to a 50,000,000 pound crop should net the growers at least 2½ cents a pound."

FUNERAL FOR FRANK ZOULEK SATURDAY

Well Known Former East Jordan Resident Died Thursday

Fr. Edward F. Neubecker conducted funeral services at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for Frank Zoulek, well known former East Jordan resident, who died Thursday, February 16, at his home on State street.

Mr. Zoulek was born in Grand Traverse county, June 20, 1863. Prior to moving to Charlevoix two years ago, he operated a farm southeast of East Jordan. Ill health forced him to retire from active work and he moved to Charlevoix.

Surviving in addition to the widow is a daughter, Mrs. Orlo Richmond of Kalamazoo; two brothers residing at East Jordan; a sister living at Elk Rapids, also several nephews and nieces and a host of friends.

LEGION ACTIVITIES Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Remember the benefit dance at the gym on Friday evening of this week. Admission fee will be in the form of donated supplies that may be given to the needy. Another stung card party at the Legion home is scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 28th.

The Legion has a knock-down-and-drag-'em-out fight looming ahead of it to combat the activities of the so-called American Veterans' association, which seems to be the joint progeny of the National Economy League and the United States Chamber of Commerce, both zealous representatives and mouthpieces of the class who have swollen incomes that are sensitive to taxation. Just what sort of veterans are members of this organization it is hard to say, but they are making an impassioned appeal to the government not to give them any more of the people's money. They admit that their members accepted a substantial loan on their adjusted compensation certificates, but—apparently—they have been made to see the light and will virtuously turn down any further proffers of government money. If you want to read their advertisement (full page) you will find it in Collier's Weekly for February 25th. A more ingenious collection of falsehoods was never compiled before in any one place, unless we except the published memoirs of Baron Munchausen. The advertisement is a shining example of the old adage that "figures never lie but liars sometimes figure."

When you read all this plausible and insidious propaganda, folks, just remember this one fact—that not one penny of the money of 97 per cent of the taxpayers has ever gone to help the veteran, disabled or otherwise, through the agency of the national government. Nearly every cent has come from taxes on the swollen incomes of the "plato"—on many fortunes made during the World War out of exorbitant and illegitimate profits acquired while the boys overseas were receiving a dollar a day for enduring the tortures of hell in the trenches or marking time in a training camp while their silk-shirted brethren dragged down their twenty dollars a day in the munitions factories. Hundreds—yes, thousands of the boys who never got across are paupers today due to their voluntary service of their country. The man wounded in battle was patched up on the spot and many times never suffered any ill effects afterwards. The man not wounded, in thousands of instances, sowed the seeds of devastating disease in the war that did not develop until months and sometimes years after his service was terminated. Shall we help the first and let the latter shift for himself?

You have recently had a case right in this town of a man who served through the first terrible months of the war in the Canadian forces—one of the men who really won the war, for the war was won when the Germans were first stopped on their way to the Channel ports by the heroic little handful of British and Canadian troops. Then he was sent to Archangel in Russia on that incredibly stupid and criminal expedition against a struggling and suffering people trying to shake off the shackles of hundreds of years of oppression. He was wounded in the shoulder and pitched up and discharged as cured. But he froze his feet in the Russian trenches and the medics in their hurry forgot to look at them. Months after he returned home, trouble developed and today he lies in a nearby hospital with his leg off above the knee—a second major operation. Yet, this man was in a fair way to be utterly neglected for he could not officially prove his case to the Canadian government and the United States government disclaimed any responsibility for him, although he is a native-born American citizen. Emmet county finally took care of him.

And that's what will happen if you listen to the National Economy League and other plausibly speaking henchmen of big business. Thousands of such cases, will be shoved off on to a local county and city governments and then it will be your money that will pay the shot. Furthermore, the community will lose the benefit of the money that is now coming into it in the shape of disability benefits that isn't coming out of the pockets of its people but out of the swollen coffers of the war profiteer and his heirs. Don't let organized greed lead you astray. Sooner or later, we are coming to a death grip with it in this country and you will have to line up behind the Legion and American labor or else forge for yourself a shive chain that you will never be able to unrive.

OBITUARY

Valeria L. Nelson was born August 13, 1837, in the State of New York, being the eldest of six children born to Nancy J. and Moses Nelson. She departed this life February 13, 1933, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Amanda Lawton.

She received her education in the common schools of her native state and taught one term of school there. The family came to Michigan shortly before the Civil War, living for a time in Hillsdale and Jackson county before permanently settling at Lawrence, VanBuren county, which was her home for many years. She resumed her teaching in this State.

Mrs. Nelson came with her niece to Charlevoix county in October, 1913.

She was united in marriage to William Nelson, a Civil War veteran, July 13, 1869. No children were born to this union. Her husband's death occurred August 25, 1887. She was converted and baptized into the fellowship of the Free Will Baptist church at the age of 11 years, and remained steadfast in the faith until the end. She was an active worker in the Good Templars lodge for a number of years and joined the W. C. T. U. soon after its organization and always threw the weight of her influence against the liquor traffic. Two nieces and one nephew mourn their loss: Mrs. Amanda Lawton, Mrs. C. R. Thomas, Tustin; E. E. Branch of Grand Rapids.

For the past several years she has been a member of the local Baptist church, Rev. W. H. Rauch conducted funeral services at East Jordan.

The supper and meeting will be held at the Odd Fellow hall and the supper charge will be a nominal amount. If you are lucky, you may take home a present and someone is sure to get the grand prize. Remember the date—Wednesday evening, March 1st.

Bronchial Troubles Need Creomulsion

Bronchial troubles may lead to something serious. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Intricate Systems for Protection of Banks

Spasmodically a series of police alarms sends squads of police scurrying to some Kansas City bank, says the Star, of that city. These inadvertent calls will all center in one institution for a time, then a long period of quiescence and suddenly a storm of alarms from an entirely different bank. All the larger banks have been in this cycle.

The inadvertent alarms mark the installation of an alarm system, with which employees and officials have not become familiar. Engineering science constantly is devising new ways of making bank vaults more sensitive to unfriendly fingers or to any departure from routine. So there has been in the last few years a complete cycle of new installations, calculated to frustrate any handit invasion and particularly to warn of any unfriendly approach to the vaults in the off-duty hours.

Occasionally on a holiday a bank will be flooded with tear gas. The gas cartridges have a limited period of efficiency and the time for replacements is made an occasion for a test of the gas release system.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.

At fifty, you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and makes habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

DON'T TAKE our word for it—try Rinsol and see! Dishes almost wash themselves. Grease goes in a jiffy, even from pots and pans. China and glassware shine like new. You'll say there never were suds like Rinsol suds—for dishes, for household cleaning, for the week's wash!

Cap for cup, Rinsol gives twice as much suds as lightweight, pulled-up soaps—in any kind of water. On washday these lively suds scrub out dirt—save scrubbing. Clothes come 4 or 5 shades whiter—last longer, too, this "scrubless" way. Wonderful in washers. Get the BIG package.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellemcamp

Home Utilization of Wool More Popular

Many inquiries have come to my attention during the last month or so regarding washing and carding of wool. With wool at such a cheap price, many farm women are endeavoring to use their wool to good advantage in making quilts and blankets.

The washing of wool must be done properly if best results are to be obtained. Especially, when it comes to temperature one must be very careful. If you are interested in having some specific directions for the washing of wool, your county agent has a supply on hand, which he will be very glad to send you upon request.

An effort is being made to secure a representative from the Michigan State college to meet with several clubs of farm women throughout the county to demonstrate the carding of wool and discuss the problems that enter into the home utilization of wool. Within the next two weeks it is hoped that some definite announcement may be made.

Jersey Breeders of Northern Michigan Meet in Boyne City
Some 14 dairymen who are vitally interested in Jersey and their development in Northern Michigan attended a very important meeting in County Agent Mellemcamp's office last Friday.

H. E. Dennison, Jersey cattle club representative, and George Cooper, president of the Michigan Jersey Cattle club, were in attendance and discussed the Jersey situation in this area in some detail.

Representatives were present from Antrim, Emmet, Osego and Charlevoix counties. Plans are being formulated for the organization of a district Jersey breeders' association which will sponsor many dairy improvements such as cow rest work, calf club work, purchased sire betterment and many others. It was suggested by the farmers present that a summer show be staged in some central location in this district.

At the same time C. V. Ballard, assistant state county agent leader, met with all of the county agents from this district. These meetings are held monthly and for the purpose of keeping better informed on agricultural subjects and new developments that are constantly taking place.

Club Leaders to Hold Postponed Meeting on February 23rd
On account of the bad storm, the club leaders' training meeting scheduled for February 9th had to be postponed to February 23rd. This meeting will be held in the Boyne City gym with supper at 6:30.

A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Sylvia Wixson, state club leader, will again be present to discuss 4-H club activities in the county and to present suggestions for a more successful program. All club leaders, club officers and club boosters are urged to attend this meeting together and enjoy the splendid contacts that have already been established in the county.

with Joun Blondell. In the scene a lion leaps onto the ball room floor of the Central Park casino and scuttles the dancers in every direction. The lion used had been trained to rush from a cage at one end of the wired enclosure into another at the other end. The dancers fled through doors as the lion approached and then circled in behind him. In making a retake the lion elected to return to his original cage after having crossed the floor. The dancers fled in panic; Wally, however, lost his balance and teetered on his toes just long enough for the lion to plunge into him. The lion also lost his footing on the slippery floor and both crashed. Fortunately the lion was as frightened as Wally and he escaped with a bump. But the cameraman got the scene.

TEACHERS HERE FOR INSTITUTE

OVER THREE HUNDRED AT TRI-COUNTY MEETING FRIDAY

Talks by Prominent Educators and Program by Local Talent Made
Session Profitable One

Well over three hundred teachers from schools in Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim counties attended morning and afternoon session of the tri-county teachers' institute held here last Friday.

Assembly at the high school gymnasium, the program opened at 9 o'clock with a group of selections by the school band under direction of Robert B. Major. Dr. R. L. Lyman, professor of English, University of Chicago, followed with an address on the topic, "Establishing Habits of Efficient Workmanship." Vocal selections by the Charlevoix school chorus under direction of Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, preceded an address by Dr. Howard McCluskey, professor of education, University of Michigan, which closed the morning session.

The visiting delegates split for the opening of the afternoon program, some going to the high school gymnasium room for Dr. Lyman's address on the topic, "Problems of Teaching Oral and Written Discourse," while others heard Dr. McCluskey's talk on the topic, "Why Youth Are Misunderstood," at the high school assembly.

Of equal interest was the discussion at 2:30 o'clock by Supt. M. R. Keyworth of Hamtramck, on school finances. Mr. Keyworth pointed out the uselessness of depending upon property taxes for school maintenance. He predicted that unless legislation was passed to provide additional funds other than those from real estate taxes, the average school of Michigan would be unable to operate longer than five months. He brought to his audience the stark future of education in Michigan unless some aid is forthcoming soon, and urged every effort be put forth to aid in the situation.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The normal class felt especially favored to be invited to attend the institute last Friday. "Another step toward becoming a full-fledged teacher!"

The normal students were impartial to both Dr. Lyman and Dr. McCluskey in a vote Monday morning on which speech was enjoyed the most. Both men have such a dominant personality it is impossible to pick a "favorite."

The class has found that "time hangs heavy on their hands"—not enough to do—so they have enrolled in the "University of the Air." Among the program and lessons, so far, have been "Elementary Vocal Music" (15 lessons); "Art Appreciation" (study of 3 masterpieces); "Historical Background of Past Century Music"; "Legendary Background of English Literature," and "Lectures on Current Topics."

Two groups composed of Mr. McCann and Miss Elzinga and Miss Reidel and Mr. Dow, are "listening in" on Miss Bickings' series of broadcasts from the University of Michigan on "Teaching Music in the Elementary Schools."

The normal class are carrying on some very interesting projects in manual arts. They will be taborettes. One would think the girls of the class would be handicapped, but not at all. They are proving to be just as successful as the boys.

The valentine party given by Mr. Bussler and Mr. Thomson last Tuesday night was well attended. Everyone reported an enjoyable time.

Miss Reidel and Miss Burdick are making arrangements for the class to hear the "Questions and Answers—Washington Program," Wednesday.

Training Room

The second grade group had the fewest tardy marks in the room last month, having only one. The third grade group had four and the fifth grade five.

STATE DELEGATES CHOSEN TUESDAY

In the selection of a candidate for state highway commissioner the battle is expected to rage most fiercely. Not less than six aspirants have been mentioned for the post and others doubtless will be brought to the front before the convention adjourns.

Interest in this nomination is most keen because of the patronage it offers and its importance. Democrats will center their attack in April in an effort to dislodge Grover C. Dillman, the Republican incumbent, and will give most careful consideration to the selection of a candidate who will challenge him in the party's April ticket.

FOUR 'CASH' CROPS ARE RECOMMENDED

Farmers Told Blueberries, Horses, Turkeys, Sheep Will Pay

Four emergency cash crops were recommended by Michigan State college agricultural officials to farmers seeking sources of revenue which will produce quick profits.

Growing of blueberries was suggested to southwestern Michigan farmers by farm crops officials who said that the crop is well adapted to the soil and climate in that section of the State. They asserted that experiments have proven blueberries can be profitably grown there.

Horse breeding was recommended by the animal husbandry department.

Reports from various sections of the State show that good horses are scarce and that there is a good market for young work teams, officials of the college said.

Turkeys, if raised in medium sized flocks, are almost certain to provide ready cash to growers this year, according to the college's poultry department, if feed is grown and not purchased.

The fourth recommendation is that farmers raise good, light lambs. Michigan lambs have a reputation of being the best in the market, officials point out. They said that there is a great demand for light lambs of high quality.

NEW TAX OPPOSITION IS GROWING

These same real estate speculators will make another nice big profit," declares Rep. Brown.

"But what about the man who has paid his taxes? This Moore bill has no regard for the sacrifices he has made to meet his obligations to the State. No, the man who has paid his tax is given no consideration whatever."

"However the Moore bill does take good care of the tax title shark and it glorifies the non-tax payers. It enables the land speculators to make another fortune all over again from the same lots they have repossessed."

"We are going to fight that bill in the house to the finish and we are going to see to it that the man who pays his taxes gets the same square deal as the man who doesn't pay his taxes," state Rep. Brown. The Moore bill provides for the payment of delinquent taxes over a period of years, beginning with 1935. It also provides that no interest shall be charged on back taxes when they are re-assessed.

Michigan banking circles are recovering from the shock they received last week when Governor Comstock at the behest of the Union Guardian officials of Detroit declared an eight-day banking holiday in Michigan. Our state's recentment of the banking proclamation of the Governor has considerably dwindled. Bankers have been to Lansing to see their representatives and senators or they have written in an effort to find out just why it was that the order was of such a sweeping nature. Many of the banks remained open anyway. Governor Comstock has explained that the action was taken to prevent what he feared would have been the collapse of not only the Guardian banks, but many others as well. Such a conservative state as Michigan saw no reason to get excited over the affair and its banking business will go on as usual predict Lansing officials under the safeguards now being perfected.

Present prospects are that the State-owned cement plant as Chelsea will not be sold or junked by the State before 1935 as provided in a bill passed by the State Legislature two years ago. Rep. Carl DeLano of Kalamazoo county has introduced a concurrent resolution in the Legislature asking for an inquiry into the present status of the cement plant with the idea of again placing it in operation for the manufacture of cement for State highway purposes.

Rep. DeLano charges that since the bill was passed to abolish the State owned cement plant, that cement companies in Michigan have greatly increased the prices of their product. In fact Secretary B. J. Abbott of the administrative board has rejected all cement bids lately because he declares they were too high. It will be recalled that it was differences between former Governor Grosbeck and the cement industry of the State over prices for cement that led to the establishment and operation of the cement plant during his administration and at a time when the State was starting on its big concrete road building program. It was during the administration of Governor Green when agitation was started to do away with the cement plant, but the bill was not passed until the Brucker administration.

Payless pay days are near at hand for the employees of Michigan. Governor Comstock from a hurried inquiry into conditions, regards the situation of the State finances as such a serious nature that he has called the various department heads in and has told them to cut the salaries and expenses to the very limit. Not only must they cut expenses, but they must cut down the number of employees in their departments. Not until they began to realize the fact that payless pay days might continue for sometime has the army of salaried State employees fully realized the seriousness of the plight of Michigan.

The U. S. postoffice department in Lansing has held that a State of Michigan check issued since the banking holiday was proclaimed is worthless. When one was presented at the postoffice the other day for postage, it was refused. The amount of the check was only $200.

From all figures available that State Treasurer Fry can secure, the deficit of the State of Michigan up to the present time of the fiscal year which ends June 30, is seven and a quarter million dollars. Before the fiscal year ends it will be millions more. Governor Comstock and his aides are trying to figure out ways to take care of this record deficit that his administration inherited.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Charlevoix and Ironton

"What was it that raised Washington to such heights of glory? It was his great talents, constantly guided and guarded by religion." Henry Cabot Lodge.

Next Sunday is "Mary Brewster Sunday." This Circle of our church is composed mostly of young married women. Before the group was named the ladies were at a loss for the proper name until one suggested the present one. This name, Mary Brewster, was adopted with enthusiasm. The ladies strenuously object to being called other than the Mary Brewster Circle, nevertheless some have the notion that Mary stands for "merry."

Last Sunday we caught the vision of two pictures. Jesus sees a Kingdom under the direction and rule of God while at the same time He sees opposition to the great ideals of God. The mission of Jesus was in order to restore the Kingdom. Next Sunday we will take up this process of recovery under the title, "The Redemptive Processes—The Cross." If you wish to know the fundamental foundation upon which Christianity rests be present next Sunday.

The Aid society will not meet next week, but the Missionary society meets next week Wednesday at the parsonage. This will be the annual "birthday meeting" instead of holding it in the church. The Club meets this week Thursday, with Mrs. Milton

OVER HUNDRED MEN ON RELIEF PROJECT

R.F.C. LOAN APPROVAL STARTS BALL ROLLING

Authority to Start Crews on Roadside Development Was Received Here Last Sunday

Over 150 men were given employment on trunk line highways of Charlevoix county this week under supervision of R. T. Davis, county maintenance superintendent, following a telephone message received by him Sunday from Cadillac, announcing that the application of Charlevoix county for R. F. C. relief money had been approved.

Immediately upon receipt of the message, Davis began at once to execute plans for an early start on the road work in an effort to provide jobs for the unemployed as soon as possible. Eighty-five started work Monday morning and this number has been increased to over 150.

While definite information is not available, it is believed the fund approved for Charlevoix county is $8,000. When application was made to the state for the money it was planned to expend this sum during February for relief work. However, notice of the approval of the application was not received until Sunday and consequently most of the first fund will be carried over for labor in March, since road work could be carried on only two days in February.

It is expected application for the March installment will be made within a few days, and that a large portion of the February allotment will be carried over for labor in March for use along with the sum anticipated for that later period.

The R. F. C. money approved for Charlevoix county is a part of an $8,000,000 loan requested by the state. Of this amount, $2,000,000 is to be expended for relief work in the upper peninsula, a similar amount for upper northern Michigan counties in the lower peninsula, and $4,000,000 for counties in the lower portion of the state.

According to the terms of the allotment, the relief money must be spent for roadside development by hand labor. The county furnishes necessary equipment and supervises the work. Charlevoix county's program will conform with the state requirements.

Crews of men are engaged on U.S. 31, M-141 and M-66. The program will include widening of grades, ditching, tree removal and thinning, etc. The men employed on the relief jobs are to be alternated every week to enable the relief funds to be as far reaching as possible and provide work over a period of time for all unemployed of the county.

Selection of men so far has been from the list provided the unemployment committee several months ago. In case there are unemployed men who have not already registered, they are requested to do so at once at the nearest registration point. Charlevoix men will fill out applications at the city information bureau on Bridge street. The unemployment committee is doing its best to provide work for all, and every deserving application will be considered.

In addition to work provided by relief funds, the regular county highway operations will be carried on distinctly separate from the relief jobs. County operations have already given employment to many during the winter months and will use as many men in the future as the different projects demand.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN BURIED LAST TUESDAY

Mrs. Ida Pulcincher Died February 18 at Traverse City

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith, Edna Smith and Harry Gibson were called to Traverse City last Tuesday to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Ida Pulcincher, who died there the previous Saturday.

Mrs. Pulcincher, who was born at Beaver Island, 77 years ago, will be remembered as a former local resident. She resided many years on a farm near this city before moving to a residence on Mason street. She moved to Traverse City about ten years ago.

Surviving local residents in addition to those named above are a sister, Mrs. Peter McFarland, and brother, Steve Smith. Another brother, Frank Smith, resides at Bellaire.

LOWER PRODUCTION IS NECESSARY FOR LOANS

Farmers Who Borrow of Government Must Curtail 30 Per Cent

The federal government has taken its first definite action to curtail agricultural production.

New regulations issued by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde governing crop production loans require farmers who obtain such loans to reduce by 30 per cent their acreage planted in cash crops.

Farmers this year have $90,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds upon which to draw for production loans. No individual may borrow more than $300. Any one in arrears on two or more loans is limited to $100.

Average reduction will not be required of farmers who, in 1933, plant no more than: 8 acres of cotton; 2 1/2 acres of tobacco; 40 acres of wheat; 20 acres of corn; 2 1/2 acres of truck crops; 12 acres of sugar beets; 8 acres of potatoes; 30 acres of rice; or 8 acres of peanuts.

CHARLEVOIX WON ITS FINAL GAME

BEAT EAST JORDAN HIGH FRI-DAY NIGHT

Victory Gave Team 2nd Position in Class C Conference—Go to District
Tourney Friday

Closing their 1932-33 basketball schedule last Friday night with a close 13 to 11 victory over East Jordan on Jordan's court, Charlevoix high school's eagles are now preparing for the district tournament which opens Thursday at Boyne City.

The victory over East Jordan, the Kipmen's fourth in class C competition, gave them undisputed possession of second position in the Tip of Michigan conference. Charlevoix won twice over Harbor Springs and once each from Mancelona and East Jordan. Their two defeats were at the hands of Boyne City, who holds the conference title by virtue of their undefeated record. In non-conference games, Charlevoix defeated Petoskey twice, and lost as many games to Traverse City.

The Kipmen met strong opposition at East Jordan. Two closely fought periods found them leading 6 to 3 at the half, a margin which carried them to victory. East Jordan outscored the Kipmen 8 points to 7 in the last two quarters. In the preliminary games, Charlevoix reserves lost 22 to 8 to Jordan's strong second team, while the local juniors were victorious 19 to 9.

Charlevoix Drew Bye
The district class C and D basketball tournament opens Thursday at Boyne City. Representatives of all competing teams met there Saturday for the draw.

Harbor Springs and Mancelona drew byes and will play each other in the second round at 3:30 Friday afternoon. The winner goes to the finals, which will come at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

In the first round for the class D schools, Ellsworth and Boyne Falls will meet at 7:30 Thursday night, the victors playing Alba at 7:30 Friday night. The winner of the second game goes to the finals. Bellaire and Mackinaw City are to meet each other at 2:30 Thursday afternoon and Central Lake and Pellston at 3:30. TRANSPORT GROUP IS NAMED IN NORTH

ORGANIZATION AT PETOSKEY
THURSDAY NIGHT

Will Study Needs and Sponsor Legislation for Uniform Conduct of
All Transportation

At a meeting held at Petoskey last Thursday evening, a northern Michigan unit of the Michigan Railroad Employees and Citizens League was formed.

Addressing the meeting were F. E. Drake, Grand Rapids, representing the Pennsylvania Lines; E. L. Cary, Saginaw, for the Pere Marquette and P. C. Howard, Battle Creek, for the Grand Trunk.

On the board were named Mayor D. C. Levinson, Dr. D. C. Burns, Edwin Pailthorp, D. H. Reysaert, John Lake, James Reid, H. C. Spiller, A. J. Nyman, Theo. Bathke, Frank Gruber, Al. Brenmeyer, N. W. Wells, W. E. Ellis, George Case, John Koboski, Dr. C. J. Gray of Petoskey, Guy Nelson and Carl Wright of Harbor Springs. For the railroads there were named W. A. Martin, L. D. Thomas, E. J. Wefel, B. H. Hager, A. H. Dean, Robert Woodruff, J. H. Ault, of Petoskey, John Smith and L. G. Lacey of Mancelona, B. N. Nickerson, Charlevoix, and V. A. Paul, Harbor Springs.

This board named these officers: president, Dr. C. J. Gray; vice-president, Carl Wright; second vice-president, H. C. Spiller; secretary, A. H. Dean.

Later on in the season a mass meeting will be held at which time it is hoped to have a thousand or more present to hear plans discussed.

The purpose of the League is to promote legislation for the equality of compensation and tax responsibility of all common carriers, such as railroads, trucks, and busses. Some of the legislation proposed by the League would place trucks and busses on the same basis with railroads in tax responsibility and regulatory competition.

An official statement from headquarters states that the object is "not support by ethical means the enactment of state and federal regulation that provides proper regulation and taxation of motor vehicles engaged in transporting passengers or property for hire, with due regard to constitutional rights and the necessity for liberal exemptions in connection with farmers hauling their own produce to markets or mills; hauling their own supplies to their farms."

Already more than 600 persons in this section, including many from Charlevoix, have signed membership cards and it is expected that this number will be increased to 1,200 or 1,500 within a short time. The state membership is over 100,000.

HAY FEVER WEEDS ATTACKED IN BILL

Rep. Tibbitts Would Enhance North to Hay Fever Sufferers

A bill which would make Northern Michigan a still more attractive haven for hayfever sufferers was presented to the House last week by Rep. D. D. Tibbitts of Boyne City, R. The measure adds rag weed and goldenrod to the list of noxious weeds which must be destroyed by property owners.

CRITICAL PROBLEMS OF STATE INCREASE

BECOMES MORE APPARENT AS SESSION ADVANCES

Legislature Fully Realizes Plight of People—What Members Are Proposing

(By Elton R. Eaton.)

There is a bill on the way through the Legislature which by the time this is printed may be in the governor's office for his signature that will permit automobile owners who have not yet secured their 1933 license plates to do so by paying half of the fee now and the remaining half six months later. This bill has been put forth as one of the "relief" measures for the people of Michigan.

Automobile owners of Michigan during the state's last fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, paid into the state treasury $18,792,129.76 for license plates. The ratio of collection so far this year has been way below that of a year ago says the secretary of state's office. This is pointed out by sponsors of the easy-payment bill as proof of the fact that automobile owners cannot now afford to buy their license plates, but that if the fee is made payable in two easy payments it will keep automobiles on the road, thereby bringing more money into the state's cash till.

It is interesting to note in this connection that the annual report of Auditor General Fuller made to Gov. Chase Osborn for the fiscal year ending June 12, 1932, showing the entire income of the state from all sources to be $14,190,498.57.

From these figures it is seen that Michigan automobile owners last year paid the state over $1,500,000 more for their license plates than the state government collected from all sources in 1932.

Auto owners have been asking to have both the license fee as well as the gas tax cut in half. One member of the Legislature pointed out that the easy-payment plan for license plates might possibly have been advanced for the purpose of forestalling a bill which is in preparation to cut this tax one hundred per cent.

It is known that certain groups interested in road building and contracting are exceedingly anxious to maintain the present license fee as well as the three cent gas tax.

Living from day to day on the meager pay checks provided by the state for their services, as the result of the banking situation in Michigan, members of the Legislature need no longer be told by the folk back home of the seriousness of the economic situation that prevails. Each week, each day has witnessed a rapidly changing attitude on the part of legislators, especially among the newer members.

The old timers who were re-elected knew something of what was in the air. They knew of the fast dwindling tax payments, of the constantly increasing inability of people to pay taxes, licenses and fees. Many of the newer members knew too. They had been told by farmers, grocers, and by the hordes of unemployed that the time had come for a Legislature in

PILGRIM CIRCLE EN- JOYED COLONIAL TEA

Mrs. B. L. Harrington and Miss
Isabel Hines Were Hostesses

Mrs. B. L. Harrington and Miss Isabel Hines entertained the Pilgrim Circle and other invited guests at a Colonial tea last Wednesday afternoon at the Harrington residence.

Many of the guests wore costumes of long ago, a real colored "nanny" baked the biscuit and fried the scrapple, while many old-fashioned furnishings were in evidence.

Mrs. Martha Swinton, one of the oldest members of the Circle, gave two readings, also related some experiences of her childhood in the south, among them her being taught to spin by some colored women shortly after the Civil War. Her narrative was made more realistic by the presence of a spinning wheel beside which she was seated.

The tea was largely attended and very much enjoyed. A business and work meeting of the Circle will be held March 8th at Mrs. Shuckley's.

SPRING PRIMARY ELECTION MONDAY

WILL CLIMAX AN UNUSUALLY QUIET CAMPAIGN

Republican Ballot Has Contests for Both City and Ward Offices—
Townships Hold Caucus

The annual spring primary election next Monday, March 6th, will bring a climax to one of the quietest campaigns in recent years. While there is opposition for several city and ward offices, campaigning has been for the most part under cover with little or nothing to indicate the close approach of an election.

Voters will have the choice of a full Republican slate of candidates, headed by the contest for mayor by Arthur Bergeon, incumbent, and L. S. See, Robert E. Rife is unopposed for nomination as city treasurer, but a three-way race is in prospect for the city clerk's berth.

Third Ward Leads
Frank Partridge and E. J. Kibbe have an open field for the offices of supervisor and alderman, respectively, of the second ward, but in the third precinct the field of candidates is plentiful in number and interest keen. Four candidates are in the field for supervisor, two for alderman, full term, and as many for alderman to fill vacancy.

Polls at the central voting place in the library building will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Following is the complete ticket:

For Mayor—Arthur Bergeon, L. S. See.

For clerk—Ray S. Hamilton, Charles H. Lamphear, Fred V. Tyler, For treasurer—Robert E. Rife.

Announcement!

To the Electors of the City of Charlevoix:

As a candidate for nomination to the office of Mayor at the Primary election March 6, I wish to briefly outline my view in the conduct of city affairs:

1. A candidate for mayor should be free from any political promises.

2. He should pledge to conduct the city business with justice to all and special privilege to none.

3. He should work in perfect harmony with the aldermen of all wards of the city, thereby aiding them to solve their respective problems and bringing a uniform conduct of all city affairs.

4. He should stand for reduction of taxes and cutting all operating expenses to a point within a limit which does not jeopardize the financial stability of the city and necessary operation of its departments and utilities.

If nominated and elected mayor, I pledge myself to the above outlined principals. My long residence, business affiliations and past services as a public official should fully qualify me for the office.

Respectfully,
L. S. See,
Adv. 9t1.

STATE TO ABANDON TAKING OF SPAWN

REP. TIBBITTS ANSWERS LO-CAL INQUIRIES

Propose to Let Trout Spawn Naturally—Favor Abolition of Sub Trap Net

Answering a letter of inquiry from Fred E. Cartier regarding future spawn fishing, regulation of sub nets and retention of a state physician at Beaver Island, our Charlevoix district representative, D. D. Tibbitts, gives the required information in a letter which we are publishing, in part, as follows:

"I have been learning considerable about fishing and things 'fishy' since I came down here and find when I am stuck I can get a lot of information over at the conservation department. I took your letter over there and got several careful about spawn fishing and sub nets. The gist of the material I got will try to hand over to you.

"You probably know that Lake Michigan south of Empire is closed to spawn fishing. The fishermen down there have asked for that very thing because they feel that nature is doing a better job than man is able to do. They also feel that spawn fishing is merely an excuse, with many fishermen, just to fish. A good man over in Saginaw Bay during the spawn fishing season saved an average of 8 quarts of spawn per 100 pounds of fish and the spawn was 91 per cent fertile. The average take for the entire spawn fishing area is a little over one quart. A terrific waste of spawn takes place during this season due to the taking of fish that are not quite ready to spawn; green fish they are called.

"So the department feels that they are not going to recommend any spawn fishing after this. It is usually a stormy period and the loss of nets usually offsets any gain that the fishermen otherwise might obtain. Mr. Westerman is in correspondence with the chief of the U. S. fisheries at the present time regarding their attitude, and as soon as he hears from him in this matter will let me know further. It has been for many years the work of the state to supply the spawn for the government hatchery at Charlevoix. Mr. Westerman feels that if the fish are undisturbed for a period of thirty days during the spawning season that there is a better chance for increasing fish than there is at the present time. Often when the hatched fish are ready to plant it is impossible to get out of Charlevoix harbor or any other harbor on the Michigan west coast. They have frequently had trouble that way, and the fry has suffered loss as a result. As soon as I find out about the federal part of it I will let you know.

"Now as to sub nets. The department does not wish to take sides and definitely that they recommend the abolition of the sub-net. They are recommending in their bill that its use be limited to 80 feet in depth and that the mesh be increased to 1 1/2 inches. That will eliminate many of the objections to the present deep

PLAN INDEPENDENT CAGE TOURNAMENT

Invitations Extended 39 Teams to Compete Here March 14, 15, 16

The management of the Charlevoix Polar Bears, local independent basketball organization, have announced plans for a Northern Michigan amateur basketball tournament at the high school gymnasium March 14, 15 and 16.

Manager Gordon Todd gave out the information that invitations had been extended to 39 independent organizations of this region to participate. According to present plans, three games will be played, starting at 7 o'clock in the evening. Whether the tournament will run four nights, and whether some games will have to be conducted afternoons, depends upon the number of teams entered. All teams desiring to enter are requested to direct their communications to the Polar Bears, Charlevoix.

CENTRAL LAKE

(Too late for last week.)
Nice rain Monday. It has rained every month this winter.
Sydney Williams made a visit to relatives at Creswell last Friday.
The funeral of Mrs. Lon Crapsey, an old friend of the writer, was held at Mancelona last Saturday.
Victor Morse and uncle, J. W. Morse, made a visit to the Burkholder home at Mancelona last Saturday.
Ernest King and family of Pellston, were visitors with friends and relatives here last Saturday. He is still employed by the Bell Telephone company.
Welford Davis, the rural delivery man, was able to get around with the U. S. mail with his car again last Monday. He has gone but a very few times with the horses.

Skating has been pretty good on Torch lake the last few days and the young people have been making the most of it. The Sheriff's people were down the first of the week.
Mrs. Cora Dunlap and daughter, Florence, walked to town from Bay View to see the basketball game Saturday evening. They also walked down to visit at the Irwin Kennedy home Sunday.

The Sunday school convention advertised in March, to be held at Mancelona, may not be held then as it is liable to conflict with the revival services to be held in Mancelona on that date.

Eastport Sunday school had an attendance of 54 last Sunday. North Holland had an attendance of 73, near their enrollment of 80. The Misses Dorothy Smith and Margaret Bos of Barnard were visitors at Sunday school.

The Mancelona Independent first team of basketball were defeated by the local quintet in a fast game Saturday evening, 16 to 26. The second team defeated the locals to the tune of 9 to 16. A capacity crowd greeted the players. Admittance was free.

Guy White, cashier of the First State bank here tells us that he will be closed until he is told by state department to open. Not much inconvenience appears to be experienced. Change has been obtained, it is said, but no business transacted. Doors of Mancelona bank were open Saturday.

Mancelona's saw mill appears to be going on without help from government. Potatoes were being shipped from the Co-Operative association there Saturday and everybody appeared to be quite cheerful. The Co-Operative association here has not shipped many potatoes this winter. O. R. Morse, independent, has shipped several carloads.

Miss Irene Triplett of Eastport, was to be married to Walter Brett of Grand Ledge, last Saturday. Those who planned to attend were Clare and Max Triplett and wives of Detroit, and Bert Morrison and wife of Lansing. Miss Triplett had been a successful Antrim county teacher for eight years and Mr. Brett a successful farmer of Grand Ledge. Congratulations.

J. A. Triplett attended the teachers' institute at Charlevoix last Friday. Last Sunday morning he found a new calf standing against the inside of his barn door and two others running around in the barn that didn't know to which cow they belonged. Three new calves, a new son-in-law and a teacher's institute all in one week may prove too much for J. A., but we haven't heard of the M. D. being called yet.

J. W. Thumm and a good crowd of Antrim county teachers attended the tri-county institute at Charlevoix last Friday. The church ladies' hall served the same menu we are told. The writer took dinner at the Church of God meeting place and found an excellent repast, including the Gen. Washington famous cherry pie that people of the Grand Traverse region are requested to serve this month.

There was a good crowd at the institute and Prof. Lyman gave some good advice on the common sense way of teaching. The address by Prof. McCluskey drew large crowds. He presented his subject, "Mental Hygiene, or Why Some Parents and Teachers Are Misunderstood," in such a manner covering the experiences of the teachers that they were all interested. He said that the teacher should visit the home of the pupil and find the attitude of the parent to the child and the child to the parent in order to discover the proper way of dealing with the child. Also, if the attitude of the parent towards education is not a good one, the attitude of the child toward the school work will not be very good. In this manner the teacher can tell better how to meet the requirements of the child. Several concrete examples, many amusing, were given to illustrate his point as he proceeded with his talk. The teachers learned many useful points from the lecture that will well repay them for attending the meeting. Much credit is due Commissioners Palmer, Birchard and Thumm for bringing this fine institute to the teachers of the several counties concerned.

AT THE MOVIES

A composite view of more than 100 New York speakies is the background for "Night After Night," screen adaptation of Louis Bromfield's "Single Night," which has been booked for the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

The film features George Raft, sensational young player of "Scarface," "Dancers in the Dark," and "Madame Racketeer" fame; Constance Cummings, Wynne Gibson, Mae West and Alison Skipworth.

Locale of the story is an old brownstone house which has been converted into a luxurious speakie. Interiors of more than 100 of Manhattan's "speaks" were photographed for scenic designers building the setting. All of the photos were taken with full consent of the owners, many of whom posed behind their bars. They range from converted homes to small "dives."

Best features of the swankiest "joinks" were incorporated in the "Night After Night" setting.

The film is the story of the queer romance between Raft, proprietor of the speakie, who nourishes social ambitions, and Miss Cummings, Park avenue socialite, who was born in the house during its better days. Her constant visits to the scene of her birth bring her into contact with the proprietor, and a series of startling developments throws them together in a strange fashion. Archie Mayo directed the picture.

The Comforts of the American Home . . .

IT IS a well-known fact that, home to home, the American household has more comforts and conveniences than that of any other nation.

In foreign lands the modernized dwelling is found only in the better sections of the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find the radio, the vacuum cleaner, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless labor-saving appliances.

There is a well-kept look about residence, store or out-buildings with an atmosphere of prosperity and content.

Did you ever stop to realize why this is so; how this condition was brought about?

It is largely due to advertising. And a big share of the credit belongs to newspaper advertising.

Stop and think how many of the foods you eat, the things you wear and other articles entering into your every-day life, you first heard of through newspaper advertisements.

You will then realize what a part they do play, or should play, in your daily life.

Read the advertisements in the newspapers regularly and thoroughly, if you are not already doing so. They mean more to you than you can tell.

Link-Side Story Told by John D.

"Once upon a time" goes the story John D. Rockefeller tells to his great grandchildren, John and Bessie De Cerevis, who are ardent listeners. Sitting on the steps of the starter's hut on the Ormond Beach golf links, the elder Rockefeller takes a little time off between holes to favor the children with a tale.

MUSCLE SHOALS CALLED "NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH"

Likened to Great Falls as Potential Water Power.

Washington.—Muscle Shoals and its Wilson dam, in the further development of which the new administration has declared an interest, is the "Niagara of the South" insofar as potential water power is concerned, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"Muscle Shoals is off the main highways and railroads, and considerably south of the center of population, and is therefore not so well known to traveling Americans as some less important power sites," says the bulletin.

"The Tennessee river, on which these rapids are situated, is the main tributary of the Ohio river and carries a large volume of water, especially in the spring months. The river, flowing far to the south and then far to the north, makes a vast bend, greater than that in any other of the major streams of the United States except the Snake river and the Rio Grande.

Drops About 130 Feet.
"Some of the headwaters of the Tennessee rise in Virginia and the stream then makes two complete crossings of the State of Tennessee, looping between times into northern Alabama. It is the portion of the river that flows in Alabama that contains Muscle Shoals, a section of rapids 37 miles long. In this short distance the river drops about 130 feet, nearly a third of the entire fall between Chattanooga and the Ohio river.

"Plans to improve the Tennessee at Muscle Shoals have been in existence for more than a hundred years. The work was first recommended by the secretary of war in 1821. This improvement was wholly for the purpose of bettering navigation. Work was actually started in 1834 and a canal with several locks was constructed, but was of small value. Further improvements to help navigation were made up until the World war, when it was decided to harness the river by a power dam and to utilize its electric energy for the production of nitrates to be used in the manufacture of munitions. The Wilson dam was begun in 1916 and was not completed until 1925.

"This dam is one of the largest in the United States. The river spreads out to a great breadth so that the dam looks only about 700 feet of being a mile long. It is approximately 122 feet high to the roadway on top, and continued at the time of its completion a greater volume of concrete than any other dam in the world. Because of the great width of the river at the dam site, construction was very costly. Dam and power house have cost to date $17,000,000. The power house is situated at the south end of the dam and has foundations which provide for the installation of 18 giant turbines that will produce a maximum of 60,000 horse power. Of these, eight have been installed and are capable of producing a maximum of 25,000 horse power. The maximum at low water will be about 100,000 horse power.

"Since the completion of the Wilson dam and power house in 1925, the plant has been put to very little use. Some electric energy has been sold to existing power companies, but at no time has the power house been called on for its maximum production.

"In connection with the building of the Wilson dam, the federal government constructed two huge factories for the manufacture of nitrates from the nitrogen of the air. The various buildings of one, situated at the town of Sheffield, a few miles down stream from the southern end of the dam, are scattered over more than 1,500 acres of land. It has never been in use. The second, four miles up stream from Sheffield and close to the end of the dam, occupies a tract of approximately 2,300 acres. It has been operated only on a test basis. "The government also constructed a large steam power plant of 80,000 horse power with which to operate the second nitrate plant pending the completion of the dam.

Near City of Florence.
"The north end of the Wilson dam is in the suburbs of Florence, Ala., a thriving little city of 12,000 inhabitants. Florence is a typical inland southern town of shaded streets, many of them lined with fine old mansions. Like other communities near Muscle Shoals, Florence felt the hectic war-time prosperity that poured liberal wages into the hands of 20,000 workers on the dam and nitrate plants.

"When the Wilson dam was built, primarily for power production, the possibilities of improving the navigation of the Tennessee river by the structure were not overlooked. At the north end of the dam is a canal with its light of locks through which river boats are lifted into the Wilson lake. Back water from the dam makes the river navigable for 14 miles up

MOTORISTS ARE HARD HIT BY TAXES

Contribute Heavily to Cost of Government.

Washington.—A heavy share of federal, state, and municipal government costs is being borne by automobile owners throughout the United States as the result of new taxes enacted during the past two years.

Revenue of more than $250,000,000 was expected to accrue to the United States government through the excise tax passed by congress in its last session and which levies on gasoline, oil, tires, and all accessories.

States and municipalities also have tapped new foundations of income by levying upon motor vehicle owners.

In the 12 years from 1919 to 1931 state license and gasoline taxes alone have risen from $8.08 to $21.10 per capita, an increase of 262 per cent.

The tax bill which Mr. Cawthorne in the United States paid during 1932 is estimated at the stupendous total of $1,500,000,000, this figure including the new federal tax and the state and local increases. In license fees, gasoline taxes, municipal, and personal property taxes on motor vehicles during 1932 the motorist paid a national total of $1,025,000,000.

One-tenth of the entire United States tax bill was the amount paid by motor car owners during 1932 through license fees, gasoline taxes, and personal property taxes on vehicles. The percentage is expected to be higher when the figures for 1932 are available.

From figures obtained from all parts of the country it appears that raising the tax on gasoline has been a favorite means of providing new revenue for states. In some states this levy has been permitted to the point where the gasoline tax amounts to 11 cents a gallon.

While the old-time toll houses that once lined the nation's principal highways as a means of collecting enough money to pay for the roads and keep them in repair have passed into history, the modern gasoline filling station, according to leaders of the automotive industry, has just about taken the place of the toll house.

Gasoline filling stations today are toll collecting agencies for federal, state, and in many cases, for county and city governments. On a basic tax of 5 cents a gallon, a light passenger car consuming one gallon of gasoline each 20 miles pays a road toll tax of $50 for every 20,000 miles.

Long Drive Ends in Accident Near Home

Washington.—After driving all the way to North Carolina and returning in search of her sister whom she had not seen for the last nineteen years, Mrs. Inez Turner, Bethesda, received a cut on the right ankle within a mile of her home.

According to police at Bethesda she was attempting to pass a truck when it swerved to the left. Trying to avoid a collision she turned short, causing her automobile to overturn.

stream, but at this point a shallow stretch occurs. There an auxiliary dam is being built which will make the river navigable to Chattanooga. A small dam, also, has been built several miles down stream from Wilson dam to make possible the passage of river traffic over the lower end of Muscle Shoals.

"When the up-stream dam is completed it will be possible for Tennessee river traffic to operate from Chattanooga to the mouth of the river and on down through the Ohio and Mississippi to the Gulf, carrying its burdens of coal, stone, phosphate rock, coke, iron, lumber, furniture, and farm and food products."

Famed Thieves' Market of Moscow Is Abolished

Moscow.—With the closing of Sukharevsky market the Soviet capital lost an institution of its fame which was part of Moscow life for generations.

A sort of "thieves' market" before and after the revolution, it became in the last few years the last stamping ground of private traders, legitimate and otherwise. In ordering its abolition the Soviet felt it necessary to explain that the construction of new modern markets made this one unnecessary.

The local press supplemented the official apologies by attacking Sukharevsky market as a hotbed of theft and speculation and disease.

The fame of Sukharevsky went far beyond Moscow. It was known throughout the country. The market presented a scene far more Asiatic than European. Besides rows of booths where government goods were being sold there were others presided over by peasants trying to dispose of farm products under the Kromlin's new permission to trade on a free market basis.

Buyers and sellers milled in a noisy confusion. Men, women, and children stood or promenade all day long to dispose of a bottle of oil, a pair of pants, galoshes, or some other article.

With the increasing shortage of food and clothes in the last year these became the principal items of trade on Sukharevsky. It was chiefly at this market that thriving employees of government shops sold their loot through intermediaries.

"WHAT IS A TRUST FUND" ANSWERED BY GRAND RAPIDS PAPER

"What is a trust fund? Whom do we trust if we start such a fund? Can we get our money if the bank fails?"

These and other questions are being asked by many persons in connection with the trust funds which banks are setting up to serve depositors during the present difficult period. The answers are simple.

First, "What is a trust fund as applied to the present situation?"

A trust fund is a new account started since the close of the recent banking holiday. It is entirely separate from all previous deposits and may be drawn upon without regard to the 5 per cent limitation upon other funds.

"Whom do we trust if we start such a fund?"

There is no question of trusting anyone. A trust fund is created. It cannot be touched by the bank or by anyone else excepting the depositor. The bank cannot make loans from money thus deposited, nor can it use it for any purpose except as the depositor himself draws it out. It is completely segregated from all other banking funds.

"Can we get our money out if the bank fails?"

The answer is, "Yes." Even if the bank in which a trust fund is set up should close its doors, all trust fund deposits would be immediately available. They would not be in any way involved in any hazards.

In other words, a trust fund is just what the name implies, a fund held in trust by the bank, which serves merely as a guardian of the money or, with a commercial account, as a disbursing agent subject to orders by check from the depositor.—Grand Rapids Herald.

IS THERE NO REWARD?

The deeper one delves into the matter of government and State help for the fellow that has not paid his taxes, the mortgage on his farm or his property, or discharged his other financial obligations, the more one is inclined to the understanding that the dependable, the conservative, the honest and honorable citizen that has looked a little farther than today's needs and today's problem, and has built some stable protection for himself and those around and dependent upon him, is "holding the bag," and while he grits his teeth and holds on, every possible kind of raid is being made to further empty and make useless that bag and bring him down to a level with those who have not been so conservative, who have either lived for today alone, or

A medicine that brightens people's lives

Fortunately for most of us, a state of happy health does not depend on strength. But like any other piece of machinery, the human machine must be properly regulated to run right.

There is a simple means of regulating the system. It makes an amazing difference in the way your organs function and the way you feel.

It pays most men and women to try this regulation. You may consider yourself in fairly good health today, and after only two weeks' regulating realize you were only half alive.

This means of stimulating the system to new life is a prescription, and it is known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It's derived from fresh herbs, active serums, and pure pepsin. Every druggist keeps it on hand. Get some today, and take some tonight.

Whole households have blessed this family doctor's prescription. It has saved old and young from sluggish spells—and from downright sickness. It's the only tonic you may need; the only laxative you need. It is the most likable and remarkable medicine you ever tasted.

Try one bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and compare your condition with how you felt before!

ought to get rich quick without contributing definite returns for such a result. The person that has paid his way, that has met his taxes, and in that way has contributed his part to keeping the public and political wheels turning, and has thrown into the hopper that money that is now being ground out to help keep warmth and life in those who had no thought for the morrow, or were caught out on a limb when their magic dreams of easy riches vanished in thin air is not getting only a raw deal. The efforts now being put forth by politicians to scrap our present tax laws, to declare a moratorium on taxes, cancel taxes, in fact to wreck the whole tax structure, fail to recognize or laud the person that has helped to preserve the structure to this point. We ask, what is there to commend and applaud in the acts of men who by force of numbers and by threats of violence, or by strength, prevent the legal processes of law in the collection of money honestly loaned and contracted for? What does all of this contribute toward the re-establishment of confidence? What incentive will the man that has a little spare change have to put that spare change into circulation? What is the reward for being thrifty and careful? —Cheboygan Observer.

WHEN SPRING COMES

Soon we will be leaving the winter season behind. Within a few short weeks Spring will be upon the earth, giving us new hope and new faith in the future. For that we should be truly thankful. Winter has a habit of distorting and magnifying periods of distress. It is then we seem, to most keenly sense our hardships.

But with the arrival of Spring most of these conditions will undergo a change. Men released from the bondage of snow and cold will find some new work to do. At least that will be true of the ambitious. This year, more than in any other year, the plan of giving temporary jobs to the unemployed will be stressed. For nearly four years the buildings of America have gone without paint and repairs. A wise government at Washington will see that money for this work is provided. It will furnish many jobs to many deserving citizens. Coupled with other activities along similar lines much good will result. But we need to take advantage of every opportunity to begin the march back toward better things.

NOW NO GARNISHMENT

Gov. Wm. A. Comstock has been garnished for nearly $8,000 due a Flint concern. The Lansing authorities are now determined to make it impossible to garnish a state official. By the time we have it impossible to garnish for an honest debt; impossible to foreclose a mortgage for an honest debt; impossible to collect for any loan made; we will surely have made the safety deposit box of excessive value. Maybe it will work out all right, for it will enforce a "pay as you go" policy. Then will eventually be no such thing as credit. —Frank Bryce in his Grand Lodge Independent.

Season Starts March 1—Lake Spear- ing Closed February 28th

The second of the 1933 fishing seasons opened today with all non-trout streams and streams not otherwise closed to spearing, were thrown open to spearing for certain species.

In the lower peninsula spearing will be permitted in non-trout streams for certain species until April 30, but will continue to May 15 in the upper peninsula.

According to the department of conservation, the only species of fish that may be speared are carp, suckers, redbreast, mullet, dogfish and garpike. Artificial lights may not be used in spearing fish.

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 26.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (John 1:14): "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.350): "Divine Truth must be known by its effects on the body as well as on the mind, before the Science of being can be demonstrated. Hence its embodiment in the incarnate Jesus,—that life-link forming the connection through which the real reaches the unreal, Soul rebukes sense, and Truth destroys error."
